

THE PRESIDENT CHEERED.

TALKS TO PUBLISHERS.

Dwells on Responsibility of Men Who Write.

Washington, April 7.—The Periodical Publishers' Association of America gave its first annual dinner at the New Willard this evening. Around the board was a distinguished gathering of statesmen, jurists, publishers and authors from all parts of the United States...

At the President's right sat Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, and on either side of them were Secretary Hay, M. Jusserand, the French Ambassador, Baron von Sternburg, the German Ambassador, Justice Peckham of the Supreme Court...

GERMAN AMBASSADOR'S GREETING. Senator Beveridge was the next speaker, and he in turn was followed by Ambassador Sternburg, who said: "During my wanderings in foreign lands I frequently have been struck by the wide spreading of the American periodical, not only among the English-speaking people, but also among the people of other nations..."

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS. After discussing an elaborate menu, the toastmaster, Hamilton W. Mabie, associate editor of "The Outlook," introduced the speakers. The first introduced the President, M. Jusserand, Baron von Sternburg, Dr. Henry van Dyke, F. Hopwood, Senator Smith, Dr. John H. Finley, Robert E. Speer, ex-Governor Frank S. Black, Senator Beveridge, the Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, S. S. McClure, Walter H. Page and Dr. Albert Shaw. The first speaker was William B. Howard, president of the association. He was followed by President Roosevelt, who said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: It is always a pleasure to a man in public life to meet the real governing classes of his country. I wish to bid you welcome to Washington, and to say a word of greeting, and that word shall take the form of a warning and a hope. I did not come to this dinner as a representative of the government, but as a representative of the people...

EX-GOVERNOR BLACK ON PATRIOTISM. Frank S. Black spoke as follows: "Patriotism is a word of lofty meaning. It is the love of one's country, and it is the sense of duty which is its soul. It is not a mere sentiment, but a practical force which guides the individual and the nation alike..."

SOME OF THOSE PRESENT. Among those present were Secretary Hay, Justice Brewer, McKenna and Peckham, the Russian Ambassador, Edward Bok, Senator Beveridge, ex-Governor Black, of New-York; Representative Bede, of Minnesota; John F. The committee on arrangements consisted of William B. Howard, "The Outlook," New-York, chairman; Frank N. Doubleday, "The World's Work," New-York; Oscar W. McLure's Magazine, New-York; Cyrus Curtis, "The Saturday Evening Post," Philadelphia; and Frederic L. Colver, "Leslie's Magazine," New-York, secretary.

THE ENTIRE COMPANY ROSE AND CHEERED. The President repeatedly. Mr. Mabie spoke of him as "the best known author in America to-day," the author and illustrator of American ideals.

M. JUSSERAND'S REMARKS. When the applause which followed the President's address had subsided, the toastmaster introduced Ambassador Jusserand, who spoke as follows: "I am proud of the opportunity afforded me to address this brilliant assembly. In an assembly of men who such as I have written, some newspapers, they say, are soon forgotten. I hope it is not true for the memorabilia of this world. I hope it is not true for the memorabilia of this world. I hope it is not true for the memorabilia of this world..."

SHOOTING IN STREET.

One of Highwayman's Victims Is Expected to Die.

In an exciting chase of a highwayman, who had snatched a young man's pocketbook at Thirty-third and Second-ave., yesterday, two men were shot down in the street, one of them being probably fatally injured. A large crowd that gathered made a demonstration as if to kill his assailant.

Miss Annie Miller, of No. 348 East Forty-seventh-st., was waiting for a woman, when the woman, who was John Kenny, of No. 23 East Thirty-second-st., and who was standing on the rear platform of the car, snatched her pocketbook, which contained $52.

There were many passengers on the rear platform of the car, wedged so tightly that few could move. They saw the struggle, but were unable to aid the woman. Finally Kenny knocked the woman down. He ran to the front platform of the car, jumped on the step, and was ordered off by the motorman. Kenny said he was going only a short distance, and at Third-ave. he jumped from the car and started north.

On the rear platform of the car was Joseph Corn, of No. 23 East Twenty-seventh-st. He, when Kenny passed the car on a run, jumped off and started in pursuit. He overtook Kenny at Third-ave. and Thirty-fourth-st. and clinched with him. In the struggle Kenny drew a revolver and fired two shots, one striking Corn in the arm and the other in the abdomen. Corn released his hold and ran.

Police Officer of the East Thirty-fifth-st. station, hearing the shots, rushed toward Kenny. Roth was joined by a large number of men. He ran rapidly on Kenny. Among the pursuers was E. B. Johnson, Jr., of No. 164 Third-st., Woodside, Long Island. He led Roth in the chase, and as Kenny turned east into Thirty-fifth-st., Johnson shot at him. Johnson overtook him and jumped on his back, carrying him to the ground. Kenny still held the revolver, and as they struggled on the ground he pressed the muzzle of the weapon close against Johnson's face and fired. The bullet passed through Johnson's right jaw, causing a painful wound. Had the revolver been aimed a trifle higher it would have killed him.

When the gun against Johnson's abdomen, and was about to fire again when Roth grasped the revolver. Wreathing it away, Roth drew his nightstick and struck Kenny a heavy blow on the head, causing him to submit to arrest. By this time several hundred persons had crowded around the struggling man and tried loudly to aid the woman. Police officers appeared, and Kenny, who was bleeding from the blow on the head, was led to the East Thirty-fifth-st. station.

An ambulance was called from Bellevue Hospital and Dr. Coleman took charge of the injured man. Corn, he said, probably was fatally injured. He was taken to the hospital, where his condition is not considered serious.

After a brief moment of the chase, the prisoner, who was with great coolness at the station, and took the adventure as a joke. While the police were busy with the case, a man named Kenny, who was in the neighborhood of the robbery and shooting, Kenny interposed several remarks. It is thought he may be the man who was shot down in the street. He is now in the One-hundred-and-eleventh-st. at the One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth-st. elevated railroad station yesterday.

Kenny, at Police Headquarters, was afterward recognized by Captain Langan, of the Detective Bureau, as the man who was shot down in the street. He has served a year in the penitentiary. He told the police yesterday, before he was taken to the hospital, that he had been carrying a revolver as self-protection.

INDIANS DEAD IN WRECK.

SPECIAL CAR SMASHED.

Those Uninjured Chant "Death Song" Around Dying Braves.

Maywood, Ill., April 7.—Sixty-three Indians in a special car on their way East were struck by a mail train two miles west of there to-day in a fog. Three of the Indians were instantly killed, three were fatally injured and twenty others were more or less seriously hurt.

The train in collision was the Oregon express and a fast mail on the Chicago and Northwestern Railway. The express train was hit by the mail train. Both trains were eastbound. Physicians were promptly hurried to the scene. As soon as possible the injured were taken to Maywood and Chicago.

All the victims of the wreck were Indians. The coach containing the Indians was completely wrecked. The rear end of the coach ahead was also damaged. After the collision the passengers in the other coaches of the two trains hurried to the rescue, and after a hard struggle pulled them from beneath the wreckage. Chief White Horse, in charge of the Indians on the train, was fatally injured. A number of the Indians who had been killed outright were laid on the prairie beside the track. Chief White Horse being carried with them.

He said he knew that death was near, and requested to be placed near his dead companions. The chief was propped up, and sat stoically while physicians worked over his injuries. He smoked a pipe quietly, and showed no signs of the pain he must have been suffering from. One of the other injured Indians was slowly taken from the splintered car and placed upon the ground near their dying chief and dead comrades.

The following is the official account of the wreck furnished by the company: This morning train No. 6 on the Northwestern, from the west, running twenty minutes late, was struck by a train of a dense fog. The special car occupied by Indians on route from the reservation near Rushville, Neb., to New-York for show purposes, was stopped at Maywood, near Maywood, by a block signal on account of a train ahead of it. Fast mail No. 10, which carries no passengers, was stopped at Maywood, near Maywood, by a block signal on account of a train ahead of it. Three Indians were killed and twenty-three injured, three of them seriously. The pilot and headlight of the engine of No. 10 were knocked off, and the engine sent to the hospital there. The Indians were members of the Buffalo Bill organization, and at New-York were to embark for England.

WOULD ACCEPT GAS BIDS. Oakley Recommends Desisting Efforts to Get Lower Rates. Commissioner Oakley of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity practically recommends the abandonment of any further effort on the part of the city to get lower rates for lighting, and favors the acceptance of the bids put in last month for electric lighting by a second rejection of same.

WOULD BE VOLUNTARY FROM JERSEY. Tries Aerial Flight at Circus on Roller Skates—Lands Upside Down. Lincoln Mason, of Hoboken, N. J., after watching Volto the Voltant, who, in the language of the circus announcement, gracefully arches an aerial abyss twice daily on a bicycle, had the happy thought that he, too, might become a circus performer and achieve alliterative announcements. His plan was to duplicate Volto's act on roller skates.

MISS WARD NOT RE-ELECTED. Miss Julia Ward, of the Mrs. Osborn Company, was not re-elected as vice-president and director of the company by the stockholders, at their annual meeting yesterday. Mrs. Osborn was re-elected president. John H. Scoville was made vice-president.

LUYSTER ART SALE BRINGS $15,772.50. The second sale of paintings from the collection of Cornelius W. Luyster and Osmer Miller was held last night at the Fifth Avenue Art Galleries. The total of last night's sale was $15,772.50, and the total for both nights was $25,415. The highest priced canvas of the entire sale was "Blossoms on a Hill" by Gress, sold for $1,000 to J. C. Weinman.

DAVID HEINEMAN'S GOLDEN WEDDING. Mr. and Mrs. David Heineman, of No. 121 St. Nicholas-ave., celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding last night with a reception at the Cafe Martin. Eight sons and two daughters, of the fourteen children born to them, as well as eleven grandchildren, were present, and another group of 112 American and 112 foreign guests.

H. A. MOORE DECLARED INCOMPETENT. On petition of Mary L. Moore, his sister, Henry A. Moore, of No. 189 Van Buren-st., Brooklyn, was declared incompetent to manage his own estate by a sheriff's jury in Brooklyn yesterday. Mr. Moore, who is sixty-seven years old, was formerly in the grain business in Manhattan. In addition to owning real estate in Manhattan, he has a large interest in a life and life interest in $5,000 worth of real estate left by his wife. It is said that his annual income is about $20,000.

GETS HIS CHINESE BRIDE.

Man Accused of Abduction Freed, as Is Woman—System Attacked.

The case in which two defendants have been charged with abducting a young Chinese girl, Moy Huen, from Boston, was finally ended yesterday. The defendants being discharged on motion of counsel for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. Counsel for the society declared that, from evidence he had received, the defendants were not open to attack, but that the system of allowing girls to enter the country should be attacked.

The defendants were Lee Hoy, a tailor, of No. 15 Mott-st., and Mrs. Josephine Toy, janitor of the Morning Star Mission in Dover-st. They were charged with conspiring to bring the girl from Boston. Hoy married her some weeks ago. It was charged that $500 was paid for the girl to her alleged father in Boston, and that originally she was brought to this country as a slave, to become some Chinaman's wife. The girl, the defendants said, was nineteen years old, and was married voluntarily, while the society asserted that she was only thirteen. Yesterday the society's lawyer said:

From what evidence we have obtained, these young girls have been brought into this country as slaves, to be sold as wives, just as they were in San Francisco. Counsel for the society do not desire to attack the defendants in this case, and ask for their discharge. The prisoners have been under $2,500 bail. There were about 25 Chinamen of the better class in court, and they surrounded the discharged defendants and congratulated them. Little Moy Huen, the bride, welcomed her husband as if she was perfectly willing to go with him. Some of the Chinamen got carriages and drove to China town, where, they said, a wedding would be held.

DOMINICAN ENVOY SAILS.

Considers Visit Successful—Says His Government Is Safe.

General Juan Francisco Sanchez, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Dominican Republic, who has been in this country about three months on a special mission for his government, sailed yesterday for San Domingo on the Clyde liner New-York. General Sanchez said that his mission to Washington had been entirely successful. The principal object of his trip north was to seek the formal recognition of President Morales by the United States, which was accorded.

The Dominican diplomat was especially pleased over a treaty promise which, he said, he had obtained from Secretary Hay, to assign a minister resident to San Domingo in the near future. At present Minister Fort, Minister to Hayti, with headquarters at Port-au-Prince, is also charged with duties to the Dominican Republic. "The sending of a minister to my country will be a great step," said General Sanchez. "The report that I came here to ask for the establishment of a protectorate over San Domingo was entirely without foundation. Mr. Loomis, on his recent tour of the republic, must have observed that President Morales is thoroughly capable of handling the situation."

PEARY CLUB FORMED. Well Known Men Join to Assist Arctic Explorer's Work. Another step toward a new Peary expedition was taken yesterday in the incorporation of the Peary Arctic Club, whose certificate was approved by Justice Garret Garretson, of the Supreme Court. The purpose of the organization is to promote and maintain Arctic explorations to be conducted by Commander Robert E. Peary, U. S. N. The members propose to assist in the collection of geographical information, to aid in planning future expeditions and to raise funds for such explorations. They will also co-operate with any other organization having the same purpose.

TO MAKE CHARGES AGAINST MAXWELL. Teacher Who Won Suit Against Him to Take Case to Board of Education. Miss Emma Walker, the Brooklyn teacher who recently won a suit against City Superintendent Maxwell has written to the Board of Education saying that she wishes to prefer charges against Dr. Maxwell and the board of examiners. She has been told that she might file the specifications of her charges with the committee on elementary schools.

DINNER FOR EDWARD A. NEWELL. A subscription dinner was given for Edward A. Newell, formerly chairman of the house committee of the Republican Club, at the clubhouse, on West Fourth-st., last night, as an evidence of the appreciation felt by his fellow members for his services in adding to build the new clubhouse, and also for his devotion to his duties as chairman of the house committee for the last ten years. An illuminated album, made from old blood seal leather, containing the signatures of the seventy-five of the dinner, was given to Mr. Newell, and was greatly appreciated by him. Present were Louis Stern, ex-Speaker Henderson, Judge William M. K. O'Connell, General Tremaine, Colonel Charles H. Treat, R. N. Kenyon, Dr. Eugene Hoffman Porter and Alexander Caldwell.

REPAIR SOME 11,000 WIRES. Seventy-five employes of telegraph, cable and telephone companies worked all Wednesday night in that part of the subway, at Fulton-st. and Broadway, where the fire occurred on Wednesday. About 80 per cent of the burned out wires, numbering between 11,000 and 12,000, were temporarily repaired so that connections could be made. All told, about forty new wires were installed. Yesterday, for fear of stormy weather, heavy tarpaulin was placed on a framework over the part exposed to the surface. The fire alarm wires were all finished temporarily on Wednesday, and yesterday downtown New-York was again able to send in an alarm. The connection of eighty wires to the City Hall was also installed.

RECORD FOR CITY HALL HEARINGS. Mayor McClellan broke a City Hall record yesterday by giving five hearings on city bills in two and one-half minutes. Mr. McClellan set apart ten minutes to a bill, and this schedule kept him sitting in the big front room with little to do for several hours, as there were no objections against or arguments for many of the measures. Gaining wisdom from experience, he fixed his schedule yesterday so that he could gallop through the list.

FOR STOMACH DISORDERS, GOUT AND DYSPEPSIA. DRINK. PLACE FOR MURPHY'S SECRETARY. Peter J. Quigley was appointed yesterday by Fire Commissioner Hayes secretary of the board of the Fire Department, at the salary of $2,800 a year. The place is reserved for the Civil Service regulations. Mr. Quigley was secretary to Charles F. Murphy when the latter was a Dock Commissioner.

BAD FIRE IN A FACTORY.

Employs Taken Down in Elevator—Fifth-Blaze in Five Years.

The seven-story brick factory building at No. 117 Walker-st. was badly damaged yesterday by a fire which started on the first floor from what is believed to have been an overheated stove. The flames spread quickly, and in a few minutes the entire building was enveloped in thick smoke. The men and women employed in it, in the eight-story building on the west, and the four-story building on the east, were driven to the street, many climbing down the fire escapes, while Charles Dalton, the elevator man in the building where the fire started, ran his elevator to the top floor four times, bringing down more than a score of persons. Several firemen were overcome by smoke. Warren Downes, of Engine Company No. 27, was later taken to Gouverneur Hospital, unconscious. His condition was said to be critical.

The building is in the block bounded by Walker, Baxter, Centre and White sts., which contains several large factory buildings, and on the Baxter-st. side several tenement houses. The firemen got to work quickly. Water Tower No. 1 was stationed in front, and played several streams of water, keeping them confined to the rear of the structure. The men were much hampered by smoke, and half a dozen members of Engine Company No. 29, on the third floor, were overcome. They were dragged to the fire escapes by comrades and carried down to the street, where they were revived by Chaplains Smith and Adams, assisted by A. O. Hoffstadt, known as one of the "Hot Milk Angels," because he, his father and a brother respond to three-alarm fires, and supply hot milk and seltzer to firemen who have been overcome. They do it at their own expense.

CHANGES IN YACHT CLUB PROGRAMME. Criticism by Members Leads to Modifications of New-Rochelle Entertainment. Owing to the opposition of some of the members, a modification has been made in the programme of the entertainment which the New-Rochelle Yacht Club is to give in the local theatre in place on next Saturday night. Instead of having New-York substitutes in the sketch "Babes in Yachtland," the parts will be taken by a chorus of local yachtsmen. The sketch will go with a "Sammy" song by Commodore Donovan and a parody on "Put Down Six and Carry Two."

AGAINST STATE PRISON EXECUTIONS. Warden of Sing Sing Favors Separate Institution for Condemned Murderers. Governor Murphy of New-Jersey recently asked Warden Johnson of Sing Sing prison for his opinion as to the desirability of having all executions in the State prison, a bill providing for the carrying out of all death sentences in the State prison at Trenton being then before the New-Jersey legislature. Mr. Johnson said yesterday that he had told Governor Murphy he did not approve of the plan for a separate house, where men condemned to death may be kept until their cases are disposed of by the courts or they go to the chair. He thinks this will become necessary sooner or later. The death cells in Sing Sing are full, and if any more men are sentenced to death and come to the prison they will have to be placed in the padded cells, insane prisoners. There are only two of these available.
