

WOODEND FIRM ARRESTED KEPT FROM JAIL BY WIFE. She Gave Mortgage on Home—"Bucket" Charge Is Made.

His office in the hands of the marshals, his wife's property mortgaged for his sake, his wife a fugitive from justice, Dr. Woodend, a broker, horseman and free trader, reached the end of his short, brilliant Wall Street career when the suspension of W. E. Woodend & Co. was formally announced on the Consolidated Stock Exchange yesterday.

WOODEND FIRM'S DEBTS. Just how much the Woodend firm owes is causing considerable speculation. The receiver, who has not obtained any of the books yet, has a list of debts. Miss Donnelly thinks it will be less than $200,000, or about $125,000. James C. Lenny, counsel for Edward L. Bradbury, of the Hadden-Rodee Company, petitioner in bankruptcy, and his associate, George F. McGuire, say they already represent 15 or 20 creditors, whose claims will amount to about $125,000.

WOODEND MAY BE IN CITY. To all questions as to Dr. Woodend's whereabouts Mr. Warner was dumb. He would not say that his client was not in this city. A report that Mrs. Woodend was with her husband, Mr. Warner said that "he must be there at her house, then."

CHARGE OF "BUCKETING." James C. Lenny was busy yesterday handling creditors. Said he: "The amounts range mostly from $10,000 up. There are very few small amounts. We are looking into the 'bucketing' charge. We have no evidence that Woodend would take orders and would wait until a transaction came in on the tape. Dr. Woodend would not take orders and would not take orders from an unsuspecting customer, saying: 'That's the order.' In reality the order had never been made."

CHANGES IN YALE COMMENCEMENT. New-Haven, Conn., April 29 (Special).—A change in the programme of the Yale commencement week by which the exercises of commencement day will be considerably shortened, was announced today. The address of President Hadley will be delivered on Tuesday at the annual meeting of the alumni. In former years the president's address was given at the conference of graduates. It was given at the commencement dinner in reasonable season. The change will add to the importance of the annual meeting which will be held this year for the first time, in Woolsey Hall. Another change is the transfer of the address before the Medical Society from Tuesday noon of commencement week to Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

A DUMMY PLAINTIFF. Billiard Table Brusher Held Whiskey Trust Stock One Night.

J. P. McGovern, one of the lawyers employed by the Whiskey Trust, gave out a statement yesterday relating to the suit of Ernest Brothers and Fredrick G. Reeves against the trust and others for an accounting. The case has been on trial since April 15 before Justice Davis. The statement dealt with Reeves' share in the suit and quoted testimony alleged to be his, which showed that he was merely a dummy and held the twenty shares of stock issued in his name for only one night.

NEGROES DRIVEN FROM THE SOUTH. Vardaman's Veto of Negro School Appropriation a Labor Factor. JACKSON, Miss., April 29.—L. C. Bailey, of Ishaquena county, one of the leading planters and business men of this State, said last night that the security of labor in the South was due to the agitation of the negro question, which, to the negro mind, had its most malignant demonstration in Governor Vardaman's veto of the negro school appropriation. Mr. Bailey added:

Bank of Commerce Heads Combination to Bid Under "All or None" Rule. Arrangements were perfected yesterday by the financial interests which recently formed a syndicate to bid for the $37,000,000 city bonds which are to be offered next Tuesday. The syndicate comprises a half dozen of the leading downtown banks as many prominent banking houses and several trust companies and bond houses. The big insurance companies will also participate. The syndicate operations will be managed by the National Bank of Commerce, and it is expected that its bid under the new "all or none" rule will be successful.
