

BANKER SHOTS HIMSELF. Owner of Failed Macon, Ga., Institution a Suicide.

Macon, Ga., May 21.—Robert H. Plant, president of the First National Bank and owner of the L. C. Plant's Bank, both recently placed in the hands of receivers committed suicide on the back porch of his home in College-st. to-day. He had been ill for two months.

Mr. Plant had told his nurse that he wished to lie down. Twenty minutes later he asked to be assisted to the bath room. The nurse complied, and waited fifteen minutes for him, when she heard a pistol shot. She rushed into the room, but Mr. Plant was not there. The bathroom had two doors, one opening on the porch. There she found her employer, with a pistol in his hand, dead.

The coroner was at once summoned, and on the testimony of the nurse and a physician a verdict of suicide was rendered. Mr. Plant leaves a widow and nine children. George H. Plant, vice-president of the First National Bank, was the dead man's brother.

The plant banking institutions are the oldest in the city. They were closed last Monday. The receiver of the private institution has reported a deficit of more than $844,000. The National Bank Examiner has as yet made no report on the First National's affairs.

Mr. Plant, in addition to being identified with various manufacturing enterprises and formerly largely engaged with the New York Life Insurance Company, was known throughout the trotting world, and his horses for years have been in the Grand Circuit. He owned Grattan Bay, Dulce Cor, Miss Willamont and other well known horses.

Mr. Plant had an insurance of over $1,000,000, of which about $800,000 was for the benefit of his creditors. Letters written within the last two or three days indicated that he despaired of being able to leave his bed in time to repair his fortunes. He had expressed entire approval of the employment of expert accountants by the receiver.

GET EIGHT CENT FARE. Best Signs Contract for Williamsburg Bridge—Five Cents Later.

President Vreeland of the Metropolitan, President Fisher of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit and President Hines of the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railway, the three corporations which will run cars over the Williamsburg Bridge, conferred with Commissioner Best yesterday on an eight-cent fare on the Williamsburg Bridge.

After the conference Commissioner Best said the contract had been signed substantially as at first agreed on, but one clause had been altered. This clause now reads as follows:

The bridge company agrees that as soon as these tracks, loops and terminals and electric equipment thereto are completed, or on or before July 15, it will operate this portion of the surface tracks and electric equipment as the Commissioner may direct.

This meant, the commissioner said, that instead of having a local service ready by July 15, there would be a local service on the bridge at three cents a ticket, two for five, and a comparatively limited through service at five cents. This through service would be operated only from the Brooklyn end, that is, cars only from and to Brooklyn would run through, and only such cars as could be run over the Roebuck-st. line.

The result of the agreement practically is that all who wish to take a car from Brooklyn to the Williamsburg end of the bridge to a point in Manhattan must pay eight cents. It is estimated that it will take six months to put the under-trolley system on the bridge.

Persons living in Brooklyn who want to come from Brooklyn to Manhattan and back for five cents, if they miss a Roebuck-st. car at night they must buy a three-cent bridge ticket and pay the extra five cents. It is not expected that this of course, is temporary. Ultimately a five-cent fare will obtain.

Mayor McClellan said the other day that he would insist on a five-cent fare now, and would ask the commissioner to eliminate the eight-cent fare from any contract.

SHUTDOWN THROWS HUNDREDS OUT. Empire Bridge Company, at Elmira, Makes Big Curtailment.

Elmira, N. Y., May 21.—One plant of the Empire Bridge Company, in this city, was closed to-day and the other placed on a four days' schedule. Lack of work is given as the cause. Several hundred men are out of work. It is not expected that the one plant will be reopened, and the other one will probably be closed soon. Since the strike two years ago, a general suspension of work here has been expected.

ALLEGED GET-RICH-QUICK MEN. Chicago Prisoners Said to Have Been Officials of the E. S. Dean Company.

Chicago, May 21.—The police to-day made a raid on the office of the Baldwin Cotton Company, and arrested two men, who gave their names as A. J. Emerest and Gerald Emerest. The prisoners are charged with operating a get-rich-quick scheme. The raid was made as the result of a statement by Otto Guenther, who told the police that he recognized Emerest and Emerest as former officials of the E. S. Dean Company, which was broken up by the New York police several years ago.

Guenther said that in 1897 he was advertising agent for the Dean Company.

ALLEGED NEGRO MURDERER HELD. Brooklyn Police Arrest Man Thought to Have Escaped from Raleigh, N. C.

Lewis Nixon, a mulatto, who, the police say, at first denied and then admitted that he was the man wanted by the police of Raleigh, N. C., to serve out a sentence for murder in the second degree, was arrested in Prince-st., near Myrtle-ave., Brooklyn, yesterday. In the Adams-st. court he was held on a technical charge of vagrancy, and sent to jail until next Tuesday, when he will be taken to officers from Raleigh who will be ready to take him back to North Carolina.

The Nixon wanted down there was convicted of killing William Tucker in a gambling quarrel in Raleigh, N. C., in 1903. He was sent to prison in Raleigh for twelve years, and served eleven months he was made a trusty, and soon after made his escape.

MARCONI STARTS ON FINAL TRIP. Expects to Have Campania Daily Paper Installed for Return Voyage.

Marconi sailed yesterday on the Campania to perfect his arrangements to furnish the Cunard company with a daily news service. He arrived last week on the same vessel, and, not finding his contemplated trip to the Cape Breton station necessary, sailed yesterday on the steamer to put the finishing touches to his scheme. On his return trip he hopes to have everything in working order, and the company will probably publish the paper at once.

The greater part of the voyage will be spent by Marconi in experimenting as to the most favorable situation on the vessel for the receiving and sending of messages. He says the rooms now in use are too small for the latest instruments, and he does not believe that they are in the best place. He has two rooms aboard the Campania—one amidships on the main deck and the other just aft of the bridge.

The new daily paper, said Marconi, "will be typed on the next trip of the Campania, and will be followed by the issue of one of the Atlantic. We will receive news from both sides of the Atlantic. When leaving or nearing the other side, news will be sent to the Cape Breton station. With the new and improved instruments, which are being used, it is probably many times when the vessel will be in communication with both sides of the Atlantic at the same time.

One of the most serious drawbacks at the present time is that it is impossible to send messages at as great a rate as desired. He arrived only thirty seconds a minute. This can be increased by the use of an automatic sender, and I am perfectly confident that it can be done.

The wireless company, under our agreement with the Cunard people, is simply to furnish the news to the steamer. The publication of the news itself is entirely in the hands of the steamship people.

DETAILS OF NEW CUBAN LOAN. Security Behind $35,000,000 Issue of the Republic To Be Offered to Public.

The $35,000,000 5 per cent bonds of the Republic of Cuba, due 1944, which were recently purchased by Speyer & Co., have been privately sold to a considerable amount.

The government of the United States has been advised by Speyer & Co. of the conclusion of the loan and of the security therefor, and has replied that it does not consider that there is occasion to object to such issue of bonds by reason of Article II of the Appendix of the Constitution of Cuba, adopted pursuant to the requirements of the so-called "Platt amendment."

In issuing the new loan the Republic of Cuba, besides the usual pledge of good faith and credit, created a special permanent tax on different articles, such as strong liquors, wines, beers, artificial waters, matches, tobacco, cigars and cigars. This special permanent tax is to remain in force during the life of the loan or any part thereof. The proceeds of the first five months' operation, ended March 31 last, yielded $1,403,732 in United States gold. By the contract which the government of Cuba made with Speyer & Co. the government assigned and pledged as special security the loan, with precedence over any and all future obligations of the Republic, the customs receipts of the Republic. The customs receipts of the Cuban Republic for the fiscal year ended June 30 last amounted to $18,628,000. The amount for the nine months ended March 31, 1904, they increased to $12,509,000, thus showing a considerable increase over the previous year. The amount to be paid by the Republic to the United States gold monthly instalments of $5,000 each. The Cuban government also agrees, should the pledge of the customs receipts be insufficient to fund the loan, and the sinking fund requirements of the loan, to assign and pledge such additional percentage as may be necessary.

Subscriptions will be opened in this city at 10 p. m. on May 22 by Speyer & Co., Nos. 24 and 25 Pine-st., and Harvey Fish & Sons, No. 22 Nassau-st., also in London by Speyer Brothers, in Frankfurt-am-Main by Lazard, Freres-Elliessen, the Deutsche Bank Agency and Jacob S. H. Stern, and in Amsterdam by Teixeira de Mattos Brothers.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL IN DANGER. Mayor of Texas Town Charged with Conspiracy Against It.

Sherman, Tex., May 21.—J. W. M. Hughes, Mayor of Whitesboro, has been arrested on a federal indictment charging him with being in a conspiracy to set at naught the Civil Rights bill by the expulsion by force of certain negroes from Whitesboro and vicinity. He was released on $2,500 bond.

CONY'S EXTRA POLICE GO ON. Fifty-five More Men Help Keep the Crowd There in Order.

Coney Island again assumed a holiday appearance yesterday evening, when an unusually large crowd of Saturday visitors descended on the place. In Luna Park a great mass of people spent the afternoon, and night seeing the Circus Maximus and the Durbar of India in the Streets of Delhi. "Fire and Flames," the fire spectacle, in which a city block of houses is consumed, and which includes a series of rescues from the burning buildings, was not opened, owing to the magnitude of preparatory work necessary for such an exhibition. Ex-Fire Chief Henry W. McAdams and his corps of seventy trained firefighters, were, however, busily engaged in getting their apparatus in readiness for a call to duty in case of a fire, which consists of three engines, one hook and ladder truck, one aerial truck, hose carts and chief wagon, is not only used for ordinary fire fighting, but also for use as actual fire should call for them, and will therefore be of assistance to the city during any emergency.

The new duplex chutes in Dreamland were loaded with passengers from the time ex-Senator William B. Egan, who is expected to be elected to the office of the bridge, which started at 3 a. m. when Sergeant John Sheehan, with Patrolmen Charles J. Kelly and Undermark, captured eleven vagrants in a raid on some box cars. When the afternoon platoon was sent on duty, the vagrants were transferred from the box cars to the city hall, where they had been transferred by Police Commissioner McAdoo to assist Captain Dooley in keeping the "lid down" in the vicinity of the city hall, where they were transferred from downtown precincts, and will remain until fall, making the total force now at the island 120.

Mrs. Sheridan had a leg broken and sustained other injuries. She was in a hospital for three weeks.

Mrs. Jennie Gordon, a seamstress, was found dead yesterday in her room in the boarding house at No. 342 West Twenty-first-st., by the landlady, who went to the room to deliver a note from Mrs. Gordon's husband, who had been ill in the New-York Hospital, and had written to tell her he would be discharged yesterday afternoon. An hour after Mrs. Gordon's body was found her husband reached home.

A NEWARK (OHIO) BANK CLOSED. Newark, Ohio, May 21.—The Newark Savings Bank did not open its doors to-day, and the court has appointed W. G. Theel receiver. Rumors regarding the bank yesterday caused a slight run, and last night the directors decided that they would not open this morning. The bank has thousands of depositors among the working people, and its closing is a great excitement. According to the report of Mr. Tafel, discrepancies have been discovered in the books of the treasurer, James F. Gresham.

Cashier Lingerferfer went to Columbus to-day to enter a garnishment. The irregularity in the books is said to be nearly $50,000.

Columbus, Ohio, May 21.—Cashier Lingerferfer was found at the Park View Sanatorium, in this city, to-day. He refused to be seen, but his son said the failure was due to President Schaus refusing to sign notes for a temporary loan, according to the custom at the sanatorium. The year's standing loans by the bank. He denied that there was any shortage, and said the bank would pay dollar for dollar.

FYSH TO CONTEST WIFE'S WILL. Captain J. A. Fysh has filed in the Surrogate's office a notice of protest to the will of his wife, Mrs. Alberta C. B. Fysh, on the grounds that she was in no time the testatrix, and that it was not the intention of her husband to make a will, and that it was not the last will made by her. Mrs. Fysh died about three months ago in her apartment in West One-hundred-and-eighth-st., from inhaling chloroform. Fysh received no bequest.

A STOCK MARKET VIEW. Charles G. Gatos & Co. say:

The week was dull and featureless until yesterday, when a marked increase in strength on the prospects of a favorable bank statement. When the latter was published the urgency to cover the market was evident. A general view of confidence by some of the larger traders, caused a sharp advance and a strong reaction. The market was in an easy frame of mind at the finish. The magnitude of the short interest alone should have attracted attention. The publication of the report that general conditions have turned the corner and that better times are in store, has had a stimulating effect on the market. Standard stocks are a purchase now, and on any setback of moment, until they have reached a materially higher level.

POTTER'S FIELD BURIAL. Woman Friend Says Was Wealthy To Hunt for Will.

After a long absence abroad Mrs. Carrie McGuire, of No. 141 West Tenth-st., returned to this city yesterday, to learn that her friend Mrs. Lucy Clark, fifty years old, who is supposed to have had a competency, had died on October 4, 1898, at Bellevue Hospital, and that her body was buried in the Potter's Field.

Seeking information of the exact burial place, that she might have the body exhumed and placed in her own family lot in Sullivan County, Mrs. McGuire called at the Morgue and, on consulting the records, gained the knowledge she desired.

Mrs. McGuire said she had been told by a lawyer named McClellan, who acted as counsel for herself and Mrs. Clark, that the latter had made a will in favor of Mrs. McGuire. The lawyer, said Mrs. McGuire, told her it was understood that Mrs. Clark left at least $25,000 or $30,000, besides valuable personal property. Mrs. McGuire wants to find this lawyer.

Mrs. McGuire has made arrangements for the exhumation of the body to its removal to Sullivan County. To-morrow she will make an investigation at the Surrogate's office to ascertain if Mrs. Clark left a will.

The petitioner states that his partner, James Noonan, refuses to join with him in the petition. The principal creditors are James Dowd, No. 64 East One-hundred-and-forty-seventh-st., $1,000, secured by mortgage on horses and trucks; Kate McDonough, No. 54 Lenox-ave., $500, also secured by mortgage on horses and trucks; Dodge & Devaney, Pittsford, Mass., $1,437; C. NORDICA SUIT REOPENED. Doeme to Make Defence He Charges He Suppressed.

Justice MacLean yesterday appointed ex-Justice Daly referee to take testimony in Zoltan Doeme's appeal to have the interlocutory judgment obtained by his wife, Mrs. Lillian Nordica Doeme, vacated as null and void on the ground that the courts did not have jurisdiction and that the judgment was obtained by fraud and collusion. Doeme further asks that, if this relief be not granted, the interlocutory judgment be vacated, and the action reopened and sent to a referee, he to have the right to interpose a new answer or demurrer.

Had Justice MacLean vacated the judgment as null and void it would have put an end to the action brought by Mrs. Nordica, and she would have been compelled to begin a new action if she desired to obtain a divorce. Justice MacLean, however, only vacates the judgment so far as to allow the action to be reopened, so that Doeme may testify.

Justice MacLean, in his opinion, says hardly a fact is mentioned in the papers to show that Mrs. Nordica was really a resident of this State at the time the action was brought. The apartment of which she had a lease for a term of six months is not shown, the court says, to be more than a halting place convenient for a temporary engagement.

The opinion continues: The inference is not excluded that the plaintiff resorted to this jurisdiction to obtain money from the defendant, which she could not obtain in the Hungarian courts, the courts of her husband's nationality, and consequently here, courts where her earnings would be treated as his property.

The defendant charges and confesses that a proposition had been submitted by the plaintiff to obtain a decree of absolute divorce and consent would consent to her receiving $3,000 out of the State and securing attached, then plaintiff, after the granting of the decree, would consent to the vacation of the attachment, and an agreement was signed, and that the defendant, in accordance with the collective arrangement, did not attempt to intercept the substantial defenses that he has since been informed might have been by him interposed.

In this regard the referee will be ordered to take proof and report opinion of the fact, the costs and disbursements of the reference to be paid by the defendant.

NORDICA WILL NOT SING. Sends Word to Duss from Ottawa—Venice To-night.

When "Venice" opens to-night at Madison Square Garden, with Duss's Orchestra as the permanent attraction, the audience will be informed that Miss Nordica, who was billed as the principal feature of the opening, had cancelled her contract and would not sing.

The fact that Mrs. Nordica was to sing has been widely advertised by the Duss management, and the entire house had been sold in advance. Yesterday Loudon G. Charlton, Mr. Duss's manager, received a telegram from Ottawa, signed by Simmons, Mme. Nordica's manager, reading: "Madame cannot start. Exhausted. Tried her voice today and completely unresponsive. Will not be able to sing for some days."

The Duss people were in consternation on receipt of the message.

"Mme. Nordica has dealt us a great blow by throwing down her contract in this unexpected fashion," said Duss last night. "I do not doubt that it is worthy over the reopening of her divorce case that has caused the action on her part. It is a matter of public interest, and the public has a right to know the truth. We are doing our best to get her out of bad faith, and the only thing we can do as an earnest to the public of our sincere intentions is to cut all the prices for to-night's performance. All the $250 seats will be sold to-morrow for $1. The rest of the programme will be faithfully carried out. We are still hoping that Mme. Nordica will change her mind and appear at the last minute. We even tried to throw a consoling sop to the public by offering Her Duss's Mme. Nordica, husband, $2,500 the same price as we offered the singer, to be on hand to-morrow night and sing in her own place. Mr. Doeme, however, refused our offer."

Last night finishing touches were put upon the wiring of the entire interior of Madison Square Garden into a Venetian scene. When the audience files into the big arena to-night, it will find itself transported to the heart of Venice. The Doge's palace and the Cathedral of St. Mark are at one end of the scene, and even Desdemona's house has not been forgotten. The arena is much converted into a remarkably realistic Venetian canal running around an island, in which Duss's big orchestra will be stationed. The canal is much like the canal of Duss's Venice of last year. Gondolas will convey passengers around the island, and during intermission the Venetian gondoliers will sing.

TRY AGAIN. Maybe what you wanted last Sunday you did not find in the "Little Ads. of the People." Try again to-day. It may be there.

MRS. DE PEYSTER SEEKS LIST OF BOOTY. No Valuable Jewels in Vault, Writes J. H. Livingston from France.

Albany, May 21.—Chief of Police Hyatt to-day received a letter from Mrs. John De Peyster, written at the Park Avenue Hotel, New-York City, asking for a list of the valuables recovered from the trunks arrested in this city, which she believed to have been stolen from the De Peyster home, at Tivoli-on-the-Hudson. A list and description will be sent to her.

Hudson, N. Y., May 21.—There were no valuable jewels in the Livingston vaults at the cemetery in this place, according to a letter received yesterday from J. H. Livingston, who writes from France, where he recently read the stories about the looting of the family trunks in the vault. Mr. Livingston says that no gold, silver, diamonds, pearls, or anything else in the shape of jewelry was buried with the body of Mary Livingston when her body was placed in the tomb, fifty years ago.

THINK WALK KILLED HER. Conductors Would Not Carry Aged Sick Woman.

The death of Mrs. Annie Walters, seventy-three years old, which occurred at her home, No. 147 Bayard-st., Brooklyn, on Friday night, is believed by her relatives to have been due in a great degree to the refusal of the conductors of two Graham-ave. trolley cars to allow her to ride when she was seriously ill. Carcon Williams will hold an inquest, and try to discover who the conductors were.

Mrs. Walters, who belonged to an old Eastern District family, was returning to her home from a visit to her daughter on Thursday. While on a Tompkins-ave. car she became ill. When she got off at Flushing-ave. to transfer to a Graham-ave. car, she was so dizzy and faint that she had to hold on to a lamp post. When she tried to board a Graham-ave. car the conductor, instead of assisting her, repulsed her, and went on with his car, with the remark about her being "drunk."

Mrs. Walters had a similar experience with the conductor of the next car, and then decided to walk home. When she reached there, after a walk of two miles, she dropped exhausted on the steps. After being taken in the regained consciousness long enough to tell of her trying experience. When Mrs. Walters died on Friday Coroner's Physician Wuest said that her death had been caused by a paralytic strike, probably brought on by her long walk.

WILL PUSH ATTACK ON SUNDAY SHOWS. Dr. Myers Says There Will Not Be One in New-York When He Gets Through.

The Rev. Dr. Cortland Myers, pastor of the Baptist Temple, Brooklyn, said yesterday that in addition to asking to-morrow for a warrant for the arrest of Percy G. Williams, manager of the Strand Theatre, he would also ask for a warrant for "Pop" Gotthold, manager of the Star Theatre. He said that the complaint against these men would be that they violated the law on Sunday, May 8, by giving performances similar to those given on week days.

Dr. Myers says that he does not expect that the managers will allow anything illegal on the programme to-night, but he will have the performances watched just the same. Next fall when the season opens again Mr. Myers will renew his crusade. "There will not be a single show on Sunday in New-York City when I get through," he said yesterday.

VICOMTE WANTS PARTNERSHIP ENDED. Summons and complaint have been served in an action for dissolution of partnership and an accounting by the Vicomte Pierre de Tardy de Montrevel, against G. S. Small, jr., banker and broker, at No. 62 Broadway. The count has been a partner of Mr. Small since 1887.

Vicomte Montrevel declares he is a lineal descendant of Marie Antoinette. In 1827, when the count first appeared here, he exhibited at the Waldorf a quantity of old lace which were alleged to have been the property of the French queen.
