AT THE WHITE HOUSE. [FROM THE TRIBUNE BUREAU.] Washington, June 23.—Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Cary will leave Washington for Sagamore Hill, Oyster Bay, to-morrow. Miss Cary sails for Italy on July 5. Mrs. Roosevelt will not return until the latter part of September.

Bushford of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who will shortly leave here for Shanghai, China; William L. Merritt, United States Minister in Costa Rica, Nicaragua and San Salvador; James G. W. J. Youngs, the United States Attorney for the Southern District of New-York, a close personal friend of the President, and at one time his secretary, called this morning. He talked about some New-York matters.

Mr. Madden, Third Assistant Postmaster General, called on the President to-day. The President had desired to see him and talk over certain matters which he wished to leave until the investigation of Mr. Madden's office had been completed. This investigation has been terminated, and the charges of every kind against Mr. Madden have been found to be without foundation.

NEW-YORK SOCIETY. [FROM THE TRIBUNE BUREAU.] Although town is supposed to be deserted by society, yet numbers of the well known people are to be found assembled every day at the luncheon hour at Sherry's, Delmonico's and the other fashionable restaurants.

WAR VIEWS OF EXPERTS. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Washington, June 23.—The absence of definite news respecting the Japanese before Port Arthur leads to the view that the invading forces have found their projected attack seriously blocked, as most of the United States officers believed would be the case, or that the Japanese have decided upon a campaign of siege with such employment of chance opportunity as would contribute to their success.

THE EMPEROR AT KIEL. Kiel, June 23.—Emperor William and the Empress witnessed the various events this morning, and gave a small luncheon on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern. Among the guests invited to dine with their majesties this evening were Mrs. Goetz, Mrs. Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Allison V. Armour and F. B. Rice.

with inimitable ingenuously, did not realize the fact, and did not see in how dirty a bit of work he was being made a go-between. But it is ridiculous to talk about the American spirit which will not brook delay. The German who lets a full car go whizzing by him in Berlin would do the same in New-York. The difference is that in New-York the railroad company invites him to get on the crowded car, and does not think it doing a normal business if the aisles are not filled.

There is something, indeed, to be said in excuse for crowding on streetcars at the rush hour, when no possible equipment would be adequate to the traffic. But before a carrier has a right to fall back on this excuse and say that the public must submit to overcrowding or to delays so vexatious as to provoke riots, he must do all that is physically possible to furnish facilities equal to the demand.

DEMOCRATIC ENVY. Democratic newspapers have been trying hard this week to gain and impart comfort by describing the Republican convention as dull and cold. At heart they cannot help sympathizing with Speaker Cannon's declaration that "our friends the enemy would be grateful for a little of our lack of enthusiasm, or "kind of enthusiasm." If their memories are not conveniently short, they must recollect that four years ago they were busily engaged in depicting the lifelessness of the Philadelphia convention and eager to draw cheerful auguries from the absence of a tumultuous spirit which the circumstances were not fitted to evoke.

THE NATIONAL TICKET. The Republican National Convention completed its work yesterday by nominating as its national candidates Theodore Roosevelt, of New-York, and Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana. Both nominations were made unanimously.

THE HAYTIAN TROUBLES. The "Black Republic" is not behaving well. It is bad to have revolutions and mobs and the like. It is worse to have mobs injure foreigners. It is worst of all and quite inexcusable to have the official guards of the existing government commit violent outrages upon the representatives of friendly foreign governments.

THE TALK OF THE DAY. The recent murder of General Borikoff, Governor of Finland, brings to mind the similar murders of President McKinley, Humbert, King of Italy, Elizabeth, Empress of Austria, and President Carnot of France, and people ask themselves what has become of the murderers, who have not been executed like Czolgosz and Caserio, the slayers of McKinley and Carnot.

FIRE-PROOF STEAMBOATS. When so intelligent and conservative a periodical as "Engineering News" makes the combustibility of the General Slocum the chief factor in last week's disaster, the Tribune feels that its own recent demand for a radical improvement in the construction of excursion boats is fully justified.

A POOR EXCUSE. In response to complaints of the overcrowding of the Long Island Railroad ferries, the representatives of the company declare that it is impracticable to limit the number of passengers. If a crowd happens to come along it will swarm on board a boat whether there is room or not, regardless of all attempts at restraint on the part of the company.

M. COMBES AND CHARTREUSE. The controversy over the Chartreuse affair threatens to grow into one of the most serious the French government has had to face for some years. It does not appear that there is any good reason why the Prime Minister's place should be imperilled.
