TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1904.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

FOREIGN.—General Oku's divided army continued its advance on Kanto and Tashichiao, his scouts being reported in touch with the Russians at both of these points; a large force was reported to be concentrating southeast of the city.

DOMESTIC.—President Roosevelt had a conference at Oyster Bay with Senator Fairbanks, Chairman Cortelyou and Cornelius N. Bliss.

CITY.—Investigations into the wreck on the Erie Railroad at Greenburgh, N. Y., on Sunday, were begun by both the county and railroad officials.

THE WEATHER.—Indications for to-day: Showers and thunderstorms; fresh southerly wind.

We desire to remind our readers who are about to leave the city that The Tribune will be sent by mail to any address in this country or abroad, and address changed as often as desired.

THE DEMOCRATIC OUTLOOK.

The Democratic National Convention ended by straddling a straddle. It adopted unanimously a platform refusing to accept its free silver coinage heresies, and nominated a Presidential candidate whose agents and sponsors had given every assurance that the convention's policy he would bow to the convention's judgment.

THE ACCIDENT AT MIDVALE.

In spite of the lessons afforded by many years of experience, rear end railway collisions continue to happen with lamentable frequency. The latest one occurred last Sunday on the Greenlawn Lake branch of the Erie road near Midvale.

THE TALK OF THE DAY.

The most extraordinary pearl- or, rather, cluster of pearls—known as the Southern Cross, is owned by a syndicate of Australians, who value it at $500,000.

THE DIFFERENCE AN EARLIER DISPATCH WOULD HAVE MADE.

St. Louis correspondence New-York Evening Post. While this was a gold convention, and had its leaders in the States, it was not a gold convention.

NOT MORAL HEROISM, BUT A SHREWED TRICK.

the radical and conservative elements in the Democracy. It cuts from under his candidacy the support of the West. It surrenders Colorado, Montana, Idaho and Nevada—States carried by Bryan in 1900 and casting 14 votes this year—for the distant chance of placating and capturing New-York. But a party which has given so bungling an exhibition of its faith in the gold standard as that just witnessed at St. Louis can never hope to carry New-York.

HONOR IN POLITICS.

The sequence of things is sometimes very instructive when you come deliberately to trace it out afterward. Take these, for instance: Judge Parker was practically without political record, save that he had twice voted for William J. Bryan.

PARKER AND GOLD PLANK.

PROPER TIME TO SPEAK.

The "Manliness" of Mr. Bryan and That of the Present Candidate Contrasted.

From The Springfield Republican.

It may be a little thought, yet candor compels a statement that the American whose course in a similar exigency had furnished Judge Parker with a model of conduct was none other than William Jennings Bryan. At Kansas City four years ago, Mr. Bryan confronted this situation: The resolutions committee was sharply divided upon the question of ignoring the money question, and there was a prospect that a report would be taken on the subject.
