

JUDGE PARKER'S OUTING.

To Make Visit to-day to Winnsb... Club—Hoke Smith Calls.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Esopus, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Judge Parker is going to take a trip up into the Catskills to-morrow, returning on Monday. The occasion is the annual meeting of the Winnsb... Club, of which he was the first president. The club has quarters at Slide Mountain. He will go to Kingston to attend church in the morning, and will take the 12:45 train with Mrs. Parker. A dinner is scheduled for Monday evening at the club, but Judge and Mrs. Parker will make the start for home before it takes place. Covers will be laid for probably sixty persons. W. S. Rodie, of the Democratic State Committee; T. E. Evans and former Public Printer; Thomas H. Evans and Charles F. Hall, of New-York; and Charles M. Preston, former Banking Superintendent, are among those who will make Judge Parker at the clubhouse. It is said that there will be no politics in the visit.

Harry B. Hayes, of St. Louis, visited the candidate to-day and asked him to go to St. Louis and make a speech. Judge Parker was as non-committal as usual on the proposition, but it is known that he intends to go to the St. Louis exposition with Mrs. Parker. They will be the guests of Mrs. Daniel Manning and will make the trip some time in September. Mr. Hayes also arranged for the visit of a crowd of crowd Democrats from the Southwest, under the leadership of Edward Field Goltra, in whose private car they will come from St. Louis. This descent on Rosemount will be made some time in September.

Ex-Secretary Hoke Smith and his son Marion were also among the callers. Mr. Smith fell into the Rosemount habit of saying that his call was social. He was almost unique among the Rosemount callers, for he did not have to be introduced. Mr. Smith will make a few speeches in the campaign. He said he was going to Danville, Va., next week to try a law case, and would then return to his home. He did not expect to see his former chief, ex-President Cleveland, before returning to the States.

Among other visitors to-day were Frederick W. Wadhams, of Albany, secretary of the State Bar Association; Judge Stephen S. Blake, of New-York; John W. B. Smith, of New-York; R. Dunlop, of New-York, author of "Jefferson's Democracy," and Peter Black, of Fly Mountain, N. Y., who was accompanied by W. G. Hockridge and Henry Fester, of New-York, and Dr. William F. Broome, of New-York. Dr. Paterson, of New-York, talked to Judge Parker concerning the organization of Democratic clubs. Ex-Judge Parker's only visitor this morning was W. B. Beardsley, a New-York lawyer and a longtime friend of the candidate. Mr. Beardsley arrived just as the ex-Judge was starting on his morning ride with Mrs. Parker, and was taken to the Rosemount by the latter on his account. He remained until ex-Judge Parker returned, and then they visited for more than an hour. Twenty-seven years ago, when the latter was a young lawyer, he was a frequent caller on his account. He remained until ex-Judge Parker returned, and then they visited for more than an hour. Twenty-seven years ago, when the latter was a young lawyer, he was a frequent caller on his account.

WANTS SHEEHAN TO ACT.

Congressman Van Duzer Urges Western Representation.

The wheels of the Democratic organization continued to revolve yesterday, but they went round with significant sluggishness. Chairman Tazgart was at his post, but when asked what was engaging him he said he was getting ready for Sunday services. It is, however, not yet known what the actual plans for the campaign are. Now being mapped out could not be expected to square with the Decalogue. One prominent Democrat who has been identified with the national organization in past campaigns gave an indirect but nevertheless convincing intimation of the practical methods expected to be employed when he said that, in view of the use that would be made of money in certain doubtful States, it was proper that only such as were of the dominant faction in this campaign should be included in the executive organization.

SOUTHERNER ON PARKER'S SPEECH

His Search for Health Bears Fruit of the Regulation Kind. As was expected, ex-Lieutenant Governor William F. Sheehan's search for health at Harpor, Vermont, has borne fruit of the regulation kind yesterday, when it was announced that on Mr. Sheehan's suggestion several of the more prominent Democratic campaign orators will be turned loose in Vermont and Maine in the next three weeks. Mr. Sheehan, who took with him to Bar Harbor "one of the Democratic dough bags, is now able to sit up and take nourishment. He also is distributing notices of the coming of the "wonderful influence" of the "hot air" and "imaginary" "Regulation Democrats" in the last stages of dissolution have shown remarkable recuperative powers since Mr. Sheehan registered at a Bar Harbor hotel.

SHEEHAN ABLE TO SIT UP.

His Search for Health Bears Fruit of the Regulation Kind. As was expected, ex-Lieutenant Governor William F. Sheehan's search for health at Harpor, Vermont, has borne fruit of the regulation kind yesterday, when it was announced that on Mr. Sheehan's suggestion several of the more prominent Democratic campaign orators will be turned loose in Vermont and Maine in the next three weeks. Mr. Sheehan, who took with him to Bar Harbor "one of the Democratic dough bags, is now able to sit up and take nourishment. He also is distributing notices of the coming of the "wonderful influence" of the "hot air" and "imaginary" "Regulation Democrats" in the last stages of dissolution have shown remarkable recuperative powers since Mr. Sheehan registered at a Bar Harbor hotel.

DOBLIN BOLTS PARKER.

Benjamin Doblin, president of the Manhattan Single Tax Club, an active Bryan man in the last two national campaigns, has come out against the Parker-Davis ticket, saying that he will vote for Watson and Tibbles. He says: "The men who promoted and brought about the nomination of Sheehan and Messrs. Belmont, Sheehan, McCarran, Hill et al. are not the character of men I care to follow. I have no confidence in their sincerity, and therefore I would not trust them. Even though they have arranged to spend going belief in the 7-n Commandments. It should not be converted into a party for place-hunters and privileged grabbers. These things are banking, yet they are the very ones who aimed to slaughter the Democratic party when they seemed anti-Democratic, else they could not spend money and their energies in its behalf. I would not follow them. Their intentions and judgment in this election are not better than those of the 'wonderful influence' of the 'hot air' and 'imaginary' 'Regulation Democrats' in the last stages of dissolution have shown remarkable recuperative powers since Mr. Sheehan registered at a Bar Harbor hotel.

PRESIDENT OF MANHATTAN SINGLE TAX CLUB AGAINST 'PIRACY.'

Benjamin Doblin, president of the Manhattan Single Tax Club, an active Bryan man in the last two national campaigns, has come out against the Parker-Davis ticket, saying that he will vote for Watson and Tibbles. He says: "The men who promoted and brought about the nomination of Sheehan and Messrs. Belmont, Sheehan, McCarran, Hill et al. are not the character of men I care to follow. I have no confidence in their sincerity, and therefore I would not trust them. Even though they have arranged to spend going belief in the 7-n Commandments. It should not be converted into a party for place-hunters and privileged grabbers. These things are banking, yet they are the very ones who aimed to slaughter the Democratic party when they seemed anti-Democratic, else they could not spend money and their energies in its behalf. I would not follow them. Their intentions and judgment in this election are not better than those of the 'wonderful influence' of the 'hot air' and 'imaginary' 'Regulation Democrats' in the last stages of dissolution have shown remarkable recuperative powers since Mr. Sheehan registered at a Bar Harbor hotel.

STONESBURY TO COLLECT FUNDS.

Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—It was announced to-day that J. Stonesbury, president of the Union League and a member of the banking firm of Drexel & Co., had been selected by Republican National Chairman Cortelyou as chairman of the Philadelphia auxiliary committee to collect funds for the campaign.

MUST SHOW SOME FIGHT.

President Urges Energetic Work by Republicans in the South.

[FROM THE TRIBUNE BUREAU.] Washington, Aug. 13.—Republican politicians of the South have been again advised by President Roosevelt that their diligence in getting the party ticket will be a much more important factor than the enthusiasm they so often displayed at the "role condition." In other words, the President has had occasion in the last two or three days to reiterate the sentiments he expressed two years ago when he observed a distressing lack of "fighting edge" in the Republican workers of certain Southern States. They were not at all backward when the time came for claiming federal appointments, however, and frequently made a brave show of force at the White House or about the hotel lobbies of the capital.

FIGHTS AT PRIMARIES.

Lively Times Expected in Some Districts Among Democrats.

The primary fights this year will be confined almost entirely to the XIXth and XXth districts among Republicans, and to the XXth, XXIXth, XXXth, XXXIst and XXXIIst among the Democrats. In the XIXth District the Douglas-Wise men are trying to out the Gilman-Quigg forces from control of the district. Efforts have been made by mutual friends of the contestants to bring about harmony, but they have not been successful. In the XXth District the Gilman-Quigg forces are trying to out the Douglas-Wise forces from control of the district. Efforts have been made by mutual friends of the contestants to bring about harmony, but they have not been successful. In the XXth District the Gilman-Quigg forces are trying to out the Douglas-Wise forces from control of the district. Efforts have been made by mutual friends of the contestants to bring about harmony, but they have not been successful.

Edward H. Healy has a contest in the XXXVth District. His opponent being John J. Harrington. Mr. Healy's friends are confident of winning, and say that Mr. Harrington will withdraw his opposition. In the XXXVIth District the Douglas-Wise men are trying to out the Gilman-Quigg forces from control of the district. Efforts have been made by mutual friends of the contestants to bring about harmony, but they have not been successful. In the XXXVIIth District the Douglas-Wise men are trying to out the Gilman-Quigg forces from control of the district. Efforts have been made by mutual friends of the contestants to bring about harmony, but they have not been successful.

Plans for the semi-centennial of the Republican party in this State are nearly all completed and the indications are that the celebration to be held in Saratoga on the night of September 14 (the first day of the Republican State Convention) will be largely attended and attract widespread interest. The committee in charge yesterday sent an appeal throughout the State for surviving Republicans who signed Republican calls or who attended the mass meeting in 1854 to gather at Saratoga for a State reunion. The call among other things says: "The first regular Republican Delegate State Convention ever held by the Republican party was held at Saratoga, N. Y., September 16, 1854, at which all but three counties in this State were represented by delegates. These delegates were appointed by numerous signed calls and mass meetings in each county, and were held over to the second day of the convention. It is fitting that we should remember and celebrate the anniversary of this historic event. The convention was held at Saratoga, N. Y., September 16, 1854, at which all but three counties in this State were represented by delegates. These delegates were appointed by numerous signed calls and mass meetings in each county, and were held over to the second day of the convention. It is fitting that we should remember and celebrate the anniversary of this historic event.

PLANS NEARLY COMPLETE.

Arrangements for Semi-Centennial of Republican Party in This State.

Plans for the semi-centennial of the Republican party in this State are nearly all completed and the indications are that the celebration to be held in Saratoga on the night of September 14 (the first day of the Republican State Convention) will be largely attended and attract widespread interest. The committee in charge yesterday sent an appeal throughout the State for surviving Republicans who signed Republican calls or who attended the mass meeting in 1854 to gather at Saratoga for a State reunion. The call among other things says: "The first regular Republican Delegate State Convention ever held by the Republican party was held at Saratoga, N. Y., September 16, 1854, at which all but three counties in this State were represented by delegates. These delegates were appointed by numerous signed calls and mass meetings in each county, and were held over to the second day of the convention. It is fitting that we should remember and celebrate the anniversary of this historic event. The convention was held at Saratoga, N. Y., September 16, 1854, at which all but three counties in this State were represented by delegates. These delegates were appointed by numerous signed calls and mass meetings in each county, and were held over to the second day of the convention. It is fitting that we should remember and celebrate the anniversary of this historic event.

MR. CORTELYOU GOES TO WASHINGTON.

Speaker Cannon Returns from Vermont and Goes to Newport.

Chairman Cortelyou was at Republican Headquarters only for a short time yesterday, and left here on the Pennsylvania Congressional Limited for Washington at 12 o'clock. The campaign text-book he has been writing has been completed, and he will probably be ready for distribution to-morrow. Speaker Cannon was in New-York yesterday, having returned from Vermont, where he has been campaigning. He went to Newport, where he will hold a conference with the members of the Republican Campaign Committee. Cannon had conferences while here with the members of the Republican Campaign Committee. Cannon had conferences while here with the members of the Republican Campaign Committee. Cannon had conferences while here with the members of the Republican Campaign Committee.

NOONDAY MEETINGS FOR ROOSEVELT.

The Roosevelt and Fairbanks National Commercial League has rented the large store at No. 106 Broadway, where it will establish headquarters and run noonday meetings, beginning next Wednesday. Included in this organization are commercial travellers, merchants, bankers and many others interested in the success of the Republican ticket. Elijah R. Kennedy, ex-Park Commissioner of Brooklyn and member of the firm of Wood & Kennard, is president, and George J. Corey is chairman of the executive committee. Charles A. Schieren is vice-president, John R. Van Wazer is treasurer, George D. Ferguson is secretary, and C. Whitcomb Shumway is assistant secretary.

ODELL AND PLATT EXPECTED.

At the large outing arranged for August 15 by the Republican organization of the XXXIVth Assembly District, of which William H. Ten Eyck is leader, it is expected that Governor Odell and Senator Platt will be present. The arrangements for the outing are being made by the Republican Club, the South Side Republican Club and the Republican Club of the XXXIVth Assembly District. The outing will take place at the College Point, Long Island, where breakfast will be served. With the outing will be the members of the XXXIVth Assembly District will be fired, and to honor the occasion Republicans living along the shore will have their houses decorated with flags and bunting.

PARKER GAINS A SUPPORTER.

Baltimore, Aug. 13.—The Baltimore Sunday Herald will announce to-morrow the retirement of Wesley M. Oler from the presidency of the Herald Publishing Company, and the election of Frank W. Wood as president. Mr. Oler has severed his official connection with the paper because he lives in New-York, and cannot devote at least a part of his personal attention to its affairs, and know what position it will take on public questions. Mr. Wood had had the general management of "The Herald" for several years. Announcement is also made that the paper will support the Democratic national party. It has hitherto been independent.

NEW-HAVEN DEMOCRATS AT ODDS.

New-Haven, Conn., Aug. 13.—The differences existing in the Democratic city organization by reason of claims that there are two city committees, one called the "old" committee, because its tenure of office has expired, and a "new" committee, chosen by the New-Haven members of the State Central Committee, have reached the courts. The latter committee securing an injunction this afternoon restraining the "old" committee from attempting to transact party business. The differences are the outgrowth of factional contests of long standing. The matter is brought to an issue at this time, as the City Register of voters alleges he is unable to determine which is the committee to which he should deliver a list of Democratic voters for use in forthcoming caucuses, which will select delegates to the State convention. Prominent Democrats of the State have tried to settle the controversy, but it is asserted that the Democratic National Committee has had its attention called to the situation existing here. A hearing on the injunction will be held to-morrow.

EXPECTS TO REGAIN SON.

MANNINO MORE HOPEFUL.

Magistrate Advises Italian Secret Service.

Four letters, presumably from the conspirators implicated in the kidnapping of the Italian boy, Tony Mannino, were received yesterday by his father, James Mannino, at his home, No. 62 Amity-st., Brooklyn. After reading them Mr. Mannino said he expected to have his boy back in a few hours.

FIREMEN FACE PERIL.

Blaze About Gas Tanks Creates Panic in Harlem.

Fresh paint on one of the big gas tanks of the Consolidated Gas Company, in First-ave., between One-hundred-and-tenth and One-hundred-and-eleventh sts., became ignited in some unknown way about 9 o'clock last night, and the big steel cylinders soon were enveloped in a sheet of flame. A terrible explosion of gas was prevented only by the prompt action of the Fire Department. The sight of the blaze was the signal for a wild stampede of the residents of the neighborhood. In their mad haste people left their homes, shops and belongings, some even forgetting their children in the excitement. Many ran as far south as One-hundred-and-fourth-st., some ran to the Willis-ave. bridge on the north and some into Central Park to escape from the expected explosion.

Painters had been at work painting the larger of the two gas tanks, which is nearly 200 feet in diameter, and when filled with gas rises nearly 120 feet above the ground. The tank was surrounded by scaffolding, and the painting had been completed about 30 feet up from the bottom. Realizing the danger of a fire in the gas-house district, the firemen responded to the alarm at double speed, dashing recklessly through the crowds of fleeing men and women. A hurry call was sent to the One-hundred-and-fourth-st. and One-hundred-and-twenty-sixth-st. police stations for the reserves.

While the fire was one of the hottest that the firemen had experienced in some time, it was of short duration, the flames being extinguished within forty-five minutes after the arrival of the engines. The tension under which the men worked, expecting every minute that the gas tank would explode, was great. "Every minute we expected would be our last, for the heat was terrific. What saved us was that it did not explode. I imagine, for it was nothing short of providential." Deputy Chief Dougherty, who was in charge of the firemen, said: "I was nearer death than I believe, than I have been before in many a day. The bravery of the men who played the hose facing what seemed almost certain death was magnificent."

J. F. SEACORD MARRIES.

Got Divorce Because Wife Had Husband When Wed.

There was much surprise in New-Rochelle yesterday when it became known that James F. Seacord, the wealthy contractor and builder, who about a month ago secured a South Dakota divorce from his wife, with whom he had lived in New-Rochelle for thirty-six years, on the ground that when he married her she had a husband living, had married again. Mr. Seacord, it was said, was married to Mrs. Hiram Taylor, of New-Rochelle, at Bridgeport, by a Baptist minister, over a week ago, and the marriage has been kept secret ever since. A niece of Mr. Seacord confirmed the marriage, but would not give details. When it became known that Mr. Seacord had sued his wife it created a sensation at New-Rochelle. Mr. Seacord, three years ago after he married, found that his wife had a husband living. The latter made no trouble for Mrs. Seacord, however, and a couple of years later he died.

POISONED BY DRINK.

Package of "Herbs" Given by Friend Contained Belladonna.

Leo Tramontano, fifty-six years old, a shoemaker, of No. 364 West Fifty-third-st., and Miss Falconaria, thirty-three years old, of No. 629 West Forty-eighth-st., are in Roosevelt Hospital suffering from belladonna poisoning. When taken to the hospital yesterday morning, Tramontano was unconscious and Falconaria so violent that it took several men to hold him down. It is thought both men will recover. The cause of the trouble is said to be a decoction made by Tramontano, which both he and his workman drank as a remedy for a disordered stomach, and which the former at the time believed to be of malva leaves. Malva leaves are said to be a regular home remedy of the Italians for stomach disorders. A few minutes after the men drank the decoction both became drowsy, but this in Falconaria changed suddenly to great frenzy. He screamed and shrieked, and so alarmed Mrs. Maria Tecano, a relative who lived in the house, that she summoned Dr. S. Gilbert Stone, of No. 331 West Fifty-first-st. Dr. Stone was unable to quiet the man, and summoned an ambulance from Roosevelt Hospital. Dr. Padlock removing both to the hospital, where the stomach pump was applied. A chemical analysis of the contents of the men's stomachs showed traces of belladonna. It is believed that the man had been deceived that they have found that the material from which the concoction was made was given to Tramontano by a "friend" about a year ago. The police are looking for the "friend."

MR. BRYAN AND THE BEQUEST.

He Will Take No Further Steps to Secure the $50,000 from the Bennett Estate.

New-Haven, Conn., Aug. 13.—Counsel for William J. Bryan, in his appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Superior Court excluding the famous bequest of $50,000 to the Bennett estate, said that he would take no further steps to be taken by Mr. Bryan in this direction to secure the $50,000 mentioned in the letter.

NEW BOYS TRY TO BLACKMAIL.

Two Young Italians Write Threatening Letter to Brooklyn Doctor.

Henry Hebbner, aged seventeen, and William Dekus, aged eighteen, both of No. 4 South Second-st., Brooklyn, were arrested last night on the charge of attempting to blackmail by intimidation Dr. Truman Nichols, of No. 36 Rodney-st., Brooklyn. The doctor received a letter on August 7, telling him to leave $500 in a package in Keap-st., between Wythe and Kent aves., on the night of August 10, or he would be killed. The boys' clothes men were watching a decoy package last night. The two boys came along, as if looking for a woman, and picked up the package. They were promptly arrested. They admitted writing the letter.

THINKS "BLACK HAND" LETTER JOKE.

Whether the "Black Hand" has reached out for New-York to make a dummy attempt at blackmail, or has only adopted the terrifying symbol for the purpose of perpetrating a practical joke, the malleable have been employed to carry a threatening letter of the approved pattern to an Italian lad in that city. The missive, addressed to Joseph Bruno, the fourteen-year-old son of Andrew Bruno, a fruit dealer, of 101 Park-st., Newark, the letter bore the heading of "Black Hand" and was as follows: "Dear Sir: If you don't send $100 in 8 days we will kidnap you and leave the money under a brick under the railroad on the right hand side. If you don't look out for yourself only $100." "BLACK HAND."

EXPECTS TO REGAIN SON.

MANNINO MORE HOPEFUL.

Magistrate Advises Italian Secret Service.

Four letters, presumably from the conspirators implicated in the kidnapping of the Italian boy, Tony Mannino, were received yesterday by his father, James Mannino, at his home, No. 62 Amity-st., Brooklyn. After reading them Mr. Mannino said he expected to have his boy back in a few hours.

FIREMEN FACE PERIL.

Blaze About Gas Tanks Creates Panic in Harlem.

Fresh paint on one of the big gas tanks of the Consolidated Gas Company, in First-ave., between One-hundred-and-tenth and One-hundred-and-eleventh sts., became ignited in some unknown way about 9 o'clock last night, and the big steel cylinders soon were enveloped in a sheet of flame. A terrible explosion of gas was prevented only by the prompt action of the Fire Department. The sight of the blaze was the signal for a wild stampede of the residents of the neighborhood. In their mad haste people left their homes, shops and belongings, some even forgetting their children in the excitement. Many ran as far south as One-hundred-and-fourth-st., some ran to the Willis-ave. bridge on the north and some into Central Park to escape from the expected explosion.

Painters had been at work painting the larger of the two gas tanks, which is nearly 200 feet in diameter, and when filled with gas rises nearly 120 feet above the ground. The tank was surrounded by scaffolding, and the painting had been completed about 30 feet up from the bottom. Realizing the danger of a fire in the gas-house district, the firemen responded to the alarm at double speed, dashing recklessly through the crowds of fleeing men and women. A hurry call was sent to the One-hundred-and-fourth-st. and One-hundred-and-twenty-sixth-st. police stations for the reserves.

While the fire was one of the hottest that the firemen had experienced in some time, it was of short duration, the flames being extinguished within forty-five minutes after the arrival of the engines. The tension under which the men worked, expecting every minute that the gas tank would explode, was great. "Every minute we expected would be our last, for the heat was terrific. What saved us was that it did not explode. I imagine, for it was nothing short of providential." Deputy Chief Dougherty, who was in charge of the firemen, said: "I was nearer death than I believe, than I have been before in many a day. The bravery of the men who played the hose facing what seemed almost certain death was magnificent."

J. F. SEACORD MARRIES.

Got Divorce Because Wife Had Husband When Wed.

There was much surprise in New-Rochelle yesterday when it became known that James F. Seacord, the wealthy contractor and builder, who about a month ago secured a South Dakota divorce from his wife, with whom he had lived in New-Rochelle for thirty-six years, on the ground that when he married her she had a husband living, had married again. Mr. Seacord, it was said, was married to Mrs. Hiram Taylor, of New-Rochelle, at Bridgeport, by a Baptist minister, over a week ago, and the marriage has been kept secret ever since. A niece of Mr. Seacord confirmed the marriage, but would not give details. When it became known that Mr. Seacord had sued his wife it created a sensation at New-Rochelle. Mr. Seacord, three years ago after he married, found that his wife had a husband living. The latter made no trouble for Mrs. Seacord, however, and a couple of years later he died.

POISONED BY DRINK.

Package of "Herbs" Given by Friend Contained Belladonna.

Leo Tramontano, fifty-six years old, a shoemaker, of No. 364 West Fifty-third-st., and Miss Falconaria, thirty-three years old, of No. 629 West Forty-eighth-st., are in Roosevelt Hospital suffering from belladonna poisoning. When taken to the hospital yesterday morning, Tramontano was unconscious and Falconaria so violent that it took several men to hold him down. It is thought both men will recover. The cause of the trouble is said to be a decoction made by Tramontano, which both he and his workman drank as a remedy for a disordered stomach, and which the former at the time believed to be of malva leaves. Malva leaves are said to be a regular home remedy of the Italians for stomach disorders. A few minutes after the men drank the decoction both became drowsy, but this in Falconaria changed suddenly to great frenzy. He screamed and shrieked, and so alarmed Mrs. Maria Tecano, a relative who lived in the house, that she summoned Dr. S. Gilbert Stone, of No. 331 West Fifty-first-st. Dr. Stone was unable to quiet the man, and summoned an ambulance from Roosevelt Hospital. Dr. Padlock removing both to the hospital, where the stomach pump was applied. A chemical analysis of the contents of the men's stomachs showed traces of belladonna. It is believed that the man had been deceived that they have found that the material from which the concoction was made was given to Tramontano by a "friend" about a year ago. The police are looking for the "friend."

MR. BRYAN AND THE BEQUEST.

He Will Take No Further Steps to Secure the $50,000 from the Bennett Estate.

New-Haven, Conn., Aug. 13.—Counsel for William J. Bryan, in his appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Superior Court excluding the famous bequest of $50,000 to the Bennett estate, said that he would take no further steps to be taken by Mr. Bryan in this direction to secure the $50,000 mentioned in the letter.

NEW BOYS TRY TO BLACKMAIL.

Two Young Italians Write Threatening Letter to Brooklyn Doctor.

Henry Hebbner, aged seventeen, and William Dekus, aged eighteen, both of No. 4 South Second-st., Brooklyn, were arrested last night on the charge of attempting to blackmail by intimidation Dr. Truman Nichols, of No. 36 Rodney-st., Brooklyn. The doctor received a letter on August 7, telling him to leave $500 in a package in Keap-st., between Wythe and Kent aves., on the night of August 10, or he would be killed. The boys' clothes men were watching a decoy package last night. The two boys came along, as if looking for a woman, and picked up the package. They were promptly arrested. They admitted writing the letter.

THINKS "BLACK HAND" LETTER JOKE.

Whether the "Black Hand" has reached out for New-York to make a dummy attempt at blackmail, or has only adopted the terrifying symbol for the purpose of perpetrating a practical joke, the malleable have been employed to carry a threatening letter of the approved pattern to an Italian lad in that city. The missive, addressed to Joseph Bruno, the fourteen-year-old son of Andrew Bruno, a fruit dealer, of 101 Park-st., Newark, the letter bore the heading of "Black Hand" and was as follows: "Dear Sir: If you don't send $100 in 8 days we will kidnap you and leave the money under a brick under the railroad on the right hand side. If you don't look out for yourself only $100." "BLACK HAND."

EXPECTS TO REGAIN SON.

MANNINO MORE HOPEFUL.

Magistrate Advises Italian Secret Service.

Four letters, presumably from the conspirators implicated in the kidnapping of the Italian boy, Tony Mannino, were received yesterday by his father, James Mannino, at his home, No. 62 Amity-st., Brooklyn. After reading them Mr. Mannino said he expected to have his boy back in a few hours.

FIREMEN FACE PERIL.

Blaze About Gas Tanks Creates Panic in Harlem.

Fresh paint on one of the big gas tanks of the Consolidated Gas Company, in First-ave., between One-hundred-and-tenth and One-hundred-and-eleventh sts., became ignited in some unknown way about 9 o'clock last night, and the big steel cylinders soon were enveloped in a sheet of flame. A terrible explosion of gas was prevented only by the prompt action of the Fire Department. The sight of the blaze was the signal for a wild stampede of the residents of the neighborhood. In their mad haste people left their homes, shops and belongings, some even forgetting their children in the excitement. Many ran as far south as One-hundred-and-fourth-st., some ran to the Willis-ave. bridge on the north and some into Central Park to escape from the expected explosion.

Painters had been at work painting the larger of the two gas tanks, which is nearly 200 feet in diameter, and when filled with gas rises nearly 120 feet above the ground. The tank was surrounded by scaffolding, and the painting had been completed about 30 feet up from the bottom. Realizing the danger of a fire in the gas-house district, the firemen responded to the alarm at double speed, dashing recklessly through the crowds of fleeing men and women. A hurry call was sent to the One-hundred-and-fourth-st. and One-hundred-and-twenty-sixth-st. police stations for the reserves.

While the fire was one of the hottest that the firemen had experienced in some time, it was of short duration, the flames being extinguished within forty-five minutes after the arrival of the engines. The tension under which the men worked, expecting every minute that the gas tank would explode, was great. "Every minute we expected would be our last, for the heat was terrific. What saved us was that it did not explode. I imagine, for it was nothing short of providential." Deputy Chief Dougherty, who was in charge of the firemen, said: "I was nearer death than I believe, than I have been before in many a day. The bravery of the men who played the hose facing what seemed almost certain death was magnificent."

J. F. SEACORD MARRIES.

Got Divorce Because Wife Had Husband When Wed.

There was much surprise in New-Rochelle yesterday when it became known that James F. Seacord, the wealthy contractor and builder, who about a month ago secured a South Dakota divorce from his wife, with whom he had lived in New-Rochelle for thirty-six years, on the ground that when he married her she had a husband living, had married again. Mr. Seacord, it was said, was married to Mrs. Hiram Taylor, of New-Rochelle, at Bridgeport, by a Baptist minister, over a week ago, and the marriage has been kept secret ever since. A niece of Mr. Seacord confirmed the marriage, but would not give details. When it became known that Mr. Seacord had sued his wife it created a sensation at New-Rochelle. Mr. Seacord, three years ago after he married, found that his wife had a husband living. The latter made no trouble for Mrs. Seacord, however, and a couple of years later he died.

POISONED BY DRINK.

Package of "Herbs" Given by Friend Contained Belladonna.

Leo Tramontano, fifty-six years old, a shoemaker, of No. 364 West Fifty-third-st., and Miss Falconaria, thirty-three years old, of No. 629 West Forty-eighth-st., are in Roosevelt Hospital suffering from belladonna poisoning. When taken to the hospital yesterday morning, Tramontano was unconscious and Falconaria so violent that it took several men to hold him down. It is thought both men will recover. The cause of the trouble is said to be a decoction made by Tramontano, which both he and his workman drank as a remedy for a disordered stomach, and which the former at the time believed to be of malva leaves. Malva leaves are said to be a regular home remedy of the Italians for stomach disorders. A few minutes after the men drank the decoction both became drowsy, but this in Falconaria changed suddenly to great frenzy. He screamed and shrieked, and so alarmed Mrs. Maria Tecano, a relative who lived in the house, that she summoned Dr. S. Gilbert Stone, of No. 331 West Fifty-first-st. Dr. Stone was unable to quiet the man, and summoned an ambulance from Roosevelt Hospital. Dr. Padlock removing both to the hospital, where the stomach pump was applied. A chemical analysis of the contents of the men's stomachs showed traces of belladonna. It is believed that the man had been deceived that they have found that the material from which the concoction was made was given to Tramontano by a "friend" about a year ago. The police are looking for the "friend."

MR. BRYAN AND THE BEQUEST.

He Will Take No Further Steps to Secure the $50,000 from the Bennett Estate.

New-Haven, Conn., Aug. 13.—Counsel for William J. Bryan, in his appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Superior Court excluding the famous bequest of $50,000 to the Bennett estate, said that he would take no further steps to be taken by Mr. Bryan in this direction to secure the $50,000 mentioned in the letter.

NEW BOYS TRY TO BLACKMAIL.

Two Young Italians Write Threatening Letter to Brooklyn Doctor.

Henry Hebbner, aged seventeen, and William Dekus, aged eighteen, both of No. 4 South Second-st., Brooklyn, were arrested last night on the charge of attempting to blackmail by intimidation Dr. Truman Nichols, of No. 36 Rodney-st., Brooklyn. The doctor received a letter on August 7, telling him to leave $500 in a package in Keap-st., between Wythe and Kent aves., on the night of August 10, or he would be killed. The boys' clothes men were watching a decoy package last night. The two boys came along, as if looking for a woman, and picked up the package. They were promptly arrested. They admitted writing the letter.

THINKS "BLACK HAND" LETTER JOKE.

Whether the "Black Hand" has reached out for New-York to make a dummy attempt at blackmail, or has only adopted the terrifying symbol for the purpose of perpetrating a practical joke, the malleable have been employed to carry a threatening letter of the approved pattern to an Italian lad in that city. The missive, addressed to Joseph Bruno, the fourteen-year-old son of Andrew Bruno, a fruit dealer, of 101 Park-st., Newark, the letter bore the heading of "Black Hand" and was as follows: "Dear Sir: If you don't send $100 in 8 days we will kidnap you and leave the money under a brick under the railroad on the right hand side. If you don't look out for yourself only $100." "BLACK HAND."

EXPECT