A POOLROOM FOR WOMEN.

Police So Call Broadway Place That They Raid.

An alleged woman's poolroom, in a building in Broadway, near Thirty-sixth-st., the heart of the theatrical district, was raided yesterday before the last race at Saratoga had been run. The evidence was obtained by a young woman detective, Miss Mary Young. She had made a number of calls there, she declared. Captain Cottrell, of the West Thirtieth-st. station, with two detectives, visited the place yesterday, and stationed themselves in the hall leading into the apartments where the alleged poolroom was said to exist.

A young woman who said she lived in Brooklyn, called at the station last night to see Mr. Smith. She said that place just before the police got there. She was the young woman who was going away early because I was anxious about my own baby.

MANY HOLES IN ASPHALT.

One Hundred Defective Points Reported to President Ahearn.

The Merchants' Association has taken up the question of defective pavements and submitted a report to Borough President Ahearn giving the result of an investigation by its committee on city conditions. Nearly one hundred defective points are noted in the report.

The party making the inspection comprised John C. James, chairman; W. A. Marble, W. R. Wilcox and Frederick H. DeBora, and submitted a report to Borough President Ahearn giving the result of an investigation by its committee on city conditions.

In Broadway, Seventh-ave. and the Boulevard the condition of the pavement at various points is almost uniformly bad, very little of the pavement being observed, says the report.

The committee also says that by far the greater number of the defective pavements are of various purposes and the failure thereafter to comply with the requirements of the law as to repaving. So far as it was able to observe the complaints as to failure on the part of paving contractors to maintain properly the surface of the asphalt pavements were noted.

As a whole, however, the asphalt pavements, the committee believes, so far as care on the part of contractors is concerned, seem to be in pretty fair condition, notably so on the East Side of the city.

We beg respectfully to suggest that the provision of the law which demands from all persons who desire a permit to open the streets, a deposit of a sufficient amount to pay the cost of the repaving, if applied by you in all cases, enable you to secure a better pavement.

In the case of the specific complaints made by the Merchants' Association, President Ahearn ordered the chief engineer to cause inspection to be made at once, and in case of defects continue, a peremptory order will be sent to the repair company to repair the pavements within forty-eight hours.

"CHEAP DRINK" CASE IN COURT.

Summons for Proprietor of an Herb Extract Company—N. Y. Fruit Exchange Acts.

The New York Fruit Exchange has taken a hand in the crusade against the manufacturers and vendors of cheap and dangerous drinks. Some of the firms of the State Agricultural Department in fighting the danger of blood poisoning from East Side "luxuries" was described in The Tribune yesterday.

Magistrate Breen, in the Essex Market court, yesterday had before him on a summons Jacob Goldstein, No. 545 East Twelfth-st., proprietor of the "Herb Extract" Company. Representatives of the Fruit Exchange submitted to various samples gathered by the inspectors from various stores, and confectionery stores, and soda water stands. They contain, the court was told, mainly tartaric acid, beet root sugar and coloring matter of a deleterious nature.

It is planned to make the day a municipal holiday, to have a platform with speakers at the City Hall and at the Bronx Borough Hall, to decorate the City Hall and the Bronx Borough Hall, to put a flag in Manhattan and The Bronx, to have a program, by Mayor McClellan, August Belmont and one or two members of the Rapid Transit Commission, at the City Hall.

The Mayor is to be asked to pilot the train to Harlem, to have a platform at the City Hall, to be thrown open to the public, and the train will travel slowly, so that all who care may see it.

ALAS, POOR FORTIETH-ST!

No Help in Sight Until Monday for Unpaved Waste.

With an ever increasing desire to make the theory that the city is to be paved, the Department of Public Works has again postponed the paving of Fortieth-st., and now says that the work will "surely" be started on Monday. It was understood a few days ago that the Sillian Asphalt Paving Company, that has the contract for paving the street, would begin this week, but when a Tribune reporter called at the company's office yesterday he was told that the company would not start until the curbing had been set by the city, or, in other words, until the city had set the curbing.

NO WAIT FOR BAGGAGE ON NEW-HAVEN.

New-Haven, Conn., Aug. 19.—According to an order issued by the New-York, New-Haven and Hartford Railway Company, the trains of the company will not wait for the baggage of the passengers as aboard. It is said that many complaints are being received by the public library to reset the curbing which it had put up.

JEROME AFTER 3 MORE.

MAY TAKE 1 LABOR MAN. To "Make It Hot" for Employers After September 1.

The building trades employers have three other leaders besides Philip Weinselmer in mind for prosecution, also on charges of extortion, was announced yesterday. One of these men has not been found for the last three days. While it cannot be said authoritatively that this man is being sought it is known that District Attorney Jerome has received information that may result in his apprehension. It also came out yesterday in a dramatic way that Mr. Jerome will act vigorously soon against employers who give bribes.

Mr. Jerome was talking with G. P. Johnson, Jr., of the Johnson-Kahn Company, builders and owners of the Chatsworth Apartment House, at Seventy-second-st. and Riverside Drive, on which a strike was called, it is said, because Samuel K. Essig failed to fulfill his promise to Weinselmer.

Johnson met the District Attorney Jerome in the corridor of the Criminal Courts Building, just outside the latter's office, and took exception to a statement made by Mr. Jerome several days ago, that the employers were as bad as the employees, and that their motives were anything but altruistic in making a complaint against Weinselmer.

"You people are no better than the employees!" exclaimed the District Attorney. "You come down here eight months after you made the first payment, and try to make us believe you are honest in the matter."

Mr. Johnson replied with warmth. Then Mr. Jerome said: "That's all right, but wait till September 1, and I'll make it hot for you people."

September 1 is the date for the Prince bill, making the bribe giver equally guilty with the bribe taker, and depriving him of the defence behind which he may now take refuge, that he is the victim of extortion to go into effect.

The grand jury, following its indictment of Weinselmer, continued yesterday its investigation into the labor situation. Several more complaints of the People's Security Company, of No. 277 Broadway, were examined. It is known that an effort was made to find out more than the mere fact that the money was passed to Weinselmer by Samuel K. Essig, at the Security Company's offices. It is desired to learn what Weinselmer did, after the time it is alleged he received the money. The money was not found on Weinselmer and has never been found.

Besides some of the employees of the security company, three or four lawyers active in the work of the organization were present. The company was organized with $200,000 capital, and after the laboring man, furnish bail, prepare civil suits and perform other legal services. It was started about the time that "Sam" Parks was taken to Sing Sing.

After the grand jury had adjourned, counsel for Weinselmer said: "The District Attorney did not have after the examination a witness who will swear that on the day in question Essig was in the office with Weinselmer. The District Attorney has got no case against this man, and he is innocent. No one saw him take a dollar, and he didn't take a dollar. Was Essig searched on? No one saw the arrest of Weinselmer? No, he wasn't."

No action against the People's Security Company is contemplated, from the District Attorney's office, and as far as the District Attorney has any information, the People's Security Company is organized for a perfectly legal purpose.

It is understood that the District Attorney believes he has an even stronger case against Weinselmer at this time than he had against "Sam" Parks at the same stage in his case. It is known that after September 1 a number of the employees of the People's Security Company will be called to the District Attorney's office and questioned under the Prince law. While the measure is not retroactive, cases may be based upon the evidence adduced under this law.

A HIPPODROME CIRCUIT.

Thompson & Dundy to Build in the Ten Principal Cities of Country.

The hippodrome that is being built in the Sixth-ave. block, from Forty-third to Forty-fourth st., will be one of a chain of similar buildings to be put up in the ten principal cities of the country. Elmer S. Dundy, of the firm of Thompson & Dundy, said that the firm, together with the parties also interested in erecting the hippodrome, had decided to erect ten similar buildings in ten cities.

PLANS FOR SUBWAY DAY.

To Have Municipal Holiday—Speaking at City Hall.

Alderman Doull yesterday, at a conference with the Rapid Transit Commission, outlined plans for celebrating the subway opening, and celebration was first advocated by The Tribune. The plans are subject to change. President Orr, of the commission, promised its co-operation, and G. F. Seward, chairman of Commerce would give all the aid it could.

The plan is to hold the celebration the day before the subway is opened for public business. August Belmont, president of the Interborough, told the alderman that he would give them ample notice, at least a month before the day set for the opening. He told the alderman that he would set the full car system in operation for at least six weeks before one passenger is accepted.

It is planned to make the day a municipal holiday, to have a platform with speakers at the City Hall and at the Bronx Borough Hall, to decorate the City Hall and the Bronx Borough Hall, to put a flag in Manhattan and The Bronx, to have a program, by Mayor McClellan, August Belmont and one or two members of the Rapid Transit Commission, at the City Hall.

The Mayor is to be asked to pilot the train to Harlem, to have a platform at the City Hall, to be thrown open to the public, and the train will travel slowly, so that all who care may see it.

JOIN IN FIGHTING STEEL TRUST.

Other Concerns to Aid the Pittsburg Company in Its Contest.

Pittsburg, Aug. 19.—It is announced here that the Republic Iron and Steel Company has said it will go hand in hand with the Pittsburg Steel Company in its fight against the United States Steel Corporation, also that the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company has refused to withdraw its support to the latter.

The steel corporation has about eighty thousand tons of steel on hand which it had manufactured in anticipation of the big order from the Pittsburg Steel Company, but the order went to the Republic Iron and Steel Corporation, and the latter is being over the Clairton Steel Company, thought it had also taken its orders.

The company ordered 70,000 tons last year and the greater portion has not been used. The rails that have not been used will be kept over until next year, and distributed with the new order. The price to be paid for the rails will not be the same as last year. That was $34 a ton.

FEWER RAILS, LOWER PRICE.

Philadelphia, Aug. 19.—The Pennsylvania Railroad will order only 40,000 tons of steel rails this year. This has been decided by the management, and the order will be given by President Cassatt upon his return from Bar Harbor, the first of next month. It is the purpose of the management to keep the order this year far within the one given last year.

STEEL HOOP MEN TALKING STRIKE.

Pittsburg, Aug. 19.—There was an important meeting of the heads of the Amalgamated Association here to-day, at which the affairs of the steel hoop plants of the Carnegie Steel Company, at Youngstown, Ohio, were discussed, and it was announced later that there would likely be a strike at the Ohio mills, beginning next week.

RECOGNITION REFUSED.

Alliance Tries to Get It from Employers—Result, Hubbub.

All the plans of the Building Trades Employers' Association for the resumption of work on an obligation were confirmed yesterday at a special meeting of the board of governors.

The Building Trades Alliance had an unusually long meeting, in which it appears that the statement containing a history of the labor troubles, a copy of which was given to each of the representatives of the locked out unions at Thursday night at the meeting in the Building Trades Club, was discussed.

It developed yesterday that a stirring incident took place at this conference which was not given out on Thursday night. This was an attempt on the part of William Nason, of the Marble Cutters' Union, to get recognition of the Building Trades Alliance by the employers' association, followed by a hubbub which for a time looked as if it would end in a serious dispute.

The labor delegates and the employers on Thursday night were discussing the plan of the employers' association to resume work on Monday. This was that when work is resumed individuals in trades which do not return to work may be employed as individuals under the arbitration agreement on the understanding that later these men will be organized into unions of their respective trades.

Nason began an angry reply, which brought an angry retort from Archibald. Then Otto M. Eidlitz, chairman of the governors, who presided, quieted the disturbance.

The Marble Cutters' Union is represented in the Building Trades Alliance, but is not on strike or locked out, and Nason is one of its business agents. He is supposed to be an "ambassador extraordinary" referred to later by James J. Daly, who says Nason is in the alliance to the conference to learn what was going on.

The incident ended there, but some ill feeling remained. Some of the delegates opposed to Archibald said afterward that he was trying to get on the labor bureau of the Democratic National Committee, and that some of the unions were sending a protest against it. It was first intended, they said, to send the protest to Chairman Taft, but later it was decided to send it to Egoopus direct.

At the meeting of the board of governors yesterday, Lewis Harding, chairman of the press committee, said that all the unions which were not locked out could send their men back to work. In case of trades which have struck individuals may be employed as individuals under the arbitration agreement as individuals, with the following pledge added to the document:

"I hereby agree to work under the above arbitration plan and under such trade agreements as may be hereafter entered into between the employers and the unions of any trade, it being understood that wages and hours in such agreement shall be the same as prevailed prior to August 1, 1904."

"I further agree to work on any and all jobs of members of the Building Trades Employers' Association without discrimination."

"It was also decided by the board of governors," said Mr. Harding, "that the men who first work on the Trinity building. This is for the reason that the men might work at other jobs and leave the Trinity building strike still on. After the Trinity building is manned the new men can go to work on the other contracts."

NEW CUT IN STEEL WAR.

Reductions of Pittsburg Company Met by the Trust.

The Pittsburg Steel Company, having gone slightly below the reduced prices fixed on wire products a day or two ago by the American Steel and Wire Company, the latter yesterday met the Pittsburg company's cut in price, and the cut price quoted to jobbers by the latter was ordered to be put in effect.

Reports that the Lackawanna Steel Company has made prices on steel beams and plates $5 a ton lower than the pool figures were denied yesterday by officers of that corporation, who added that the price reduction in question is the result of a change in the price of the Lackawanna company's new structural plate mill near Buffalo is not yet in operation, but is expected to be opened within the next few days.

Although the various steel pools, except the rail association, have not been dissolved, as was reported yesterday from Pittsburg, their existence is threatened by the order to reduce prices, and from all accounts, is in a mood to retaliate vigorously on any association in any of the pools which may decide to make prices lower than the pool schedules.

The steel trust far has not affected the Eastern Bar Iron Association or the Nut and Bolt Association, both of which this week reaffirmed their present schedule of prices. Rogers, Brown & Co., in their weekly summary of the iron and steel situation, say:

The prospect of a wide open market for practically all iron and steel products except rails should in the natural order lead to free buying and much higher prices. The fact, however, that the market in all lines is likely to be checked until it is seen how low prices can go. There is a notable similarity between the steel situation and some cases regarding the revival three years ago. Some of the most experienced buyers are making contracts for steel for the next year, and in some cases requirements have been covered as far ahead as July, 1905.

United States Steel shares were weak again yesterday, closing at a low point of the day, with a decline of one point and the preferred seven-eighths under the final price of Thursday. An effort is being made to depress these shares, apparently for the benefit of the large short interest in the well worn trick of sending to Wall Street lying telegrams announcing extensive reductions in the working forces in the steel industry.

According to an estimate made by the Mine Owners and Operators' Association, there are now about 4,500 miners who have taken out cards in the association at work in the district. CHURCH SOLD AT AUCTION.

Paterson, Aug. 19.—The Episcopal Church of the Holy Communion was sold by Sheriff Bergen this afternoon to the Union Building and Loan Association for $15,000. Only one bid was made, by Senator McKee, as counsellor. At Youngstown, Ohio, were discussed, and it was announced later that there would likely be a strike at the Ohio mills, beginning next week. Amalgamated men working at the plant have informed the management that they will go tomorrow morning, and the mills will be opened just the same, if not by those now at work, then by others.

AVERT COAL STRIKE.

Question of Check Weighmen Referred to Judge Gray.

The Board of Conciliation of the Anthracite Strike Commission at its meeting yesterday took action which it is hoped will avert the danger of a strike in the coal regions, by referring to Judge Gray, of Delaware, the whole question of the check weighmen.

The checkman for the miners was provided for in the award of the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission. It being agreed by the commission that he was to be paid for by the miners. The representatives of the miners' union contended that the company should deduct a pro rata share from all miners to pay the checkman's salary, while the operators contended that they could only deduct from such miners as gave them a legal assignment.

The question was finally made a grievance and brought to the attention of the board of conciliation. No agreement was reached till yesterday, because of differences in the wording of the statement to be made to Judge Gray.

Another grievance considered was that made by the Pennsylvania Coal Company against its employees at the Barnum Colliery, Pennsylvania. The men struck because, they say, the scales are not in good working order. The men assert that the scales are so out of order that they weighed about one thousand pounds short in a car of three tons. This shortage would make a difference in their earnings of about $2.10 on a full blue uniform with the buttons covered with brass.

It was resolved that the men must return to work before there is any consideration of the complaint, and on failure to adjust the difference it should be submitted to the board of conciliation.

ELECTRICITY'S MYSTERIOUS WORK.

Both men were killed while trying to turn on the electric light, Ryan at No. 1,919 Penn-ave., and Hock at No. 1,794 Penn-ave.

Many persons in the district were shocked at about the same time that Ryan and Hock were killed, but all will recover. No explanation of the cause of the trouble can be secured from the electric light company to-night.

BIG ENCAMPMENT ENDS.

W. E. Dustin, of Illinois, at Head of Sons of Veterans.

Boston, Aug. 19.—The thirty-eighth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic was practically brought to a close yesterday by the departure of several thousand veterans from the city, and by the adjournment of the convention of the various organizations which are branches of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Some of the Grand Army of the Republic delegates went on a harbor excursion to Nahant, while those of the Women's Relief Corps enjoyed an outing at Revere Beach. A reception by the Daughters of the Revolution to Mrs. W. W. Blackmar, wife of the new commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic; to Mrs. John L. Bates, wife of Governor Bates, and to Mrs. Patrick A. Collins, wife of Mayor Collins, in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic honorary committee, and a reception by the Daughters of Veterans at Melrose, were other features of the day's programme.

At the annual convention of the National Sons of Veterans to-day William E. Dustin, of Dwight, Ill., was elected commander in chief by acclamation. The following officers were chosen by acclamation: Senior Vice-commander, George S. Geis, of San Francisco; junior vice-commander, in chief, M. D. Friedman, of Birmingham, Ala.; quartermaster general, Fred E. Bolton, of Boston. Mr. Bolton was re-elected. The council in chief was elected as follows: William R. Congdon, Providence, R. I.; Speelman, Cincinnati, Ohio, and Newton J. McGillicuddy, of Philadelphia, General R. M. J. Reed, of Philadelphia, was elected chief of staff. It was voted to hold the next convention at Gettysburg, Penn.

A new constitution was adopted by which a greater distinction is drawn between the military and civil branches of the order. On the question of uniform, the new constitution provides that in those States where it is lawful to carry arms the reserves of the Sons of Veterans shall adopt the uniform prescribed for the army of the United States, in other States the reserves will wear a plain blue uniform with the buttons covered with brass.

Ida E. Warren, of Worcester, was elected national president of the Daughters of Veterans yesterday. Bertha Martin, of Ohio, was chosen senior vice-president; Myrtle Kramer, of Illinois, junior vice-president; and Carrie Adams, of New York, chairman, and Carrie Adams, of New York, treasurer. The office of patriotic instructor was created, and elected of Massachusetts, was chosen to fill it. An unsuccessful effort was made to change the name of the society to the Daughters of the Republic.

Negro veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, representing the departments of Mississippi, Louisiana, and Alabama, met at the Hotel St. Louis in New Orleans, and the Robert Gould Shaw tablet, opposite the State House, in Beacon-st. There were 200 negro veterans in the city, and the tablet, which was unveiled by the Grand Army of the Republic, was dedicated to the memory of the late Colonel Shaw, who commanded a Massachusetts regiment composed entirely of negroes in the Civil War.

The United States warships Columbia, Minneapolis and Prairie, which have been here in connection with the Grand Army of the Republic encampment, sailed this afternoon for Newport, R. I. To-morrow the battleship Massachusetts and the training ship Hartford will arrive in New York to join the coast squadron, of which they are a part.

FLASHLIGHT POWDER EXPLODES.

Chicago Chemist Fatally Injured and His House Wrecked.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—George L. Enright, an amateur chemist, while endeavoring this afternoon to make a photographic flashlight powder, brought about an explosion that fatally injured him, severely hurt
