New-York Daily Tribune.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1904. THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

FOREIGN—The battle north of Yantai continues apparently without decisive results. Dispatches are fragmentary and conflicting.

DOMESTIC—Failure of Oregon Short Line stockholders to elect directors gave rise to the belief that Harriman control of Union Pacific had passed to Gould-Rockefeller interests.

CITY—Stocks closed weak and generally lower. The Kings County organization held a rousing mass meeting in Brooklyn.

MR. MEYER'S LIMITED SOLITUDE.

At a conference of his associates and the district leaders yesterday Mr. Cord Meyer, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, delivered himself, for subsequent publication, of various sentiments and injunctions which he hopes will bear fruit on Election Day.

That is excellent, so far as it goes. But would it not be still better if it went further? The Republican managers are also determined that the votes lawfully cast shall be honestly counted.

But perhaps the Democratic chairman has been guilty of a mere inadvertence. If so, we should hasten to respond to a revised manifesto. If Mr. Meyer is grimly resolved to exhaust his resources in securing an honest election, from which every candidate shall emerge with every vote to which he is legally entitled counted and credited to him on the record, he can confidently rely on the co-operation of the Republican managers.

Mr. Cord Meyer in this city and elsewhere, but they will be able to get along without it if they must.

TWELVE MIDDLE HEADS.

The Furnaceville Iron Company had a contract with the State for excavating soft work in the widening of certain sections of the Erie Canal. In the process of excavation the company struck "hardpan," for the excavating of which the company's contract did not call.

The Furnaceville Iron Company preferred a claim against the State for certain moneys owed to it by the State, namely its deposit with the State when the contract was awarded to it, and sums withheld by the State from monthly payments to the company.

The 1903 board heard further testimony regarding the offset or counter claim against the Furnaceville company. The evidence that the excavated matter in dispute was "hardpan" consisted of reports of engineers, their maps, drawings, measurements, and so forth, filed in the office of the division engineer of the canal.

PARKER'S PROTOTYPE.

That is the whole of this wondrous tale of "graf"! Mr. Cunneen's twelve middle headed laborers are magnified into a State issue!

They have much in common. The same party supports them, and takes much the same attitude respecting the Constitution now that it did in 1861. Buchanan was, indeed, much more experienced than Judge Parker in national affairs.

SANITATION IN WAR.

The opinion has hitherto been expressed that the whole world will learn much from the Japanese in this war. At least it will have an opportunity to learn much.

proclaiming that the underlying principles of this nation were endangered by his presence in the White House, just as Constitution clubs are saying of Theodore Roosevelt now. They had a great convention at Chicago in 1864, and declared that under Lincoln "the Constitution" itself had been disregarded in every part, and "public liberty and private right alike trodden down, and the material prosperity of the country essentially impaired."

AUTOMOBILE PROHIBITION.

The action of a West Virginia court in barring automobiles altogether from the highways of a county that State will doubtless be regarded as extreme and unjustifiable. The incident is, however, an instructive one, as an indication of the growing temper of responsible and thoughtful men toward the "devil wagon" nuisance.

Not only the road practice, but also the manners of some chauffeurs, are becoming increasingly offensive. They are characterized by an arrogance and a contempt for common courtesy that are intolerable.

ICI ON PARLE ANGLAIS.

(A crusade has been started in Paris against the use of foreign words, especially English, in French.) I'd never been in France before. And so I thought I'd run across And spend a quiet week.

TAKE NOTICE.

Cut me some graves on the hillside. This will give you six hours notice to the care of the dead. Where the keys is kept.

There have been just two Esquimau babies born outside the Arctic circle, and one of them first saw light in the Esquimau village on the Pike at St. Louis last week. The other was born at the Columbian Exposition at Chicago.

HOMO-GENEITY.

(A critic holds that novelists have played out the courtship episode, and should portray man in the whole of his career.) The proper study of mankind is man. Not only when he's courting. And saying pretty things to Mary Ann.

is made a class of students in practical hygiene and sanitation.

The need of such work and the good results of it are apparent without much blazoning forth. Hitherto the story of a war has been largely a story of disease. Camp fever and what not else have added new terms of their own to the medical vocabulary.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Among the callers at the White House to-day were State Senator Henry Marshall and Walter C. Withers, of New-York. Both men brought gratifying assurances to the President.

PERSONAL NOTES FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Rear Admiral Capps, chief constructor of the navy, gave a dinner at the Metropolitan Club to-night in honor of Sir William White, for many years chief constructor of the British navy.

NEW-YORK SOCIETY.

Miss Helen Barney, whose engagement to Archibald Stevens Alexander was announced yesterday, is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Barney, of No. 47 Park avenue, and a niece of the Mrs. Archibald Alexander, of Castle Point, Hoboken, and a grandson of the late Edwin A. Stevens. He was graduated from Princeton a couple of years ago.

THE TALK OF THE DAY.

The most recent escapade of Princess Louise of Coburg has brought unfeigned joy to the people of the little watering place of Elster, not because she fled from there, but because of the way she did it. Before that sensational event the name of the little town was known to few; now it has become famous throughout two or more continents.

DR. TUCKER'S REASONS.

Why the President of Dartmouth Will Vote for Roosevelt.

From The Congressionalist. The present campaign is disappointing in that it lacks the quality of a real issue. It is, of course, the business of the opposition to furnish issues, to show that is, why a given administration, if its policies are not followed, would be a disaster.

AS HE APPEARS TO ENGLISH EYES.

It is sometimes well to get the perspective of distance in the judgment of contemporaries, especially of those whose actions are magnified to the size of a legend. The case of Mr. Roosevelt is a good illustration of this. The "London Spectator," under date of June 2, says of the President: "Mr. Roosevelt is essentially a man of the future."

FEW REAL DIFFERENCES.

One looks in vain through this summary of issues to find a real political issue worthy of the name. The old academic distinction between the Constitution and the platform of the platform party, which appears in the rhetoric of the platform and speeches, but serious differences of principle, are the only ones that are real.

CAMPAIGN PERSONAL, NOT POLITICAL.

I am emphasizing the fact that this is a personal, not a political, campaign. Happily it is free from the personal animosities which are so common to candidates stand forth as men of unimpeachable character, an honor to American manhood. Still this is a personal, not a political, campaign.

GUNNEEN'S DISINGENUOUSNESS.

From The Buffalo News. When the Furnaceville case was tried on its merits the testimony to whom Mr. Cunneen referred so confidently is said to have been that of Judge Higgins. When they had been heard and it was found that they were not experts, Mr. Cunneen expressly told other members of the Canal Board that he was disappointed at their miserable showing.
