

WEDDINGS AND SOCIAL INCIDENTS

MRS. JAMES RENWICK DIMOND
(née Bauer),
Who was married last Wednesday.
(Photograph by Marceau)

MRS. WILLIAM R. CHAPMAN of the Rubinstein Club.

MRS. CHARLES DUER
(née Downey),
Who was married last Monday.

Weddings—Social Incidents.

DIMOND—BAUER.
The marriage of Miss Lillian Marie Bauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bauer, and James Renwick Dimond was solemnized last Wednesday night at All Angels' Church, the Rev. S. De Lancy Townsend officiating. The service was fully choral. The bride wore a white satin princess gown, made with full court train and trimmed with old lace. She wore a tulle veil, held in place with a crown of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of lilacs and orchids.

The maid of honor, Miss Florence M. Dimond, wore a pink chiffon gown embroidered with roses, and carried a bouquet of lilacs. The bridesmaids were Miss Theresia E. P. Mathews, Miss Vera Stein, Edith F. Downey and Miss Emma D. Greenfield. They wore white chiffon rose embroidered frocks, with sashes, and carried roses and orchids. The best man was G. Arnold Dimond, and the ushers were J. Courtney Pounderford, Sinclair Willis, George Griser, David Huyler, H. Tutill Egan, William Eckerson, Frederick Beetsom and William Paris. A reception at the bride's home, No. 17 West Sixty-ninth-st., followed the ceremony. Several thousand invitations were issued for the church service.

DIUER—DOWNEY.
Mrs. Caroline Blackstock-Downey, daughter of the Rev. William Schenk Blackstock, of Toronto, was married to Major Charles Duer, of the India Medical Service, at Rangoon on Monday. The wedding took place in the Anglican Cathedral, the Right Rev. John Strachan, Bishop of Rangoon, officiating. The bride wore a superb gown of the latest lavender satin, brocaded in sprays and bouquets of lilacs-of-the-valley, tied with bow knots in a deeper shade. A reception, at which a large number of guests were present, representative of Anglo-Indian society and official circles, followed at the house of Mrs. Lestaigne Glendalough, Kokine, Rangoon. The bride received many beautiful gifts from her friends in the United States, Canada and England. Major Duer is said to be one of the most respected and efficient officers in the British colonial service.

PARK—HOWARD.
The wedding of Miss G. Edna Howard, daughter of General and Mrs. George E. P. Howard, of South Orange, to Charles Wakeman Park, of New York, will take place on Thursday afternoon, December 22, in the Church of St. Andrew, South Orange. The ceremony will be solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, Archdeacon of Newark and rector of Grace Church, Orange. The maid of honor will be Miss P. Dinwiddie Smith, of East Orange, and Richard Buchholz, of Rye, will be best man. The ushers will be Stuart B. Mathews, of Rye; Lewis Hallack, Jr., of East Orange; Robert Howard and Benjamin Kissam, of South Orange; Joseph Campbell, and Clifford Sackett, of New-York, and William Matthews, of Rye.

WOODWORTH—BRUNO.
Miss Louise Marie Bruno and J. Frederick Woodworth were married on Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's brother, Albert J. Bruno, No. 81 Chestnut-st., East Orange. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George L. Hanson, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Newark.

SCHRIEFER—ISSEITEL.
The marriage of Miss Agnes Isseitel, daughter of the late Richard Isseitel, of Charleston, S. C., to Charles J. Schriever, of Brooklyn, will take place on Wednesday, at the home of the bride-elect's brother, C. T. Isseitel, No. 210 West One-hundred-and-nineteenth-st., New-York. Miss Isseitel is the secretary of the Southern Society of the Oranges, Canada and England. Major Duer is said to be one of the most respected and efficient officers in the British colonial service.

M'GARRITY—REILLY.
The marriage of Frank McGarrity, son of the well known Bronx contractor, and Miss May Reilly, of Park-ave., took place on Monday, the Rev. Father Doyle officiating. Only near relatives and intimate friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. McGarrity are spending their honeymoon at Niagara Falls and Washington. They will receive their friends at their home, One-hundred-and-seventy-first-st. and Washington-ave., after December 21.

ITEMS OF SOCIAL INTEREST.
Miss Mildred Booth Grossman, daughter of Mrs. Grossman and granddaughter of the famous actor, Edwin Booth, is one of the season's debutantes. Mrs. Grossman gave the second of four receptions for her daughter yesterday, January 7 and it is the remaining dates.

There will be sixty covers at the luncheon to be given by Mrs. Frank Toussay, of the Hotel Marie Antoinette, on December 14, at Berger's.

Much interest is being manifested by the Southern contingent in the ball to be held by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, December 15, in Sherry's large ballroom. Mrs. James Henry Parker, president of the society, is in charge of the affair. She is assisted by a committee composed of Mrs. Lawrence D. Alexander, chairman; Mrs. T. D. Doughton, secretary; Mrs. John W. Herbert, Mrs. A. W. Cochran and Mrs. Joseph A. Physick.

The Rubinstein Club, Mrs. Harry Wallerstein president, will give the first private concert of the season on Thursday evening, December 15, at 8:30 o'clock, in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf. Astoria, W. R. Chapman will be conductor. The choral membership of the club will sing part songs. Rubinstein, Schubert, Hermann, Beach, David Stanley Smith, Kieffer, Oliver King and Charinade. Mrs. Florence Brown Shepard will be the pianist, and the Richard Arnold String Sextet will play. Edw. Wilson will be the baritone soloist. These concerts are strictly private for members of the club and their friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Kurrus are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. James Kurrus, of Long Branch; Mrs. William H. Chapman and Mrs. Brunch A. Herrick, of Norwich, Conn.

December 30 is the date of the next dance to be given by the West Side Assemblies. The affair will take place at the Leslie, Eighty-third-st. and Broadway. This organization, which was formerly known as the "Catholics," will be reorganized, has charity as its chief motive, though pleasure has never been found wanting in large part of its meetings. The club supports a nurse in the East Side Settlement, January 20, 1905, and it will be the Catholic club. Some of the other dances to be given by the Assemblies.

Mrs. K. M. Mabry, of No. 422 West End-ave., has chosen Thursday for her day at home.

A large attendance is expected at the first Colonial Bowling Club dance of the season, which is to be held at the Ellerslie, in West One-hundred-and-twenty-sixth-st., on December 15. The club meets fortnightly, and has started a tournament with loving cups for prizes, which is to extend through four months. George A. Molleson is president, Walter S. Fischer treasurer and Joseph R. Hall secretary.

Mrs. William A. Lombard, of Graham Court, One-hundred-and-sixty-sixth-st., and Seventh-ave., will receive on the first and third Fridays of the season.

A series of teas is to be given by the Ladies' Auxiliary League of the Catholic Converts' League of New-York at the rooms of this organization, No. 117 West Sixty-first-st. The league held their Friday night teas on December 22, and has been selected as the date for the next entertainment of the women friends of the club, which will be held on the 29th. The following officers were chosen: President, Joseph A. Carey; vice-president, Herman Hjertberg; secretary, B. H. S. Martigny; treasurer, Meran A. Alteman; captain, John P. Farro; Friday night teas, Victor P. Ortenbach and Leo H. Barron. A banquet followed the election, which took place at the Harlem Casino.

Mrs. Hiram Cleaver Kroh, of the Roverscroft, No. 219 West Eighty-ninth-st., will be informally at home on Sundays from 4 until 6 o'clock.

A reception will be held to-day at the Hotel Brunswick, Madison-ave. and Eighty-ninth-st., to

A. Simonson
933 BROADWAY, 21st-22d STREETS.
CHRISTMAS IS COMING.
and for the holders I have, without exception, the largest stock and finest assortment of only genuine
TORTOISE and AMBER SHELL
NOVELTIES, consisting of
HAIR ORNAMENTS
AND TOILET ARTICLES FOR THE DRESSING TABLE.
In the most exquisite designs and beautiful colors to be found in this country.
Goods selected now will be delivered at any time desired.

A. F. JAMMES
UNIQUE and EXCLUSIVE
PARIS HOLIDAY GIFTS
IN THE NEWEST ARTISTIC and LATEST CREATIONS.
495 5th Ave., near 42d St.

G. TOMEL, LADIES' TAILOR,
76 W. 34th St.—Suits to order of your own material $15 up, our material $25. Suits $35, skirts $5. Perfect fit.

"Children Teething"
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup
"Should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Ready in five cents a bottle."

FRENCH COFFEE POTS
JOS. HEINRICH, 94 Broadway, near 25th St., N. Y. The genuine "HEINRICH" steam Coffee Pot can now be seen in use at the New Astor Hotel, St. Regis Hotel and other such hotels and restaurants for making special coffee on the table. Wholesale and retail. HEINRICH'S special coffee, 25c a lb., has no equal.

SCHOOL OF OCCULT SCIENCES.
Scientific instruction in Astrology, Palmistry, &c. Hand and Foot Prints and Casts.
Life charts and readings. Consultation and advice on all affairs. Lantern slide entertainment furnished for all occasions—churches, banquets, clubs, parties. 131 W. 23d St.

celebrate the engagement of Miss Sadie Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Jackson, of No. 125 East Eighty-sixth-st., to Robert L. Strauss.

For the benefit of Washington Heights Chapter, D. A. R., a euchre party was held at the Ellerslie on Thursday afternoon. The committee in charge was Mrs. S. Y. Kramer, Mrs. J. Sherman Clark, Mrs. J. C. Stamler, Mrs. John H. Storck, Mrs. H. B. Kirk and Mrs. Orietta M. Boatright.

Three thousand invitations have already been issued for the annual minstrel show of the Friendship Club, to be held at the Harlem Casino on Tuesday evening, January 18. Charles Allison is chairman of the committee in charge. Some of the well known Harlem entertainers who will make the evening merry are: Tambores, Charles Allison and Harry Tierman; notes, Harry Tatter, Seth Wickes and William Frank; soloists, George Allison, William Hart, Frank Allison, Joseph Hamilton, Henry Armstrong and John McNeill; chorus, Frank Brown, Henry B. Hisebe, Robert Dangler, H. B. Deves, W. Morgan, H. Lehr, Frank Scribner, H. Hume, Frank Marley, Charles Aubert, George Davis, Daniel Cochran, George H. Edge, Robert Weisler, Frank Ruppert, William Little, George Schwoppe, William Massey, Edwin C. Schenck, James Henry, Robert Cain, S. J. Frew, W. McClure, L. B. Lord, Henry Color, William Hunt, Thomas Cahill, Frederick Kerker and Edward Hall.

A Colonial dance will be given under the auspices of the Amoreux Club of Harlem at the Ellerslie, in West One-hundred-and-twenty-sixth-st., on Friday evening, December 23. Thomas M. Cahill, Edward

FUR GARMENTS
Reddy or altered into fashionable shapes—low prices. THE BARBER FUR CO., 103 West 39th St.

BE YOUR OWN MANICURE.
USE BEECHAM'S ALABASTINE.
Beecham's Alabastine Manicure Soap, unequalled for the skin. It dissolves a hardened cuticle, softens the skin, and is the best remedy for cracked, chapped, and sore hands. For sale by all leading druggists and stores in New York, Newark, Philadelphia, and Baltimore. St. Louis, Mo.; Chicago, Ill.; and other cities. A large and inexpensive collection of Foreign Novelties, suitable for holiday gifts.

CHAS. F. HURM,
12 W. 22ND, NEAR 5TH AVE.

HOLIDAY FANCY WORK.
Large collection of Foreign Novelties that are easy to do and not elaborate. Ready to work. Pincushions, handkerchiefs, and the casual, elegant, useful, and decorative, collar and cuff sets in the latest designs. Stamped cover covers on sheer linen, $1.25, chemises, stamped on sheer linen, $1.25. Considerable stock and cottons, all shades. Waists, dresses, embroidered and stamped to order. Substantials stamped on the best grades of linen. A large and inexpensive collection of Foreign Novelties, suitable for holiday gifts.

CHAS. F. HURM,
12 W. 22ND, NEAR 5TH AVE.

V. Comely, William C. Hines, Thomas P. Neville, John J. Barron and William H. Herbst form the committee in charge.

FOR LITTLE MEN AND LITTLE WOMEN.

ON A LARK TO THE PLANETS
A SEQUEL TO THE WONDERFUL ELECTRIC ELEPHANT
BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY.
Copyright, 1904, by the Seafield Publishing Company.

CHAPTER I.
Nearer and nearer toward strange and unexplored regions, higher and higher sailed the Wonderful Elephant, borne along by the great silken balloon. Harold and Ione, the Prince and the little Princess slept peacefully.

It was midnight by the hands of the clock, but the boundless aerial space through which they floated was lighted by myriads upon myriads of twinkling stars. On and still on through diamond speckled space the Elephant floated safely. Above, below, to right, to left, and round about in all directions, flashing, glittering globes of light were to be seen, of such dazzling hues and colors as had never been dreamed of by earthbound mortals. The planet Neptune was wrapped in a bluish green vapor; Uranus seemed a blinding white; Saturn emitted a yellow light; Jupiter shone like a glorious, crimson jewel; Mars blazed forth fiery red beams, while Mercury seemed bathed in a metallic green color.

Our young travelers had watched these silent orbs until from sheer exhaustion they had fallen asleep. Suddenly, with a quick jerk, the balloon came to a dead halt.

"Mercy, what can be the matter?" said Ione, springing up. "Do you suppose that the balloon could carry us any higher?"

"I am sure I don't know," answered Harold, only half awake, "until, it can't be that, for the old man said he had visited Mars and several other planets. Something must be out of order, however. Wait until Harold found in the book."

While Harold consulted the book, they all waited in great suspense, for what would become of them should the balloon fail to carry them on? This was what Harold found in the book.

"The atmosphere extends some forty miles above the earth, then an imaginary line is reached beyond which the force of attraction is so great that it draws us toward it with irresistible force. If you wish to cross this line and pass upward, use extra pressure and inflate the balloon to its utmost capacity. It will then carry you across and you will find that you are attracted toward the earth. Be sure for any planet which you wish to visit and you can easily find out the way."

When Harold finished reading there was dead silence for a few minutes, then he said, "Prince, will you kindly press that electric button and see what happens?" We can then watch the balloon inflate and carry us over the line.

But surely, with much creaking and cracking of the silken cover, the balloon became fully inflated, while the little Princess, with strained freckled eyes, watched through one of the portholes, in mortal terror lest at each creak it might burst, and they be hurled to the earth.

No such thing happened, but instead the balloon gave a sudden bound and commenced rising at an alarming rate of speed; in fact, so fast were they approaching the moon that they feared they would dash against one of its mountain tops. Harold found on consulting the time-indicator that they were traveling at a rate of speed equal to that of a ray of light, which is one hundred and sixty thousand miles per second. And it took but a few minutes to reach the moon. "From the earth it looks like millions upon millions of stars sweeping a pathway through the heavens, but now that we are nearer, it seems like one continuous stream of silver fire."

"Isn't it perfectly beautiful?" exclaimed the little Princess.

Looking up before them was what appeared to be a large red island that floated in the heavens as if directly upon the surface of water. It seemed to get its color, not from anything red upon the island itself, but from red rays of light that fell directly upon it from the planet Mars.

Far in the distance floated other cloud islands, each bathed in a color corresponding to the hue of the planet from which the rays came. The afterward found that these islands accompanied the different planets in their orbits much as our moon does the earth. From the earth they have the appearance of stars, not islands.

"In what direction one would, countless flashing rainbow clouds could be seen whirling CLAU'S. I said, "Oh, Mr. Santa Claus!" Then I stopped, but he looked at me so pleasantly I wasn't a bit scared, and so I said, "Mr. Santa, will you, can you—please—make my mamma well? I do so want her to be all well."

He smiled at me, and then he said, "My whiskers, my whiskers! Tell me about the vessel's head. About mamma's being sick, and then he said, "My whiskers!" and then, "Now, would you give up all your nice presents if your mamma would be well? Every one?"

"Yes," I said, "I would," and he asked me if I was sure. I told him I was sure, and he began taking my presents out of the stocking.

"You see," he said, "if I give you such a very big present, I can't give you better, but I would not have enough to go round."

I saw that he took out some things I wanted awfully—a doll and lots of other things, and then he said he must be going, and after kissing me good night he went up the chimney. I went back to bed and the next thing I knew it was morning—Christmas morning.

I looked over to the grate, expecting to see my stocking empty, but it wasn't; it was crammed full, and so were Reggy's and Dorothy's. Then I knew that mamma wouldn't be well, and I almost cried. Pretty soon nurse came and we got up, and I had the loveliest things, everything I wanted, and Dorothy had her doll's house, and Reggy a big rocking horse pony. When we went down to breakfast I was beginning to think Santa wasn't a bit good, but when papa came in all smiling, and kissed us all and then said that mamma was better, and we could see her, I felt all right. Mamma is better; she's getting well real fast. Papa says or, Jones did it, but I know better; it was Santa Claus, and I think that he found he had some things left when he had given all his presents, and brought them to me, and that's how I got my lovely presents. Nurse says—yes, I just had to tell her—nurse says it was a dream, but I just saw every bit of it, and I couldn't dream a Santa Claus. Could I?

W. McCLURE, L. B. LORD, HENRY COLOR, WILLIAM HUNT, THOMAS CAHILL, FREDERICK KERKER and EDWARD HALL.

No. 213 Clinton-st., Jamestown, N. Y.

FIRST PRIZE.
LITTLE TOMMY TUCKER.
Little Tommy Tucker sings for his supper. What shall he eat? White bread and butter.
Muriel Gernon (aged fifteen), No. 51 Convent-ave., New-York City.

SECOND PRIZE.
"Man overboard!" the captain said.
Dined together one Christmas night.
The beef and the pudding both were frozen;
It wasn't a dinner that I'd have chosen.
They'd frosted my cheeks and frozen my nose,
I'm glad they didn't ask me to dine.
Newport Dunphy (aged eleven), No. 29 Mann-ave., Rutherford, N. J.

THIRD PRIZE.
A COLD DINNER PARTY.
Old Jack Frost and the Snowman White
Dined together one Christmas night.
The beef and the pudding both were frozen;
It wasn't a dinner that I'd have chosen.
I'm glad they didn't ask me to dine.
Newport Dunphy (aged eleven), No. 29 Mann-ave., Rutherford, N. J.

HIDDEN OBJECT PUZZLE.
Six fish were hidden in the picture published on November 27. The prize winners are: Hazelton Newton, six years old, Ballston Spa, N. Y.; H. Walter Mitchell, Jr., twelve years old, No. 81 Inglest-st., Halifax, N. S.; a badge; Anna Burrell, Norwich, N. Y.; a box of paints; Catherine McCram, Grand St. Paterson, N. J.; a box of paints, and Freddie Doran, No. 86 West Cumberland-st., Philadelphia, a box of paints.

LITTLE JOHNNY KNEW.
Teacher—Johnny, write on the blackboard the sentence, "Two heads are better than one." Now, Johnny, do you believe that sentence?
Johnny—Yes, m. Cause then you kin get a job in a dime museum and make lots o' money. ("Youth.")

CUT-OUT PUZZLE.
Scissors and glue pot, as well as your brains must be used in solving this puzzle. After you have cut out the black pieces and pasted them together in the right way you will find that you have the nearest two solutions of this puzzle will give the choice of a badge, a book, a box of paints or a baseball. Send your answers to Little Men and Little Women, New-York Tribune, by Wednesday, December 22.

How to Win a Prize.
CONTEST NO. 1.—Two dollars as first prize, and the choice of a book or a box of paints as the other prizes for the best original drawings illustrating any verse.
CONTEST NO. 2.—One dollar for the best original four line stanza on Christmas.
CONTEST NO. 3.—The choice of a badge, a box of paints, a book, or a baseball for the nearest and best solutions of the cut out puzzle on this page.
CONTEST NO. 4.—One dollar as first prize and a book as second prize for the most interesting two answers as to what you like best about Santa Claus. Is it his generosity that appeals to you or some other kindly trait?
Be sure to state your age.
Be sure to state your preference of prizes.
Write your names on your papers.
All drawings must be in black ink on white paper.
All answers should reach the office by Wednesday, December 21.
Address Little Men and Little Women, New-York Tribune.

Things to Think About.

DOUBLE ACROSTICS
S T R E E
T R E E
R O A D
A V E N U E
W A R Y
C O L D
H O A R
I S L A N
L A W N

DIAMONDS
L
D
B
G
D
S
T
E
R
N
P
N

ANAGRAMS.
1. Transpose a word meaning to exist and leave wickedness.
2. Transpose a resinous substance and leave a rodent.
3. Transpose a deep hole and leave an end.

WORD SQUARES.
1. A substance used for seasoning food; a drug; learning; small mounds of sand made by a gopher from which to drive the ball.
2. A cleansing process; a pain; a horse god; a brave man.

DIAMONDS
1. A third of half; obscure; malicious burning of building; a narrative of past events; a small wood; to weep; a thief of hats.
2. A fourth of best; a bright color; a kind of feather used in millinery; a legacy left by will; a female sovereign; a serpent; a fourth of best.

RIDDLES
1. What fruit is never single?
2. What fruit forbids suicide?—(Home Notes).

ANSWERS TO PUZZLES PUBLISHED DECEMBER 4.
RIDDLEMEREE.
Napoleon.
JUMBLED NAMES OF CITIES.
1. Chicago.
2. Galveston.
3. Portland.
4. Kansas City.
5. Northampton.

HONOR LIST.
Donald Hleok, May Hawley, Wellington Booth, Florence MacNamara, Anna Benesch, Irene Egan, Helen Morse, Lawrence Danckert, Frances McElligott, Helen Andrews, Grace Kempf, Willie Boone, Norman Ribber, Edward Crenshaw, Thomas Brown, Jr., Joseph Farrell, Lillian Accolla, Grace Decker, Mabel Dimmon, Fannie Field, Harry Gray, Frank Kniffin, Thilo Hebalin, Louis Bender, Marie Sanner, Lawrence Wolf, Beatrice Miller, Nellie Chadwick, Emma Chadwick, Emma Bremer, Ruth Schermerhorn, Abraham De Young, Gertrude Sturtevant, Gilbert Conahly, William Schlesinger, Alfred Hener, George Willmet, Sophia Baumann, Arthur Baker, Mabel Drummond, Ernest Heeren, Harry Koehler, Ceila Bloom, Chester Brown, Anna Jeffries, Robert Wilson, Bertram Wood, Antoinette Butz, Marion Parker, Grace Lodgegate, Louisa Slezak, Louise Karnow, Hawthorne Howland, Helen McGarry, Augusta Hartmann, David Zimsky, Elsie McCluskey, Audrey Gorman, Elsie Muhlfelder, Alice Behrens, De Witt Smiles, Willie Noerdl, Lottie Wolf, Jane Murray, John Bridg, Louise Karnow, Minnie Herrmann, Helen Bridg, Louise Karnow, Grace Dobben, Barbara Addis, Lucy Khasan, Birdie Ties, Ethel Bishop, James Kaye, Adele Cooley, Catherine Weier, Annie Ehler, Anna Poucher, Mollie Cossart, Hilda Howarth, Alice Laccorn, Helen Blackford, Annetta Gude, May Hoffman, Alice Eckhaus, Olive Sallos, Adella Crisfield, Dorothy Enrich, Thomas Rea and Robert Bisell.