

SEEK MARINE CORPS MAN.

Former Member Seen with Mangan Woman, Says Friend.

That a former member of the Marine Corps, discharged from the service last July, knew Mary Mangan, who died soon after she was found in the snow in Riverside Drive, and was perhaps with her Sunday night, was asserted yesterday.

Bowes said that his friend's appearance answered the description given by John W. Goff, jr., of the man he saw with the woman.

Inspector Smith, in the morning, ordered the arrest "as a suspicious person" of Bartley J. Kieley, of No. 247 East One-hundred-and-twelfth-st.

The police are anxious to find this man. Mrs. Mangan talked to Inspector Smith again yesterday. Her daughter had never been arrested, she declared.

Inspector Smith had a conference with Magistrate Baker and then Kieley was arraigned. The magistrate promptly discharged him.

FOUND SHOT AND BURNED

Negro Dead After Fierce Quarrel—His Brother Arrested.

After a fierce quarrel with three or four others in his rooms, at No. 216 West Twenty-ninth-st., Cassius Green, a negro, was found shot and partially burned early yesterday morning.

Green came to this address four days ago with a woman supposed to be his wife, but who was really his sister-in-law, it is declared.

On Thursday night these three and several men were in the flat. They got into a fight, and a patrolman was called, but when he arrived everybody had disappeared.

TO CONTINUE STRIKE.

Fall River Labor Unions So Vote by Large Majority.

Fall River, Mass., Dec. 30.—The labor unions involved since last July in a strike against a 12 1/2 per cent reduction in wages in the cotton mills of the city, to-day, by a vote of approximately three to one approved a continuance of the contest.

This was the first formal vote on the question taken since the action of the unions in July on beginning the strike. The ballot then was 1,510 in favor of a strike and 336 opposed.

The labor secretaries say that the vote to-day shows that the union operatives are just as determined as ever to continue the struggle; that it proves that the labor leaders are not making the fight, and that the manufacturers must make concessions before the employees will go back to work.

The result of the vote is a general disappointment to business men, who had hoped for an ending of the trouble. There is still some question to what extent the vote of the unions to-day will be considered binding by the great body of non-union help.

The labor secretaries say that the vote to-day shows that the union operatives are just as determined as ever to continue the struggle; that it proves that the labor leaders are not making the fight, and that the manufacturers must make concessions before the employees will go back to work.

DISMISS THE EXAMINER.

Civil Service Commission Oust Man Who Wrote to Newspapers.

After a trial before the Civil Service Commission yesterday on charges of "conduct unbecoming an examiner of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, and conduct unbecoming a gentleman and prejudicial to good order and discipline," David H. Ray, an examiner, was dismissed from the place he held.

Mr. Ray received $10 a day. The specific act on which the charges were based was the writing of a letter on December 10, copies of which were sent to Mayor McClellan, the State Civil Service Commissioner, the Civil Service Reform Association and The Associated Press, reflecting on the Civil Service Commission in the appointment of expert examiners without open competition.

The specifications further set forth that the defendant caused his letter to be published in various newspapers, "impugning the motives of the present commission and calculated to bring said commission into disrepute."

Mr. Ray was appointed an examiner in July, 1902. "Before Mr. Ray wrote the letter he made an honest effort to see the president of the commission to lay the matter before him," continued counsel.

"He came here one day when the president was out," said President Coler, "and waited around about two hours. Then he went away and made no further effort to see the president. That doesn't look as if he tried very hard to find him."

"We have not come to the point in these charges yet," continued Mr. Coler. "It is a much larger question than you make it out here. This commission, more than any other commission in the city government, is at the mercy of its subordinates."

"It was reasonable for Mr. Ray to assume that the commission knew that the appointments in question were violations of the law," said counsel. "Under the circumstances, then, it was not so much his duty as a citizen to go to the commission as to that in higher authority."

The commission considered Mr. Ray's case only a few minutes in executive session. Then he was dismissed. The commission contends that the appointment of expert examiners was entirely proper, as the Civil Service regulations provide for ten such examiners on the exempt list.

Another Day of the Remarkable Shirt Offerings for Men

This week we have had the largest selling of Men's Shirts and Collars that we ever knew. Of course, we had extraordinary merchandise to offer. We presented shirts, collars and cuffs that were not only extraordinarily low in the matter of price, but that were made of excellent materials, and in a way that particular men like to have them. It is not a sale of cheap goods, but a most stirring offering of well-made furnishings for men, at the lowest prices for which equal goods have ever sold.

Some of these lines will be in good supply next week, others, and they are the best in the collection, will probably be ended before the day is out. Brief descriptions of the various groups follow:
