

STATEHOOD BILL PASSED. ARIZONA IS LEFT OUT.

Oklahoma and Indian Territory One State; New-Mexico Another.

[FROM THE TRIBUNE BUREAU.] Washington, Feb. 7.—Two new States, one consisting of the Territory of New-Mexico, the other of Oklahoma and Indian Territory, will be admitted to the Union if to-day's action of the Senate is affirmed by the House.

Throughout a nine hour session of the Senate success hovered first over the banner of Senator Beveridge, and then over that of Senator Foraker, finally resting on the colors of the Ohio statesman after one of the most interesting contests witnessed in the upper chamber in recent years.

The first real contest came on an amendment offered by Senator Bard eliminating all reference to Arizona, but conferring Statehood on New-Mexico.

Flushed with victory, the opposition then attempted to confer Statehood on Oklahoma alone, eliminating Indian Territory, the motion being made by Senator McCumber.

Senator Kearns saw the light—or thought he did—and on his motion an amendment was adopted annexing all that portion of Arizona north of the Grand River to Utah, provided Utah cared for the addition.

Senator Bacon followed with a motion to strike from the bill all reference to Arizona and New-Mexico.

The Bard amendment was carried, but Senator Beveridge, quick to perceive that he was defeated, voted with the opposition.

Early in the fight to-day the Senate adopted Mr. Gallinger's substitute for an amendment prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors in what is now Indian Territory for the next ten years.

RECOVER A $10,000 BOND. THREE MEN ARRESTED.

Stolen Years Ago, Say Secret Service Men—Seek Rich Klondiker.

After years of waiting the United States Treasury officials in this city were rewarded on Monday by the appearance of the thirty United States government gold bonds of $10,000 each, stolen and carried away as part of the $1,200,000 that "Jimmy" Hope and his confederates were supposed to have realized in the Manhattan Savings Institution robbery in 1878.

The bond appeared under conditions that add to the mystery of the disappearance. Chief Flynn of the Secret Service is unable to arrive at a solution.

The bond came to the Sub-Treasury in the regular course of business from the Ethna National Bank, at Warren and Greenwich sts. It had been offered to the bank as collateral to secure a loan of $5,000.

As a result of this discovery, Dr. Lewis O. Wilcoxon, a mining promoter, of Chicago, who has for three years lived at the Waldorf-Astoria, was locked up in the Tombs last night in default of $10,000 bail, and J. A. Taylor, a resident of White Plains, an oil promoter, and James A. Smith, a note and bond broker, living at the Grand Central Hotel, were paroled in the custody of their counsel, Joel M. Marx and Hugh Gordon Miller.

The secret service men have been unable to find any one who knows him, or even knows that he exists, except Dr. Wilcoxon and the president of a national bank.

DR. WILCOXEN'S STORY. Said Dr. Wilcoxon yesterday: About ten days ago I ran across him here. Miller said he had a little money to invest in the Alaskan copper fields.

THE BOND'S TRAVELS. According to the Secret Service men, the bond was taken by Smith, who had received it from Taylor to another bank, where it was offered as collateral for a loan of $5,500.

Chief Flynn, with his two men, remained with Taylor and Dr. Wilcoxon at the Waldorf all night. Smith was allowed to go to the Broadway Central Hotel, where his wife was. In the morning Smith met them again.

Another caller, handsomely dressed, and attended by three servants in livery, said she had been robbed of jewelry two weeks ago, amounting to $2,000.

Detective McVey, of the West 122d-st. station, who happened to be in the police station, identified a quantity of table linen, the proceeds of a robbery in that precinct.

Mr. W. H. Hyland, of No. 2124 7th-ave., lost several hundred dollars' worth on January 7. He found some small articles. Other property identified was that of W. D. Michaels, of No. 123 West 141st-st., jewelry and opera glasses; Mrs. Herbert, of No. 15 East 131st-st., silverware; J. W. Thrilling Tale of Chase and Capture from the Northern Frontier.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The Immigration Bureau has just received a report from Inspector Thomas D'Arcy, of Plattburgh, N. Y., which reads like a chapter from "Old Cap Collier" or some other thrilling detective story.

Word reached Inspector D'Arcy from Douglas Corners, Quebec, on the night of January 30, that Castine and his Celestians had started from that place and were pointing for La Prairie.

Finally a huge sled filled with Chinamen was in sight, followed by a small cutter containing one man. The inspectors barred the road and ordered the strangers to halt.

Inspector D'Arcy reports that when they got Castine back to Dewey's Corners, it was found that he had sustained a fracture of a rib, either in the capturing of his sleigh or the hand to hand combat in the snow.

STEAMER AND LIVES LOST. THE DAMARA FOUNDERS.

Nineteen Saved—Captain and Passengers Believed Drowned.

Halifax, Feb. 7.—The ocean steamer Damara, of the Furness Line, ran on the rocks at Musquodoboit, thirty miles east of Halifax, early to-day, and is believed to have foundered, with the loss of many lives.

The first officer of the ship with eighteen of the crew escaped in one of the lifeboats and landed at Pleasant Point, after a terrific struggle with wind and sea.

The occupants of the boat which reached shore were utterly exhausted and many of them were badly frostbitten. They had a harrowing experience, battling in the darkness for hours in the open boat against tempestuous seas on a treacherous coast, with the thermometer 10 degrees below zero and a blizzard raging.

An immense hole, through which the sea poured in torrents, was smashed in the bow of the steamer. The shock of the impact shivered the vessel from stem to stern, wakening every one on board, and huge breakers swept the vessel fore and aft.

It is believed that the steamer must have foundered quickly, and small hope is entertained by the survivors of the wreck that the captain and other occupants of the missing lifeboat could have successfully withstood the extreme rigor of the storm prevailing on this coast for the last twenty-four hours.

The Damara left Liverpool on January 24 for Halifax, by way of St. John's, N. F., and left St. John's for this port last Saturday. Musquodoboit Ledge, on which she struck, is five miles from the mainland.

There were forty-two persons on board the Damara, of whom four were passengers, one of the latter being a woman from St. John's, N. F. The captain and fourteen persons are missing.

SCORES SHOT BY TROOPS. POLISH RISING SPREADS.

The Caucasus in Turmoil—Socialists Proclaim Revolt.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 8.—For the moment the startling crime in Heisingfors has withdrawn attention from the strike situation.

The men employed in three St. Petersburg factories threatened to walk out yesterday, but the grievance in this instance, which was over strike pay, was settled at a conference.

The central committee of the Russian Social Democratic Workmen's party has issued a violent proclamation, which has been widely circulated in the factories of St. Petersburg, calling on the operatives to array themselves under the red flag of the Social Democracy and prepare for an armed renewal of the January demonstrations.

In order to gain victory we must organize a vast workmen's army. Then again we will start for the palace to present our demands, not with ikons and not with supplications, but with arms in our hands, under the blood red standard of the Russian Social Democratic party.

Governor General Trepoft has ordered the Curator of Education to instruct all professors in universities and teachers in schools of St. Petersburg to inform their students that academic anarchy must cease.

It is understood that the Governor General will become Minister of the Interior soon, or that he will receive the specially created post of Minister of Police.

PEACE SIGNS MULTIPLY. Russia May Be Forced by People to Seek Terms from Japan.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—Although the rumors of peace forecast in dispatches received here from Washington find no echo in official and diplomatic circles at St. Petersburg, the current of press and public opinion in Russia appears to be moving toward a cessation of hostilities.

"Novoe Vremya" over the signatures of well known war correspondents who have just returned from Manchuria criticise the conduct of operations there in unmeasured terms, while those papers editorially declare that hopes of victory are remote.

The war never has been popular in the fullest sense of the word. The present distress and discontent of the working class and the general desire for reform evinced by the upper class may develop a strong peace movement with which the government may have to reckon, but it is generally admitted that if peace should be concluded under disadvantageous conditions it would materially strengthen the enemies of the present system of rule.
