BREAKFAST ROOM IN DELFT BLUE. This room is cheerful and attractive because of its color scheme. The walls are papered with the clear blue and white seen in Delft ware, and the frieze, a handsome one of grapes and vines, continues the coloring to the ceiling line. The ceiling is in plain blue, several shades lighter than the tone of the walls. The white lace curtains at the windows repeat the design of the wallpaper, and are allowed to fall over mesh curtains of Delft blue raw silk.

AN EXCESS OF CULTURE.

Dr. Walsh Says It Makes Women Tolerate Evil Books.

While vindicating the character of Lucretia Borgia to a audience of the friends of Mother M. Alphonsa Lathrop's philanthropy, in Carnegie Lyceum yesterday, Dr. James J. Walsh warned his hearers not to mistake changes in manners for changes in morals.

A FRENCH SETTLEMENT.

Prominent Persons Interested in Founding One in New-York.

The production of Tola Dorian's play "Le Hulan," with "Le Bonhomme Jadis" at Carnegie Lyceum, to-night and to-morrow afternoon, by the French Neighbors of Greenwich House, while interesting in itself, is important from the fact that it is probably the precursor of a French Settlement in New-York. Plans for the settlement are still inchoate, but a number of prominent persons are interested in it, among them Richard Watson Gilder, Hamilton W. Mabie, Mrs. Poulney Bigelow, the Countess von Bernolagen, Miss Mary L. Aldrich, Miss Mary Murray Butler, John La Farge, the Countess Henry de Laugier-Villars, Mrs. Ernest E. Lorillard, Mrs. Charles H. Russell, M. Maurice Soufflet de Maxny, M. J. J. Jusserand and others.

THE TRIBUNE PATTERN.

This design is made with a simple skirt, with hem or tucks at the bottom and full enough to allow the little limbs freedom; the waist is gathered at the back and into the belt, leaving a generous blouse, which is becoming to the slight and the

NO SELF-GOVERNMENT.

The United States is supposed to have self-government, but Miss Jane Addams said yesterday at Carnegie Hall, in the last of a course of lectures arranged under the auspices of Columbia University and the League for Political Education, that this was only partially true.

WOULD CUT OUT EUCHRE PRIZES.

Women Think People Ought Not To Be Paid for Charity Work.

The auxiliary of the Riverside Day Nursery decided yesterday morning, at its monthly meeting, held at the home of Mrs. John G. Noble, No. 204 West 77th-st., that setting a good example to society is a pretty expensive business, and one which should be kept out of a euchre party, to raise the additional $100 needed to make up the sum of $500 which the auxiliary hands over each year to the society, was under discussion, and Mrs. N. Washington Larenden moved that the customary prizes be omitted.

LITTLEST MESSENGER BOYS.

They Should Vanish Like Horsehair Furniture, Has Says Mrs. Kelley.

"I confidently expect to live to see the day when the smallest messenger boy will be as obsolete as horsehair furniture," said Mrs. Florence Kelley yesterday, at the last of two missionary conferences which the Consumers' League has been holding in the interests of its work. "I speak of horsehair furniture because when I was a naughty child they used to make me sit on the horsehair sofa for punishment."

HOUSEWIVES' EXCHANGE.

SalTED AND GLACE NUTS.

For M. F. H., Brooklyn: Salted Almonds—Mix a big cup of blanched almonds with a tablespoonful of sweet oil or butter. Let them remain together in a warm place for an hour; then sprinkle a good sized tablespoonful of salt over them and put them in the oven to become crisp for about five or ten minutes until nicely browned. Other nuts can be salted in the same way. The salt will form tiny crystals.

HOPE'S MEANING.

I should like to correct the mistake made by my unknown critic. I did not write that "soul satisfaction" was found in drudgery, as any one who reads my article upon unnoticed heroines in the issue of March 22 will see. It may be a flimsy heroine indeed who allows herself to be torn to shreds over the petty cares of housekeeping.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.

The enclosed recipe for making buckwheat cakes may be the one desired by a T. S. S. member of Stamford, Conn. It was cut from a copy of the Sunday Tribune a couple of years ago. I came across it while looking through a drawer of clippings to-day.

TRIP TO FLORIDA.

Miss Bettie Lipscomb, of South Carolina, who went to Apopka, Fla., some months ago to get her health, writes: "The climate here has helped me, and I am no longer a complete invalid. I expect to remain in Florida for a year, and am doing my utmost work as usual. I have become acquainted with seven aged invalids, two of whom are 'Uncle Jimmie,' a blind man, and his sister, of whom I wrote before. I wish to give each of these invalids a cushion as an Easter gift, and while I have no money for the outside I need linings and some bright thread or silks to work a mat. I am more than grateful to those who have written me kind letters.

FOR LEPERS.

When the members have illustrated papers and pictures to "pass on," they will please remember at times those most unfortunate people, the inmates of the Leper Home, at Surinam, South America. Such contributions may be sent to the Red Cross, 100 Nassau St., New York, or to the Pennsylvania, Buffalo, N. Y., and the parcels will be forwarded to South America.

WANTS A NIGHTINGALE.

E. S. M., of Cambridge, N. Y., is anxious to buy a nightingale, and asks if there is not some Southern member who has a first class bird to sell. The address will be furnished to any one who is able to supply this songster.

FOR THE BLIND.

Mrs. E. Moller, of New-Jersey, has sent some books to Miss Letson the blind member in New-Brunswick, and she has two more, Boston type books, which she will give forward to any other blind members who would enjoy the books.

NEW MEMBERS.

Mrs. G. W. Eason, president of Manhattan branch No. 7, reports four new members for her branch: Mrs. Harney, Mrs. Trainer, Mrs. Merritt and Mrs. Lewis, all of Harlem. The members of the Sunningdale branch, which she will give forward to any other blind members who would enjoy the books.

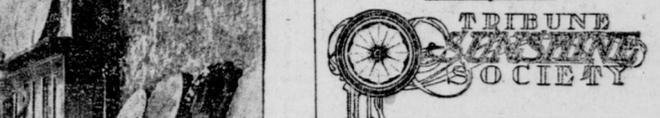

NOT ABLE TO WRITE.

Miss Annie M. Morris, of Bedford, Penn., has been deeply afflicted by the death of her brother, and this trouble will explain why she has not answered the letters of her Sunshine correspondents.

MOVEMENTS OF NAVAL VESSELS.

The following movements of vessels have been reported to the Navy Department: ARRIVED. March 30—The Wyoming at Annapolis and the Dixie at Onizco.

child they used to make me sit on the horsehair sofa for punishment. "Horsehair furniture, of course, is all ancient history now. You can't buy it. The manufacturers don't make it. I dare say a good many of those present never even saw any of it. Well, I see no reason why the little messenger boy—here Mrs. Kelley put out her hand to indicate his size—"should not vanish as completely as the horsehair agony of my youth."

TURN YOUR FACE TO THE LIGHT. When the first flush of morn, Nature's slumbers Uplifts the dark veil from the brow of the night; When the day star illumines the east at his rising; The awakening world thrills anew with delight, And the Spirit of Birth, Over the quickening earth, Lends its aid to the dawn, To the foothills below, Stirs Nature's great heart with his light.

THOUGH IT BE BUT A RIFT IN THE STORM CLOUDS AROUND YOU, THE BEAM OF A STAR IN THE DARKNESS OF NIGHT, OR THE RAY FROM A HOPE WHICH IN PASSING HAS FOUND YOU, THE SOFT AFTERGLOW OF THE YEAR IN THEIR FLIGHT; THOUGH IT BE BUT A TAUGHT WHICH A SUNBEAM HAS CAUGHT, WHILE I HAVE NOT THE MEANS TO RETURN THE LIGHT, IN THE EYES OF A CHILD, YET TURN YOUR FACE TO ITS LIGHT.—English Woman's Magazine.

SPECIAL CHEER. Miss A. of White Plains, N. Y., has sent $10, as special Sunshine cheer; E. G. E., $1, for the New-Jersey family; T. J. EASTER GREETINGS. The president has a special request for Easter cards or any little greeting that will add a ray of cheer to the shadowed lives of the invalid members. Some fragrant sachets are needed for the blind members. It is desired that the Easter gifts be sent as early as possible, as some must go a long way to carry their sunshine messages, and it also takes time at the general office in the midst of the usual work to address and forward the cards. It is hoped that the special Easter gifts will enable the office to add a substantial ray of sunshine to the lives of those whom illness and poverty have laid heavy burdens.

RESPONSE. Margaret B. Williams has responded to the request of the president of No. 11 branch for an air cushion for an invalid woman.
