

HENRY BOSH CO. WALL PAPER

WALL PAPER selections often prove disappointing because made under unfavorable conditions. We offer you the advantage of the improved arrangements introduced in our new store.

One of our popular innovations is a separate room for showing papers under artificial light, obviating the danger of a daylight selection proving unsatisfactory under night light.

Our salesmen will study your wall paper problem with a thoroughness and intelligence only to be found in expert specialists.

We invite particular attention to our stock of novelties especially designed for country houses. They are as exclusive as they are appropriate.

Just as we have a style to suit every taste, we have a price to suit every pocketbook.

NOT TO REPAIR CHURCH:

Fifth Avenue Baptist Trustees Will Rebuild—Site Not Selected.

The trustees of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church have determined, after investigating, that they will not attempt to repair their building, declared unsafe early last month. Plans for alterations were filed with the Department of Buildings, but it now appears that the changes proposed would cost too much. It has not yet been determined whether to rebuild upon the old site or to buy a new site. The present building, which stands in West 46th-st., near 14th-ave., has become well known as John D. Rockefeller's church. It is here that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has his Bible class.

The Rev. Dr. R. J. Johnson, pastor of the church, said yesterday: "This whole matter is in the hands of a special committee. It is now an assured fact that we will not use the old church building for services again. Tomorrow we will meet in the Baptist Church of the Epiphany, Madison-ave. and East 64th-st. After that we will hold services in Mendelssohn Hall for an indefinite period. The roof is the unsafe portion of the building. It is not an old church—forty or fifty years—but the blocks in the walls are of the same material. Consequently, though the blocks rotted, the roof still stood, throwing its entire weight on the iron pillars. We feared, therefore, that some sudden jar or weight in the building would make the roof collapse."

BROOKLYN WATER MAINS IN PAWN.

It Will Cost Michael J. Dady About $1,000 to Redeem His Property.

About five miles of water mains, which are the property of M. J. Dady, the well known politician and contractor, are in the Brooklyn pound, or corporation yard, where they will remain, it is said, until he pays an expense bill amounting to nearly $1,000. The mains had been purchased by the contractor to carry out a number of contracts for the Water Department, and had been distributed, when the early winter came on and all digging had to be suspended.

Public Works Commissioner Brackenridge decided that the big pipes scattered about the streets were a nuisance, and informed Mr. Dady that unless he removed them the city would do so at his expense. This was done, and the mains have been in the corporation yard all winter. Now Mr. Dady wishes to carry out his contracts, but cannot get his material unless he pays the bill.

APRIL BLOWS IN DUSTY FIRST.

March's Mantle Falls on Rainy Month, But on a Dry Day.

Though the weather yesterday was somewhat of a relief from the depressing advent of spring, raised hats and played havoc with skirts was anything but pleasant. The constant sunshine and prevailing winds which followed the recent rains left a fine dust about the streets. This was caught up in little whirlwinds yesterday, and the services of oculists and whisker-brims were much in demand. The dust laden gusts were particularly annoying as well as dangerous at crossings where there is much traffic. A woman trying to board a Broadway car at Park Place yesterday was seriously crippled being run down by a cab. She was caught by the wind, and in making a rush for the car missed her footing and narrowly averted a collision with a hearse.

The temperature yesterday at 9 o'clock was 53 degrees, rising to 59 at noon. Fair weather, accompanied by fresh northerly winds, is the forecast for to-day.

REALTY MEN ARE UP IN ARMS.

Declare Mortgage Tax Law Would Stagnate Their Business.

The Allied Real Estate interests are sending out circulars against the Mortgage Tax bill now before the Assembly. If passed, the executive committee in its circular says, it would be instrumental in depreciating the value of real estate. Such a law, they maintain, will injure borrowers, while not benefiting lenders; seriously cripple all building operations and impose a heavy burden on all members of building and loan associations. The annual tax of one-half of 1 per cent on all mortgages, including those held by savings banks and life insurance companies, heretofore exempt, will, says the executive committee, mean higher rates on mortgages; higher rents without additional profits to owners; mortgages liable to seizure and sale without notice; a double tax on real estate, but only on such as is mortgaged; foreign capital driven from the State; a direct tax on all buildings erected with borrowed money, as well as depreciation of all real estate values; and general stagnation in all building operations.

TRIAL FOR MRS. NOBLE THIS MONTH.

Mrs. Josephine Leighton Noble, who killed her husband, Paton Noble, in their Long Island City home, accidentally, she declares, on November 12, will be tried for murder in the second degree during the term of the Queens County Supreme Court which convenes in Flushing to-morrow. Justice Gardner presiding. The trial will not be called until the third week in April, if the present programme is carried out. District Attorney Gregg said yesterday that reports that he might move for an adjournment because Justice Gardner was to occupy the bench and because some of the witnesses for the prosecution were policemen was not worthy of consideration.

URGE 23D-ST. TUNNEL.

Persons Interested in Street Won't Let Project Rest.

The project of a subway under 23d-st. from river to river is not going to fall for lack of support of the property owners along the street and of the men who do business there. The support of the great railway companies which have terminal facilities both on the East River and the Hudson is assured, according to the statements made to The Tribune by high officials in the company.

One who is heartily in favor of a 23d-st. subway is President Truesdale, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railway. This company has been working on extensive ferry terminals at West 22d-st. and the Hudson River. By August a line of fast steamers will be in operation between that point and Hoboken, whence the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western trains start. Said President Truesdale yesterday:

"Something must be done in 23d-st. It is daily becoming more important as a crossway thoroughfare. When new ferry terminals at 22d-st. are finished the street will become still more crowded, and present facilities are already taxed to the utmost."

"Would the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railway favor a regular subway like that now in operation, or a moving sidewalk, which seems to have much support?" was asked.

Mr. Truesdale said he did not care to discuss that point, as it was a subject for the engineers.

STANDS IN SUBWAY STATIONS.

Contractors Have Apparently Made No Effort to Remove Them.

Although the officials of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company maintain that they have issued orders that Ward & Gow must remove from the stations of the subway the stands which were intended for the sale of tobacco and flowers, the contractors have apparently made no attempt as yet to comply. Chief Engineer Rice, of the Rapid Transit Commission, said yesterday that no trouble was expected, but that, if occasion demanded, he would send his own men into the subway and remove the stands.

RAIL REFUSED FOR M'LAUGHLIN.

Patrolman Deeply Dejected Over Action of Recorder Goff.

Although counsel for Patrolman Frank McLaughlin had a bondsman in court yesterday ready to furnish $7,500 bail for his appearance for his second trial for the murder of John Patterson last May, bail was refused by Recorder Goff on the objection of Assistant District Attorney Nott. The Recorder, however, held, in remanding McLaughlin, that "if on or before the first Monday in May his trial be not moved, he shall be admitted to bail in the sum of $7,500."

McLaughlin entered the court confident of release, but his attitude changed to one of deep dejection when the Recorder's decision was made known. His counsel said he would apply to-morrow to the Supreme Court to fix bail for the patrolman, who is also held under $1,500 for assaulting James P. Robbins. Should the application to the Supreme Court be successful, McLaughlin will be released. In his opinion, which was a material concession to the objection of Mr. Nott, Recorder Goff held he has power to fix bail, although it has been the custom in such cases to go to the Supreme Court.

ROSS COACHMAN NOT CAPTURED.

Eureka, Utah, Police Were Mistaken—Alleged Murderer Still Free.

Montclair, N. J., April 1 (Special).—The police of Montclair last night received a photograph and minute description of the man under arrest at Eureka, Utah, whom the police there thought was Benjamin F. Pettis, the alleged murderer of Mrs. Hannah B. Ross. Although there is a strong resemblance between the man in custody at Eureka and the alleged murderer, the local police are satisfied he is not the man. Chief Gallagher telegraphed to-day asking that the suspected man be released.

STORK TO VISIT HIPPODROME.

The stork is soon to visit the Hippodrome, and it will be a remarkable stork, in keeping with everything else at that remarkable establishment. Its chief peculiarity is its great size and strength which enables it to make its twenty-two months' journey from the antipodes with little fatigue. Only twice before in the history of menageries has this particular kind of stork visited America, and its approach is eagerly awaited by Professor Charles A. Doremus and other well known scientists. Exactly when it will approach, no one knows. Astronomers have reported from various observatories that a dark object having the appearance of a large bird bearing in its beak a baby elephant has been sighted.

NEW-YORKER'S SUMMER HOME BURNED.

Fleischmann, N. Y., April 1 (Special).—An incendiary fire at 2 a. m. to-day totally destroyed the summer home here of Samuel Hirsch, of New-York City. The loss is $15,000. The house had been leased by Lewis Adler, of New-York, but was unoccupied.

ARREST EXPECTED IN MURDER CASE.

Eade Affair Now in Hands of Officials of Orange County.

Middletown, N. Y., April 1.—As a result of the work of the detectives under the direction of the Ulster County authorities in the Walkkill River mystery, it is said to-night an arrest is expected at any time. District Attorney Seeger is reticent about the matter, but is giving the case practically his whole attention.

Despite the fact that the body of the murdered woman has been identified as that of Mrs. Mamie Stewart Eade, of Walden, the people of that village still refuse to believe the identification is correct.

Kingston, N. Y., April 1.—At the request of District Attorney Seeger of Orange County, Assistant District Attorney Frederick G. Traver of Ulster County this afternoon turned over to the Orange County officials the clothing and ring of Mrs. Mamie Stewart Eade, wife of William Eade, of Walden, the murdered woman, whose body was found near Gardiner last Sunday. Having possession of all the evidence and with positive proof that the crime was committed in Orange County, the officials of that county will from this time on have charge of the investigation and prosecution of the murderer when discovered.

TO DOUBLE WIRELESS POWER.

Mr. Marconi Will Make Extensive Changes at Cape Breton Plant.

Guglielmo Marconi arrived here yesterday with his bride on the "Campana." It is the first time Mr. Marconi, who was Lady O'Brien, has been in this country. The inventor and his wife will remain at the Hoffman House for a few days and then go to Canada.

Speaking of the scientific objects of his visit to America, Mr. Marconi said that he meditated making three changes at Glace Bay, Cape Breton. One will be to increase the amount of power used to operate the station. The station will then have double its present capacity, and double the power now available at Poldhu, Cornwall. No satisfactory test will be possible until Mr. Marconi sails for England, as his own first observations will be made on shipboard. When he reaches England he will be able to determine what increase is needed there. A second modification of the Cape Breton station will be the removal of the generating apparatus to the edge of the cliff, which may facilitate transmission. The coherer, which was used in receiving messages several years ago, was replaced afterward by a more sensitive device. It makes possible the reception of a hundred words a minute, whereas formerly he was limited to twenty-five or thirty. Within the last few months the detector has been improved so that it will record a hundred words a minute, and when they are received by telephone only there was a chance of losing something. A permanent trace to which one can refer afterward has other advantages also. Mr. Marconi will now install a recording detector at Glace Bay. He will remain in this country two or three weeks, but his stay in New-York will probably be limited to one more day.
