

A GREAT DAY FOR TARBELL.
EQUITABLE AGENTS MEET.
President Morton Opens Convention at Manhattan Beach.

Gage E. Tarbell's convention of Equitable Life Assurance Society agents met at Manhattan Beach yesterday afternoon and put through with a hurrah. There was about an hour and a half during which Mr. Tarbell was on the rack, but never a minute when he was in suspense. The greatest feature about the whole scheme, according to many of the delegates, was the care with which it had been prepared. A Massachusetts man told how everything had been arranged so that Mr. Tarbell would meet with no opposition, and the convention could go off in gorgeous style with general good feeling and a jolly good time all around.

President James M. Lynch of the International Typographical Union to-night said:

JUSTICE CHARGED WITH LARCENY.
Served a Replevin Writ as Constable—Woman Says He Stole Money from Her.

Elizabeth, Sept. 11.—Justice Benjamin W. Brown, who, besides being a justice of the peace, is also a constable at afternoon, and held under $300 bail to answer a charge of larceny arising out of the performance of his official duties. He went to serve a writ of replevin for a Newark tobacco shop on Louis Salvi, at Kenilworth. Mrs. Salvi says she stole $35 from her. It is alleged that she grabbed a pocketbook out of her hands and ran away with it. Later, when the drawer was opened, it is alleged, there was but $4 in it instead of the $35. She denies the charge and intimates there is a conspiracy to make trouble for him because he served the writ.

LOOKED LIKE WITZHOFF; ARRESTED.
Youthful Sherlock Holmes, Hidden as a Clerk, Has Wrong Man Seized.

Owing to the fact that he bears a striking resemblance to the witness, Oscar Berger, of No. 26 East 12th-st., a salesman for the Armour company, had an annoying experience last night. He went into a furniture store at No. 229 East Houston-st. to buy an umbrella. While there he fell under the scrutiny of a youthful Sherlock Holmes in the person of Nathan Reibel, a clerk. Mr. Reibel was so impressed with the appearance of his customer that he communicated his ideas to the proprietor, who promptly telephoned to Police Headquarters. Detective Sergeant Goss was sent there at 8:30 o'clock to investigate the supposed Witzhoff.
