

TAMMANY NOMINEES IN BOROUGH AND COUNTY.

JOHN F. AHEARN, For Borough President.

FRANK GASS, For Register.

JAMES W. OSBORNE, For District Attorney.

NICHOLAS J. HAYES, For County Clerk.

PETER J. DOOLING, For County Clerk.

will be a Democrat till he dies. Every day he has lived in New-York he has belonged to Tammany Hall, and that is offered in evidence.

OSBORNE'S NOMINATION CHEERED.

John F. McIntyre, ex-Assistant District Attorney, received a warm greeting as he strode to the platform to nominate James W. Osborne for District Attorney.

"He'll go back to his old job on January 1," said "Little Tim" Sullivan to Senator Frazer. By this time the delegates knew that Jerome had been marked by Tammany for political oblivion, and they were eager to hear what Mr. McIntyre had to say.

"A man of unimpaired intellect and free from errandisms," is the sort of a man that Mr. McIntyre said would be put into office January 1.

"A District Attorney," he continued, "should be an investigator as well as a prosecutor, a protector of the innocent as well as a staunch upholder of the law."

When Mr. McIntyre pronounced the name of "the Honorable James W. Osborne" the convention, almost as one man, sprang to its feet and bedlam broke loose. The shouting and whistling and other demonstrations lasted for two or three minutes, while the band played "Yankee Doodle" and other stirring airs.

The temper of the convention indicated plainly that Tammany recognizes Jerome as a dangerous antagonist, but is confident of overwhelming him at the polls.

"Mr. Osborne knows how to temper mercy with justice," said Mr. Battie, and this seemed to please the delegates. One ballot sufficed to place Mr. Osborne's name on the Tammany banner as the opponent of Jerome.

Abraham Levy, in a brief speech, nominated District Commissioner Hayes for Sheriff. The Hayes delegates from the 33d District had a fine ball in the hall and they did business with it.

Ex-Judge Wauhope Lynn nominated Senator Peter J. Dooling for County Clerk. By this time the delegates were weary. Many of those who had been standing bolted for the exits.

Magistrate Charles G. F. Wahle nominated Alderman Frank Gass for Register. The Gass delegates were full of gas men, and they nearly fell over the rail in their enthusiasm.

This ended the work of the county convention proper. The borough convention for the nomination of a Borough President and four council members assembled as soon as the county convention adjourned.

Dock Commissioner Featherston was appointed chairman of the committee to fill vacant seats on the Board of Aldermen.

James J. Martin, as soon as Mr. Knox adjourned the county convention, called the borough convention to order. Mr. Knox was chosen chairman.

Abraham Stern nominated John F. Ahearn for president of Manhattan Borough.

CHEERS FOR AHEARN.

The mention by Mr. Stern of the name of John F. Ahearn, brought forth the greatest enthusiasm shown in the evening. For five minutes the Ahearn cohorts, led by "Big Florrie" Sullivan, cheered and blew shrill whistles, which drowned the music in the balcony.

Congressman Sulzer reviewed the legislative career of the Borough President, to the delight of his followers.

Justice George F. Roesch placed in nomination Julius Harburger for Coroner. Congressmen Henry M. Goldfogle seconded the nomination of Mr. Harburger. The nominee is Tammany leader of the 10th Assembly District and Under Sheriff of New-York County.

Dr. George F. Shady, Jr., was nominated as Coroner by Henry W. Unger, who ran against William Travers Jerome for District Attorney two years ago.

Dr. Shady lives in the 22d Assembly District. The nomination of Peter Dooley by Maurice B. Elman, completed the borough ticket. Dooley is a plumber, living at No. 22 Amsterdam-ave., in the 19th Assembly District.

CAREERS OF CANDIDATES.

JAMES W. OSBORNE.

James W. Osborne was born in Charlotte, N. C., January 5, 1834. He was graduated from Davidson College in 1853, and then came to New-York City and entered Columbia University Law School.

Mr. Osborne is a member of the Southern Society, the Democratic and Narragansett and other clubs. Several years ago he married a daughter of Mr. Osborne.

After Mr. Osborne left the office of the District Attorney he established the present firm of Osborn, Heas, consisting of himself and Otto T. Heas. His brother, Judge Francis I. Osborn, formerly Attorney General of the State of New-Carolina, has recently become associated with the firm.

Peter J. Dooling represents the 16th Senate District. He was born in New-York City in 1857, in that part of the 22d Ward now embraced in the 13th Assembly District.

Mr. Dooling was educated in the public schools and early entered on a business career. He represented the 10th Assembly District in the Board of Aldermen in 1881 and 1882.

He was chosen leader of the Tammany Hall organization of the new law district.

He has served as deputy clerk of the Court of Special Sessions, president of the Aqueduct Commission and Deputy Commissioner of Building, Lighting and Supplies. Mr. Dooling was elected State Senator by a large majority in 1903. In that year he was appointed a member of many of the Senate committees, including Insurance, Public Education, Revision and Public Health.

HEARST TICKET THROUGH

Indorsed with Great Enthusiasm at M. O. Convention.

SEABURY NOMINATES HEARST.

After the platform had been read Justice Samuel Seabury began the actual nomination of Mr. Hearst. He declared that everybody knew Mr. Hearst's earnest fight against the trusts and his efforts for organized labor.

Amid much cheering the seconding speeches were begun. From Brooklyn came C. Augustus Haviland; from the Bronx, Alderman Frank Gass; from Queens and Richmond and from the district of Manhattan came the speakers.

A motion that nominations close and the unanimous adoption of Mr. Hearst's name brought the assembly to its feet, wildly cheering.

John Martin, of Staten Island, a writer and lecturer on municipal topics, nominated J. G. Phelps Stokes for President of the Board of Aldermen.

He told of Mr. Stokes' work for the masses in the East Side, Mr. Stokes was a man of wide humanity and sterling honesty, said Mr. Martin, who had shown by his life that he might be trusted by every man.

Mr. Hearst declared that whether or not he would have to pay more for the city, public ownership of public utilities, that the taxes may be reduced and the conditions of the employees bettered.

He would not make it more burdensome, but in the fight to win—not as politicians, aiming for places, but as citizens anxious to put their principles into active practice.

At the Bronx Borough Republican convention last night ex-Assemblyman Hal Bell, State Inheritance Tax Commissioner, was unanimously nominated for president of the borough.

The candidates for the places now filled by Coroner Berry and O'Gorman are Dr. Robert S. McDonald, of the 24th Assembly District, and Albert F. Schwanecke, of the 26th Assembly District.

Mr. Bell did not want as Borough President a man who was only a civil engineer and surveyor, as it now had, but a man with breadth of view and mental equipment, such as the man he proposed, who had made a reputation for himself as a lawyer and leader.

Mr. Bell has been prominently identified with Republican politics for some time. He was elected to the Assembly from the 26th District in 1900. He was an assistant Under District Attorney O'Connell in 1900 he was the Republican candidate for the Assembly in the 26th District, and the following year he was appointed State Inheritance Tax Commissioner by Controller Kelsey.

He was graduated from Hamilton College in 1873, and from the Columbia Law School two years later, after he had practiced law since that time. His home is on Morris Heights, in the Bronx.

CAREERS OF CANDIDATES.

WILLIAM R. HEARST.

William R. Hearst was born in San Francisco, April 29, 1862. He is of Scotch descent. His father, Senator George Hearst, moved from Missouri to California in 1849 and made his fortune as a gold miner.

Mr. Hearst was a public school boy, with no educational advantages beyond those afforded by a district school at odd times. While working in the stone quarries of Medina, N. Y., he decided to get a college education.

After fifteen months' work he had mastered sufficient Latin, Greek, mathematics, etc., to enter college. He gained a scholarship in Cornell University and graduated with the highest honors.

He became Editor of "The American Economist" and later was admitted to the bar. In 1885 he was elected to the State Senate.

J. G. PHELPS STOKES.

J. G. Phelps Stokes was born on March 18, 1852. He is the son of Anson Phelps Stokes, an. Last spring he came into prominence through his marriage with Miss Pastor, a Jewess of the East Side.

Mr. Stokes has been particularly interested in East Side Settlement work with his sister, Caroline, who carried Robert H. Hunter, of the University Settlement. His brother, Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., is a Protestant Episcopal clergyman, and secretary of Yale University. A sister is Baroness Halket. Mr. Stokes was graduated from Yale with the class of 1882.

COLER CONSENTS TO RUN.

Candidate for Borough President of Brooklyn on Hearst Ticket.

Ex-Controller Bird S. Coler has consented to lend the support of his name to the Municipal Ownership ticket in Brooklyn, and has promised to run for Borough President of Brooklyn, on condition that "good, strong" men be named for the other places on the ticket.

Members of the league who learned of Mr. Coler's decision last night were jubilant, and predicted that it meant that the Municipal Ownership ticket would prove a large factor in the local election.

The other candidates will not be selected until to-day, although it is said that Coroner Flaherty will probably run for Sheriff and A. J. Boulton for Register.

Coroner Michael J. Flaherty and other leaders of the school system, the three platoon system and the "government of New-York City by corporations and trusts."

HEARST TICKET THROUGH

Indorsed with Great Enthusiasm at M. O. Convention.

SEABURY NOMINATES HEARST.

After the platform had been read Justice Samuel Seabury began the actual nomination of Mr. Hearst. He declared that everybody knew Mr. Hearst's earnest fight against the trusts and his efforts for organized labor.

Amid much cheering the seconding speeches were begun. From Brooklyn came C. Augustus Haviland; from the Bronx, Alderman Frank Gass; from Queens and Richmond and from the district of Manhattan came the speakers.

A motion that nominations close and the unanimous adoption of Mr. Hearst's name brought the assembly to its feet, wildly cheering.

John Martin, of Staten Island, a writer and lecturer on municipal topics, nominated J. G. Phelps Stokes for President of the Board of Aldermen.

He told of Mr. Stokes' work for the masses in the East Side, Mr. Stokes was a man of wide humanity and sterling honesty, said Mr. Martin, who had shown by his life that he might be trusted by every man.

Mr. Hearst declared that whether or not he would have to pay more for the city, public ownership of public utilities, that the taxes may be reduced and the conditions of the employees bettered.

He would not make it more burdensome, but in the fight to win—not as politicians, aiming for places, but as citizens anxious to put their principles into active practice.

At the Bronx Borough Republican convention last night ex-Assemblyman Hal Bell, State Inheritance Tax Commissioner, was unanimously nominated for president of the borough.

The candidates for the places now filled by Coroner Berry and O'Gorman are Dr. Robert S. McDonald, of the 24th Assembly District, and Albert F. Schwanecke, of the 26th Assembly District.

Mr. Bell did not want as Borough President a man who was only a civil engineer and surveyor, as it now had, but a man with breadth of view and mental equipment, such as the man he proposed, who had made a reputation for himself as a lawyer and leader.

Mr. Bell has been prominently identified with Republican politics for some time. He was elected to the Assembly from the 26th District in 1900. He was an assistant Under District Attorney O'Connell in 1900 he was the Republican candidate for the Assembly in the 26th District, and the following year he was appointed State Inheritance Tax Commissioner by Controller Kelsey.

He was graduated from Hamilton College in 1873, and from the Columbia Law School two years later, after he had practiced law since that time. His home is on Morris Heights, in the Bronx.

CAREERS OF CANDIDATES.

WILLIAM R. HEARST.

William R. Hearst was born in San Francisco, April 29, 1862. He is of Scotch descent. His father, Senator George Hearst, moved from Missouri to California in 1849 and made his fortune as a gold miner.

Mr. Hearst was a public school boy, with no educational advantages beyond those afforded by a district school at odd times. While working in the stone quarries of Medina, N. Y., he decided to get a college education.

After fifteen months' work he had mastered sufficient Latin, Greek, mathematics, etc., to enter college. He gained a scholarship in Cornell University and graduated with the highest honors.

He became Editor of "The American Economist" and later was admitted to the bar. In 1885 he was elected to the State Senate.

J. G. PHELPS STOKES.

J. G. Phelps Stokes was born on March 18, 1852. He is the son of Anson Phelps Stokes, an. Last spring he came into prominence through his marriage with Miss Pastor, a Jewess of the East Side.

Mr. Stokes has been particularly interested in East Side Settlement work with his sister, Caroline, who carried Robert H. Hunter, of the University Settlement. His brother, Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., is a Protestant Episcopal clergyman, and secretary of Yale University. A sister is Baroness Halket. Mr. Stokes was graduated from Yale with the class of 1882.

COLER CONSENTS TO RUN.

Candidate for Borough President of Brooklyn on Hearst Ticket.

Ex-Controller Bird S. Coler has consented to lend the support of his name to the Municipal Ownership ticket in Brooklyn, and has promised to run for Borough President of Brooklyn, on condition that "good, strong" men be named for the other places on the ticket.

Members of the league who learned of Mr. Coler's decision last night were jubilant, and predicted that it meant that the Municipal Ownership ticket would prove a large factor in the local election.

The other candidates will not be selected until to-day, although it is said that Coroner Flaherty will probably run for Sheriff and A. J. Boulton for Register.

Coroner Michael J. Flaherty and other leaders of the school system, the three platoon system and the "government of New-York City by corporations and trusts."

HEARST TICKET THROUGH

Indorsed with Great Enthusiasm at M. O. Convention.

SEABURY NOMINATES HEARST.

After the platform had been read Justice Samuel Seabury began the actual nomination of Mr. Hearst. He declared that everybody knew Mr. Hearst's earnest fight against the trusts and his efforts for organized labor.

Amid much cheering the seconding speeches were begun. From Brooklyn came C. Augustus Haviland; from the Bronx, Alderman Frank Gass; from Queens and Richmond and from the district of Manhattan came the speakers.

A motion that nominations close and the unanimous adoption of Mr. Hearst's name brought the assembly to its feet, wildly cheering.

John Martin, of Staten Island, a writer and lecturer on municipal topics, nominated J. G. Phelps Stokes for President of the Board of Aldermen.

He told of Mr. Stokes' work for the masses in the East Side, Mr. Stokes was a man of wide humanity and sterling honesty, said Mr. Martin, who had shown by his life that he might be trusted by every man.

Mr. Hearst declared that whether or not he would have to pay more for the city, public ownership of public utilities, that the taxes may be reduced and the conditions of the employees bettered.

He would not make it more burdensome, but in the fight to win—not as politicians, aiming for places, but as citizens anxious to put their principles into active practice.

At the Bronx Borough Republican convention last night ex-Assemblyman Hal Bell, State Inheritance Tax Commissioner, was unanimously nominated for president of the borough.

The candidates for the places now filled by Coroner Berry and O'Gorman are Dr. Robert S. McDonald, of the 24th Assembly District, and Albert F. Schwanecke, of the 26th Assembly District.

Mr. Bell did not want as Borough President a man who was only a civil engineer and surveyor, as it now had, but a man with breadth of view and mental equipment, such as the man he proposed, who had made a reputation for himself as a lawyer and leader.

Mr. Bell has been prominently identified with Republican politics for some time. He was elected to the Assembly from the 26th District in 1900. He was an assistant Under District Attorney O'Connell in 1900 he was the Republican candidate for the Assembly in the 26th District, and the following year he was appointed State Inheritance Tax Commissioner by Controller Kelsey.

He was graduated from Hamilton College in 1873, and from the Columbia Law School two years later, after he had practiced law since that time. His home is on Morris Heights, in the Bronx.

CAREERS OF CANDIDATES.

WILLIAM R. HEARST.

William R. Hearst was born in San Francisco, April 29, 1862. He is of Scotch descent. His father, Senator George Hearst, moved from Missouri to California in 1849 and made his fortune as a gold miner.

Mr. Hearst was a public school boy, with no educational advantages beyond those afforded by a district school at odd times. While working in the stone quarries of Medina, N. Y., he decided to get a college education.

After fifteen months' work he had mastered sufficient Latin, Greek, mathematics, etc., to enter college. He gained a scholarship in Cornell University and graduated with the highest honors.

He became Editor of "The American Economist" and later was admitted to the bar. In 1885 he was elected to the State Senate.

J. G. PHELPS STOKES.

J. G. Phelps Stokes was born on March 18, 1852. He is the son of Anson Phelps Stokes, an. Last spring he came into prominence through his marriage with Miss Pastor, a Jewess of the East Side.

Mr. Stokes has been particularly interested in East Side Settlement work with his sister, Caroline, who carried Robert H. Hunter, of the University Settlement. His brother, Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., is a Protestant Episcopal clergyman, and secretary of Yale University. A sister is Baroness Halket. Mr. Stokes was graduated from Yale with the class of 1882.

COLER CONSENTS TO RUN.

Candidate for Borough President of Brooklyn on Hearst Ticket.

Ex-Controller Bird S. Coler has consented to lend the support of his name to the Municipal Ownership ticket in Brooklyn, and has promised to run for Borough President of Brooklyn, on condition that "good, strong" men be named for the other places on the ticket.

Members of the league who learned of Mr. Coler's decision last night were jubilant, and predicted that it meant that the Municipal Ownership ticket would prove a large factor in the local election.

The other candidates will not be selected until to-day, although it is said that Coroner Flaherty will probably run for Sheriff and A. J. Boulton for Register.

Coroner Michael J. Flaherty and other leaders of the school system, the three platoon system and the "government of New-York City by corporations and trusts."

ANNOUNCEMENT CHESTER BILLINGS & SON SUCCESSORS TO RANDEL, BAREMORE & BILLINGS Patrons and visitors are cordially invited to inspect our new salesrooms Billings Court, Fifth Avenue at Thirty-fourth Street Importers of Precious Stones Manufacturing Jewelers Silversmiths Established 1840

CARPET CLEANSING TEL. 1511-3818 COMPRESSED AIR. Taking Up, Altering, Relaying.

Globe-Wernicke Elastic Bookcase 880-382 BROADWAY, COR. WHITE.

IMPROVED Croup Kettle Constructed according to directions of an eminent physician Made and for sale by LEWIS & CONGER 139 & 135 West 45th Street, and 135 West 41st St., New York.

FOR HAFFEN'S PLACE. Hal Bell Republican Nominee for Bronx Borough President. At the Bronx Borough Republican convention last night ex-Assemblyman Hal Bell, State Inheritance Tax Commissioner, was unanimously nominated for president of the borough.

W. M. IVINS FOR MAYOR. Continued from first page. Pryor. In 1879 he was connected with the O'Reilly cases in Brooklyn, and secured the imprisonment and fining of the Board of Aldermen for contempt of court.

BROOKLYN ASSEMBLY NOMINATIONS. Stanley E. Gunnison Defeated in Tenth District—Republican Conventions. The Republicans nominated candidates last night in the twenty-one districts in Brooklyn for the Assembly.

ADJOURNED CONVENTION NOMINEES. Republicans Name Edward Sudden, Deposed Detective Sergeant, for Alderman in Fourth. The Republican party last night chose candidates for the Board of Aldermen at the Assembly at several adjourned conventions.

ALDERMANIC CANDIDATES. 4-EDWARD SIDDEN, ex-police detective sergeant, of No. 142 West 134th St. 7-THOMAS J. MOFFETT, clerk, of No. 216 West 14th St. 8-HARRY SILVERSTEIN, hatter, of No. 38 Delancey St. 10-GEORGE SCHNEIDER, cigar manufacturer, of No. 46 4th St. 11-FRANK J. DOTZLER, plumber, No. 242 East 34th St. 12-JOHN J. FAHRELL, real estate broker, No. 335 West 57th St. 13-PATRICK J. HATTON, undertaker, No. 33 East 37th St. 14-LEONARD L. JACOBSON, physician, of No. 140 East 48th St.

Telephone Directory for the winter months goes to press, To-day All new listings, or changes in present listings desired for this issue must be received before 5 P. M. to-day at one of our Contract Offices. CONTRACT OFFICES: 150 West 38th St. 115 West 38th St. 220 West 124th St. 616 East 150th St. NEW YORK TELEPHONE CO.

The Tribune Uptown Office is now located at 1,364 Broadway Between 36th and 37th Sts.

WIGGINS CELESTINS

Always Remember the Full Name Exaltive Bromo Quinine Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in Two Days on every box 25c