Mr. Wm. Schmidt, of 1504 Cass Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: I had Consumption in its worst form and was given up to die. One day I saw your ad. for Lung-Germine, I sent for it. Doctors and friends laughed at me, but I was determined to try this medicine as a last resort to save my life because I had a family of eight children to care for. To-day I am well and strong. If anyone has a doubt about this statement I am able to furnish proofs from different hospitals and doctors and other reliable men.

We Guarantee to Cure Consumption, Bronchitis and all Lung Troubles or we return every dollar of your money.

Lung-Germine, the great germ destroyer, was discovered by an old German doctor-scientist and has cured hundreds of cases of consumption, bronchitis, asthma and catarrh in Germany and in this country. It has stood the most rapid tests by noted physicians and has given positive proof that it kills the Tuberculosis germs of consumption and destroys absolutely every symptom of this fatal disease. It has revolutionized the treatment of consumption and removed it from the list of deadly, fatal diseases and placed it among the curable. This is an honest remedy that will cure you. If you have consumption or any of its symptoms, coughing and hawking continually, spitting yellow and black matter, bleeding from the lungs, weak voice, flat chest, night sweats, flushed complexion, pain in chest, wasting away of flesh, etc.

over the paper at the breakfast-table, an' all of a sudden he says: 'Here's something to interest all of us. Listen:

"The police gathered in at a late hour last night a smooth rascal sailin' under the name of J. Lester St. Clair, who is wanted in sev'ral places for deludin' foolish women into marryin' him and decampin' with their cash as soon afterwards as possible. In some instances the license, minister and all were shams. J. Lester's list of dupes, several of whom were captured through the medium of matrimonial bureaus, now number five, with sev'ral cities to hear from. It is rumored that he was about to contract a sixth alliance with an unsuspecting victim from a country town when he was provided with quarters at the expense of the city, whose guest he will no doubt be for some days, when a small suite at Sing Sing will be made ready for him."

"Well, ma'am, I expected to see Aunt Perliny keel over in a fit, an' I never was more surprised in my life than I was when she fairly stiffened in her chair, with her eyes flashing fire. Then she brought her open hand down flat on the table an' said: 'The scoundrel!' Then she give herself a whack on the chest with her clenched fist, an' says: 'An' I'm as big a fool as he was scoundrel!' After that she sailed into her room an' stayed there all mornin'.

"Her eyes looked real red when she come out, but she was meek as Moses. I proposed a trip down town to see the sights, an' she fell right in with the idee an' seemed to enjoy herself real well, an', thank goodness! she wore a real neat black jacket instid o' that red cape. That night after Puffer come home Aunt Perliny come out o' her room with a roll o' bills in her hand, an' she says real quiet like: 'Hiram, if it hadn't been for you an' Susy I reckon my three thousand cash an' me would of parted company by this time, so I want you to let me give you an' your wife fifty dollars each now, an' I'll put you down for something in my will when I go home.'

"Wasn't that real sweet in her? She stayed two weeks an' enjoyed herself real well. She's still alive, but I don't reckon Puffer will come in for much when she's gone."

"Why not?"
"Because within six months she wrote us that she had married a good stiddy old widower of her own age in her own town. We had a letter from her last week, an' she said they was real happy an' contented an' they'd be glad to have us make 'em a visit; but I doubt if we ever do.

"As I said at first, it's queer how love acts, ain't it? Still, it'd be a lot worse world than it is if there wasn't no love in it, don't you think?"

"Sweet purty gingham dress of your little girl's this is in the wash. It's the real thing in gingham, but there musn't be no soap go on it, an' it must be hung on the line wrong side out an' dried in the shade or it will fade in the very first washin'. I'll put it right out while the clo'es-reel is still in the shade."

A PSEUDONYM

"MAMA," said nine-year-old Priscilla the other day, "girls are so silly!"
"What girls?" asked the sympathetic parent. Priscilla, by the way, is a Bostonian, and contempt for the frivolous is one of her characteristics.

"Mama, all the girls in my class are so silly about their themes! You see we write them every Friday, and it's so exciting to have them read aloud in the class. We don't sign our own names, but a—what do you call it?"

"Pseudonym," suggested the mother.
"Yes, that's it, and we choose our own names. But the girls are so silly! Susan signs hers 'Atlantic,' and Hetty signs 'Massachusetts,' and Gertrude takes 'Truth' and 'Pocahontas.' But literary names would be so much more sensible. That's what I always take, a literary name."

"And what might yours be—your favorite pseudonym?" asked the amused mother.
"Why, I almost always sign mine 'Ralph Waldo Emerson,'" responded Priscilla proudly, and then she wondered why her mother smiled.
