

Index to Advertisements.

Table with columns: Part, Page, Col. Includes categories like Accounts, Amusements, Auction Sales, etc.

New-York Daily Tribune

SUNDAY, JANUARY 7, 1906. THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

CONGRESS.—The Senate was not in session. House: Representative Hill, of Connecticut, made a strong plea for freer trade relations between the United States and the Philippines.

FOREIGN.—Official information received in London from Berlin shows that Germany will maintain at the conference at Algiers her former demands regarding Morocco, a serious sign of the possibility of war most remote.

DOMESTIC.—Governor Higgins at Albany amplified his views on mortgage taxation. Congressman Herbert Parsons saw Speaker Wadsworth at Albany.

JAPAN IN MANCHURIA.—Some uncertainties and misapprehensions have been current concerning the extent of Japanese influence in Manchuria under the Treaty of Portsmouth and the more recently made treaty between Japan and China.

THE VOYAGE OF THE DEWEY.—One of the strangest objects ever seen upon waters since the days of Noah's Ark, the mammoth steel floating drydock Dewey, started the other day from the Patuxent River on its long journey of 14,000 miles to Manila.

would be much easier to construct and operate than the latter, and would doubtless have been adopted, as originally planned, had not Alexieff, Bezobrazoff and the rest conceived their disastrous scheme of grabbing Manchuria and Korea.

HOSPITALITY TO HEALTH SEEKERS.—The case of Mrs. Thompson, the English woman who was ordered deported by the immigration authorities, would seem to be one which the spirit rather than the letter of the law should govern.

NEEDS OF BROOKLYN TRANSIT.—There is a most encouraging prospect that the consolidation of existing transit lines in Manhattan and The Bronx under a single great monopoly will not be permitted to prevent or delay materially the extension of the subway system.

AMERICAN COTTON.—"The Manufacturers' Record," a Baltimore weekly which keeps a watchful eye on the material interests of the South, makes an interesting comparison between the country's cotton crop and the world's production of precious metals.

THE TALK OF THE DAY.—Florence is excited over the fingers of Galileo. It appears that when the great astronomer's body was admitted to sepulture in the Florentine Church of the Holy Cross, in 1737, Vincenzo Capponi, a prelate, cut off with his own hand "the two fingers which had written so many beautiful things."

AN UNROMANTIC LOVE.—I am a plain, blunt man. To be when making love, absurdly antic. It is quite a new thing for me to be so unromantic. Who am so very unromantic.

THE WASP'S WAIST.—While the eyes of the world are fixed upon Morocco as a potential storm centre in Africa, a certain amount of ominous gloom appears to be gathering over another part of that mysterious continent; namely, the sources of the Nile.

PLASTIC.—[Lovingly woman has taken an alternative to the camera. She has discovered that she can be modelled in wax. It is indeed a discovery of the coloring of the individual.—(The World.)] unbroken connection between the Sudan and South Central Africa. The other purpose which the British had in view, of shutting the French away from the Nile, was not served.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.—[From The Tribune Bureau.] Washington, Jan. 6.—President Roosevelt to-day received a call from the officers of the Gridiron Club, of Washington, who invited him to attend the annual dinner of the organization, which is to be held at the Willard, January 25.

THE DIPLOMATIC CORPS.—[From The Tribune Bureau.] Washington, Jan. 6.—The Minister from Cuba and Mme. Quesada entertained at dinner to-night in honor of the Ambassador from Brazil and Mme. Nabuco.

NOTES OF SOCIETY IN WASHINGTON.—[From The Tribune Bureau.] Washington, Jan. 6.—The Speaker of the House and Miss Cannon entertained to-night in honor of the Vice-President and Mrs. Fairbanks.

NEW-YORK SOCIETY.—Now that the Christmas and New Year holidays are over and that people have returned to town from their country seats, from Tuxedo and other suburban resorts, and from Washington, where the New-York society has been extensively represented in the last two weeks, the fashionable set has settled down to the gaiety of the season, which is just at present at its height.

TRY TO SAVE CEMETERY.—The descendants of the original vault owners of the New-York Marble Cemetery have at last been stirred by the appeal for funds to preserve the old burying place in 2d-ave., and it is probable that it will not be abandoned, as it was feared it would be for lack of funds.

Appeal to Preserve Old 2d-ave. Burying Ground Sent Broadcast.—The descendants of the original vault owners of the New-York Marble Cemetery have at last been stirred by the appeal for funds to preserve the old burying place in 2d-ave., and it is probable that it will not be abandoned, as it was feared it would be for lack of funds.

HAPPY NEW YEAR FOR STEPHEN OLNEY.—To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: It might interest you to know that Marston has a man in the person of Stephen Olney who has been a constant subscriber to the New-York Tribune since 1830.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.—[From The Tribune Bureau.] Washington, Jan. 6.—President Roosevelt to-day received a call from the officers of the Gridiron Club, of Washington, who invited him to attend the annual dinner of the organization, which is to be held at the Willard, January 25.

THE DIPLOMATIC CORPS.—[From The Tribune Bureau.] Washington, Jan. 6.—The Minister from Cuba and Mme. Quesada entertained at dinner to-night in honor of the Ambassador from Brazil and Mme. Nabuco.

NOTES OF SOCIETY IN WASHINGTON.—[From The Tribune Bureau.] Washington, Jan. 6.—The Speaker of the House and Miss Cannon entertained to-night in honor of the Vice-President and Mrs. Fairbanks.

NEW-YORK SOCIETY.—Now that the Christmas and New Year holidays are over and that people have returned to town from their country seats, from Tuxedo and other suburban resorts, and from Washington, where the New-York society has been extensively represented in the last two weeks, the fashionable set has settled down to the gaiety of the season, which is just at present at its height.

TRY TO SAVE CEMETERY.—The descendants of the original vault owners of the New-York Marble Cemetery have at last been stirred by the appeal for funds to preserve the old burying place in 2d-ave., and it is probable that it will not be abandoned, as it was feared it would be for lack of funds.

Appeal to Preserve Old 2d-ave. Burying Ground Sent Broadcast.—The descendants of the original vault owners of the New-York Marble Cemetery have at last been stirred by the appeal for funds to preserve the old burying place in 2d-ave., and it is probable that it will not be abandoned, as it was feared it would be for lack of funds.

HAPPY NEW YEAR FOR STEPHEN OLNEY.—To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: It might interest you to know that Marston has a man in the person of Stephen Olney who has been a constant subscriber to the New-York Tribune since 1830.

STRAWBERRIES FORTY-FIVE YEARS OLD.—[By Telegram to The Tribune.] The Winsted, Conn., Jan. 6.—Mrs. Stratton, housekeeper for Mrs. Cynthia Hopkins, of Lee, Mass., this week made a strawberry pie out of preserves which were put up by Mrs. Hopkins' mother, Mrs. Wadsworth Holmes, forty-five years ago.

About People and Social Incidents.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.—[From The Tribune Bureau.] Washington, Jan. 6.—President Roosevelt to-day received a call from the officers of the Gridiron Club, of Washington, who invited him to attend the annual dinner of the organization, which is to be held at the Willard, January 25.

THE DIPLOMATIC CORPS.—[From The Tribune Bureau.] Washington, Jan. 6.—The Minister from Cuba and Mme. Quesada entertained at dinner to-night in honor of the Ambassador from Brazil and Mme. Nabuco.

NOTES OF SOCIETY IN WASHINGTON.—[From The Tribune Bureau.] Washington, Jan. 6.—The Speaker of the House and Miss Cannon entertained to-night in honor of the Vice-President and Mrs. Fairbanks.

NEW-YORK SOCIETY.—Now that the Christmas and New Year holidays are over and that people have returned to town from their country seats, from Tuxedo and other suburban resorts, and from Washington, where the New-York society has been extensively represented in the last two weeks, the fashionable set has settled down to the gaiety of the season, which is just at present at its height.

TRY TO SAVE CEMETERY.—The descendants of the original vault owners of the New-York Marble Cemetery have at last been stirred by the appeal for funds to preserve the old burying place in 2d-ave., and it is probable that it will not be abandoned, as it was feared it would be for lack of funds.

Appeal to Preserve Old 2d-ave. Burying Ground Sent Broadcast.—The descendants of the original vault owners of the New-York Marble Cemetery have at last been stirred by the appeal for funds to preserve the old burying place in 2d-ave., and it is probable that it will not be abandoned, as it was feared it would be for lack of funds.

HAPPY NEW YEAR FOR STEPHEN OLNEY.—To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: It might interest you to know that Marston has a man in the person of Stephen Olney who has been a constant subscriber to the New-York Tribune since 1830.

STRAWBERRIES FORTY-FIVE YEARS OLD.—[By Telegram to The Tribune.] The Winsted, Conn., Jan. 6.—Mrs. Stratton, housekeeper for Mrs. Cynthia Hopkins, of Lee, Mass., this week made a strawberry pie out of preserves which were put up by Mrs. Hopkins' mother, Mrs. Wadsworth Holmes, forty-five years ago.

Mrs. Peter B. Wyckoff. There will be no reception afterwar.

The Saturday Evening Dancing Class gave its third dance of the season at Delmonico's last night. The guests were received by Mrs. Charles R. Huntington and several of the other patronesses. Stuntz played the cotillon.

Grace Church chantry was the scene yesterday afternoon of the marriage of Mrs. Anson Livingston Carroll to William Bloodgood Trowbridge. The bride, formerly Miss Mabel Merritt, was dressed in gray chiffon, with a hat of the same material.

Mrs. William Watson McGee gave a reception yesterday afternoon at her house in East 83d-st. for the debut of her daughter, Miss Mona L. Burke. It was followed by a small dance in the evening at the St. Regis, where the cotillon was led by Edward Wade, of Philadelphia, with Miss Burke.

Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Stanford White and Mrs. John Jacob Astor are among the patronesses of the performance which is to be given on Tuesday at the Criterion Theatre by the Paul Orloff theatrical company. Ipsen's "Ghosts" will be presented.

Mrs. and Mrs. Kenneth Douglas Robinson, who were married a couple of weeks ago at the Church of the Incarnation, will return to town at the end of this week and make their home at No. 29 Palace-st. Mrs. Harold Farquhar Hadden will give receptions for the newly married couple on January 13 and 20.

Preparations are being made for the annual Charity Ball in aid of the Nursery and Child's Hospital at the Waldorf-Astoria, the night of the 20th inst. A number of well known men are, as usual, forming part of the committee of management.

Mrs. and Mrs. Ernesto G. Fabbri have returned to town from Biltmore, where they have been staying with Mr. and Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt.