

ORDER; THEN FREEDOM
COUNT WITTE'S POLICY.

Premier Gives Reasons for Repression—Revolt Not Checked.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 10.—Premier Witte to-day made a statement to a delegation, headed by the Mayor of this city, which requested a relaxation of the orders of the Prefect of Police against meetings in the interest of the electoral campaign. The Premier could not promise to do anything until after January 22. While personally he did not sympathize with the harsh measures of M. Durnovo, the Minister of the Interior, he regarded them as essential. The Premier could not assume the responsibility for a course which, if it resulted in bloodshed, would make him a scapegoat. He spoke bitterly of the failure of the Moderates to give support to the government, saying that upon their shoulders largely rested the burden of compelling the government to resort to repression. He added: The Emperor in the manifesto of October 30 at one stroke granted the people more rights than any monarch had ever before given, but you know the attitude which Russian society assumed. The government's appeals for confidence were rejected, and every liberty granted was abused by the revolutionists. The permission to hold meetings was translated into ill-considered disturbances and assemblies to plot against the life of the government and for the industrial ruin of the country. I have always been opposed to repression, but the attitude of the Moderates compelled me to adopt harsh measures. I am determined to save Russia.

THE DOUMA POSTPONED.
Autocrats Add Another Delay to Assembly Scheme.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—A long official communication issued this morning explains that the carrying out of numerous formalities will prevent the meeting of the Douma before the end of April. It is added that the meeting may be further postponed in case of a renewal of strikes and disorders.

SILENT ON MOROCCO.
Senate Drops the Question—Danger of Open Debate Pointed Out.

Washington, Jan. 10.—This was an unusually quiet day in the Senate, and only routine matters were discussed, but in cloak and committee rooms conversation turned on the long executive session of yesterday. It is generally conceded that Senator Lodge made his point well that the Bacon resolution should not be discussed in open session. Such a discussion, it is now appreciated, would inevitably bring out more or less drastic criticism of the courses of Germany and France, and at any moment things were likely to be said which might be misunderstood, and even perhaps give grave offense to the powers whose interests are at stake. It is further pointed out that in dealing with Morocco the United States is not in the same position as it would be were it dealing with a wholly independent power. There are precedents to be found in the treaties of 1863 and 1884 for the participation of this country in any general treaty affecting the foreign relations of Morocco, and the United States having been party to joint treaties at that time Morocco could not have failed to invite this country to the coming conference, nor could the United States have failed to appoint delegates without jeopardizing her commercial interests.

Moreover, under the provisions of The Hague convention, the powers signatory thereto assume the duty of tendering their good offices in the cause of peace when circumstances indicate that such good offices be effective, and it is argued that if the United States, by taking part in the coming conference, can exercise its influence for peace the nation would be remiss were it not to avail itself of the opportunity.

The Senate made it plain to-day that it heard yesterday all it wants to hear for the present on the Moroccan question. There were two opportunities to resume consideration of the subject, but both were avoided, apparently with the assent of all the members. Having had its day in court, the resolution dealing with the subject was placed on the calendar, and when it is reached in regular order no one manifested the least disposition to disturb it there, and the Senate adjourned at a comparatively early hour rather than take it up.

Notwithstanding the early adjournment, a great deal of business was disposed of. About eighty bills were passed, leaving on the calendar only six or seven measures. Of the bills passed a large majority grant private pensions and many were bridge bills. One of the bills favorably acted on appropriate $200,000 for the appropriate marking of the graves of Confederate soldiers who died in Northern prisons in the Civil War.

The Senate gave attention in turn to the question of the salaries paid to Panama Canal officials, to the Pure Food bill and the Merchant Marine Shipping bill, but without taking action on either of them. The canal subject was discussed by Mr. Simmons and the Pure Food bill by Mr. Heyburn. The only action taken on the shipping bill was to read it at length.

Assurances received from the House leaders that the Philippine bill would pass the lower chamber within a week led to some discussion of that measure in the Senate lobbies, and it is intimated in some quarters that there are breakers ahead for Secretary Taft's bill in the Senate. Senator Lodge does not believe he will experience insurmountable difficulty in securing the adoption of the bill without amendment, but some other leaders take issue with Mr. Lodge on this point, while the Democratic Senators from Colorado and Senator Dubois, of Idaho, are primed and loaded with ammunition against the bill. The impression prevails that the measure will be passed, but it is held in some quarters that before final enactment it will be amended in important particulars.

NO QUARTER TO REBELS.
Eighty-nine Insurgents Killed by Troops in Courland.

Mitau, Jan. 10.—A squadron of dragoons which was ambushed recently near Hazenpot, and lost two men killed and four wounded, received reinforcements later and surrounded the revolutionists. No quarter was given, and the rebels, eighty-nine in all, were killed to the last man.

A band of fifty insurgents made a daring raid on Livenhof with the object of obtaining medicines and bandages for their comrades in the field. They carried off two Jewish merchants and held them for a heavy ransom, which was paid.

REVAL, JAN. 10.—A tailor named Schultz, who had been elected President of the Estonian Republic, has been captured and executed by the soldiers.

FIERCE FIGHT IN RADOM.
Rebel Headquarters Taken—Troops Charge Crowds.

Warsaw, Jan. 10.—The troops have captured the iron works at Ostrowiec, government of Radom, which had been occupied by the revolutionists as headquarters. Many of the rebels were killed or wounded in the fight. The rest fled.

The presidents of the electoral boards have resigned, owing to the refusal of Governor General Skalon to abolish martial law.

REPORTED PLOT IN CAPITAL.
Eight Officers Arrested, Charged with Conspiracy to Capture Fortress.

London, Jan. 11.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to a New London paper, "The T. S.," reports the arrest of eight artillery officers of the St. Petersburg garrison on the charge of being engaged in a conspiracy to blow up the Troitsky bridge and to capture the fortress.

ARTILLERY USED IN TIPLIS.
Bombs Thrown at Troops—Mobs Plundering the City.

Tiflis, Jan. 10.—The plundering of this city continues. Last night bombs were thrown at a

WIFE HIS ACCUSER.
TELLS THRILLING STORY.

Mrs. Simpson Says Dentist Asked Her, "Would You Hang Me?"

Northport, Long Island, Jan. 10.—To-day saw the close of the prosecution in the Simpson case, save for the testimony of one or two minor witnesses, who will be examined later, and the defense, after introducing testimony from one character witness, asked for an adjournment so that witnesses might be secured from out of town.

The testimony was considered damaging for the defendant, Dr. James W. Simpson, the 5th-ave. dentist, who is accused of willfully slaying his father-in-law, Bartley T. Horner. His wife, Mrs. Julia Horner Simpson, gave strong testimony, and during her dramatic recital and demonstration with the gun, the prisoner's face had not a vestige of color. His attitude was that of a man whose last friend had turned against him.

THE DOUMA POSTPONED.

Autocrats Add Another Delay to Assembly Scheme.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—A long official communication issued this morning explains that the carrying out of numerous formalities will prevent the meeting of the Douma before the end of April. It is added that the meeting may be further postponed in case of a renewal of strikes and disorders.

SILENT ON MOROCCO.

Senate Drops the Question—Danger of Open Debate Pointed Out.

Washington, Jan. 10.—This was an unusually quiet day in the Senate, and only routine matters were discussed, but in cloak and committee rooms conversation turned on the long executive session of yesterday. It is generally conceded that Senator Lodge made his point well that the Bacon resolution should not be discussed in open session. Such a discussion, it is now appreciated, would inevitably bring out more or less drastic criticism of the courses of Germany and France, and at any moment things were likely to be said which might be misunderstood, and even perhaps give grave offense to the powers whose interests are at stake. It is further pointed out that in dealing with Morocco the United States is not in the same position as it would be were it dealing with a wholly independent power. There are precedents to be found in the treaties of 1863 and 1884 for the participation of this country in any general treaty affecting the foreign relations of Morocco, and the United States having been party to joint treaties at that time Morocco could not have failed to invite this country to the coming conference, nor could the United States have failed to appoint delegates without jeopardizing her commercial interests.

SILENT ON MOROCCO.

Senate Drops the Question—Danger of Open Debate Pointed Out.

Washington, Jan. 10.—This was an unusually quiet day in the Senate, and only routine matters were discussed, but in cloak and committee rooms conversation turned on the long executive session of yesterday. It is generally conceded that Senator Lodge made his point well that the Bacon resolution should not be discussed in open session. Such a discussion, it is now appreciated, would inevitably bring out more or less drastic criticism of the courses of Germany and France, and at any moment things were likely to be said which might be misunderstood, and even perhaps give grave offense to the powers whose interests are at stake. It is further pointed out that in dealing with Morocco the United States is not in the same position as it would be were it dealing with a wholly independent power. There are precedents to be found in the treaties of 1863 and 1884 for the participation of this country in any general treaty affecting the foreign relations of Morocco, and the United States having been party to joint treaties at that time Morocco could not have failed to invite this country to the coming conference, nor could the United States have failed to appoint delegates without jeopardizing her commercial interests.

Moreover, under the provisions of The Hague convention, the powers signatory thereto assume the duty of tendering their good offices in the cause of peace when circumstances indicate that such good offices be effective, and it is argued that if the United States, by taking part in the coming conference, can exercise its influence for peace the nation would be remiss were it not to avail itself of the opportunity.

The Senate made it plain to-day that it heard yesterday all it wants to hear for the present on the Moroccan question. There were two opportunities to resume consideration of the subject, but both were avoided, apparently with the assent of all the members. Having had its day in court, the resolution dealing with the subject was placed on the calendar, and when it is reached in regular order no one manifested the least disposition to disturb it there, and the Senate adjourned at a comparatively early hour rather than take it up.

Notwithstanding the early adjournment, a great deal of business was disposed of. About eighty bills were passed, leaving on the calendar only six or seven measures. Of the bills passed a large majority grant private pensions and many were bridge bills. One of the bills favorably acted on appropriate $200,000 for the appropriate marking of the graves of Confederate soldiers who died in Northern prisons in the Civil War.

The Senate gave attention in turn to the question of the salaries paid to Panama Canal officials, to the Pure Food bill and the Merchant Marine Shipping bill, but without taking action on either of them. The canal subject was discussed by Mr. Simmons and the Pure Food bill by Mr. Heyburn. The only action taken on the shipping bill was to read it at length.

Assurances received from the House leaders that the Philippine bill would pass the lower chamber within a week led to some discussion of that measure in the Senate lobbies, and it is intimated in some quarters that there are breakers ahead for Secretary Taft's bill in the Senate. Senator Lodge does not believe he will experience insurmountable difficulty in securing the adoption of the bill without amendment, but some other leaders take issue with Mr. Lodge on this point, while the Democratic Senators from Colorado and Senator Dubois, of Idaho, are primed and loaded with ammunition against the bill. The impression prevails that the measure will be passed, but it is held in some quarters that before final enactment it will be amended in important particulars.

NO QUARTER TO REBELS.

Eighty-nine Insurgents Killed by Troops in Courland.

Mitau, Jan. 10.—A squadron of dragoons which was ambushed recently near Hazenpot, and lost two men killed and four wounded, received reinforcements later and surrounded the revolutionists. No quarter was given, and the rebels, eighty-nine in all, were killed to the last man.

A band of fifty insurgents made a daring raid on Livenhof with the object of obtaining medicines and bandages for their comrades in the field. They carried off two Jewish merchants and held them for a heavy ransom, which was paid.

REVAL, JAN. 10.—A tailor named Schultz, who had been elected President of the Estonian Republic, has been captured and executed by the soldiers.

FIERCE FIGHT IN RADOM.

Warsaw, Jan. 10.—The troops have captured the iron works at Ostrowiec, government of Radom, which had been occupied by the revolutionists as headquarters. Many of the rebels were killed or wounded in the fight. The rest fled.

The presidents of the electoral boards have resigned, owing to the refusal of Governor General Skalon to abolish martial law.

REPORTED PLOT IN CAPITAL.

London, Jan. 11.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to a New London paper, "The T. S.," reports the arrest of eight artillery officers of the St. Petersburg garrison on the charge of being engaged in a conspiracy to blow up the Troitsky bridge and to capture the fortress.

ARTILLERY USED IN TIPLIS.

Tiflis, Jan. 10.—The plundering of this city continues. Last night bombs were thrown at a

WIFE HIS ACCUSER.
TELLS THRILLING STORY.

Mrs. Simpson Says Dentist Asked Her, "Would You Hang Me?"

Northport, Long Island, Jan. 10.—To-day saw the close of the prosecution in the Simpson case, save for the testimony of one or two minor witnesses, who will be examined later, and the defense, after introducing testimony from one character witness, asked for an adjournment so that witnesses might be secured from out of town.

The testimony was considered damaging for the defendant, Dr. James W. Simpson, the 5th-ave. dentist, who is accused of willfully slaying his father-in-law, Bartley T. Horner. His wife, Mrs. Julia Horner Simpson, gave strong testimony, and during her dramatic recital and demonstration with the gun, the prisoner's face had not a vestige of color. His attitude was that of a man whose last friend had turned against him.

THE DOUMA POSTPONED.

Autocrats Add Another Delay to Assembly Scheme.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—A long official communication issued this morning explains that the carrying out of numerous formalities will prevent the meeting of the Douma before the end of April. It is added that the meeting may be further postponed in case of a renewal of strikes and disorders.

SILENT ON MOROCCO.

Senate Drops the Question—Danger of Open Debate Pointed Out.

Washington, Jan. 10.—This was an unusually quiet day in the Senate, and only routine matters were discussed, but in cloak and committee rooms conversation turned on the long executive session of yesterday. It is generally conceded that Senator Lodge made his point well that the Bacon resolution should not be discussed in open session. Such a discussion, it is now appreciated, would inevitably bring out more or less drastic criticism of the courses of Germany and France, and at any moment things were likely to be said which might be misunderstood, and even perhaps give grave offense to the powers whose interests are at stake. It is further pointed out that in dealing with Morocco the United States is not in the same position as it would be were it dealing with a wholly independent power. There are precedents to be found in the treaties of 1863 and 1884 for the participation of this country in any general treaty affecting the foreign relations of Morocco, and the United States having been party to joint treaties at that time Morocco could not have failed to invite this country to the coming conference, nor could the United States have failed to appoint delegates without jeopardizing her commercial interests.

SILENT ON MOROCCO.

Senate Drops the Question—Danger of Open Debate Pointed Out.

Washington, Jan. 10.—This was an unusually quiet day in the Senate, and only routine matters were discussed, but in cloak and committee rooms conversation turned on the long executive session of yesterday. It is generally conceded that Senator Lodge made his point well that the Bacon resolution should not be discussed in open session. Such a discussion, it is now appreciated, would inevitably bring out more or less drastic criticism of the courses of Germany and France, and at any moment things were likely to be said which might be misunderstood, and even perhaps give grave offense to the powers whose interests are at stake. It is further pointed out that in dealing with Morocco the United States is not in the same position as it would be were it dealing with a wholly independent power. There are precedents to be found in the treaties of 1863 and 1884 for the participation of this country in any general treaty affecting the foreign relations of Morocco, and the United States having been party to joint treaties at that time Morocco could not have failed to invite this country to the coming conference, nor could the United States have failed to appoint delegates without jeopardizing her commercial interests.

Moreover, under the provisions of The Hague convention, the powers signatory thereto assume the duty of tendering their good offices in the cause of peace when circumstances indicate that such good offices be effective, and it is argued that if the United States, by taking part in the coming conference, can exercise its influence for peace the nation would be remiss were it not to avail itself of the opportunity.

The Senate made it plain to-day that it heard yesterday all it wants to hear for the present on the Moroccan question. There were two opportunities to resume consideration of the subject, but both were avoided, apparently with the assent of all the members. Having had its day in court, the resolution dealing with the subject was placed on the calendar, and when it is reached in regular order no one manifested the least disposition to disturb it there, and the Senate adjourned at a comparatively early hour rather than take it up.

Notwithstanding the early adjournment, a great deal of business was disposed of. About eighty bills were passed, leaving on the calendar only six or seven measures. Of the bills passed a large majority grant private pensions and many were bridge bills. One of the bills favorably acted on appropriate $200,000 for the appropriate marking of the graves of Confederate soldiers who died in Northern prisons in the Civil War.

The Senate gave attention in turn to the question of the salaries paid to Panama Canal officials, to the Pure Food bill and the Merchant Marine Shipping bill, but without taking action on either of them. The canal subject was discussed by Mr. Simmons and the Pure Food bill by Mr. Heyburn. The only action taken on the shipping bill was to read it at length.

Assurances received from the House leaders that the Philippine bill would pass the lower chamber within a week led to some discussion of that measure in the Senate lobbies, and it is intimated in some quarters that there are breakers ahead for Secretary Taft's bill in the Senate. Senator Lodge does not believe he will experience insurmountable difficulty in securing the adoption of the bill without amendment, but some other leaders take issue with Mr. Lodge on this point, while the Democratic Senators from Colorado and Senator Dubois, of Idaho, are primed and loaded with ammunition against the bill. The impression prevails that the measure will be passed, but it is held in some quarters that before final enactment it will be amended in important particulars.

NO QUARTER TO REBELS.

Eighty-nine Insurgents Killed by Troops in Courland.

Mitau, Jan. 10.—A squadron of dragoons which was ambushed recently near Hazenpot, and lost two men killed and four wounded, received reinforcements later and surrounded the revolutionists. No quarter was given, and the rebels, eighty-nine in all, were killed to the last man.

A band of fifty insurgents made a daring raid on Livenhof with the object of obtaining medicines and bandages for their comrades in the field. They carried off two Jewish merchants and held them for a heavy ransom, which was paid.

REVAL, JAN. 10.—A tailor named Schultz, who had been elected President of the Estonian Republic, has been captured and executed by the soldiers.

FIERCE FIGHT IN RADOM.

Warsaw, Jan. 10.—The troops have captured the iron works at Ostrowiec, government of Radom, which had been occupied by the revolutionists as headquarters. Many of the rebels were killed or wounded in the fight. The rest fled.

The presidents of the electoral boards have resigned, owing to the refusal of Governor General Skalon to abolish martial law.

REPORTED PLOT IN CAPITAL.

London, Jan. 11.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to a New London paper, "The T. S.," reports the arrest of eight artillery officers of the St. Petersburg garrison on the charge of being engaged in a conspiracy to blow up the Troitsky bridge and to capture the fortress.

ARTILLERY USED IN TIPLIS.

Tiflis, Jan. 10.—The plundering of this city continues. Last night bombs were thrown at a

The fact that our regular $3 and $4 Derbies are so flawless is the very reason both why we have "seconds" to sell and why they sell so well.

Unless we'd lots more of them than ever before, we shouldn't be able to advertise them to-day.

For hundreds of men who know a good thing when they see it, and couldn't see any reason why these hats should be seconds, just jumped at the chance yesterday.

But starting with 3800 Derbies which started out for our regular $3 and $4 stock, every size is still left.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.
Three Broadway Stores.

Table with 3 columns: Store location (Warren at, 13th at, 32nd at), Price (258, 842, 1260), and Unit (at, at, at).

HOT BRITISH POLITICS.

Premier Howled Down—John Burns Forces a Retraction.

London, Jan. 10.—The election fight is daily growing in intensity, and the party leaders, with the aid of motor cars, are displaying the greatest energy in addressing many meetings at different places on the same day.

The Premier, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, who spoke at Shrewsbury to-night, was howled down by a Chamberlainite minority and was compelled to shorten his speech. Disorderly meetings of this kind are not uncommon.

John Burns, president of the Local Government Board, made a successful tilt against Joseph Chamberlain, compelling him publicly to retract his statement that a million able-bodied men were being supported in the workhouses of Great Britain. Mr. Burns produced statistics to show that the workhouses were at present supporting only 214,884 persons, the majority of whom were either sick or disabled.

One of the most striking personalities in the campaign is Winston Spencer Churchill, whose restless energy, it is admitted by friends and foes, is dominating the struggle in Manchester, where he is being attended devotedly by his mother, Mrs. George Cornwallis-West. Mr. Churchill receives deputations, attends committee meetings and addresses gatherings several times daily.

PEACEFUL OUTCOME PREDICTED.

View of the Marquis Visconti Venosta—Americans Praised.

Rome, Jan. 10.—The Marquis Visconti Venosta, head of the Italian delegation, which departed for Paris to-day on his way to Algiers, said he was convinced that the result of the conference would favor the cause of peace.

The "Messaggero" to-day, in appreciation of Henry White, the American Ambassador, who is about to start for Algiers to represent his government at the conference, says:

America is again about to make a powerful contribution to the peace of the world. It is a noble mission for this young nation, which desires to attain a place in the history of this century, which is to mark the triumph of civilization and the abolition of war.

CANADIAN FORESTRY CONVENTION.

Mr. Pinchot Delivers Messages from the President and Mr. Wilson.

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—The Canadian Forestry Convention was opened here to-day. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, president, Earl Gray, the Governor General, spoke of the importance of forest preservation. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, R. L. Borden, leader of the opposition, and Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, spoke along the same lines.

Gifford Pinchot, chief of the Forest Service of the United States, delivered a message from President Roosevelt expressing the warmest personal regard for his excellency the Governor General, and also the hope that the result of the convention would be of great good to Canada. The necessity for forest preservation was becoming a stronger conviction with the present year by year. Mr. Pinchot also delivered a message from James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture, who wished success to the convention and permanent results.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

MINUTEARY ALMANAC.

Sunrise 7:23 Sunset 4:25 Moon rises 6:11 Moon's age 17 HIGH WATER.

A.M.—Sandy Hook 7:50 Gov. Island 8:05 Hell Gate 9:58 P.M.—Sandy Hook 8:14 Gov. Island 8:23 Hell Gate 10:16

INCOMING STEAMERS.

Table with columns: Vessel, Line, Date, and other details for incoming steamers.

TO-DAY.

Table with columns: Vessel, Line, Date, and other details for to-day's steamers.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 12.

Table with columns: Vessel, Line, Date, and other details for Friday's steamers.

OUTGOING STEAMERS.

Table with columns: Vessel, Line, Date, and other details for outgoing steamers.

Annual Sale of Quilts and Bed Spreads

Reduced for January Sale

This Sale affords a genuine opportunity to secure the most reliable Quilts and Bed Spreads at a decided saving in price.

Imported Patent Satin Quilts

Similar in style to Marseilles, but not so heavy, the designs having the appearance of embossed satin.

Single Bed Size, $2.50 3.00 3.50 3.75 4.00 4.50

Double Bed Size, $3.00 3.50 4.00 4.50 5.00 5.50

Extra Double Bed Size, $4.00 4.50 5.00 5.50 6.00 6.50

Imported Dimple Bed Spreads (Light Weight)

Single Bed Size, $1.75 2.00 2.25 2.50 2.75 3.00

Double Bed Size, $2.00 2.25 2.50 2.75 3.00 3.25

Extra Double Bed Size, $2.50 2.75 3.00 3.25 3.50 3.75

Imported Ariel Bed Spreads (Light Weight)

Single Bed Size, $1.75 2.00 2.25 2.50 2.75 3.00

Double Bed Size, $2.00 2.25 2.50 2.75 3.00 3.25

Extra Double Bed Size, $2.50 2.75 3.00 3.25 3.50 3.75

This Sale also includes Table Cloths and Napkins, Sheets, Pillow Cases, (Towels, Blankets and French Linen) at reduced prices.

"The Linen Store."

James McCutcheon & Co.
14 WEST 23d ST.

Amusements.

Fields of Hway. Mat. Sat. 50c 75c $1.00

Louis Mann & Clara Lipman. Julie Bonbon.

Anglin Zira. Princess, Hway & 29th St. Hway 8:15, Tel. 2544 Mad.

Lyric. Hway & 42d St. Mat. Sat. 50c 75c $1.00

The Babes in the Wood. Hway & 42d St. Mat. Sat. 50c 75c $1.00

Carnegie Hall. Philharmonic Society. Two Extra Concerts.

Wassily Safonoff. Adele Aus der Ohe. Piano.

Maude Powell. Garrick. Hway & 42d St. Mat. Sat. 50c 75c $1.00

Ships. Port of New-York, Wednesday, Jan. 10, 1906.

ARRIVED. Steamer British King (Br.), Hagen, Antwerp November 22.

SAILED. Steamer British King (Br.), Hagen, Antwerp November 22.

THE MOVEMENTS OF STEAMERS.

FOREIGN PORTS. Liverpool, Jan 10.—Sailed, steamer Majestic (Br.), Hayes, New York via Queenstown.

ST. NICHOLAS RINK. Hockey game to-night. St. Nicholas vs. Columbia.

EDEN. WORLD IN WAIX. The Great Eden CINE-MATOGRAF Every Evening.

Amusements. EMPIRE THEATRE. Hway & 49th St. MAUDE ADAMS. CRITERION THEATRE. Hway & 44th St. ETHEL BARRYMORE.

HERALD SQ. THEATRE. Hway & 35th St. COMING THRU' RYE. HUDSON THEATRE. 44th St. East of Hway. ROBERT LORAIN.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE. Hway & 23rd St. HENRI de VRIES. NEW AMSTERDAM THEATRE. 42d St. LIBERTY THEATRE. 42d St. West of Hway.

BROADWAY THEATRE. Hway & 41st St. VERONIQUE VINCENT. ELsie JANIS. "THE VANDERBILT CUP."

IRVING PL. THEATRE. Every Eve. & Sat. Mat. BLANCHE BATES. BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

SIXTH NATIONAL AUTOMOBILE SHOW. WILL OPEN AT Madison Square Garden Saturday Evening at 8.

SOUZA AT THE HIPPODROME. HAMMERSTEIN'S. COLONIAL AMEE AN