

SEEKING SURVIVORS.

Only 32 of the 154 on Board the Valencia Thought To Be Saved.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 25.—A dispatch received by The Associated Press from Pachuca telegraph hut, where the correspondent set in with an instrument, reports the steamer Salvo and the whaler Orion and another steamer, believed to be the City of Topeka, off the mouth of the Darling River. A small boat from the Salvo Darling River. A small boat from the Salvo Darling River. A small boat from the Salvo Darling River.

PERIL ON LIFE RAFT.

Survivor Tells of Thrilling Experiences Seeking Safety.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 25.—The rescue ship City of Topeka picked up a life raft at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon six miles off Cape Beale, with twenty survivors of the Valencia on board. The men were half frozen and practically unconscious from the exposure. The raft was sighted about 12 o'clock, but owing to the thick weather it was supposed to be nothing but a log. At last by the aid of a powerful glass its true nature was determined.

A terrible sea was running. One minute the raft was tossed upon a wave and the next it would be lost from view in the gully formed by the mountainous breakers. The eighteen men together with their frail support battled bravely with a pair of oars to reach the Topeka, which, owing to the dangerous coast, could not run in any closer to them. Within half a mile from the raft a boat was lowered from the Topeka, in charge of the second mate, Burke, who with much difficulty succeeded in making fast a line to the raft.

The spectators on the Topeka watched the struggling of the gallant seamen breathlessly. One minute they were high in the air, and the next lost to sight. At last the raft was brought to the side of the steamer. Time and again great seas swept over those aboard, and the onlookers feared they would be swept away. The work of rescuing them was dangerous. The men were too exhausted even to the ropes about themselves. The raft put out from the wreck yesterday morning on sighting the steamer Queen, and attempted to reach her, but before they could get within sighting distance the vessel put about and headed for the Strait.

When the Topeka hove in sight the raft was once more manned, and again put forth. The survivors told terrible tales of the wreck of the vessel. When they left the ship there were about ninety persons on board, most of them clinging to the rigging. Men, women and children were being swept away by every sea. After picking up the raft the steamer went in search of another raft, which the rescued men said had left the ship earlier in the day. The vessel ran fully twenty miles the other side, looking for the raft, but no sign of it was discovered.

STORY OF A SURVIVOR. The following is the story of G. Willet, one of the passengers and one of the men rescued from the raft: "The ship struck at 12:07 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, January 23. I was on deck at the time smoking a pipe and the ship was pitching and rolling when the first crash came. In an instant all was excitement. There were the shrieks of the frightened men and women, the wail of little children and the orders of the officers of the ship. The vessel rolled like a drunken man, slid over the reef and struck against the rocks. The command to back her off was given, and she went astern at full speed, but it was too late. The vessel was pitched in like a millstone, and a sound which drowned all else. The wind swung the vessel's stern to the beach and her head to the water. The vessel was pitched in like a millstone, and a sound which drowned all else. The wind swung the vessel's stern to the beach and her head to the water.

SHIP GOING TO PIECES. By Wednesday morning the ship was rapidly going to pieces. Every swell carried away a portion of the ship, and the decks rose and fell with every breaker, and it was impossible to stay on deck without clinging to a support. The ship was sunk to about the level of the hurricane deck. The morning was a day of terror. The ship struck in a bad spot. She is directly at the foot of the cliff, and the water is very shallow. The water's edge. One man was swept ashore and succeeded in landing on a small rock. We shot a signal to attract passing vessels, but all in vain. W. T. Pearce, assistant general manager of the Pacific Coast Company, operating the lost steamer Valencia, to-day said: "The government is well-nigh criminally negligent of coast shipping interests. Years ago Congress should have provided for a government tug located near the mouth of the Straits of Juan de Fuca, in touch with telegraph wires and cables for just such emergencies as the Valencia case. With such a tug, equipped with life-saving apparatus, the majority of the men, women and children on board the Valencia would not have lost their lives."

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 25.—At the local offices of the Pacific Coast Company, operating the wrecked steamer Valencia, the statement was given this morning that information had been received from the wreck that a lifeboat and a lifeboat, yet unaccounted for, had got away safely from the Valencia. On the raft were eight women, it is stated, while no one knows how many were in the lifeboat. Cynthia, Ky., Jan. 25.—Harry R. Ward, who was reported lost on the steamer Valencia, is safe. He is telegraphed yesterday to his brother-in-law, J. G. Lafferty, Mr. Ward is in California. Buffalo, Jan. 25.—Walter C. Neel, who is numbered among the lost of the Valencia, is a member of the local Y. M. C. A. staff.

ALGERIAS PROSPECTS.

Stimulating Feeling in England Over Conference Outcome.

London, Jan. 25.—Official England is more optimistic in regard to the result of the Algerias conference, believing that the discussions of the delegates are leading to a better understanding. Thus far the Foreign Office has been advised that only the non-contentious questions are being cleared up first, but any agreement reached on these questions must be contingent on the settlement of the question of policing the interior of Morocco, which is the pivot of the conference. It was said to-day that Great Britain would support France if Germany insisted on internationalizing the police, which could not be said to be adhering to her protestations that she desired a settlement of the Moroccan question. Algerias, Spain, Jan. 25.—Spain at to-day's session of the Moroccan conference presented the draught of a convention providing for a better return of taxation in Morocco and also for the creation of new revenues. The conference after some discussion expressed the opinion that nothing should be proposed for Morocco which may modify the basis of the present organization of that country or be in contradiction with the habits of the Moroccan people regarding land taxation. The conference decided that the work of drawing up the new rules shall be entrusted to the same committee which examined the question of the control of the trade in contraband arms, with the addition of Belgian, Russian and Moroccan members.

PLACE FOR MR. BALFOUR.

Unionist M. P. in London Resigns in Favor of Former Premier.

London, Jan. 25.—Alban G. H. Gibbs, Unionist, has resigned his seat for the City of London in favor of former Premier Balfour, who has accepted the committee's invitation to be a candidate to represent the constituency. A writ for a new election cannot be issued until Parliament meets, so Mr. Balfour will not be present at the opening of the House, which will be his first absence from that ceremony for thirty-one years. Sir Edward Grey, the new Foreign Secretary, has been returned for the Berwick-on-Tweed division of Northumberland by the largest majority he ever had. Vote splitting between the Liberals and Laborites in the three cornered contest for the Govan division of Lanarkshire have given the Unionists another solitary gain. This, however, is offset by several Liberal gains, including the defeat of Coningsby Disraeli in the Altrincham division of Cheshire and the unseating of J. Parker Smith for the Patrick division of Lanarkshire. Mr. Smith held the seat for sixteen years. He is a member of the executive committee of the Tariff Reform League, and was private secretary to Joseph Chamberlain when the latter was Secretary for the Colonies.

R. C. Lehmann, the oarsman, who is well known in the United States, was defeated in the South or Market Harborough division of Leicestershire. He ran in the Liberal interest against C. Harvey Dixon, the Unionist candidate. The returns to date show that the seats are distributed as follows: Liberals..... 338 Unionists..... 143 Nationalists..... 81 Laborites..... 48 Of the fifty candidates nominated by the Labor representation committee twenty-nine have been elected. With them will act J. Williams, the miners' candidate in the Gower or Western division of Glamorganshire, in Wales, making a group of thirty Laborites pledged to absolute independence. It is understood that the Liberals will allow Mr. Balfour to be elected unopposed for the City of London, though a formal decision has been postponed until Monday.

M. JALUZOT SENTENCED.

French Sugar Speculator Misused Trust Funds.

Paris, Jan. 25.—M. Jules Jaluzot, the former member of the Chamber of Deputies, the well known politician and sugar speculator, who was placed on trial here on January 11 on the charge of illegally using the funds of the Printemps Department Store, of which he was administrator, for speculations in the sugar market and thereby causing the recent panic in that market, was to-day sentenced to one year's imprisonment. But he will not serve his term in prison, as he benefits under the First Offenders' act. Jules Jaluzot was born in the Department of La Seine, in the eastern central part of France, seventy-two years ago. He founded the Magasin du Printemps in the last years of the Second Empire, after serving as an employee of the famous Bon Marche. After the fall of Napoleon III Jaluzot purchased the "Patrie," which was a strong Bonapartist paper, and also the "Presse," founded and edited by Emile de Girardin, and they strongly opposed the government. For a number of years Jaluzot represented Nievre in the Chamber of Deputies, and he was a member of the present chamber, classing himself as a Progressive Republican. The Printemps is one of the largest three department stores in the French capital. In 1881 the building was destroyed by fire, but Jaluzot rebuilt it and turned the business into a corporation, of which he was the head and largest stockholder. Early in August last it was announced that Jaluzot had lost $3,200,000 in a panic on the Commercial Exchange, owing to the collapse in the price of beet sugar, his holdings being involved beyond the possibility of recovery. An investigation of his affairs followed, and he was charged with the illegal use of funds. His trial before the Correctional Court followed.
