

OTTAWA'S PRIDE HERE.

TO VISIT THREE DAYS.

Governor General's Foot Guards March In, 500 Strong.

To the music of the best band and bugle and drum corps in Canada, the Governor General's Foot Guards, the premier military organization of Canada, marched into the city yesterday and quartered at the Hotel Tilt.

The regiment came to New York essentially for amusement and not for military tactics. The entire time will be spent in pleasure, and elaborate plans were made at Ottawa, the home city of the guards.

The regiment was scheduled to arrive at Westchester at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, but the special train broke down twice, and it was five hours late in arriving at Whitehall, N. Y.

The regiment had hardly broken ranks in the "army when the ironed rule of the British "Tommy Atkins" was enforced. Each man received his "swagger stick" before he could leave the army.

The regiment will be signifying the entire time to be here. Last night the officers were the guests of the Canadian Society, and went to the opening of the Hippodrome.

The non-commissioned officers and the privates will go to Coney Island today.

The regiment plans to leave for West Point tomorrow. Special arrangements have been made for a special train to leave for West Point tomorrow.

The Governor General's Foot Guards is probably better known than any other Canadian regiment. It is essentially a fighting corps.

The regiment is a veteran of the Boer war, and served in the New Zealand war in 1890 against the Maoris.

SCHOOL CENSUS TO BE TAKEN.

Work Has Been Neglected for Nine Years, Although Law Calls for Enumeration.

A census of all the children of school age in New York will be taken by the Board of Education in October next under the direction of the State Commissioner of Education.

In addition to this, it has been the desire of Mayor McClellan for the past several years to determine accurately the number of children of school age within the limits of the city.

"RUBBERNECK" CAR AFIRE.

Sightseers Jump When Innovation Is Sprung in the "Great White Way."

A large "sightseeing" automobile, owned by the Majestic Automobile Company, of No. 156 Broadway, in charge of John Doyle, the chauffeur, caught fire yesterday afternoon at 57th street and Broadway.

While the megaphone man was "barking out" the points of interest on the "Great White Way," a loud explosion was heard as 57th street was reached, and a great cloud of black smoke poured out from the rear of the machine.

MRS. C. W. MORSE'S TRUNKS HELD.

Customs Officers Say She Declared Only $200 of $1,000 in Goods—Statement Amended.

Mrs. Charles W. Morse, wife of the ex-president of the Ice Trust, who arrived on Friday on La Provence from France, forgot to declare several articles, and the customs officials yesterday held her trunks for inspection.

ARMY AND NAVY NEWS.

(From The Tribune Bureau.)

Washington, Sept. 1. COURT MARTIAL REBUREAU.—Colonel C. A. Williams, 1st Infantry, while in command temporarily of the Department of the Philippines, rebuked a military court in a way which has attracted national attention in the army.

The case was that of a post quartermaster sergeant, charged with living with a native woman, a discharged soldier was acquitted, and Colonel Williams found that the court admitted as a special plea in lieu of trial an argument in writing by the soldier under trial, whereby it was attempted to prove that a custom said to be extant in those parts of the island of Luzon, in the Philippine Islands, constituted a bar to the court in his review of the case, a copy of which he has sent to the War Department.

The findings of the court are incomprehensible. The reviewing authority is at a loss to understand the attitude or moral point of view of the court which finds not guilty on other specifications, and whose finding of guilty as to the facts, but without attaching criminality thereto. How a soldier, and especially a non-commissioned staff officer, can be guilty of associating publicly with a woman of notorious character, while being guilty of no other offense, which is a scandal to the service and to morality, is impossible to understand.

POPULAR DIET FOR NAVY.—The naval ration is being received with much favor on board ships. It has greater flexibility than the old ration and affords greater variety in the substance of the enlisted force. Naval officers state that the enlisted man of the navy today lives better under the most of his friends on shore.

ORDERS ISSUED.—The following orders have been issued: ARMY. Major WARREN P. NEWCOMB, artillery corps, acting major general, from the office of inspector general, to San Francisco as assistant to inspector general.

NAVY. Lieutenant RICHARD C. BURLESON, FREDE- RICK T. BURKMAN, WALTER S. STUBBINS, and ROY J. WAINING, 11th Cavalry, to Fort Riley.

Major WILLIAM R. ABERCROMBIE, 8th Infantry, from Fort Reno to Fort Crook.

Major EUGENE T. WILSON, artillery corps, detailed as assistant of artillery.

NAVY. Lieutenant L. R. SARGENT, to naval proving ground, new station, U. S. Navy.

Lieutenant U. S. MACY, detached from the West Virginia to the St. Louis.

Medical Director R. A. MARRION to be placed on the retired list.

was at a discount. I asked him the same question: Which people he liked best. "The Americans," "Why?" "Why? A single American gentleman will spend more money than a whole lot of 'em." "Evidently his illustration was taken from a recent experience. What is your ambition?" "Why so?" "Because the chances there are so good for a man."—Dr. Lyman Abbott, in The Outlook.

CHINESE LETTERS IN ENGLISH. Through the office window comes "The Yellow Dragon," the organ of the Queen's College at Hong Kong, which is devoted to the education of the Chinese young in European methods. From the family letters reproduced we gather that business methods are taught in this college. Writes one youth, "A great beneficial strange subject to me is that an English man came to the college and gave a disposal of delivering on the Southern seas and the various kinds of beautiful girls." But these Chinese students are halfway between atheism and study, for one of them writes thus: "I also work very hard and never waste my time in walking. "But my health is not so good as last year in comparison. I found my body is very weak this year. I play cricket and football in the evening green every day with my school-fellows. My intention was that I might make my body stronger while in the night I have a few hours to study my lessons, and sometimes I went to bed very late. "Very tender too is the solitude of a son for an old man and ought to sleep in early and rise in late; but I am learning so that I can't care about you and beg your pardon father." Yet Eton and Hong Kong meet in the boyish request—"Will you please send those books to me to pass New Year."—London Chronicle.

KNEW FROM EXPERIENCE. "I say," said a friend the other day, "you are an old hand at it. I have only just got started, and don't understand much about the business, but has a married man any rights left when he once assumes the hygienic responsibilities?" "Rights? Yes, lots! He's a right to pay all the bills, to—" "Stop! I mean this. Let me give you an instance. Every box and drawer and portmanteau, and, in fact, every available receptacle of every description, is stuffed full of my wife's property, and when I want to put away a few cuffs and collars?" "Hold hard! I know what you mean. Listen, young man. If your bedroom were two hundred yards long, and lined from the floor to the ceiling with drawers, and you wanted a place to stow away a couple of collars, you couldn't find a nook that wasn't full of hairpins, tufts of ribbons, pads, scentboxes, old gloves, powder puffs, rings and things. So just accept the inevitable. Wrap your personal property in an old newspaper or some brown paper, and hide the parcel under the bed." The inquirer smiled loudly and ironically, and passed on a wiser, if not a better, man.—Tit-Bits.
