

HOTELS MAY BE FORCED TO POSTPONE CLOSING DATE.

Lake Placid, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—The Lake Placid hotel men, all of whom have made plans for the enlargement of their respective hotels, on which they had planned to begin work promptly on October 1, find themselves confronted by a problem. All the big hotels here are scheduled to close on October 1, but the crowds now here show so little disposition to go away that the hotel men may be obliged to change their plans and keep their houses open longer. If this is the case it will postpone for a time the working out of building plans involving the expenditure of over $200,000, for at all of the big hotels the proprietors and managers, prompted by the determination never again to be obliged to turn people away, plan extensive alterations, additions and improvements, and the proprietors are getting the lumber ready. If the hotel men are not handicapped in the execution of their plans Lake Placid will be in a position another season to take care of about twice as many visitors as this year, and which has been the greatest thus far in the history of the resort.

There is now as much activity at the different hotels as in July in some previous seasons. The many persons have returned to the city, others have come to fill their places. The arrivals of the week include sportsmen and tourists, who cannot resist the temptation to spend one week or more here enjoying the beauty of the spectacle presented by Lake Placid in the rapidly changing dress of autumn foliage.

THE RUISEAUMONT.

Lake Placid, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—The members of the cottage colony at the Ruisseaumont refuse to recognize the fact that October 1 is the official end of the season in the Adirondacks. In fact approaching, and throughout the week they have been receiving and entertaining friends, most of whom will remain with them until the hotel closes.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Pardee have had this week their guests at their cottage Miss Isabella M. Orier, Miss Priscilla Harding, Miss Louise A. Smith and Miss Marjorie R. Van Winkle.

The Ely cottage Theodore N. Ely and his daughters have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Ely.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Verrier have been entertaining Mrs. Ely at their cottage. Mrs. Ely's guests at their cottage are Miss Isabella M. Orier, Miss Priscilla Harding, Miss Louise A. Smith and Miss Marjorie R. Van Winkle.

THE GRAND VIEW.

Lake Placid, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—Though the large number of guests at the Grand View has made it impossible to do much on the proposed building operations, no time has been lost in the development of the grounds. The first shipment of 150 trees to be set out arrived this week, and have been planted. Work on the new walks and drives has also been pushed. This week the arrival of several excursion parties has served to brighten the beauty of the resort. One party of fifty, headed by Philip L. Nazro, departed the week to trips to High Falls, John Brown's grave and other points of interest and took a steamboat trip on Lake Placid.

The Grand View team for the season, which will soon be disbanded for the season, has an enviable record, having lost only two games out of the entire series played this season. In a game on the other day with a team from Au Sable Forks the Grand View team was victorious by the score of 6 to 4.

Card parties and other social affairs still continue at the hotel. At a party the other evening the winners of the prizes were Miss Lucia Day and Thomas Talbot.

Allan B. Endicott was among the arrivals of the week. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lancaster, of New York, arrived this week, joining his family, who have been here all summer.

Reinton also arrived this week, as the guest of F. J. Painter.

A. R. Arellano, of Havana, has joined his family, who have been here several weeks.

THE WHITEFACE INN.

Lake Placid, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—The inn is one of the hotels here still well filled. It has had the most successful season of its history. People have arrived in such numbers that on several occasions every available inch of space has been pressed into service for the accommodation of the guests. Under these conditions the proposed additions will be welcome.

One of the features of the proposed improvements is the enlargement of the dining room to twice its present size. The new building is circular in form and surrounded by windows commanding a fine view of the lake and mountains. It is one of the show places of the Adirondacks.

Though the patrons at the inn are remaining late, many of the guests of the camp owners have returned to the city this week.

M. A. Griffin, who has been the guest of W. W. Supter at Camp Theodoros, returned to the city early in the week, and Miss Virginia Brown, who has been the guest of Mrs. G. L. Higgins at Camp Colburn, has also come back to New York. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Callahan, of New York, is still at Mrs. Higgins's camp.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Meserole left Camp Alouette this week, where they have been the guests of Mrs. J. M. Child.

From Camp Chimpunkers, where Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Perot, Jr., have been entertaining a party of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Horace C. Jones and Stanley L. Johnson, of New York, and his sister, Miss Keen, returned to the city.

James L. Verree, who has been the guest of H. M. Pratt at Camp Tamaracks, also went down this week.

Dr. Andrew D. White, former United States Ambassador to Germany, who has been spending a week at the inn, will remain a week longer. He is leaving his time here to a complete rest. Dr. White is accompanied by his secretary, E. W. Kelsey.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Derbyshire have been entertaining this week at Saranac Lodge Mr. and Mrs. William C. Downing, Miss Alice and R. A. Bell. The other day Mr. and Mrs. Derbyshire entertained their friends at luncheon at the inn.

F. D. Platt arrived this week, accompanied by Mrs. Platt and the Misses Louise and Helen R. Platt.

Mrs. H. B. Du Pont and H. B. Du Pont, Jr., were among the arrivals of the week from New York.

The trophy awarded in the annual races between the crews from the inn and the Ruisseaumont Hotel came back to the inn this week, being won by fault.

THE STEVENS HOUSE.

Lake Placid, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—This week many tourists who are making the trip through the mountains by many and varied methods of transportation have reached the Stevens House. Of automobile parties there have been any number. One of these, headed by ex-Congressman Wallace T. Foote, Jr., included Senator Samuel J. P. Foley, of New York, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Sherman, Miss Garton and Mrs. Velder. They came in two touring cars and spent several days here. Another automobile party included David Wilcox, president of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ely.

A party of young men from New York, including C. G. Barnaby, Jr., R. Ely, and L. H. Hughes, who are touring the Adirondacks on horseback, arrived at the Stevens House this week, having made the entire trip from the metropolis in the saddle.

Two other young men, H. P. Bellinger and R. C. Thurwachter, arrived on motor cycles, having adopted that method of seeing the mountains at this time of the year.

Senator Samuel J. P. Foley, who was one of the arrivals of the week, was the guest of former Water Commissioner John T. Oakley at a breakfast dinner given on the lake shore this week. Mr. Foley will be in the city on Monday, and will be accompanied by his secretary, Mrs. Twitshell, and together they made the ascent of Mount Whiteface.

Mrs. C. H. Hough, the cashier of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad, arrived early this week, chaperoning a party of twelve young men and women from Hotel Champlain, at Bluff Point. Abel I. Culver, second vice president of

SARANAC INN.

Saranac Inn, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—One of the pleasing affairs of the week at the Saranac Inn was the children's fair, given by Donald Blagden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blagden, for the benefit of the seaside home for children at Cony Island. The fair was held on the lawn

THE ALGONQUIN.

Algonquin, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—The Algonquin, which is to remain open until November, is already becoming headquarters for sportsmen coming into the woods for the hunting season, which opens October 1.

Many of the guests of the hotel who have been obliged to return to the city because of business have written that they will be up for at least a part of the hunting season. Among these are Thomas Theford, who will spend two weeks at the Algonquin; S. C. Renner and C. A. Collidge, who show no inclination to return to the city, and are devoting their time to mountain climbing, horseback riding, and other sports. O. F. Amersand is the other day.

The recent New York arrivals include the Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Thurston, Miss Thurston, Miss Edith Barnes, James E. Garrison, Miss Grace Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gray, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Young, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Sieder, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pickett, T. J. Barron, Paul Drane, and Miss M. Agnes Simpson.

THE WAWBEEK.

Wawbeek, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—The finals for the silver cups offered by S. A. Ferris, who is in camp with his family on Deer Island, have occupied the attention of all of the golf players at the Wawbeek the last few days. That offered for driving was won by Stone Douglas and that for putting by W. H. Richards, of New York. The cup for the approach, or short game, went to J. A. Hancock. The finals in the putting contest were close, between Herbert Reeve and Mr. Richards.

At the Wawbeek, as elsewhere, the sportsmen are waiting impatiently for the hunting season to open. Joseph Eastman and Dr. O. S. Wright are planning to start next week on a duck hunting expedition along the Raquette River.

Albin Swenson returned this week to the Swenson camp, in Bungalow Bay, from an extended trip into Alaska.

Bungebeek, one of the hotel cottages, has been taken for the rest of the season by a party including Frank J. Saxe, Miss Saxe, Miss Ellen M. Saxe, Charles M. Saxe, Miss J. H. Reynolds, J. H. Reynolds, Jr., and Miss Janet McKim.

Joseph M. Huston, architect of the new Capitol building at Harrisburg, Penn., arrived this week at Wawbeek with Mrs. Huston. Mr. Huston's brother, Samuel C. Huston, has purchased a camp site near the Wawbeek.

The capacity of the hotel is to be increased another season; several new cottages will be erected, and two new tennis courts will be constructed.

THE WINDSOR.

LANDLORDS' SPENDING.

Enlargements and Improvements To Be Made Before Next Season.

Lake Placid, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—Because they have just passed through the greatest season in their history, over $200,000 is to be spent within the next few months in additions and improvements upon the four big hotels at this summer resort.

At a cost of about $90,000 the Stevens House is to be practically rebuilt, the changes planned converting it into the largest hotel in the Adirondacks. The plans which are made public by George A. Stevens call for the construction of two large additions which shall increase the capacity of the hotel from 350 to 600 guests. In addition to the changes at the hotel the purchase of a large tract of forest land including 200 acres near the famous John Brown farm, at a cost of $5,000, is announced by Mr. Stevens. This will be converted into a mountain park for the use of visitors to Lake Placid, and on the summit of the mountain included in the purchase an observation tower 100 feet high will be erected. From the top of this a view of the country for miles around can be had.

One of the additions to the hotel will be at the northern end. This will be 100 feet and five stories in height, and will be a counterpart of the addition made a few years ago at the western end of the hotel. The other addition, which will contain the dining room, will be made at the northern side, where the kitchen now stands. This will be 100 by 40 feet and five stories in height. The kitchen is to be in a structure of brick and iron, 50 by 60 feet, with a central chimney. The building will be equipped with every modern convenience known to the culinary art. An addition 50 feet square and two stories in height will rise above the roof of the central portion of the hotel, containing the syndicate office and the laundry. These additions will afford over 130 new rooms.

In addition to these improvements a passenger and freight elevator will be located in the main

THE DEER'S HEAD INN.

Elizabethtown, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—The inn, which has this summer enjoyed the best season of its history, is still well filled with guests. Many of whom plan to remain through the season, and the hotel, on November 15. Some of the guests who left early in the season are planning to come up for a few weeks of the fall season. There are plenty of partridges in the woods about Elizabethtown now, and several parties from among the guests at the inn are being formed for the enjoyment of the sport.

THE WESTPORT INN.

Westport, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—The inn is not as yet suffering from the usual fall exodus to the city. The continued pleasant weather, no doubt, has much to do with the long season. One of the events of the week was a rabbit party given Monday evening in the reception room at the inn. About twenty-five persons of the one hundred still at the inn attended the musical in the Casino on the evening of September 8, and on the evening of the 9th a number of young people held a corn roast on the shore of Lake Champlain, about two miles south of Westport. The trip was made in the automobile.

Recent New York arrivals at the inn include Mrs. C. Downing Towns, Miss Rena Shaw, Mrs. W. B. Broom, Miss Ruth M. Halden, Mrs. H. M. Kingsley, C. Collins, Miss C. E. Loring, Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Fox, Miss Alice Fox, W. H. Randolph, Fremont W. Higgins, H. C. Beckman, E. V. Boynton, A. G. Hitcher, O. G. Geizer-Danner, Mrs. Henry T. Field, W. W. Mott and J. A. Smith, Jr.

ON LAKE CHAMPLAIN.

Hotel Champlain, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—With the arrival of 150 members of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers and their families on Tuesday evening, the Hotel Champlain took on a festive air such as it wears daily in the height of the season.

To increase the pleasure which had been provided by the entertainment committee for the eighty-first semi-annual meeting of the association, the weather was ideal, giving an opportunity for the members and guests of the association to gain some idea of the beauty of this region.

The business sessions, which were held on Wednesday and Thursday morning and evening, included addresses by James R. McColl, of Providence, R. I., president of the association; Julius M. Mayer, attorney general of New York; John W. Jordan, of Atlanta, president of the Southern Cotton Association; Hugh Nelson, of New York City, and Talcott Williams, of Philadelphia.

On Wednesday evening President McColl, the vice-presidents and the guests of the hotel, in recognition for the members and guests of the hotel, after the reception dancing was enjoyed in the hotel, a trip was made to the shore of the lake, where a number of supper parties in the Grotto. There was a general exodus from the hotel on Wednesday and Thursday afternoon, some of the men and women taking the trip through Au Sable Chasm, others going for a drive through the grounds surrounding the hotel. Several parties were organized among the hotel guests to attend the annual county fair, which has been held all the week at Plattsburg. A ride of the Plattsburg trolley along the lake shore, through a beautiful country, still retains its sparkle freshness brings one to the city of Plattsburg, where horse races and other amusements usually offered at a country fair afforded a variety of entertainment.

This fair, which is a country fair, afforded a variety of entertainment. The young people of the hotel were entertained on Friday evening by Miss Mary Leisenring, of Cleveland, at the hotel. The hotel has been occupied for many seasons by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Wickham, of New York, who left her a large estate, and she is now a resident of Plattsburg. Miss Leisenring had arranged several little plays for the amusement of her guests, who were afterwards invited to a marshmallow roast, which was open fire in the living room.

THE WINDSOR.

Elizabethtown, N. Y., Sept. 15 (Special).—Things continue gay at the Windsor, and never before in the history of the hotel has such a large gathering of people been entertained at this season of the year.

It has become a regular thing for the guests to assemble on the clock golf green each day after luncheon and enter the putting contests which are given daily. M. T. Daly, of New York, won the cup Tuesday, this making his third he has won within two weeks. Mr. Daly is popular at the Windsor, and his winning is a source of satisfaction to all contestants.

Among the new golf enthusiasts is S. Hopkins, who plays first name, a great deal of money is being spent on the Cobble Hill Links, the course being lengthened and put in the best possible condition.

Automobile parties continue to reach the Windsor, and at present three such parties are making their headquarters here.

Horseback riding is a recreation which continues popular and has a large following.

Among the New York arrivals of the week at the Windsor are Joseph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rhodes, Miss A. L. Rhodes, Miss R. M. Huselton and Dr. and Mrs. B. H. Whitbeck.

The new steam heating plant has been placed in operation.

Among the arrivals of the week were several good golf players. Among them were Henry H. Man, Charles H. Bleeker, Nelson F. Griffin, T. S. Strong, Jr. and Arthur Man, all of New York.

Several bridal couples have visited the Wawbeek recently, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith.

A dinner party reaching the Wawbeek included Mrs. Joshua Rhodes, W. B. Rhodes, Miss M. H. Rhodes, Miss A. L. Rhodes, Miss R. M. Huselton and Dr. and Mrs. B. H. Whitbeck.

The inn baseball team continues to have the best of luck. In a game the other day, the inn team, captained by R. T. Martin, defeated the Franklin County team, captained by William Dewey, 10 to 4.

Charles H. L. Oelrichs, of New York, a nephew of Hermann Oelrichs, arrived this week as a guest at the camp of O. M. Kahn.

Richard B. Duane and Carroll Dana Winslow arrived this week as guests at the camp of W. H. Osborne.

J. H. Foster and Robert Weitknoht, of the United States forestry service, arrived at the before the inn, and much interest was shown in it by the young people. A little more than $125 was cleared.

Despite the lateness of the season, several enjoyable dinner parties and teas have been given this week by the campers on the lake. One of these was given at Pine Point lodge by Mrs. Howard Bucknell. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Bucknell, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Inman, of Atlanta, who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bucknell, Mr. and Mrs. George Law Davidson and Mrs. Woodward, of New York. Mr. Davidson still continues to have remarkable luck at fishing, and the other day returned from a trip with three big lake trout.

Despite the lateness of the season, several enjoyable dinner parties and teas have been given this week by the campers on the lake. One of these was given at Pine Point lodge by Mrs. Howard Bucknell. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Bucknell, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Inman, of Atlanta, who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bucknell, Mr. and Mrs. George Law Davidson and Mrs. Woodward, of New York. Mr. Davidson still continues to have remarkable luck at fishing, and the other day returned from a trip with three big lake trout.

The inn baseball team continues to have the best of luck. In a game the other day, the inn team, captained by R. T. Martin, defeated the Franklin County team, captained by William Dewey, 10 to 4.

Charles H. L. Oelrichs, of New York, a nephew of Hermann Oelrichs, arrived this week as a guest at the camp of O. M. Kahn.</
