RING IN MURPHY'S NOSE.

Hearst Has Chain Attached—Big Chief Docile.

Charles F. Murphy said last night at Tammany Hall that Tammany would support Hearst and the Democratic state ticket, no matter what the Hearst men might do in the way of running independent candidates in the Senate, Assembly and Congress tickets.

William J. Conners, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, went to Chatham last night to see Mr. Hearst and tell him that Tammany Hall demands a fair division of the Supreme Court judges and no interference in the Senate and Assembly districts.

State Chairman Imhosen of the Independence League says that the league will name a candidate for every office to be filled this fall in this city. This candidate will be the same as the regular Democratic candidate in New York County if the man selected by Tammany will stand on the Hearst platform and if he is objectionable to Mr. Hearst.

Mr. Conners is expected to bring back from Chatham to-night a statement that will make Mr. Hearst's position perfectly clear.

"Big Tim" Sullivan and Senator James J. Frawley are hesitating about accepting a Senate nomination until they hear from Conners.

Hearst apparently is trying to goad Tammany into a revolt so that he can use the revolt for purposes of political advertising. His Buffalo convention deal with Murphy is turning out badly, and the Hearst men are getting desperate.

Mr. Hearst expects to speak to-morrow afternoon at the Columbia county Fair at Chatham. Railroad delays and rain interfered with the schedule of William R. Hearst in this region to-day.

Mr. Hearst was cordially welcomed, the scene being a duplicate of that which occurred at Fonda. Again there was comparatively little cheering or other demonstrations of enthusiasm, but Mr. Hearst was heard with close attention, frequent hand clapping and no audible expression of hostility.

REPLIES TO HUGHES.

Hearst Says Candidate Did Piece Work for Corporations.

Rochester, Oct. 4.—William Randolph Hearst, Democratic and Independence League candidate for Governor, spoke at two enthusiastic meetings to-night in this city. While the farmers received him at Fonda yesterday and at Livonia to-day with interest and non-partisan friendliness, rather than enthusiasm, the two large audiences before which he spoke to-night gave him ringing cheers.

Mr. Hearst attributed the inequalities of the present day conditions to "our failure to put into practice the principles we profess." According to American theory, our people should choose their public officers; actually, Mr. Hearst said, "candidates are nominated more and more by political machines, manipulated by bosses in the interest of corrupt corporations."

Both political machines are usually controlled by the corporations, Mr. Hearst declared, and candidates favorable to the corporations are nominated on both tickets.

Under the present radical and often revolutionary departure from the American system citizens are sometimes deprived of their fundamental right to a free ballot and a fair count. The money contributed by the corrupt corporations to oppose a candidate they do not own is used to hire operators and thugs, to bribe election officials and to influence public officers whose duty should lie in the enforcement of the law.

As a result of these departures, he said, we are represented by public officers who owe first obligations to the corporations, and in the present campaign the lines are sharply drawn between those who believe in special privilege and those who believe in popular rights.

Mr. Hearst reiterated his former personal declaration of principles—action, rather than words, by public officers; impartial enforcement of law; equality of opportunity; purity in politics, and fairness in the distribution of wealth.

Of the State Railroad Commission Mr. Hearst said: "I believe in the regulation of railroad rates, and realize that while the railroad commission in this state has the power to fix rates the railroads, unfortunately, have the power to fix the railroad commission."

Mr. Hearst declared that he was proud of the opposition of "Mr. Ryan, Mr. Belmont, Mr. Morgan, Mr. Rogers, Mr. Rockefeller and those Captain Kidds of industry," who, he said, were in no doubt as to his keeping his promises if elected, and therefore opposed him.

The statement that he had never been a corporation lawyer in any proper sense of the word, attributed to Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate for Governor, in a published interview, was the subject of a statement issued this afternoon by Mr. Hearst.

Mr. Hughes apparently makes a distinction between a reporter who does work on salary and a reporter who does work on space; between a liquor dealer who sells liquor by the barrel and one who sells it separately in individual bottles; between a contractor who does time work and a contractor who does piece work.

After pointing to Mr. Hughes' approval, in his letter of acceptance, of Governor Higgins and the Republican state administration, Mr. Hearst said: "Furthermore, in the nomination of a corporation attorney by the Republican party, we have a definite endorsement of corporation control in government."

Mr. Hearst expects to speak to-morrow afternoon at the Columbia county Fair at Chatham. Railroad delays and rain interfered with the schedule of William R. Hearst in this region to-day.

Mr. Hearst was cordially welcomed, the scene being a duplicate of that which occurred at Fonda. Again there was comparatively little cheering or other demonstrations of enthusiasm, but Mr. Hearst was heard with close attention, frequent hand clapping and no audible expression of hostility.

His speech at Hemlock was substantially the same as that yesterday at Fonda. The greatest expression of approval followed his declaration that he wanted to see fewer corporations attorneys in politics, and aspired to be known as "the Governor who stopped the trusts from robbing the people."

William R. Hearst gave out this afternoon a statement explaining the attitude of the Independence League in the matter of the judicial nominations in New York City, as follows:

There has been persistent, complete and apparently intelligent misrepresentation of the objects and actions of the Independence League as to the judicial tickets in the various judicial districts. We would support Mr. Hearst just the same."

"Will Hearst be at the Tammany Hall ratification meeting on October 10?" "He is invited," said Mr. Murphy.

M'CARREN HITS HEARST

Threatens Republican Majority of 75,000 in Kings County.

Senator Patrick H. McCarren has at last come out in open defiance to William Randolph Hearst. He wrote the Democratic candidate for Governor yesterday assuring him that if he persisted in endorsing an Independence League ticket in Kings County and in refusing to support the straight Democratic ticket already in the field, the county organization would see to it that Charles E. Hughes Republican candidate for Governor, would get a "majority of 75,000 votes in Kings County."

McCarren's stand is a surprise to no one who has kept in touch with the political situation in Kings County. The Democratic leaders are less surprised than anybody else. Ever since the Buffalo convention McCarren has been using his power to keep Independence Leaguers off the Democratic slate. The only Hearst man who has won a place on the Democratic ticket so far is Robert Baker, who will run for Congress in the 6th District—and Baker says that he owes much of his strength to the anti-McCarren element, which is willing to join with any party in cutting the throat of the county leader.

So outspoken have the Kings County Democrats become that they have been freely predicting that the regular organization will cut out Hearst's name almost to a man. The Democratic leaders have been almost as willing to permit their names to be used in anti-Hearst tirades as have been the so-called "rank and file." It has been repeatedly remarked that the various local conventions, called together to nominate candidates for the county ticket, have failed to pass resolutions endorsing the state ticket, while the Republican conventions have been as enthusiastic as the Democrats have been cold in endorsing the Republican state ticket—and that in spite of the number of Republicans who cast their votes for Hearst last fall.

Many of the Democratic organizations have followed the example of the County Committee of the "True Democracy," the organization headed by Sheriff Flaherty, which refused to pass when offered resolutions endorsing Hearst. Flaherty and most of his followers were enthusiastic supporters of Hearst last fall.

Senator McCarren's letter to Hearst reads as follows: "We have nominated a regular Democratic ticket in Kings County. You, as the nominee for Governor of the regular Democratic party, are expected to support it. If you do not do so, and if you put up another ticket that will endanger the success of the Democratic ticket, the Republican candidate for Governor will receive a majority of 75,000 votes in Kings County. If you persist in nominating an independent ticket in Kings County, you do so at your peril."

Members of the Independence League of Westchester County, which is considered the fourth strongest in the state, decided yesterday to break away from the Democratic party and place a full ticket in the field. The attempt to divide the forces between the Democratic party and the Independence League has fallen through, and, as a result, it looks as if the Republican ticket would carry the county by an unprecedentedly large majority.

Democratic leaders had a conference with the league's representatives at which the league offered the leaguers the nomination for Senator if the latter would endorse their judicial, Congress, and State ticket. Mr. Hearst did not arrive there until nearly 2:30 p. m., and then found a four-mile drive in the rain between him and the fair grounds.

The fair, which was held at the Hemlock Lake Fair Grounds, represented a union of the agricultural societies of the counties of Monroe, Genesee, Livingston and Ontario. A large crowd gathered for the representatives of the Independence League for Mr. Hearst's welcome. The delay in his arrival and the beginning of a hard rainstorm complicated the modification of the programme and depleted the crowd materially before he arrived, but there was still a large gathering.

Mr. Hearst was cordially welcomed, the scene being a duplicate of that which occurred at Fonda. Again there was comparatively little cheering or other demonstrations of enthusiasm, but Mr. Hearst was heard with close attention, frequent hand clapping and no audible expression of hostility.

BUY HOUSE FOR HUGHES

NOTHING BLOCKS TOUR.

Campaign Managers Oust Theatre Company for Candidate's Use.

Arrangements for the up-state speaking trip of Charles E. Hughes were nearly completed yesterday. Meetings were scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday, and tentative speaking dates for Friday were fixed. Still other meetings, to fill out about a week's trip, will depend somewhat on the chances of getting halls in the towns along the route.

The itinerary stands now, Mr. Hughes will go on Monday night to Mount Vernon, by train. After speaking there, he and his party will take motor cars to Yonkers, returning after that engagement to this city. On Tuesday morning he will go to Lyons, reaching there in the early evening. From there he will go to Buffalo on Wednesday. On the return trip he will speak at Geneva on Thursday afternoon and at Canandaigua on Thursday evening.

State Committeeman Charles Betts, who represents the Cayuga-Ontario-Wayne-Yates district, arranged the meetings at Lyons, Geneva and Canandaigua, by long distance telephone. The meeting at Lyons will be held in the opera house there, which had been engaged by a travelling theatrical troupe.

"Buy the house, if necessary," Mr. Betts instructed. He got word in half an hour that the house "had been bought." Senator Armstrong, of Rochester, will speak at this meeting, as will Senator Lewis, the candidate for Controller.

This afternoon Mr. Hughes will talk to Columbia students at Earl Hall. The meeting, which will begin at 4 p. m., also will be addressed by Dean Kirchwey and Professor Burdick. At 8 o'clock will come the monster Carnegie Hall meeting, under the direction of the New York County Committee. Herbert Parsons will preside at the meeting. Mr. Hughes will be the first speaker, followed by Lieutenant Governor Bruce, Attorney General Mayer and Job Hedges. The officers of the county committee expect a tremendous attendance. For the last three days people have been flocking to county headquarters to get tickets of admission. Every box has been reserved, and requests have been made for three times as many as were available. There will be the usual campaign meeting band. In fact, not a detail has been omitted in arranging the affair which would add in the least to its success. The county committee officers have been determined to send New York County's candidate on his first campaign trip with the most favorable auspices.

Mr. Hughes was at state headquarters for a short time yesterday morning. He greeted several visitors. In the afternoon and evening he was at home, receiving a few callers and preparing his speech for the Carnegie Hall meeting. While at headquarters he contradicted a report that there was a division among Republican leaders over the campaign. Charles Betts, some believing that national issues should be dwelt on.

"I am going to make the fight on state issues solely, as I have said before," declared the candidate. "I am assured that there is complete harmony among the leaders throughout the state on that score."

State Chairman Woodruff was at headquarters until late in the afternoon, when he left that to attend a meeting of the Kings County organization. Among his visitors were James McKee, Mr. Hughes' associate counsel in the independent investigation, now of counsel for the Mutual Life; Louis Marshall, of Edward Livingston and William N. Dyckman. They represented members of the State Bar Association in the independent investigation, and wanted to get Mr. Woodruff's ideas on the feasibility of running a straight judicial ticket against the McCarren ticket and the men suggested by the independents there.

Lieutenant Governor Bruce at headquarters had a long talk with Senator Dick, of Ohio, and Elmer Dover, secretary of the National Republican Committee. Senator Armstrong and William J. Conners, Jr., of Albany, and Charles Betts, both State Committeemen, were in consultation with Chairman Woodruff frequently.

President Parsons of the County Committee was hard at work on the judicial situation here yesterday, but declined to discuss his views. He did say that he believed the reported Hearst-Murphy split was merely a "blind."

"I think it is an attempt to throw dust in the eyes of the voters," he said. "It is serious, there is very little to it. I consider Hearst a boss, and he is trying to get Murphy, as a boss, to throw the Tammany delegates over to him on the county ticket."

"Hearst is beginning to realize that his alliance with Murphy at Buffalo is just what the public says it is—an unholy alliance. The thing Hearst wants to do now is to blind the people in some way to the facts of the matter."

KINGS JUDICIARY TICKET SELECTED.

Republicans Pick Candidates for 2d District To Be Submitted To-day.

The executive committee of the Kings County Republican organization held an extended meeting at the headquarters in the Temple Bar building yesterday afternoon, and selected a judicial ticket for the 2d Judicial District. The ticket, as decided upon by the leaders, will be brought before the Republican convention in the County Courthouse this noon.

After the meeting State Chairman Woodruff said: "We have decided on a ticket which will be non-partisan and entirely satisfactory to everybody and sure of winning. The ticket named consists of five Republicans and three Democrats. For a long time I have advocated the placing of Democratic names on the ticket, and it was at my suggestion that the names were put there this afternoon. The ticket of the Independence League was endorsed by the Republican organization, so may we say that the Republican ticket is the same as that of the Committee of One Hundred?" Mr. Woodruff was asked.

"I cannot answer any questions on that score," he added. "The ticket to-morrow there may be some changes," he added.

NOMINATED FOR JUSTICES.

Democrats in 7th District Turn Down George A. Benton.

Rochester, Oct. 4.—Democratic lawyers, assembled as delegates to the Democratic convention of the 7th Judicial District to-night, endorsed W. W. Clark, of Steuben, for justice of the Supreme Court to succeed himself, and nominated Judge William H. Carter, of Livingston, to succeed Justice Edwin A. Nash, of Avon, who retires on December 1 because of age.

Out of thirty votes cast George A. Benton received only three. Recently the Democracy adopted resolutions endorsing Benton and pledging support to him when the convention was called, but at the last moment repudiated him. An expression of the reasons presented showed them to be opposed to Hearst.

M. O. L. APPEAL FOR HUGHES.

A. M. De Beck, president of the Municipal Ownership League of Manhattan, is out for Hughes, and last night he sent around letters to his colleagues asking them to rally to the Hughes standard. One section of the Municipal Ownership League has nominated John W. Cody for Governor, and Cody says that he is going to make a tour of the state in a box car.

BOLT IN WARREN COUNTY CONVENTION.

Glens Falls, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The Warren County Republican Convention, to-night, endorsed W. W. Clark, of Steuben, for justice of the Supreme Court to succeed himself, and nominated Judge William H. Carter, of Livingston, to succeed Justice Edwin A. Nash, of Avon, who retires on December 1 because of age.

HEARST MONEY SEEKS BIGGER ODDS.

Hearst money was not to be had yesterday in the curb and horse market. He holders insisting in the early part of the day that the odds were 5 to 1 on Hughes. One bet was reported, $2,000 on Hughes to $300 on Hearst. C. M. Minzesheimer offered $500 to $2,000 that Hearst would not carry greater New York, but could find no takers.

MR. PARSONS RENAMED. GARDNER NOT NAMED. Nominated for Congress in 15th— Kings County Republicans Selected Other District Conventions. Men in Six Districts. The regular Republican Senate ticket was carried in five of the eight Senate district conventions in Kings County last night. In the 5th and 7th districts no candidates were decided on, and the conventions adjourned, leaving the candidates to be chosen by committees. In the 6th District Frank J. Gardner, the present Senator, ran, though opposed by State Chairman T. L. Woodruff, but was defeated by Eugene M. Travis. Mr. Travis had not been slated for the place, but his selection practically adds another to the victories of the regular Republican ticket. Mr. Woodruff's supporters. It was supposed that Mr. Travis would not let his name be submitted to a hard contest. The ticket now stands, by Senate districts: 8—Thomas O'Neil, 14—Frank E. Losee, 9—Otto G. Posner, 15—J. Van Vechten Olcott, 10—Charles S. Adler, 16—Charles W. Dray, 11—Charles W. Dray, 17—Charles W. Dray, 12—Thomas J. Goughan, 18—Hamilton Anderson, 13—Charles F. Platt, 19—Charles F. M'CARREN'S SLATE GONE. Five Out of Twenty-three Conventions Do Not Select Candidates. Senator McCarren's Assembly slate went to pieces at the Democratic conventions in Kings County last night. Five of the twenty-three conventions adjourned without selecting candidates. Of the thirteen candidates on the slate only eight were selected by the conventions. Some of the trouble was caused, it was thought, by McCarren's attitude toward Hearst. It may result in the utter rout of the organized forces throughout the county. The candidates, by Assembly districts, are as follows: 1—John J. Donnelly, 13—George W. Cavanagh, 2—Michael H. Baumann, 14—Michael J. Grady, 3—Edward Halloran, 15—Charles W. Dray, 4—Arthur H. Cameron, 16—Hamilton Anderson, 5—William F. Con, 17—Charles F. Platt, 6—Thomas J. Goughan, 18—Francis P. Hunt, 7—Thomas J. Goughan, 19—Samuel J. Gluck, 8—Frank L. Fragon, 20—William L.
