

TRI-COLLEGIATE CHESS. GAME FOR EACH TEAM.

Black, McCoy and Hughes Win After Hard Fought Games.

The eighth annual intercollegiate chess tournament between two players each from Brown, Cornell and Pennsylvania was begun in the needless chessroom of Professor Isaac L. Rice in this city yesterday morning.

The schedule for the first round and the openings adopted on each board follow: First board, Smith, Pennsylvania, vs. Black, Cornell-French; second board, Guenther, Cornell, vs. McCoy, Brown-Glucose; third board, Hughes, Pennsylvania, vs. Sweet, Brown-Danish Gambit.

After an evenly contested opening, Black won a pawn from Smith, and later on a second pawn. This gave him a decided advantage, and he took the game after thirty-two moves.

McCoy disposed of Guenther, Black's team mate, after forty-one moves. Guenther at one time had much the better game and should have won, but he overplayed a move, however, and lost his queen and thereby the game.

An interesting game was played between Hughes and Sweet. At first the latter had the better position, but later on he lost two pawns and after forty-seven moves was forced to resign.

BOARD 1-FRENCH DEFENSE. Board 2-DANISH GAMBIT. Board 3-GLUCOSE PIANO.

NEW LIGHT ON P. J. HOGAN

Police Seeking Mrs. Alexander Trautman's Double.

One of the developments yesterday in the case of Mrs. Jeanne Trautman, wife of Dr. Alexander Trautman, of No. 389 Lexington avenue, was that Peter J. Hogan, who accused her in the police court of stealing $13 from him in Fifth avenue last Saturday night, told Sgt. W. Ludden, night secretary of the 23d street branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, of which the complainant is a member, that he had lost $13 or $14 in the library of the building and asked the secretary to help him hunt for it.

"On Sunday night, at 10:30 o'clock, this man Hogan came up to my desk," said Mr. Ludden last night. "He rested his finger tips on the edge of the desk, and rocked forward and back, standing on his toes. Then he said in a whisper: 'I've lost some bills—$13 or $14—in the library upstairs. I was up there writing to-night, and I would like some one to go up there with me and look for the money.'

"The man seemed a bit queer, but I knew he was a member of the association. I told him the library had been locked, but if he would send me his money in the library, I would send the night watchman up with him to look for it.

"So I sent for the night watchman, Frederick Spring, and with the latter Hogan went upstairs and searched for some time. Then he came down, saying he had not found his money. I told him I would make a note of his loss and put it up on the bulletin board.

"How much was it?" I asked him. "Fourteen or fifteen dollars," he answered. I did not notice the discrepancy between his first and second statement as to the amount until after-ward, but I made this memorandum of it:

"Peter J. Hogan, No. 389 Lexington A. C. 4, $14 or $15. Finder please report."

"Of course afterward I had an idea that Hogan, the Hogan mentioned in the newspapers in the Trautman case, might be our Hogan, but I wasn't sure. I realize fully the importance of this incident, and I am prepared to tell this in court to-morrow under oath if necessary."

When Hogan was later, he said: "I lost that money, but it was also robbed by the woman on the street. It was two separate incidents, in both of which I lost money in nearly the same amounts."

Captain Schlottman of the Tenderloin police station is working on what appears to the police to be the only plausible theory of Mrs. Trautman's arrest—that she has a double among the women of her district and that the woman who stole the money, while Sergeant McCarthy had no alternative except to hold Mrs. Trautman when Hogan made his complaint, the police are now well satisfied that a big mistake was made and they are making every effort to find this supposed double.

Captain Schlottman had three of his best plain clothes men out yesterday to hunt for the alleged double. Besides, he went personally to the Haymarket, the 23d street and 31st street dives, looking for the woman who was mentioned in the papers. It is feared that she has fled from the city or is keeping in hiding since the developments following Mrs. Trautman's arrest.

"In the face of so positive an identification as Hogan made," said the captain, "there was nothing for the patrolman to do but to treat her as a suspicious person, and he had to send Mrs. Trautman to the station. It is possible that she would have done the same thing. At the same time, my investigations make me believe that Mrs. Trautman is not the woman who stole the money from Hogan. It is possible that she is more difficult to build up a good line of retail dealers than to build a good car. The makers who will exhibit at the Garden show next month have gone past all these difficulties. The majority of their product is already sold and it has been shown by experience that the January show is the best time for new cars to be shown to the public, because few men care to buy their year's cars in the early winter and store them until spring at a heavy expense. It is well known for new adventurers at automobile building to be anxious about establishing agencies, but the makers of cars are not so much troubled by the matter. They have none of this anxiety, and in the conduct of their shows they are guided by years of experience.

BOYS' HIGH SCORES AT HOCKEY. Alumni Team Wins Fast Game at Open Air Rink—Races Saturday.

The fast seven of the Boys' High School went down to defeat before the alumni hockey team at the Saratoga Rink, Broadway and Halsey street, Brooklyn, yesterday, by a score of 2 to 1. Ek-Camp, of the Brooklyn team, was the only one to put up a clever game at goal and stopped many well directed shots. The score at the end of the first half was 1 to 0 in favor of the alumni. The line-up was as follows:
