

RACING SEASON HERE

READY FOR BUGLE CALL.

Good Card Offered for Opening Day at Benning Track.

The call of the bugle will be heard at Benning to-morrow, and when the field goes to the post for the first race it will mark the opening of the racing season of 1907 under the control of the Jockey Club.

The Cavanaugh Special will pull out of Jersey City to-day for Washington at 3:25 o'clock, and it will carry some four hundred racegoers who cannot wait for the opening of the season here, on April 15.

Unless all signs fail, the season which begins to-morrow will be a memorable one. While there is a dearth of high class horses in the four-year-old and upward division, the three-year-olds promise to make the year one of the most successful in the history of the sport.

The stars of the turf world will not be seen at Benning. It is too early in the year, and the stakes and purses are not rich enough to attract the best.

There will be plenty of good horses on hand, however, and the fields are likely to be large and well balanced. Stable room is at a premium, and every stall is occupied, so that the late comers will have to find accommodations outside the track.

The track at Benning is in good condition, although it will not be fast. The enclosure is in apple pie order, as the Washington Jockey Club has been indefatigable in its efforts to make the course a model one in every detail.

The stewards for the meeting will be S. S. Howland, H. T. Oxnard and Daniel Ross, with the racing officials as follows: Judges, Clarence McDowell and Joseph A. Murphy; starter, Mars Cassidy; handicapper, J. A. Murphy; paddock and post rider, W. H. Miller; clerk, W. Barretto; starting judge, H. U. Homan; clerk of course and scales, H. G. Crickmore; assistant secretary Washington Jockey Club, S. T. Walton.

The same method of betting will be used as was necessary last fall, as the courts have not decided as yet the case of appeal to the rights of the bookmakers to sit on stools in the ring. The jockeys who have to keep moving on the track and those who want to wager must put up with this slight inconvenience.

There will be plenty of bookmakers to lay the odds, judging from the number of "jets" who have registered at Washington.

Twenty-two horses have been sent out as probable starters for the Benning Springs Handicap at six furlongs. The field is a fairly good one, and well balanced that a stirring race can be looked for.

The top weights, including Dandelion, Salvadore and Pater, declined the issue, so that Gold Sifted, which has been racing in California, is at the top, with 113 pounds. He is sure to have a following, and may be one of the choices.

August Belmont's Okonite has been working well, and Rose of Dawn, which is in with only 90 pounds, will bear watching, according to the handicappers.

Toddles and Campaigner are also talked of as having a winning chance.

The rest of the card promises well also, with the Artisan Stakes for two-year-olds, and a steeplechase, as sideights, to the big race. The jockey and trainer of the opening race will win cups, as a trophy for success in the first race of the season.
