MORTGAGES $23,000 and other amounts to loan. Manhattan real estate; no brokers. ATTORNEY, Room 60, 62 William St. Principal square and the neighboring streets were literally alive with fish, and when the rain ceased the inhabitants rushed along the streets with baskets and jugs, gathered them up. It is presumed that a waterspout, passed from the sea and discharged itself over the town, but the people interpret the curious occurrence as a special intervention of Providence on behalf of the poor.—Tit-Bit.

INTERESTS IDENTIFIED WITH THE MANHATTAN TRANSIT COMPANY said yesterday that large buying orders for the stock were in the market, representing Consolidated Gas people. It also was said that Vanderbilt brokers had orders. It was intimated that the reported buying by the latter it was intimated that the New York Central was anxious to secure an interest in the Long Acre Electric Light and Power Company, which is controlled by the Manhattan Transit Company, in connection with certain proposed developments affecting the Central's electrification plans. The resignation of Mr. Van Etten from the Boston & Albany, which is a part of the New York Central Lines, in order to become the head of the Manhattan Transit properties, is considered of special significance, in view of the Wall Street reports that Vanderbilt interests are buying Manhattan Transit stock. The report that Consolidated Gas people are buying the stock is not doubted in the Street, as the plans of the Long Acre Electric Light and Power Company involve active competition with the big gas and electric light monopoly. Manhattan Transit stock was active on the curb yesterday at advancing quotations.

THE LAST VICTIM OF THE CIVIL WAR. A portrait has recently been obtained of the last man to fall in the Civil War. He was a Union soldier, John Jefferson Williams, from Jay County, Ind., a member of Company B of the 8th Indiana Regiment. The fight in which he was killed occurred at Palo Alto, Texas, on May 13, 1865, more than a month after Lee's surrender. The world to lay down arms had not reached Texas at that time, and an engagement took place between a small force of Union troops and a detachment of Confederate cavalry. Williams was the only man killed.—Youth's Companion.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA'S CONFIDANTE. For more than forty years Miss Charlotte Knollys has been the Queen's intimate friend, confidante and factotum. Her Majesty, like most women, is a believer in first impressions. The moment she met Miss Knollys, when she landed in England as Princess Alexandra of Denmark, she was drawn to her, and from that day the lady in waiting has never once slept under a different roof from that of her royal mistress.—Tit-Bit.

TWO HUNDRED SPECIES OF ROSES. There are two hundred species of roses in existence, though perhaps not more than fifty clearly defined families. Of these families only two are of American birth. There are thousands of varieties, however, and of these our enterprising rose growers have contributed by far the largest proportion. The eagerly sought black rose is still unproduced, though a New York florist has a dark red one, which in some lights has the appearance of black velvet.—Kansas City Journal.
