

PEACE PACT IN SOUTH TRIPLE TREATY REACHED

Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua in Mutual Agreement.

Washington, Nov. 11.—An understanding has been reached between the Presidents of the Republics of Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua, as a result of which all questions at issue have been adjusted and cordial relations have been established between those countries.

The important announcement that a settlement had been reached between the three Central American republics was given out at the State Department to-night in telegraphic correspondence between President Figueroa of Salvador and President Roosevelt.

President Figueroa's dispatch advising President Roosevelt of the outcome of the negotiations between the three republics was dated at San Salvador, November 8. It stated that the agreement had been brought about at a conference held at the port of Amapala, Honduras, on November 6, between the Presidents of the three republics.

In acknowledging the receipt of President Figueroa's telegram, President Roosevelt expressed gratification at the outcome and his hopes that this circumstance may be the prelude to a cordial agreement between the five Central American republics at the conference about to be held in this city.

President Figueroa's dispatch is as follows: San Salvador, Nov. 8.—Señor President Roosevelt, Washington: I have the satisfaction of informing your excellency that, having held a conference on the 6th instant, at the port of Amapala, with the most excellent Presidents of Honduras and Nicaragua, we came to the most cordial understanding, in consequence whereof all pending questions are settled, and the most frank and true friendship is restored.

With the exception of Dr. José Madriz, of Nicaragua, who is detained in New York by sickness, all the thirteen delegates to the Central American peace conference, which will hold its first meeting at the Bureau of American Republics in this city to-morrow afternoon, have arrived. To-morrow's session will be devoted to the preparation of a tentative programme for the conference, which will be formally opened on Thursday or Friday.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT. Theodore Roosevelt's reply follows: Washington, Nov. 11.—Señor President Figueroa, San Salvador, Salvador: I have received with much gratification your excellency's telegram of the 8th, informing me of the happy outcome of the conference held by you with the Presidents of Honduras and Nicaragua in adjusting all pending questions between your respective countries in a frank and friendly way.

Views of Mr. Bryan. Milwaukee, Nov. 11.—William Jennings Bryan was the guest of honor at a dinner of the Jefferson Club here to-night, and made the principal speech.

Mr. Bryan condemned the national incorporation of railroads as proposed by President Roosevelt, saying that such a plan was in the interests of the railroads, which desired, not greater federal regulation, but escape from state regulation.

He favored the enforcement of the criminal laws against the trusts, and the enactment of new laws, one of which is known as the license system, to be applied to corporations when they control as much as 25 per cent of the total output in their respective lines.

He favored immediate revision of the tariff, beginning with articles which come into competition with trust made articles. Such a tariff, he thought, ought to be entirely removed.

On the railroad question, he expressed himself in favor of more stringent regulation, that regulation to take the form of legislation ascertaining the present value of the railroads, preventing the watering of stock and reducing rates.

He said the present money stringency began with speculation in New York, but that it had extended owing to the timidity of depositors. He thought that this timidity was not justified, and that the banks of the West are sound.

As an outcome of the proposed absorption it is expected that the Maryland Telephone Company, which is controlled by the Baltimore Electric Company will be taken over by its old rival, the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company.

Governor Offers $5,000,000 to Banks to Meet Crop Demands.

Havana, Nov. 11.—The condition of the money market making it impracticable for the Cuban banks to obtain sufficient funds to meet the requirements of the agricultural and other industries of the island, Governor Mazon to-day issued a decree offering $5,000,000 in cash from the Treasury to the banks at 6 per cent interest.

Bankers differ in opinion regarding the probable success of this loan, many of them objecting to it on account of the high rate of interest and the short term.

The faculty refused to rescind its action in suspending the students.

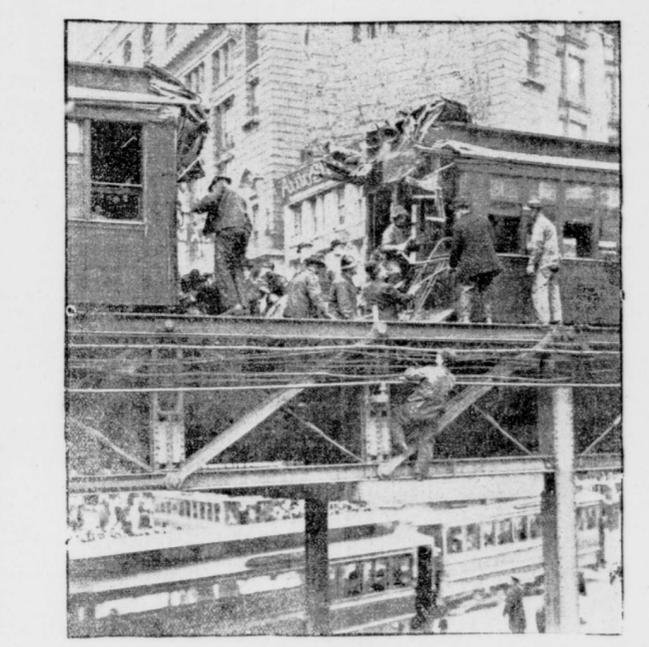

IMPROVISED STILL SAVES LIVES. Stewart of Damaged Barkentine Prevents Threatened Mutiny of Crew.

Boston, Nov. 11.—Two tin cans, a piece of rubber hose and a pair of rubber boots possibly saved the crew of the barkentine E. B. Lovitt from death by thirst, after the vessel was shattered by a heavy gale while bound to Rio Janeiro. The crew reached here to-day with a story of their awful experience.

When the barkentine sprang aboard her iron water tanks were cracked and the contents leaked out. The crew threatened mutiny, but the steward conceived the idea of making a still to transform sea water into a palatable fluid and relieve the intense suffering from thirst.

CLEARING AWAY THE DEBRIS AFTER THE COLLISION ON THE SIXTH AVENUE ELEVATED LINE AT 34TH STREET YESTERDAY.

TEN HURT IN "L" WRECK CONVENTION PUT OFF. CRASH AT 34TH STREET. DECISION BY PRESIDENT.

Ten persons were hurt in a rear-end collision on the Sixth Avenue elevated road at 34th street shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The two trains were moving slowly at the time of the accident, otherwise, it is believed, there would have been a long list of fatalities.

Those injured in the accident are: CONNELLY, John, No. 218 Eighth avenue; dislocated shoulder, cut head; Roosevelt Hospital. DANIELA, Madame C., No. 128 West 47th street; contusion of arms and legs; went home.

The forward train was bound for Harlem, and had pulled out of the 34th street station just before the accident. While the cars were well filled they were not crowded. Had there been a number of persons standing the result would have been more disastrous, it is believed.

It is the aim of the administration to enlist in support of the conservation movement the promoters of waterways improvement, forestry and irrigation, as he is convinced that all of these interests are intimately allied and that by uniting their forces the greatest good can be accomplished.

It is the President's hope that he can, in his administration, institute a great movement for the preservation of the natural resources of the country, supported by the advocates of reforestation, irrigation, canalization of rivers and improvement of harbors.

"THIRD TERM TREASON."

Henry Watterson Says Would Mean "Mexicanization of Republic."

Louisville, Nov. 11.—Henry Watterson, of "The Courier-Journal," characterizes the talk of a third term for Theodore Roosevelt as treason, and says that if through any machination of political conditions, or any conspiracy of party machinery, the third term should present itself as an actuality, the people, especially of New England, will rise en masse, and crush it as a giant might crush an egg shell.

Mr. Watterson says, however, that the Democrats are too split into factions to put up much of a fight in the debatable states, and that the only ray of hope for the Democrats which shows itself across the national horizon is the much heralded, much denied, candidacy of Roosevelt for a third term, which can only mean life tenure and complete Mexicanization of the republic.

Presbyterian Ministers Seek Restoration of "In God We Trust."

A resolution of protest against dropping the words "In God we trust" from the new gold eagle was introduced by the Rev. William J. Peck, pastor of the Union Presbyterian Church of Corona, Long Island, and excited no little discussion among the Presbyterian ministers assembled in the Presbyterian Building, at No. 156 Fifth avenue, yesterday.

Mr. Peck said that it looked as though the nation was beginning to put its trust in banks and trust companies instead of in God, and suggested that the recent financial panic might be traced to forgetfulness of God.

SUBPENA FOR BRADY.

ASSOCIATES WANTED, TOO. May Tell Grand Jury About Traction Deals, It Is Said.

Subpoenas were issued yesterday from District Attorney Jerome's office for Anthony N. Brady and, it is understood, for Grant B. Schley, Thomas P. Fowler, E. W. Sayre and Paul D. Cravath, directing them to appear before the grand jury to-morrow.

This transaction already has been made the basis for two suits for the restitution of funds alleged to have been improperly diverted—one suit by the Metropolitan Securities board itself. As brought out in the Public Service Commission's investigation of the Metropolitan Securities Company it constituted a Wall Street sensation for nearly two weeks.

Mr. Brady received for his paper road a check of the Metropolitan Securities Company for approximately $965,000. Of this Mr. Whitney permitted him to retain $250,000, which, he said, just reimbursed him for the cost of the paper road to him.

Mr. Brady's testimony before the commission, declared that this check for $134,900 thus paid to his firm went to settle an account maintained by Mr. Whitney with Moore & Schley. This testimony did not settle in the public mind stories that this money represented payments of "yellow dog" funds and campaign contributions, probably to Tammany Hall.

Grant B. Schley, testifying before the commission, declared that this check for $134,900 thus paid to his firm went to settle an account maintained by Mr. Whitney with Moore & Schley. This testimony did not settle in the public mind stories that this money represented payments of "yellow dog" funds and campaign contributions, probably to Tammany Hall.

When the Public Service Commission's investigations brought out Mr. Brady's admissions there went up many howls of protest against such methods of using the stockholders' money, and in some quarters a demand that the District Attorney take up the affair and obtain indictments.

Some lawyers who were calling for indictments and criminal prosecution by the District Attorney declared that in case criminality in this transaction were proved sufficient to result in indictments the fact that the statute of limitations had intervened could not save Thomas F. Ryan and P. A. B. Widener, since they were not residents of the State of New York.

A feature of interest in connection with this subject was that Chairman Wilcox of the Public Service Commission had a long talk yesterday with Judge Rosalsky, who is in charge of the grand juries this term.
