

KING OPENS OLYMPICS RAIN KEEPS CROWD DOWN.

Sheppard and Sullivan Qualify in 1,500-Metre Race.

London, July 13.—Rain interfered sadly today with the opening of the fourth international Olympic games by King Edward in the Stadium at Shepherd's Bush, and although it cleared off before the hour set for the formal ceremony the attendance was far short of expectations.

In some of the events, too, the contestants appeared affected by the adverse weather conditions, but in other events, particularly the 1,500-metre race, just short of one mile, in which the greatest interest centered, the men ran to their form, and twice during the afternoon the record for the distance was broken.

Through their defeat by Sheppard and Sullivan, Halstead and Lightbody failed to qualify. H. L. Cox, of the University of Michigan, made a strong bid for victory in the fourth heat, but he was unable to keep up with E. V. Loney, of England, although the time was not particularly fast.

The only other American in the race, F. H. Riley, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, ran unplaced in his heat, the third, which was that in which Hallows made the record.

When the city of London awoke this morning it seemed as though the English climate, which was so kind to the sports held earlier in the year, was trying to show the two thousand athletes assembled for the games how disagreeable it could be.

As the King entered the royal box a bugler blew a signal, the gates leading to the competitors' quarters flew open, and the athletes marched out under the banners of their respective nations.

The King entered the royal box a bugler blew a signal, the gates leading to the competitors' quarters flew open, and the athletes marched out under the banners of their respective nations.

As the procession marched into the Stadium the athletes of each country were applauded, the welcome for America and the colonies being particularly enthusiastic, as the audience which braved the elements to witness the opening of the great games included large contingents from across the seas.

The representatives of the United Kingdom looked formidable, with an array of 513 men. France came next in numbers, with 219 contestants, while Sweden followed, with 196, and Hungary, with 154 men.

The athletes having taken up positions facing the royal box, the Americans in the center, flanked by the Canadians and the Englishmen.

OWNERS OF "THE TIMES."

Lords Northcliffe, Cromer and Rothschild Reported in Control.

London, July 14.—"The Chronicle" asserts that the new proprietors of "The Times" include Lord Rothschild, Lord Cromer and Lord Northcliffe, the last named having a controlling interest.

GIRL SHOTS FATHER.

Fires Twice When He Tries to Attack Her Weakened Mother.

Millville, N. J., July 13.—Angered by family troubles and almost crazed by drink, Edward Polhamus went to his home, in Delmont, last night and attempted to kill his entire family, but was prevented by the prompt action of his daughter, who drew a revolver and shot him twice before he could accomplish his purpose.

Polhamus, it is alleged, was worried by the attentions paid to his sixteen-year-old daughter, Sarah. His eldest daughter, Helen, who is postmaster at Delmont, was informed by a friend that her father had said he would kill his entire family.

When Polhamus arrived home he attempted to carry out his threat, and knocked Sarah unconscious to the floor, inflicting an ugly gash in her forehead. At this juncture Helen appeared with a revolver and as her father started up the stairs to injure her mother, who was lying in bed with a three-days-old baby, she shot him, the bullet lodging in his neck.

With an oath Polhamus lurched at her and swore he would kill her, she says. She fired a second shot, the ball passing through his abdomen. Polhamus dropped to the floor and said: "You have killed me!"

Mrs. Polhamus, in her weakened condition, crawled down stairs and into the street, where the neighbors found her, lying unconscious. A crowd of excited farmers rushed to the scene, and when they learned what had happened they threatened Polhamus with violence.

Physicians regard Polhamus's condition as serious. Helen surrendered to a justice of the peace and the neighbors have offered to furnish bail for her appearance at a hearing if demanded.

A. T. DEMAREST DEAD.

Auto Manufacturer Victim of Ptomaine Poisoning at Greenwich.

Greenwich, Conn., July 13.—Aaron T. Demarest, president of A. T. Demarest & Co., manufacturers of carriages and automobiles, with offices at No. 335 Fifth avenue, New York City, died suddenly to-night at the Kent House here from ptomaine poisoning.

Mr. Demarest attended the commencement at Yale, where his grandson, Francesco Whitmore, was graduated. While there he went to a clam bake and it is believed that he contracted the poison from eating clams.

Although Mr. Demarest had been ill for the last three weeks, everything pointed to his ultimate recovery, the doctors said. Last week, however, his condition took a sudden turn for the worse, and the end came to-night.

HELD IN SPANISH PRISON. Porto Ricans at Ceuta for Many Years Beg Release.

San Juan, P. R., July 13.—Governor Regis H. Post has received a petition from twenty Porto Ricans who are confined in the penitentiary at Ceuta, a seaport town of Africa, belonging to Spain, not far from Gibraltar, asking that the government take steps to have them liberated.

These men were imprisoned in the time of Spanish rule in Porto Rico for political reasons, and the matter already has come before the Porto Rican Legislature.

The House of Delegates at San Juan asked in 1902 for information regarding Porto Rican prisoners in the Spanish penitentiary at Ceuta. The records showed that forty prisoners were sent from Porto Rico to Ceuta between 1882 and 1898.

MOTOR BOAT BLOWS UP.

Man Running It Rescued from Hudson After Accident.

A motor boat belonging to Patrick Daly, of the Hudson Rowing Club of New York, blew up and then burned in the Hudson River off Alpine, N. J., about 11 o'clock last night. John Donnelly, of No. 599 West 127th street, who was bringing the boat from Longbeach, was blown from it into the water and badly burned. He was rescued by an officer of the Palisades Park Commission and taken to a hospital in Yonkers, where he is being treated for burns.

FRENCH REFORM BILLS POSTPONED.

Income Tax and Old Age Pensions Measures Left for Autumn Session.

Paris, July 13.—The French Parliament adjourned today thereby postponing the consideration of the income tax, old age pensions and restoration of the death penalty bills until the autumn session.

STORM'S HAVOC IN ORANGE COUNTY.

Middletown, N. Y., July 12.—A heavy storm resembling a tornado and cutting a path a half mile wide passed through the lower end of Orange County late yesterday. At Pine Island the home of Charles Faulkner was blown to pieces and Mrs. Faulkner was buried in the ruins.

The men made a splendid appearance. The Americans were among those who wore street clothes, but even thus attracted the size of the feet evoked much favorable comment.

BELLEVUE IN DANGER WALL FALLS NEAR WARD.

Another Section of It Threatens Hospital—Patients Frightened.

A section of brick wall, 140 feet high and extending 75 feet back from 28th street, toward 29th street, part of a structure under demolition for the new Bellevue, collapsed early last evening.

A score of workmen narrowly escaped with their lives and half a hundred patients in three wards in Bellevue Hospital were thrown into consternation. Another section of wall, equally tall and 150 feet long, facing immediately upon Bellevue, is almost tottering.

Workmen for several days have been engaged in the work of wrecking the former building of the United Electric Light Company, east of First avenue, in 28th street, down toward the East River. The time for the completion of the work on the new structure of the hospital has been limited, and in order not to lose on the contract the house wrecking concern has put pressure on its men to the utmost.

The better to hasten their efforts a big derrick was erected on a part of the wall, and big chunks were bitten out of the standing walls which remained, forming an L on 28th street and back toward 29th street. Shaking and racking, the derrick finally weakened the west end of the wall so that it fell.

Back on the 29th street side is a row of six tenement houses, filled with Poles and Italians, and when the crash came they poured forth like bees from a hive, scared by the noise and the big cloud of dust. It so happened that none of the workmen was injured, though none could explain afterward how he had escaped.

Right opposite the standing portion of the wall, which now has no support of any sort, are Ward 44 of Bellevue, the male prison; Ward 34, the female alcoholic, prison and hysteria ward, and Ward 36, for male alcoholic patients.

When the wall fell, in the two wards last named some of the patients were almost overcome with fright, and the mental state of some of the patients was such that their condition was pitiful. Doctors and nurses hurried about the three wards quieting the patients, assuring them that they were in no danger.

The crash sent several doctors and ambulance drivers down 28th street on the run to offer aid. None was needed, nor were the police of the 35th street station, for whom a call went in. If the wind should rise the wall standing might very readily be blown down. Should the wind happen to blow from the northeast the three wards of Bellevue named, together with the ambulance stable of the institution, could hardly escape without some damage, and serious danger, it is said, might result.

BAR PRIVATE FIREWORKS.

Cleveland Passes Drastic Ordinance Following Ten Fatalities.

Cleveland, July 13.—By a vote of 21 to 7, the City Council passed an ordinance to-night decreasing that henceforth no private celebration of the Fourth of July by the use of firearms or fireworks shall occur. The council, however, reserved the right to permit the city to give an "official display" in the public parks, if it so desires. The ordinance was the result of the deaths of ten persons in this year's Independence Day observance.

C. H. OSTRANDER A SUICIDE.

W. Bourke Cockran's Former Law Partner Inhales Gas.

Charles H. Ostrander, for twenty-five years counsel for the Westchester Fire Insurance Company and a former law partner of W. Bourke Cockran, killed himself yesterday morning by inhaling gas at his home in Mount Vernon. No reason has been assigned for the act. While Mr. Cockran was teaching school at Tuckahoe Mr. Ostrander induced him to study law.

Recently Mr. Ostrander's health had been poor, and at times he became melancholy. It is believed that in one of these spells he went to the bathroom on the second floor of his home, and, attaching one end of a tube to a gas jet, placed the other end in his mouth and died. He was found by relatives, who were forced to smash down the bathroom door to reach him. His wife and two daughters survive him.

Mr. Cockran, when informed last night of his former partner's death, said that he was shocked beyond measure. He said Mr. Ostrander was the last person he would believe could commit such an act.

BORED WAY INTO FLAT.

Two Negroes Held for Breaking Through Wall and Robbing Egg Dealer.

The latest method of breaking into a place came out in the Essex Market police court yesterday when two negroes were arraigned, accused of burglary. They were charged with breaking a hole in a wall between a vacant flat and the flat occupied by Julius Friedman at No. 706 East 8th street. The negroes entered the vacant flat and broke a hole in the wall separating the two flats. Then, it is alleged, they crawled into Friedman's flat and walked away with three women's suits, a couple of men's suits, a fur muff and knives, forks and spoons, of a total value of $29.

Friedman has a butter and egg store underneath his flat on the ground floor, and the breaking of the wall knocked several dozens of eggs off a shelf. Seeing this, Friedman hurried upstairs and found a hole in the wall. Alongside the hole on the floor Friedman found a screwdriver, which belonged to the janitor, who later admitted that it was his. Then he and another negro were arrested. They gave their names as John James, of No. 50 East 8th st., and William Saunders, of No. 116 Avenue C. Magistrate Barlow held them each in $2,000 bail to await the action of the grand jury.

WASP'S STING KILLS WOMAN.

Winsted, Conn., July 13.—Mrs. Jennie Andrews, a widow, was stung on the arm by a wasp to-day and died twenty minutes later. She is supposed to have had a weak heart.

FORTUNE LEFT TO CHARITY IN CHILL.

Santiago de Chili, July 13.—Senator Federico Varela, a well known philanthropist and one of the richest men in Chili, died to-day. He left the bulk of his great fortune to charity.

MODEST CLAM YIELDS $1,050 PEARL.

Portland, Me., July 13.—James Loudon, a fish pedler, has just returned from Rockland, Me., with a pearl which he found in a fresh water clam. The pearl is as large as a common marble. To-day he sold it for $1,050.

WHERE TO TAKE LUNCH.

And drink the Highest Type of American Wine. H. T. Dewey & Sons Co., 125 Fulton St., New York.

DR. J. W. SIMPSON SHOT MOTHER-IN-LAW HELD.

Northport Dentist Comes to New York Alone with Bullet in Him.

Dr. James W. Simpson, whose trial in January, 1907, for the murder of his father-in-law, Bartley T. Horner, of Northport, Long Island, attracted much attention and which ended in his acquittal, was shot and possibly fatally injured yesterday afternoon while attempting to enter his former home in Northport, where his mother-in-law and wife now live.

Acting on a deposition made by the injured man, Mrs. Horner was arrested and charged with felonious assault. She was later bailed out by her daughter, Mrs. Simpson, in $5,000 bonds, the amount set by George M. Furman, District Attorney of Suffolk County.

Although suffering great pain from his wound Dr. Simpson, after some slight treatment from a neighboring physician, boarded a train for New York unattended, and, smoking and chatting with some of his friends, made his way to Roosevelt Hospital, even stopping to take a drink on the way after reaching New York. Physicians at the hospital were amazed when told of the feat, saying that it was one of the most remarkable cases of nerve that had ever come under their notice.

Although two shots were fired, only one took effect, entering the right side, taking a downward course, passing through the lower lobe of the right lung and lodging in the back. At the hospital it was said last night that an operation would probably be performed this morning. The X-ray being used to locate the bullet.

After being released on bail Mrs. Horner refused to discuss the shooting, on the advice of her counsel. Both she and her daughter appeared calm and collected, but the excitement in the village was intense, and much sympathy was expressed for the two women.

SIMPSON LEFT WIFE.

When Dr. Simpson was acquitted of the murder of his father-in-law and walked from the courtroom a free man he took the first train for New York, leaving his wife, whose testimony had almost convicted him, to live with her mother in the family home there. Since that time he has appeared in the village only once or twice, and has never seen any member of his family until yesterday.

After Dr. Simpson was shot yesterday he made his way to a sanatorium conducted by Dr. John P. Heyen, who was one of the witnesses at his trial. While being treated he said to Dr. Heyen: "I only came down here to see my wife on business. Some time ago I heard from a distant relative of hers that she desired a divorce and wanted to see me concerning the details."

"I went to the house and rang the bell, but there was no response, and I rang again. I heard voices, and a woman's figure appeared at the door, looking out of the glass."

This figure Dr. Simpson in his deposition to Justice Hawkins alleges was the figure of his mother-in-law, and he also alleged he recognized his mother-in-law's voice when he asked for his wife and was told that he could not see her.

In making the deposition Dr. Simpson said: "I asked several times for my wife, and then my mother-in-law fired two shots through the glass, one taking effect."

After being treated by Dr. Heyen and making his deposition to Justice Hawkins, Dr. Simpson took a trolley car to the station, sitting upright in his seat, according to the passengers on the car, none of whom knew that he had been injured. There was a train due at 3:08 o'clock, and as he waited for it the injured man talked with the ticket agent, telling him that he had been shot.

NORTHPORT GETS EXCITED.

By this time the news of the shooting had spread through Northport and a number of curious ones flocked to the station. One kindly disposed woman offered Dr. Simpson a glass of ice water, but he pushed her away, saying that he wished to be left alone. Not once during the ordeal did his nerve desert him. On board the train he talked with several Northport residents also on their way to New York and constantly smoked cigarettes. On the arrival of the train at Long Island City Dr. Simpson crossed the ferry and took a taxicab for Roosevelt Hospital, stepping once in a cab to get a drink.

While Dr. Simpson was on his way to New York Mrs. Horner had summoned her attorney, Rowland Miles, who was her husband's attorney and who represented her during Dr. Simpson's trial. He arrived just as Constable Hauser, who arrested Dr. Simpson for murder, arrived to make Mrs. Horner a prisoner. With Mr. Miles was Dr. Donohue, who was also one of the witnesses at the Simpson trial. They accompanied Mrs. Horner to the office of Justice Hawkins and remained with her until she was bailed.

Mr. Miles in speaking of the charges against his client said that such an action would be justified on her part, as Simpson had been ordered three times to keep away from the house and that both women were in deadly fear of him. Sympathy in Northport is all with the two women, and as one old resident remarked after hearing of the shooting: "If Mrs. Horner shot that fellow she did what was right."

CONFERENCE IN HOSPITAL.

C. B. Partridge, Special Assistant District Attorney, who was directed to take charge of the case, was a visitor at Roosevelt Hospital last night, and after a conference with the patient and Dr. Harrington, who has him in charge, took quarters at a nearby hotel, within reach of the hospital at any time.

The killing of Mr. Horner, for which Dr. Simpson was on trial, occurred in the kitchen of his home. The dentist was in jail for almost a year before the trial. The shotgun with which Mr. Horner, who was one of the wealthiest residents of Northport, was killed was in Dr. Simpson's hands when it was discharged. The latter said that he was merely "breaking" it when it accidentally went off.

During the trial the state brought forward as a motive for the murder the fact that several days after the shooting Mr. Horner was to have gone to Rowland Miles's office to draw up a new will, in which, Mrs. Horner testified, Dr. Simpson would have been cut off without a dollar.

For a time after the killing the accident story was accepted without question, but the authorities, hearing of the bad blood between the two men, arrested Simpson. Mrs. Simpson, who at first had stood by her husband, then took the stand and said that filial duty demanded that she tell the truth, no matter if it cost her her husband's life. A Polish boy, who was the only witness of the shooting, went insane over the tragedy and could not testify.

LOW HUMIDITY RELIEVES BOSTON.

Boston, July 13.—The highest point reached by the mercury to-day was 91.4 degrees, but the humidity was low. Several cases of heat prostration were reported during the day from the relief hospital.

MERCURY KEEPS UP.

Four Deaths in Brooklyn—Crowds at Beaches.

Heat and humidity combined yesterday to make the weather exceedingly uncomfortable. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon it seemed as hot as it has been any day this summer, although the mercury was not within 3 degrees of the maximum mark. The crowds at the various seashore resorts were unusually large for a week day. Yesterday's heat victims were:

IRELAND, George, sixty-one years old, of No. 42 Rogers avenue, Brooklyn; died at Eastern Parkway and Bedford avenue.

LIUNGO, Edward, one day old, of No. 152 29th street, Brooklyn.

WALTERS, Gertrude, one year old, of No. 9 Henry street, Brooklyn.

WARD, Ellen, thirty-five years old, of No. 129 Linden street, Brooklyn; died at her home.

Besides the four deaths reported in Brooklyn, there were nearly a score of prostrations reported by the police. Most of the cases, however, were not serious.

The weather bureau predicts local rains and cooler weather for to-day. The highest temperature yesterday was 90 degrees, at 4 p. m.; the lowest was 74, at 5 a. m.

GOVERNOR FORT THROWN.

Young Horse Pitches Him from Saddle at Sea Girt.

Sea Girt, July 13.—Governor Fort this morning was thrown from his horse, but not seriously hurt. The animal was purchased for the state recently and is Kentucky bred. The Governor decided he would school the animal so as to be ready for the major on Thursday.

Accompanied by Colonel Austen Colgate and Major Wilbur F. Snyder, Jr., he rode out on the parade ground at guard mount this morning. When the band started the horse began to twist and circle around, finally rising on its hind legs. The Governor tried to stay in the saddle, but after three or four efforts the animal succeeded in throwing him. The Governor, although shaken up, mounted the animal again and rode around the camp.

THIRTY MEN DROWNED.

Three Vessels Wrecked on Spanish Coast and Several Missing.

Santander, Spain, July 13.—Heavy gales have caused havoc among the fishing fleet along the coast. Three fishing vessels are reported wrecked and more than thirty men drowned. No word has been received of a number of boats which have been out for a long time.

SHOT BY HER LOVER.

He Then Puts Bullet in Own Head—Both Likely to Die.

Veronica Meene, eighteen years old, of No. 701 East 12th street, stenographer, employed in a downtown business house, was shot twice in the head by her lover, William Wilde, twenty-one years old, of No. 289 Avenue B, early this morning at the girl's home. Then the man turned the gun on himself and sent a bullet into his temple. Both are dying at Bellevue Hospital.

The shooting was the result of a lovers' quarrel, which grew out of the girl's refusal to obey Wilde's request that she remain at home yesterday instead of going on a picnic, as she had planned. The girl is said to be exceptionally pretty, and Wilde was jealous of her, according to her parents. Yesterday she went out on the excursion, and Wilde met her at 11 o'clock last night when she returned.

He accompanied her home. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Meene, the girl's parents, were in the house, and they heard the couple quarrelling. They started to the front and arrived at a revolver and fire it twice at the girl's head. One bullet entered the jaw and the other hit her behind the right ear. Before the parents could interfere, Wilde placed the gun against his own head and pulled the trigger, falling unconscious over the body of his sweetheart.

The hospital surgeon said that both were in a critical condition and that they would probably not survive.

INSANE FROM TRAGEDY.

Driver of Hutchings Car Goes Mad—Triple Funeral Held.

Eastport, N. Y., July 13 (Special).—Frederick Glow, the chauffeur who was in charge of William R. Hutchings's automobile when it was hit by a Long Island train on Friday, the owner, his wife and child being killed, has become a raving maniac as a result of the accident. He was arrested to-day by Sheriff Loper at the Hutchings home and is being held to testify to-morrow at Centre Moriches, where the inquiry will be held. Since the tragedy Glow has imagined that he was being pursued by enemies, who sought to kill him. Shouting "Take them away!" and "Save me from the mob!" he has wandered excitedly about the Hutchings home. He has been under medical treatment, and is somewhat improved now. When the Sheriff called at the home to arrest him he readily submitted.

The funeral of the three victims of the accident was held last night at the Hutchings home. The Rev. Mr. Shannon, of Grace Church, Brooklyn, and the Rev. Mr. Wood, of the Centre Moriches Methodist Church, officiated. The coffins, covered with flowers, formed a triangle. A special train will convey the bodies to Brooklyn to-morrow morning, and on its arrival there at 10 o'clock the funeral party will go directly to Greenwood Cemetery, where the burial will be.

FELLS DEATH WATCH.

Priest's Murderer Makes Desperate Attempt to Escape.

Canon City, Col., July 13.—Seizing a moment when his guard's back was turned and the door of the cell was unlocked to-day, Giuseppe Alia, slayer of Father Leo, of Denver, felled the man he thought the only barrier between himself and liberty and made a desperate attempt to fight his way out of the penitentiary. The Italian was almost immediately overpowered by the men on the death watch, who were seated in front of the cell door, and the almost unconscious deputy warden was taken from the cell the door locked, and Alia, apparently as normal as ever, resumed his usual calm and phlegmatic demeanor.

Mesher had been on the Pacific Coast, and was first afflicted while on his way here ten days ago. Since that time he has been here in Bellevue. Dr. Beswick, of the New York Hospital, who was called last night, said the patient was a victim of tetany, a disease similar to tetanus, and not often fatal, but of nervous origin. He is the manager of "Al" H. Wood, who is now playing in melodrama in the West.

Matthew Mesher, a theatrical manager, living at the Hotel Albany, was discharged from Bellevue Hospital yesterday morning as cured of an attack of tetany, and last night, while in the office of Dorsey & Wolford, booking agents, in the Knickerbocker Building, No. 160 Broadway, he was again attacked by the disease and became violent. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

Mesher had been on the Pacific Coast, and was first afflicted while on his way here ten days ago. Since that time he has been here in Bellevue. Dr. Beswick, of the New York Hospital, who was called last night, said the patient was a victim of tetany, a disease similar to tetanus, and not often fatal, but of nervous origin. He is the manager of "Al" H. Wood, who is now playing in melodrama in the West.

EIGHTEEN HURT IN TRAIN WRECK.

Texarkana, Ark., July 13.—Eighteen persons were seriously injured in a collision between two passenger trains on the Texas & Pacific Railroad yesterday morning thirty miles south of Texarkana. The accident is said to have been due to the overlooking of a train order.

FIVE MILES OF TRACK WASHED OUT.

Rochester, July 13.—Cloudbursts near Rathbone, Steuben County, washed out five miles of Erie tracks last night and delayed traffic fifteen hours. One thousand men worked all night making repairs.

TAFT BEGINS SPEECH COMPARING PLATFORMS.

Will State His Views on Injunction Question Emphatically.

Hot Springs, Va., July 13.—Beginning the work of writing his speech accepting the Republican nomination for President, to be delivered in Cincinnati on July 28, Mr. Taft to-day made a careful study and comparison of the Republican and Democratic platforms adopted by the recent conventions. He has at his command copies of speeches of acceptance of candidates of both parties in recent years, and within a day or two he will receive copies of the platforms of both parties for many years. Mr. Taft is handling this task as a judge on the bench would hear a case. He is looking through all the documents bearing on the subject, and before completing his work he will have the views of many party leaders on the draft of the document. The many conferences he has had since his nomination have involved discussions of every phase of the political situation and have had reference to conditions in all parts of the country. All the information which has been brought to him in this way is of service now in determining the phases of the campaign that should receive special consideration.

The injunction plank will probably receive greatest attention. Mr. Taft will declare his position on this important question in forceful and unmistakable terms. Senator Warner's notification speech will not require more than ten minutes for its delivery. The speech of acceptance also will be short. The letter of acceptance will treat public questions at greater length, and will not be forthcoming for several weeks after the notification ceremony has taken place.

Mr. Taft began his day's work by looking over his mail and dictating a few letters, after which he went to the golf links. Even with the necessity of finishing the pressing task before him he does not intend to neglect his favorite game. "I will play golf every day," he said, as he started out this morning. "Just as I would take medicine."

He had an expert opponent in the person of George Ingalls, a son of M. E. Ingalls, whose cottage faces the Homestead. Mr. Taft, shortly after returning from the links, was back in his office engaged in analyzing and comparing the platforms and dictating to his stenographer. There were no conferences to interrupt him to-day. He has invited no one here this week except Arthur I. Vorys, who is in charge of the campaign in Ohio. Mr. Taft to-day accepted an invitation to attend the dedication of the new courthouse at Germantown, five miles from Hot Springs, next Monday. He said he would not make a political speech, but might talk about the administration of justice.

He had an expert opponent in the person of George Ingalls, a son of M. E. Ingalls, whose cottage faces the Homestead. Mr. Taft, shortly after returning from the links, was back in his office engaged in analyzing and comparing the platforms and dictating to his stenographer. There were no conferences to interrupt him to-day. He has invited no one here this week except Arthur I. Vorys, who is in charge of the campaign in Ohio. Mr. Taft to-day accepted an invitation to attend the dedication of the new courthouse at Germantown, five miles from Hot Springs, next Monday. He said he would not make a political speech, but might talk about the administration of justice.

He had an expert opponent in the person of George Ingalls, a son of M. E. Ingalls, whose cottage faces the Homestead. Mr. Taft, shortly after returning from the links, was back in his office engaged in analyzing and comparing the platforms and dictating to his stenographer. There were no conferences to interrupt him to-day. He has invited no one here this week except Arthur I. Vorys, who is in charge of the campaign in Ohio. Mr. Taft to-day accepted an invitation to attend the dedication of the new courthouse at Germantown, five miles from Hot Springs, next Monday. He said he would not make a political speech, but might talk about the administration of justice.

He had an expert opponent in the person of George Ingalls, a son of M. E. Ingalls, whose cottage faces the Homestead. Mr. Taft, shortly after returning from the links, was back in his office engaged in analyzing and comparing the platforms and dictating to his stenographer. There were no conferences to interrupt him to-day. He has invited no one here this week except Arthur I. Vorys, who is in charge of the campaign in Ohio. Mr. Taft to-day accepted an invitation to attend the dedication of the new courthouse at Germantown, five miles from Hot Springs, next Monday. He said he would not make a political speech, but might talk about the administration of justice.

SAVES MRS. GOULD'S LIFE.

Chauffeur's Presence of Mind Prevents Possibly Fatal Accident.