FOREIGN NOTES OF INTEREST.

A nobleman living in London, who is noted for his massive whiskers, is also famous for his exceptionally bad temper. One evening recently, feeling fatigued, he dismissed his valet and retired early.

A prominent English aviator says that it is open to doubt whether a bird really presents the best example of aerial progression in relation to aerial flight. It was long ago recognized that a wing built up of feathers was too hopelessly complicated for any attempt at mechanical imitation.

The King of Italy's crown is the oldest of royal crowns. It is one none other than the famous Iron Crown of Lombardy. It takes its name from the narrow iron band, about three-eighths of an inch broad and one-tenth of an inch thick, which forms the base of the circlet.

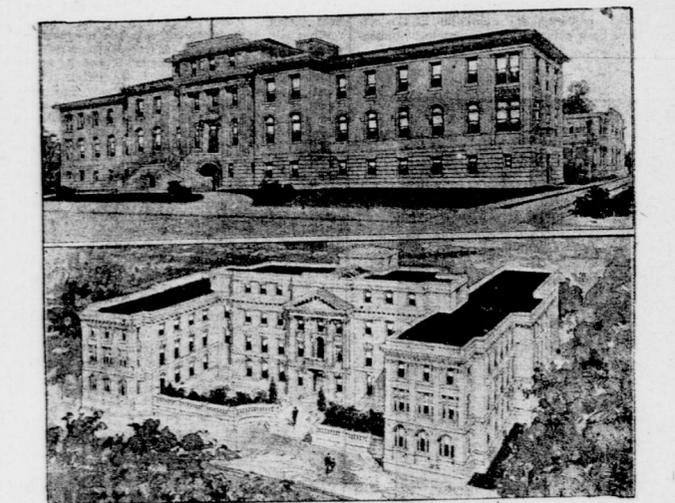

A German inventor has just discovered in the metal wolfram a much superior filament to that of carbon, used in the type of electric incandescent lamp now in vogue. He claims that the light obtained from the wolfram filament is three or four times as brilliant as that given by the ordinary carbon filament with the same consumption of electricity.

Engineers' epitaphs are scarce. Here is one that may be seen on a tombstone in Bromsgrove Parish Churchyard, England. A sketch of an engine is carved on the stone. It is in the memory of Thomas Scaffe, engine driver, who was killed in a boiler explosion at Barnet Green Station, November 10, 1849:

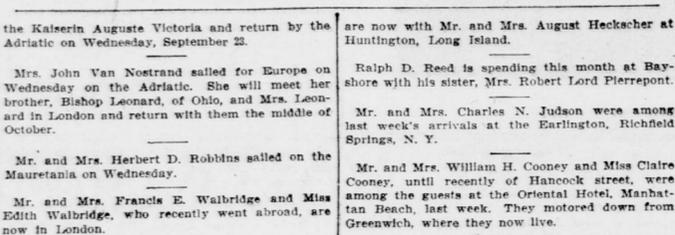

My engine now is cold and still, No water does my boiler fill, My coals affords its flame no more, My days of usefulness are o'er.

Farewell, dear friends, In Christ I sleep, In Him I sleep.

Defeat of Lincoln-Roosevelt League a Blow to Spreckels.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—The result of the primary election on Tuesday in this city and throughout the state was the crushing defeat of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League. The league nominated delegates to city and state conventions, and made himself a window in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

NEW CITY HOSPITALS.

Two Fine Buildings Will Soon Be Erected in Borough.

An important era has now opened in the development of hospital facilities in Brooklyn, largely through the energy and persistence of Charities Commissioner Heberd. It has long been known by the officials that Brooklyn was poorly provided with public hospitals, but they have ignored the conditions for years.

A QUEER LETTER.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: I am very much interested in The Tribune's article regarding the renomination of Governor Hughes. It is true that Governor Hughes is a very able and conscientious Governor and one who cannot be used, as the political saying is. However, in the face of facts, would it be wise to renominate him?
