

TRAVERS HOLDS TITLE PROVES WIZARD AT GOLF.

Behr Badly Beaten in Final for the Amateur Championship.

Displaying the same superb form that has carried him to the front on so many occasions, Jerome D. Travers, of Montclair, N. J., won the national amateur golf championship tournament for the second year in succession on the Garden City Links yesterday, defeating Max Behr, of Morris County, 8 up and 7 to play in the thirty-six hole final round.

NATIONAL AMATEUR GOLF CHAMPION.

JEROME D. TRAVERS.

Throughout the day Daniel Chauncey, president of the United States Golf Association, and several members of the executive committee had their hands full in keeping the gallery in check. At times the crowd in its eagerness to see the champion would close in so closely as to make it decidedly uncomfortable, even for this remarkable golfer, who does not appear to have any nerves.

There was an incident on the eighth green in the afternoon which showed the resourceful nature of the champion. Each man had played three, Behr's ball being about a yard from the hole and Travers's a couple of feet farther away, but in a direct line. Travers, however, negotiated the stroke by pitching over the other's ball with his masher. The gully went into the hole as clean as a whistle, so that the champion earned a halve when the hole looked almost to a certainty.

Behr went out in 43 and home in 40, about the pace he had been displaying throughout the tournament. In the afternoon round 23 for Travers, as against 41 for Behr, and although the match ended on the eleventh green, it was evident to all that at the rate he was going he had an excellent chance, had the bye holes been played out, to return a 75.

Considering the gruelling struggles both men had in the semi-final round on Friday, it would not have been surprising if they had shown a reaction. Such, however, was not the case, for Travers reached the turn in the morning in an even 40, which included a 7 and a 6, while on the homeward journey he had a 36, giving a 76 for the round, much the same kind of golf he displayed when he defeated Walter J. Travis.

There was an incident on the eighth green in the afternoon which showed the resourceful nature of the champion. FALSE NUN ARRESTED.

Woman Asked Money in Religious Garb, Police Say.

Annie Miller, alias Gabler and Warner, who, the police say, has served terms in prison, was arrested yesterday in a saloon at Ninth avenue and 40th street while collecting alms in the guise of a Sister of Charity. Detective Forbes, of the Central Office, says that she collected money in nearly every saloon for several blocks.

The police believe she is the woman who has been obtaining money for several months, of whom Archbishop Farley caused a description to be read in every church of the diocese, warning people that she was an impostor.

A woman said to be the same person was committed to Blackwell's Island some months ago for a similar offense. She lives with her husband at No. 402 West 22d street.

When the woman was arraigned before Magistrate Droege in the Night Court she pleaded poverty as an excuse for her act, and said that starvation had driven her to take the step. Magistrate Droege sentenced her to the Workhouse for six months.

"MULCT LAW" NOT A LICENSE.

Iowa a Prohibition State, According to United States Judge McPherson.

Davenport, Iowa, Sept. 19.—In throwing out of the United States Circuit Court yesterday a petition of the United Breweries Company of New Jersey against the Davenport Civic Federation Judge Smith McPherson quotes Section 720, United States Revised Statutes, to the effect that a writ of injunction shall not be granted by any court of the United States to stay proceedings in any court of a state, except in cases where such injunction may be authorized by a law relating to proceedings in bankruptcy. The United Breweries Company was seeking an injunction to prevent the Civic Federation interfering with saloon fixtures and leasehold rights in Scott County. The injunction was asked on the ground that the company had not been made a party defendant in a case on which an appeal to the United States Circuit Court was taken.

Judge McPherson, in his decision, declared that the Iowa liquor law, which permits saloons to be run by paying a so-called "mulct tax" of $600 a year and complying with certain strict regulations, is in no sense a license law. The Iowa prohibitory law, he ruled, is still in effect, the mulct system simply giving saloons a defence against prosecution, but it is especially provided that the mulct shall not be considered as in any way legalizing saloons. "The complainants are wholly mistaken when insisting this is a license system," said the court. "There is no liquor license system in Iowa, and has not been for a quarter of a century. For that length of time there has never been lawful sale of liquor in the state. No person to-day can lawfully sell liquor as a beverage. All liquor as a beverage in the State of Iowa are unlawful. In this case the court will not discuss the propriety of state legislation. The Legislature of the state has power under our Constitution absolutely to prohibit the manufacture, use or sale of liquor as a beverage. Under Iowa law the mulct system is not a legal system, but absolute compliance with its provisions by saloons simply gives saloonkeepers and clerks a method of escaping criminal prosecution."

Smith, of New York City, and gave no intimation that she intended ending her life.

LUNATIC PLEADS CASE

S. E. De Angelis, in Matteawan for Shooting, Seeks Freedom.

Newburg, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Severin E. De Angelis, an inmate of the Matteawan Asylum for Insane Criminals, appeared before Judge Tompkins to-day and personally made an argument for his freedom. De Angelis is himself a lawyer and brother of a former justice of the Supreme Court.

Judge Tompkins remarked that the prisoner's case was not well prepared, and De Angelis said he had little chance to consult law books, being confined in the hospital. It was only then that the court discovered that the prisoner was appearing in person.

De Angelis was arrested in October, 1907, for shooting Walter L. Marsar, in New York City. He was found insane by a jury and sent to Matteawan, where his insanity he attacks District Attorney Jerome and his counsel, A. Delos Kneeland. He asked for a jury trial in New York County to determine his sanity. He alleges that he is now sane and ought to be released. The court took the papers and sent De Angelis back to the hospital. Dr. Lamb, superintendent of the hospital, says he is of unsound mind and would be dangerous at large.

FILTH IN TABLE WATERS.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Several highly recommended table waters from various springs contain more colonic bacilli than the water that passes through the city's mains, and the companies selling these waters are perpetrating a fraud and are to be "put out of business." These were some of the startling disclosures made by Dr. Joseph Faval Biehn, director of the Chicago city laboratory, last night. He spoke in the rooms of the Chicago Drug Club, at the monthly meeting of the Chicago section of the American Chemical Society. He said that many of the bottled spring waters were merely hydant water run through a worse than useless filter.
