

MR. CARNEGIE RETURNS

MISS GARDEN SHIPMATE.

Both Scottish, They Become Fast Friends—Prima Donna Talks.

Andrew Carnegie, accompanied by Mrs. Carnegie and their daughter, Margaret, got back to New York yesterday on the White Star liner Adriatic...

Miss Garden, whose name, with those of Melba and Tetrazzini, leads all the rest in the printed list of singers engaged for Mr. Hammerstein's opera season...

Despite her busy summer, Miss Garden said she was enjoying the best of health and is ready for the opportunity to go before the New York operators...

Of these, of course, Salome will be one of the most important. In preparation for it she has been going on her knees a day in Paris to求得 under Mme. Charles for 'The Dance of the Seven Veils'...

As to rumors that Miss Garden might marry a Russian prince, the prima donna said that while she is not opposed to the idea, she is not at all sure...

Mr. Carnegie's enthusiastic utterances in favor of Mr. Hughes were equaled only by his severe condemnation of the possible deal of Mr. Bryan...

Mr. Carnegie asked for the outlook of the election for Governor in New York, and was delighted to learn that Mr. Hughes's chances for re-election were excellent.

"I heard a few weeks ago that the Governor's chances for re-election were growing steadily," he said, "I feel that there is little doubt of his success...

GOVERNOR GULD SICK.

Has Attack of Gastritis—Physicians Say It's Not Serious.

Boston, Oct. 29.—Governor Curtis Guild, Jr., was seized with a severe attack of gastritis today, according to a statement issued by the executive department at the State House this afternoon...

Governor Guild's eagerness to resume full work and responsibility of his office has been too much for his strength, and he is confined to the house by an attack of gastritis...

On March 4 last Governor Guild had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism and a severe heart attack. For nearly a week his condition was extremely critical...

He was able to take up his duties several weeks ago, and has spoken once or twice during the present campaign. He delivered an address on August 24, and was obliged to undergo an operation, which confined him to his home at Nahant for several weeks longer...

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

LONGER PRESIDENTIAL TERM.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: Apropos of a rather 'chestnuty' but nevertheless timely subject, and as revival in a good cause oftentimes leads to good results, I consider it conservative to state that if left to a popular vote at least 80 per cent would decide it to be a benefit to the country to have a great presidential election changed...

If some Congressmen were to suggest this amendment, and it were left to a popular vote, I believe that it would meet with the people's approval. HARTIE L. PHILLIPS. New York, Oct. 27, 1908.

HE PLAYS NO FAVORITES.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: Whatever may be said of the two great men who are now in the race for President of the United States, Justice Taft's record as a conscientious judge and a thoroughly up to date statesman has shown him to be the best man for the position he is now seeking. He discusses freely all the issues of the campaign, and his opinions and ideas and righteous way of dealing with the people of all classes in 1894, in 1900 and 1908—no fluctuations—no regrets—no insinuations when they were necessary and the injunction called for them, whether the victim was a worker or a drone. It was his sworn duty to perform this function for the people, and he did it. He played no favorites. A man who so does his duty when on the bench or as a statesman could be depended upon to do his duty also when in the White House. And in the White House, where the backstabbing and backbiting from here to Fiddler's Green could not cause a miscarriage of justice. Of the two good ones, the American people are entitled to the best. Bryan can run again in 1912, with Gompers for Vice-President. Washington, Oct. 28, 1908. H. T. MCCONVEY.

MISS MARLOWE'S NEW PLAY.

Will Be Introduced in Boston Next Month—Founded on French Revolution. Julia Marlowe's managers, the Messrs. Schubert, have announced for her a play by Mary Johnston, called 'The Goddess of Reason,' which will be introduced in Boston next month. Miss Johnston is the author of several popular novels, among them 'The Heavens and the Earth.' The action of 'The Goddess of Reason' occurs in France during the revolution. Miss Marlowe will appear as the heroine, a young Breton girl named Yvette. She said yesterday...

SOUVENIRS OF 'THREE TWINS.'

At the Herald Square Theatre last night occurred the 10th performance of 'Three Twins,' and as a memento of the occasion the management gave a handsomely bound copy of the score, signed by Bessie McCoy, Clifton Crawford and others, to every woman in the audience. Despite the fact that the house was comfortably filled, and the audience cheered Miss McCoy and demanded time and again a repetition of her comical 'Yama Yama' performance, 'Three Twins' has had a prosperous career here, and the indications are that it will remain until after the holidays.

'PAID IN FULL' NEARS END OF RUN.

The long and successful career of 'Paid in Full' in this city has terminated on Saturday. No longer at Weber's Theatre. The management announces that it will be transferred to the Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, and after that to the Colonial, Boston. With the final performance at Weber's that play will have been acted 245 times here. It was performed at the Astor, where it remained during the greater part of last season and during the summer months.

DR. HILLIS WANTS ASSISTANT.

Plymouth Church Pastor Says Work Is Too Much for One Man. The Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, proposed to his deacons, trustees and committee on church work on Wednesday evening that they elect another minister at a salary of $3,000 at least, to be associated with him in the work of the parish. Dr. Hillis receives $3,000 a year. He told the committee that the work of the church, with its twenty-three hundred members, was growing to such an extent that he did not see how one pastor could attend to it. He said that the Beecher memorial plans were being advanced slowly, and that he felt it necessary to call for a lecturer to raise the $10,000 or so still needed. A committee will report on the subject to the general committee next Monday evening.

E. R. THOMAS'S CONDITION NOT CRITICAL.

Referring to the report that E. R. Thomas was in a critical condition at Roosevelt Hospital, as the result of a second operation that had been recently performed, the officials of the hospital emphatically denied yesterday that Mr. Thomas was in any danger and said that the story was grossly exaggerated. It was said that a second operation was performed a few days ago, but that it was only a slight one, and that, far from there being any danger of blood poisoning setting in, Mr. Thomas was doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances, and would be entirely recovered at a comparatively early date.
