the City Court, are lawyers of good standing. All have the indorsement of the Bar Association.

THE COMPETENT PILOT.

Mr. Taft illustrated, perhaps unconsciously, but most effectively, one of his own chief claims to support in this election in his argument at Canandaigua.

Said Mr. Taft at Canandaigua on Thursday:

Between Presidential elections many issues are likely to arise that cannot be submitted to a party; crises are likely to come that will not be submitted to a party.

the accuracy of his predictions concerning the others.

There is little question that despite racial and even linguistic conditions the Latin countries of Europe have for a greater affinity for Great Britain than for Germany.

THE WOODCHUCK ISSUE.

Mr. Chanler found another issue on Thursday. Up in the northern part of the state, where wild game exists, there are a number of voters who are aggrieved because of the hunt-to doubt the suitability of the apparatus it has considered. Mechanism which will work well nine times out of ten and fail the tenth time may be worse than nothing at all.

The New York World is overjoyful that the Democratic party will die if Mr. Bryan is beaten. Don't worry, neighbor. Mr. Bryan will not let the Democratic party die so long as he needs it as an "angel" to back his quadrennial appearances as a candidate for the Presidency.

These are the things I am interested in: Fidelity and capacity in the discharge of duties to the state; the maintenance of free opportunity for labor and the common welfare by insistence on the public's rights.—Governor Hughes.

Mr. Chanler just now is interested in woodchucks.

The final—If, indeed, it is yet final—settlement of a twenty-one year old lawsuit at Elizabeth, N. J., is a reminder that the state of provincial justice can daily with the law's delays when she tries to do so about as well as New York.

In the event of Mr. Chanler's defeat, persons suffering from it will find Charleston an excellent place for convalescence, and the hotel rates—Charleston News and Courier.

Charleston shows an unnatural and unpatriotic willingness to make a profit out of the misfortunes of a defeated cause.

Another battle with the Yaquis! And only a few months ago we were assured that those truculent aborigines had abandoned tribal relations, abjured the warpath and turned their backs toward peace.

A large part of the increase in the city budget this year is due to the city debt. An indebtedness almost equal to that of the national government is an expensive municipal luxury.

If any great uncommoner should become a candidate for President, he would have our enthusiastic support.—Charleston News and Courier.

What's the matter with Thomas E. Watson or Sydney Ceres Tapp?

THE TALK OF THE DAY.

The Hartford Courant celebrated on Thursday the 14th anniversary of its foundation. The oldest journal in continuous publication in America, it has remained modestly, made no splurge on an editorial paragraph.

ONE BRAND OF ORATORY.

The statesman gravely clears his throat, as he gravely takes the floor. To all his common folk who vote that two and two make four.

THE BOARD'S RESPONSIBILITY.

The Mayor and the members of the Board of Estimate aid Apportionment deny in somewhat heated language Governor Hughes's charge that they are responsible for the failure of this city to get new subways.

DISREGARDING BLOCK SIGNALS.

An inquiry of much importance to the traveling public has been in progress during the last year, and a report on the subject was made a few days ago to the Railway Signal Association.

SO RUNS THE WORLD AWAY.

Twelve years ago Mr. Bryan had a paramount issue upon which he confidently expected to carry every state in the Union.

A PRINCESS WHO CAN WRESTLE.

The Crown Princess of Montenegro is the champion royal lady wrestler of all Europe. Before her marriage she was ruler of the little principality of the Princess Dule in the Duchesse Jotta of Mecklenburg, Germany.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Johnker John Loudon, the Netherlands minister, called on the President and introduced Dr. H. Havincx, of Amsterdam, a member of the Holland committee co-operating in the Hudson-Fulton celebration.

THE DIPLOMATIC CORPS.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Lieutenant Colonel B. R. James, British military attaché, and the Hon. Mrs. James, who occupied the Damrosch cottage at Seal Harbor, Mount Desert, last summer, returned to Washington to-day, accompanied by their servants and the children of the family.

IN WASHINGTON SOCIETY.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Beekman Winthrop left Washington this afternoon for New York, where they will remain until the afternoon of November 3, returning to Washington in time to receive the election returns.

NEW YORK SOCIETY.

Miss Juliette Emily Hubbell, whose marriage to Mason Tyler Adams will take place this afternoon in the Tricler Presbyterian Church, gave a luncheon yesterday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bulky Hubbell, No. 1 East 4th street.

UTICA'S NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Former Private School Replaces Building Burned Eight Months Ago. Utica, N. Y., Oct. 29 (Special).—Eight months ago the Young Men's Christian Association Building, at Bleecker and Charlotte streets, was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $100,000.

SUPT. LEARY AND REPEATERS.

To the Editor of the Tribune. Sir: To-day's newspapers publish an extraordinary account of a patrolman at the Mercer street station being arrested on charges of being drunk and carrying his registered twelve gauge full uniform at two different houses on the same day.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

From the Rochester Herald (Dem.). Wherever Governor Hughes appears in the course of his speaking tour, the much advertised opposition to him seems always to be somewhere else.

OPPOSITION TO HUGHES.

From the Buffalo Express. At best he [Chanler] could be in the state only what McClellan has been in New York City—an elective candidate who is silent on this great issue.

PUBLIC SAFEGUARDS.

From the Buffalo Commercial. "The Commercial" believes that the Public Service Commissions are destined to be the most valuable safeguard of the rights of shippers, manufacturers and municipalities known in this country.

GOVERNOR HUGHES A WELSHMAN.

To the Editor of the Tribune. Sir: It has been said that Charles Evans Hughes, Governor of the State of New York, is a bigot, narrow minded, and against personal liberty.

REVISION OF SENTIMENT.

From the New York Times. Men identified with one interest or another that not long ago openly declared their intention to vote against Governor Hughes have come to their senses.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

From the New York World (Dem.). Governor Hughes has taken a public stand on Wall Street gambling and the regulation of the Stock Exchange that leaves Mr. Chanler the only gubernatorial candidate who is silent on this great issue.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1908.

This newspaper is owned and published by the Tribune Association, a New York corporation, office: 15 Nassau street, New York.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

FOREIGN.—Rear Admiral Enomy landed at Anoy and called on the Imperial Chinese commissioners; sixteen hundred men had shove liberty, but were not allowed to enter the city.

DOMESTIC.

Mr. Taft addressed two great audiences in Buffalo, praising the friendship for labor and denouncing the Gompers-Bryan programme; earlier in the day he spoke with James S. Sherman in Utica.

CITY.

Stocks were higher. Chairman Hitchcock of the Republican National Committee gave out his official prediction, claiming 325 electoral votes for Taft.

THE WEATHER.

Indications for to-day: Fair; northwest winds. The temperature yesterday: Highest, 57 degrees; lowest, 42.

THE JUDGESHIPS.

The judiciary issue which the Republican party presents in this city this year is the one with which its name has come more and more to be identified in recent years—namely, the removal of good judges on the bench.

REGROUPING THE NATIONS.

The attitude of Italy in the Balkan matter has excited some comment, as supposedly indicating her drift away from the Triple Alliance and toward some other connection.
