

MORSE TRIAL TO END ON ELECTION NIGHT

DEFENCE WILL SUM UP ALL DAY TO-MORROW.

Jurors Will Have Chance to Vote and Then Case Will Proceed—Mrs. Curtis Called to Stand.

The defence in the Morse-Curtis trial before Judge Hough in the United States District Court rested its case yesterday, and the prosecution, after calling two witnesses in rebuttal, did likewise.

The lawyers for the defence will sum up to-morrow, using the whole day. United States Attorney Henry L. Stimson will review the prosecution's case on Tuesday, Judge Hough will charge the jury and the case will go to the jury late Tuesday afternoon.

Judge Hough will break all precedents by convening court on Election Day. The jurors will be allowed to go to the polls early on Tuesday morning in charge of deputy marshals.

The defence in the Morse-Curtis trial before Judge Hough in the United States District Court rested its case yesterday, and the prosecution, after calling two witnesses in rebuttal, did likewise.

The lawyers for the defence will sum up to-morrow, using the whole day. United States Attorney Henry L. Stimson will review the prosecution's case on Tuesday, Judge Hough will charge the jury and the case will go to the jury late Tuesday afternoon.

Judge Hough will break all precedents by convening court on Election Day. The jurors will be allowed to go to the polls early on Tuesday morning in charge of deputy marshals.

The defence in the Morse-Curtis trial before Judge Hough in the United States District Court rested its case yesterday, and the prosecution, after calling two witnesses in rebuttal, did likewise.

The lawyers for the defence will sum up to-morrow, using the whole day. United States Attorney Henry L. Stimson will review the prosecution's case on Tuesday, Judge Hough will charge the jury and the case will go to the jury late Tuesday afternoon.

Judge Hough will break all precedents by convening court on Election Day. The jurors will be allowed to go to the polls early on Tuesday morning in charge of deputy marshals.

The defence in the Morse-Curtis trial before Judge Hough in the United States District Court rested its case yesterday, and the prosecution, after calling two witnesses in rebuttal, did likewise.

The lawyers for the defence will sum up to-morrow, using the whole day. United States Attorney Henry L. Stimson will review the prosecution's case on Tuesday, Judge Hough will charge the jury and the case will go to the jury late Tuesday afternoon.

Judge Hough will break all precedents by convening court on Election Day. The jurors will be allowed to go to the polls early on Tuesday morning in charge of deputy marshals.

The defence in the Morse-Curtis trial before Judge Hough in the United States District Court rested its case yesterday, and the prosecution, after calling two witnesses in rebuttal, did likewise.

The lawyers for the defence will sum up to-morrow, using the whole day. United States Attorney Henry L. Stimson will review the prosecution's case on Tuesday, Judge Hough will charge the jury and the case will go to the jury late Tuesday afternoon.

Judge Hough will break all precedents by convening court on Election Day. The jurors will be allowed to go to the polls early on Tuesday morning in charge of deputy marshals.

The defence in the Morse-Curtis trial before Judge Hough in the United States District Court rested its case yesterday, and the prosecution, after calling two witnesses in rebuttal, did likewise.

Rado told her, she testified, that the government had put the screws on all the bank's employees and that they did not dare to go anywhere for fear they were being followed.

Mr. Stimson did not cross-examine Mrs. Curtis, but Mr. Olcott asked her if she had not been called to the witness stand by Mr. Littlefield, as counsel for Mr. Morse, and not by him as counsel for her husband.

Miss Kate A. Wilson, private secretary to Mr. Morse, whose name has figured so largely in the trial, then took the stand.

Mr. Olcott asked her if she had not been called to the witness stand by Mr. Littlefield, as counsel for Mr. Morse, and not by him as counsel for her husband.

Miss Kate A. Wilson, private secretary to Mr. Morse, whose name has figured so largely in the trial, then took the stand.

Mr. Olcott asked her if she had not been called to the witness stand by Mr. Littlefield, as counsel for Mr. Morse, and not by him as counsel for her husband.

Miss Kate A. Wilson, private secretary to Mr. Morse, whose name has figured so largely in the trial, then took the stand.

Mr. Olcott asked her if she had not been called to the witness stand by Mr. Littlefield, as counsel for Mr. Morse, and not by him as counsel for her husband.

Miss Kate A. Wilson, private secretary to Mr. Morse, whose name has figured so largely in the trial, then took the stand.

Mr. Olcott asked her if she had not been called to the witness stand by Mr. Littlefield, as counsel for Mr. Morse, and not by him as counsel for her husband.

Miss Kate A. Wilson, private secretary to Mr. Morse, whose name has figured so largely in the trial, then took the stand.

Mr. Olcott asked her if she had not been called to the witness stand by Mr. Littlefield, as counsel for Mr. Morse, and not by him as counsel for her husband.

Miss Kate A. Wilson, private secretary to Mr. Morse, whose name has figured so largely in the trial, then took the stand.

Mr. Olcott asked her if she had not been called to the witness stand by Mr. Littlefield, as counsel for Mr. Morse, and not by him as counsel for her husband.

Miss Kate A. Wilson, private secretary to Mr. Morse, whose name has figured so largely in the trial, then took the stand.

Mr. Olcott asked her if she had not been called to the witness stand by Mr. Littlefield, as counsel for Mr. Morse, and not by him as counsel for her husband.

Miss Kate A. Wilson, private secretary to Mr. Morse, whose name has figured so largely in the trial, then took the stand.

Mr. Olcott asked her if she had not been called to the witness stand by Mr. Littlefield, as counsel for Mr. Morse, and not by him as counsel for her husband.

Miss Kate A. Wilson, private secretary to Mr. Morse, whose name has figured so largely in the trial, then took the stand.

Mr. Olcott asked her if she had not been called to the witness stand by Mr. Littlefield, as counsel for Mr. Morse, and not by him as counsel for her husband.

GALE-BOUND BOATS OFF The Yale and Others Get Away—The City of Columbus in Peri.

Chatham, Mass., Oct. 31.—All of the steamers in the stormbound fleet that anchored west of Handkerchief Lightship and behind Monomoy Point to escape the fury of yesterday's gale got away early to-day.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

The steamer City of Columbus, from Boston for Savannah, was the last to get away, and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was seen to be on its way.

PICKED BY 11, INNOCENT. Brooklyn Women Identify Wrong Man as Miss Masten's Assailant.

James Somers, the young Englishman held for robbing Mrs. Eben G. Adams, of New Rochelle, of her diamond earrings, confessed yesterday to Detective Busby, of the Brooklyn Headquarters, according to the police, that he assaulted Miss Masten in the home of Summerfield McLean.

McLean's daughter, Miss Masten, was on her way to the Metropolitan Police station on October 12, for having been identified by eleven women, including the victim, as the assailant of Miss Masten.

Detective Busby, who arrested McGonigle, was not fully convinced that he was the real culprit. Seeing Somers's picture in a newspaper, and noting the resemblance, he accused Somers of the assault, and the detective says he confessed.

McGonigle was not released last night because there is a charge of illegal registration against him. He was released thirteen months ago from the Elmira Reformatory, where he served a second term for attempting to shoot a Brooklyn girl who had jilted him.

Young McGonigle was accused of assaulting, binding and robbing Miss Masten while he was in the McLean home for the ostensible purpose of examining it with a view to making a purchase.

McGonigle's photograph in the Rogues' Gallery as that of the guilty man. The next day he was arrested, and nine women who saw the ostensible purchaser of the McLean home agreed with her, Miss Masten also identified him.

Detective Busby recovered a revolver and a diamond locket and chain, taken from the home of Mr. McLean.

MORE S. O. REORGANIZATION RUMORS. Reappearance of Rockefeller at No. 26 Broadway Revives Old Story.

Reports that the reorganization of the Standard Oil Company is soon to be effected have been revived by the appearance of John D. Rockefeller, at his office several times within the last few weeks.

It is understood, however, on fairly good authority that no definite action in the matter of reorganization is likely to be taken until final disposition shall have been made of the various suits now pending against the corporation.

According to the general understanding, the capital stock will in the reorganization be broken about for the present $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 or $300,000,000.

FOUR MEN ROB HAINES'S COUNSEL. One Lulls Joseph Shay's Son to Sleep While Partners Ransack House.

Joseph A. Shay, of Cedarhurst, Long Island, one of the lawyers for the Hains brothers, was roused from sleep early yesterday morning by four masked burglars, who, after frightening Shay, his wife and her aged father and mother into submission, ransacked the house and escaped with nearly $3,000 worth of jewelry and silverware.

Mrs. Jacob Hamburger, Shay's mother-in-law, was beaten over the head with a revolver and rendered unconscious. When Mr. and Mrs. Shay rushed to her room they were confronted with drawn revolvers. Two of the men guarded the family while the others searched the house.

One of the guards amused himself by trotting Mr. Shay's two-year-old son on his knees and lulling him to sleep. Mr. Shay, however, escaped a diamond ring worth several hundred dollars in his mouth.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE. MINIATURE ALMANAC.

Sunrise 6:30; Sunset 4:57; Moon sets 11:27; Moon's age 7; HIGH WATER. A. M.—Sandy Hook 12:25; Gov. Island 12:45; Hell Gate 2:30; P. M.—Sandy Hook 12:54; Gov. Island 1:10; Hell Gate 3:04.

WIRELESS REPORTS. The Bilher, reported as 170 miles east of Sandy Hook at 12:30 a. m. yesterday, is expected to dock about 8 a. m. to-day.

The Finland, reported as 75 miles east of Sandy Hook at 1 p. m. yesterday, is expected to dock about 2 p. m. to-day.

J. D. CARROLL TAKES THE STAND.

Joseph D. Carroll, treasurer of the New York Contracting Company, testified about giving Mr. Morse a $7,000 bonus in connection with a loan made to the company to finance its "New Haven Improvement."

Mr. Carroll said he understood the loan was made by the bank and not by Mr. Morse personally, and he supposed the profits went to the bank. Mr. Stimson asked the witness if he did not know that it was illegal to give a bonus to a national bank officer to obtain a loan.

Mr. Carroll replied in the negative. Dr. Michael Chirug, a physician, testified that he was in the National Bank of North America in March of this year to see Charles A. Hanna, the receiver. Mr. Morse was there, and he heard Mr. Rado say: "We have got him on the run, and, by —, we will keep him on the run."

Mr. Rado had denied this on the stand. The defence also called Louis J. Fowler, a Deputy Controller of the Currency, but Mr. Fowler refused to tell of any of the correspondence between the Controller of the Currency and the bank examiner for this district in regard to the National Bank of North America on the ground that it was against the policy of the office, as the communications were all confidential.

Mr. Littlefield charged that the Controller of the Currency had supplied the prosecution with records and data, and insisted that the defence ought to have the same right, but Judge Hough overruled him.

The defence tried through Charles F. Kellogg, an expert accountant who had examined the books of the National Bank of North America, to get in some evidence in regard to the loans made to other directors of the bank. John Wallace and E. A. Manlove, two stock brokers with whom Mr. Morse had done business, gave no material testimony. Then the defence rested.

MOXEY CALLED IN REBUTTAL.

In the rebuttal the prosecution called Edward P. Moxey, the government's figure expert, who introduced a table showing the total loans and discounts of the National Bank of North America from February 1 to October 16 of last year, together with the Morse loans and the percentage of the Morse loans to the entire amount. This table follows:

Table with 4 columns: Loans and discounts, Morse loans, Percentage, and Date. Rows include February, March, April, May, June, July, August, September, and October (to 16th).

Mr. Moxey said this table included the notes and loans on which Mr. Morse was liable as a result of his verbal guarantee. The prosecution also introduced another table showing the percentage of the Morse loans to the total resources of the bank over the same period covered in the first table. These figures follow:

Table with 3 columns: Resources, Percentage of Morse, and Date. Rows include January, February, March, April, May, June, July, August, September, and October (to 16th).

Then the prosecution rested and Judge Hough adjourned court until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

BANK TO VOTE ON CAPITAL INCREASE.

The stockholders of the European-American Bank will hold a meeting on November 17 to vote on a proposition to increase the capital stock from $100,000 to $200,000.

JUSTICE GERARD ON THE P. S. C.

Granting "Met." Injunction, Says Courts Have Not Been Superseded in Power.

In granting the application made by Demetrius Trinitaphyllides and his partner for a temporary injunction to restrain the receivers of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company from storing cars in the street in front of the resort conducted by the plaintiffs yesterday, Justice Gerard, of the Supreme Court, referred to the Public Service Commission.

On account of the fires which have destroyed during the last few years the barns used for the storage of cars, the commission permitted the receivers to use a portion of Eighth avenue, near the Polo Grounds, for that purpose. Trinitaphyllides and his partner objected to the practice, on the ground that it interfered with their business.

Justice Gerard in his decision dismisses the explanation of the receivers that they have not sufficient barn space for the storage of cars. As to the receivers' contention that the plaintiffs should have gone to the Public Service Commission for relief Justice Gerard says:

"What relief can the plaintiffs hope for from the very body which ordered these cars stored in front of their little place of business, from the body which now, through its counsel, strenuously asserts its right to occupy the street without compensation to plaintiffs? The proposition now advanced that the plaintiffs cannot appeal to the courts cannot be regarded seriously. However great the advance in government by commission, we have not reached the point where the courts have been ousted of their right to protect the private citizen in the enjoyment of his property."

BROTHERS CONCERN IN TROUBLE.

Bankruptcy Petition Filed Against Balanced Cable Crane Company.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday against the Balanced Cable Crane Company, of No. 135 William street, of which William F. Brothers is the head.

Mr. Brothers recently brought charges against Colonel Goethals, alleging that the latter discriminated in making contracts for cranes to be used on the Panama Canal work. The charges against Colonel Goethals were dismissed.

There are eleven creditors, whose claims are as follows: H. H. Breadfoot Company, balance due on machines, $1,185; Seabury C. Mastick, professional services, $388; the Iron C. Clark Publishing Company, of Hilo, advertising, $1,289.83; Engineering News Publishing Company, advertising, $39.90; Engineering Magazine Company, advertising, $85; Arthur Sherer, professional services, $1,000.33; McFarland Company, metal supplies, $82.45; Technical Literature Company, advertising, $100; Thomas S. Green, professional services, $175; Security Audit Company, of New York, professional services, $388, and the Christiana Machine Company, of Pennsylvania, for machines, $525.18. The petitioners say the company admits insolvency and expresses willingness to be adjudged a bankrupt.

SEVEN MORE HUGHES SPEECHES.

Governor Hughes will come to New York to-morrow, speak at seven meetings in the evening, and stay over the night at the Hotel Hamilton.

The Governor will speak at the following places: 215th street and White Plains avenue, open air meeting; Camp Taft, 125th street and Third avenue; Bohemian National Hall, No. 221 East 73d street; 23d street and Eighth avenue, open air meeting; 13th street and Eighth avenue, open air meeting; Clinton Hall, No. 151 Clinton street, and Hamilton Fish Park.

W. R. HEARST SUED FOR $300,000.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Three suits, for $100,000 each, against William R. Hearst and others were begun in the Superior Court to-day by Jacob J. Kern, Democratic candidate for State's Attorney of Cook County. The suits are based on editorials, cartoons and stories printed in papers controlled by Mr. Hearst and attacking Kern.

GAYNOR STAYS ANDREWS CASE.

The fight made by Constant A. Andrews to get a trial by a jury in Westchester County to determine whether his wife, Blanche L. Andrews, an inmate of Bloomfield Asylum, is insane, was blocked yesterday at White Plains by an order of Justice Gaynor, of the Appellate Division, who granted a stay of proceedings. Mrs. Andrews is the owner of property worth about $300,000. Justice Tompkins directed last week that a justice and jury at the opening of the November term of the Supreme Court at White Plains on Monday next pass on the question. Yesterday's order stays that decision.

THINKS PAPER STRIKE NEARLY OVER.

Watertown, N. Y., Oct. 31.—President J. T. Carey of the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, who returned to-day from Grand Mere, Quebec, where he has been investigating the strike situation in the Laurentide mill, said that an agreement among the union, the International Paper Company and the independent mills would probably be reached in a few days. The strikes in the independent mills have all been settled except in three cases.

THAYER HEADS WESTERN ELECTRIC.

H. B. Thayer, formerly vice-president of the Western Electric Company, has been elected president, succeeding E. M. Barton, who becomes chairman of the board. H. A. Halligan, formerly secretary, and F. R. Welles have been elected vice-presidents, and William P. Sidley has been elected vice-president and general counsel. George C. Pratt has been appointed secretary. The new president will make his headquarters in this city, where most of the administrative work of the company will in future be carried on.

OCEAN TRIP TO BOSTON CHEAPER.

The fare to Boston on the turbine steamers Yale and Harvard will be reduced from $26 to $26.60 on November 1. This reduced fare will apply until the close of the week, when the Yale and Harvard will be withdrawn from service. The final trip from New York for the season will be made on Saturday, November 7, and from Boston on Friday, November 6.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

Petitions in bankruptcy filed in the United States District Court yesterday follow: Involuntary against Herman S. Braun, dealer in glassware at 26 Grand street, by the Potomac Glass Company and others, whose claims for goods sold and delivered aggregate $78.82. Liabilities claimed at $400.00. Schedules for goods, fixtures of the John H. Woodbury Dermatological Institute, with branch office in Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia and St. Louis. Liabilities of about $27,500, and assets of about $10,000.

Roderick Terry, Jr., appointed receiver for A. Goldman & Sons, cloaks, No. 125 Park street, with a bond of $1,000.

Fischer & Gluckstein, of No. 121 Livingston street, voluntary liabilities $5,434.41, assets, of the Charles Strachan & Co., of 100 Park street, of the liabilities claims amounting to $1,000.

Voluntary, against Cohen & Herbert, manufacturers of boys' clothing at No. 17 Waverley Place, by the Levy Coat Pad Company and others, with a bond of $200.00. Preferential payments of $5,000 are alleged.

Stern Brothers

DIRECT ATTENTION TO THEIR LARGE ASSORTMENTS OF Women's Imported & Domestic Cloaks and Wraps. COMPRISING THIS SEASON'S MOST DESIRABLE NOVELTIES IN BROADCLOTH AND SATIN. AT $75.00, 98.50, 145.00 AND UPWARDS.

Fur & Fur Lined Coats

- PONY COATS, 50 IN. BLACK LYNX COLLAR. Value $95.00, $75.00. LONG MOIRE PONY COAT, FANCY MODEL. " 165.00, 125.00. FLAT KARAKUL COATS, XXXX QUALITY, 40 INCH. Value $110.00, $75.00. " 50 INCH. " 165.00, 125.00. COPY OF IMPORTED FANCY HUDSON SEAL COATS. AT $95.00. BLACK BROADCLOTH COATS, RUSSIAN LYNX COLLAR, SQUIRREL LINED, INCLUDING SLEEVES. $45.00.

Women's High Class Costumes

AND FANCY DEMI-TAILORED SUITS, SUITABLE FOR DINNER, CALLING AND CARRIAGE WEAR. Costumes, at $98.00, 118.00 to 285.00. Demi-Tailored Suits, " 74.50, 110.00 " 165.00. ALSO A LARGE ASSORTMENT OF MEDIUM PRICED TAILOR-MADE SUITS IN DIRECTOIRE AND EMPIRE EFFECTS IN ALL THE NEWEST SHADES.

Colored & Black Broadcloths

Important Sale of 2500 Yds. 52 and 54 inch Broadcloth, IN DESIRABLE STREET COLORINGS AND BLACK. Regular Price $2.00 Yard at $1.25.

Misses' & Small Women's Apparel

At Unusually Attractive Prices. TAILOR-MADE SUITS, of Broadcloth, Two New Models, in Fall shades, 14 and 16 yrs. Value $27.50, $17.50. DRESSES, OF IMPORTED BROADCLOTH, Copies of Foreign Models, lace yokes, 14 and 16 yrs. Value $37.50, 26.50. CAPES, OF IMPORTED BROADCLOTH, pastel shades, lined throughout with silk, interlined, 14 & 16 yrs. Value $26.50, 17.50.

A Special Importation of Household Linens

Consisting of Satin Damask Table Cloths and Napkins, At Exceptionally Low Prices. Table 2 x 2 yds, $2.10 2 x 2 1/2, $2.60 2 x 3, $3.15. Cloths 2 1/2 x 2 1/2 " 3.50 2 1/2 x 3, 4.20 2 1/2 x 3 1/2, 5.25. Napkins, to match, Doz. $2.10, 2.95. HEMST'D SATIN DAMASK DINNER & LUNCHEON SETS, TABLE CLOTH AND ONE DOZ. NAPKINS. $5.85, 6.40, 6.75. HEMSTITCHED LINEN SHEETS, Pair 3.65, 4.25, 5.75. EMB'D SCALLOPED LINEN SHEETS, " 5.90, 7.25, 9.75. HEMST'D LINEN PILLOW CASES, " 85c, 1.25, 1.50. EMB'D SCALLOPED LINEN PILLOW CASES, 1.75, 2.00, 2.75. MARSEILLES BED SPREADS, Each 1.85, 2.15, 2.70. HUCK TOWELS, HEMSTITCHED, Doz. 2.95, 3.25, 5.40. Also 3500 YDS. BLEACHED SATIN DAMASK TABLE LINEN, 72 inches wide, at 95c. Value $1.25 Yard.

Bric-a-Brac & Art Objects

BRONZES, CLOCKS, CLOCK SETS, ELECTROLIERS, MARBLES, SEVRES AND DRESDEN VASES. UNUSUALLY CHOICE SELECTIONS OF Real Bronze Figures, Busts & Groups. WILL BE OFFERED TO-MORROW. AT FROM $19.50 TO 365.00. Being 33 1/3 to 50% Below Former Prices.

Lace Curtains and Stores

At Decidedly Less Than Regular Values. RENAISSANCE & LACET ARABE } CURTAINS, AT $9.50, 12.50, 18.00. VALUES $12.50 TO 23.50 PAIR. CLUNY & FLEURY LACE } STORES, AT $4.75, 7.50, 12.75. VALUES $6.50 TO 17.50 EACH.

Boys' & Young Men's Clothing

Special Offerings. BOYS' NORFOLK AND DOUBLE-BREADED SUITS, in Navy, Serge and Cheviots, 8 to 17 yrs. $5.95. BOYS' CHESTERFIELD OVERCOATS, of All Wool Cheviots, 12 to 17 yrs. 8.45. YOUNG MEN'S SACK SUITS, suitable for College and Street Wear, in the newest shades and materials, 32 to 38 inch chest measure, $15.50, 17.50.

West Twenty-third Street

STEAMERS AT FOREIGN PORTS.

ARRIVED. Leghorn, Oct. 29—Algeria (Ger.) New York via Naples. Bristol, Oct. 31—Lancaster City (Br.) New York. Marcellis, Oct. 29—Germania (Fr.) New York via Naples. Saigon, Oct. 30—Langhais (Fr.) New York via Port Natal and Tientsin. Suez, Oct. 31—Aragonia (Ger.) New York via Algiers and Singapore. Port Said, Oct. 31—Munster Castle (Fr.) New York via Plymouth. Oct. 31, 9:45 a. m.—Philadelphia, New York for Cherbourg and Southampton (and proceeds). Florence, Oct. 28—Fannina (It.) New York via Naples and Trieste. Copenhagen, Oct. 28—Wilhelmine (Ger.) New York. SAILED. Boulogne, Oct. 31, 6 p. m.—Noordam (Dutch), from Rotterdam for New York. Bremen, Oct. 31, 6 p. m.—Barbarossa (Ger.) New York.

Park Row! Election Night!! Tribune Bulletins!!! A new and novel method of displaying election returns will be used by THE TRIBUNE. The Great Telautograph Writing in giant letters, visible across City Hall Park, will tell the story of the ballots. "Scar" The well known cartoonist, will draw original pictures "right on the screen." Direct Wires To the booth to be erected in front of the building will guarantee promptness. A 24 ft. Screen To be stretched in front of the Tribune Building can be seen for blocks. "Meet Me On Park Row."