

MR. TAFT REVIVES THE POPULARITY OF GOLF AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Here are snapshots of some well known Americans in action on the links. There are rumors that "Uncle Joe" Cannon will soon be added to the long list of the game's famous devotees.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

Playing an iron shot.

(Copyright, 1909, by Underwood & Underwood, New York.)

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

President of the United States has just holed out.

ANDREW CARNEGIE.

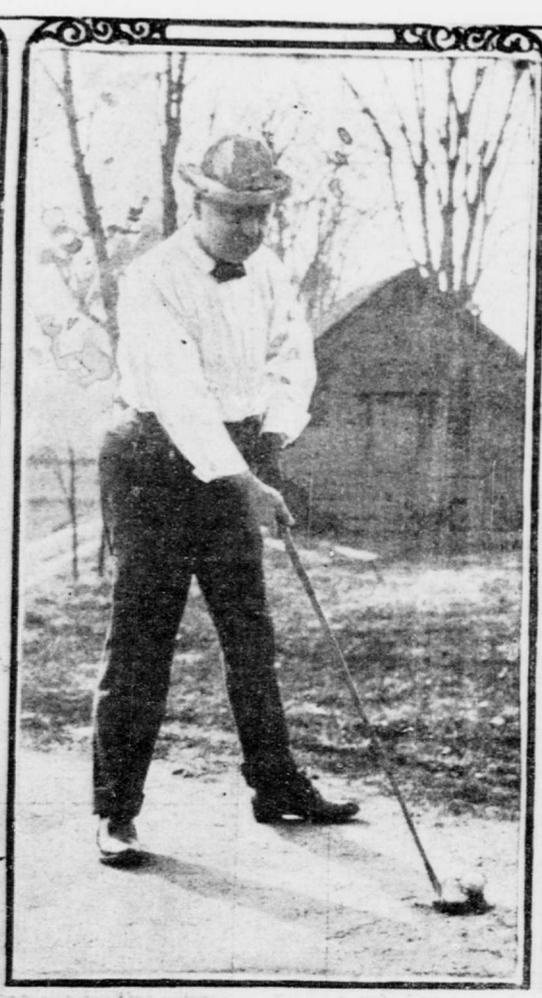

At the top of his swing.

(Copyright, 1909, by Underwood & Underwood, New York.)

NICHOLAS LONGWORTH.

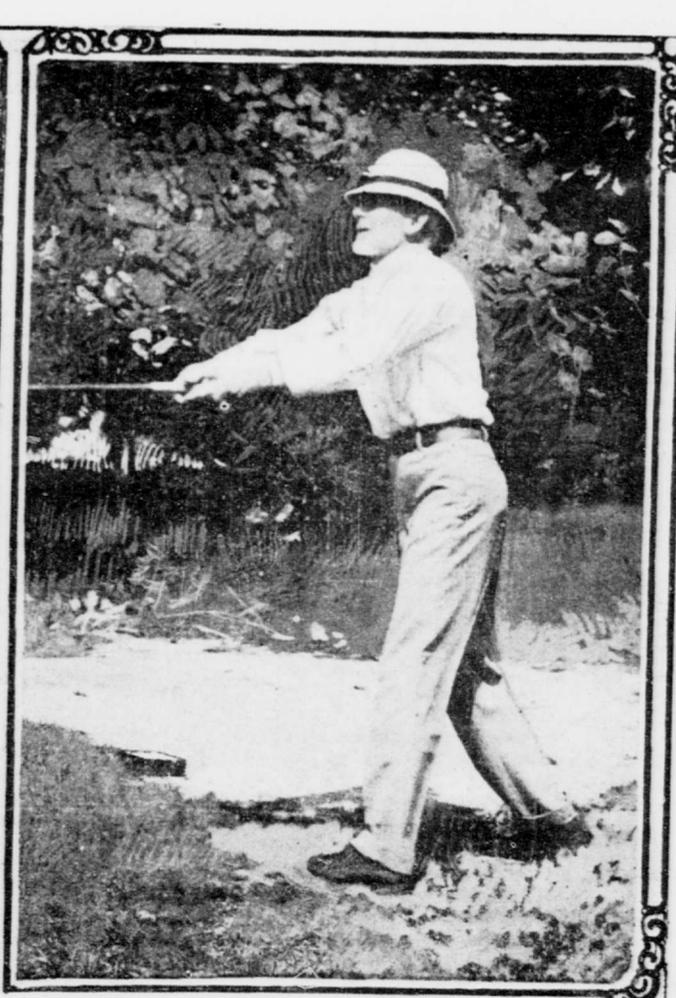

Son-in-law of ex-President Roosevelt, means to carry the green.

PHILANDER C. KNOX.

Secretary of State, addressing the ball.

(Copyright by Clineinst, Washington.)

JUSTICE JOSEPH M'KENNA.

Of the United States Supreme Court, gets a good follow through.