

VAN VLISSINGEN'S TALE

"RICH MEN KNEW SECRET"

Says He Paid Them $250,000 on Claims to Avert Exposure.

Chicago, April 27.—Peter Van Vliissingen, whose confession last winter that he had forged mortgages to the extent of $1,000,000 caused a great sensation in Chicago, where he had been known for twenty years as a leading real estate man, exploded a bombshell in the bankruptcy court here today when he stated that his confession a few months ago was antedated by four years by a confession made privately to two wealthy Chicago men who held $400,000 of his spurious paper.

Van Vliissingen's confession and his conviction on a plea of guilty last winter all occurred within twenty-four hours. He was brought back to Chicago from prison today to testify before Frank L. Wain, referee in bankruptcy, who is attempting to ascertain the valid assets of the prisoner. Van Vliissingen declared that in 1901 he was compelled to confess to Maurice Rosenfeld, of the Chicago National Bank, and Bernhard Rosenberg, a real estate dealer, that the mortgages held by them and valued at $400,000 had been forged.

"They discovered some irregularities in the paper in that year," said the witness, "and came to my office for a conference. I admitted the forgeries and said: 'We don't want to know how you got the money.' They told me at one conference, held in December, 1904, 'I told you that I must dupe others as I have duped you men.' 'We had another conference soon after,' continued the witness, 'and I proposed to settle with them. I promised to pay them from $100,000 to $200,000 a week. Altogether I paid them approximately $250,000.

Van Vliissingen said he transferred life insurance policies aggregating $40,000 to Rosenfeld, delivering them to him, and further stated that since turning them over to Rosenfeld he paid the premiums on the policies.

"Rosenfeld and Rosenberg, particularly the former," the witness stated, "kept crowding me for money until I feared the strain would kill me. Finally I warned Rosenfeld that if he didn't cease I would become so nervous that I could not duplicate more notes and that I then couldn't make money to pay him. 'I said I feared the end was near, that I didn't intend to go to prison, and—well, he knew what I meant.' Here the witness wept, but when the referee suggested that the hearing be adjourned Van Vliissingen protested, 'I want to get through. I can stand the strain.' 'Go on,' recess was taken, however.

Maurice Rosenfeld is a well known capitalist and real estate dealer, with offices on No. 171 La Salle street. He has been engaged in the real estate business in Chicago since 1887. He was a director of the Chicago National Bank and the Home Savings Bank, two of the John R. Walsh institutions which failed some years ago. He was vice-president of the United Hebrew Charities and a director of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society. In 1900 he served a term as county commissioner and is a prominent member of the Standard Club.

Bernhard Rosenberg likewise has been prominent in the real estate business and in Jewish social circles for many years.

Rosenberg and Rosenfeld have engaged an attorney and refuse to discuss the testimony. All inquiries they referred to their counsel, Lessing Rosenfeld.

NEW COAL AGREEMENT.

Terms Which Both Sides Will Probably Sign Thursday.

Scranton, Penn., April 27.—The tri-district convention of the anthracite mine workers, which is to-morrow the agreement between the men and the operators, which it is expected will be signed in Philadelphia on Thursday, met here this afternoon, organized and adjourned until to-morrow morning, when the committee of seven will lay the agreement before the delegates.

The only point that has not been definitely cleared up is President Lewis's attitude with regard to signing an agreement that does not officially recognize the union. Whether he will sign the report as plain T. L. Lewis, or whether he will let the district presidents alone affix their signatures, he will not say.

The terms of the proposed agreement have not been made public, but it is known that they are substantially as follows:

Renewal of the old agreement for another term of three years.

New work to be paid for at the same rate as old work under the standard commission's award.

The right of men to appeal to the Conciliation Board in case they are discharged with or without cause.

Commending the union to post notices and collect dues at the collieries.

Giving the men the right to take up grievances with mine officials before appealing to the Conciliation Board.

Providing for the issuing of uniform pay statements to the men.

Some of these terms are already in force in a majority of the collieries. It is practically assured that this agreement will be signed by both sides on Thursday, insuring industrial peace in the anthracite coal region for another three years.

In an address to the delegates to-day President Lewis said that the executive boards which had the responsibility of dealing with the operators knew probably better than the delegates the weaknesses of the union, and that the representatives of the men had obtained the best proposition possible under the circumstances. The terms were not all they hoped for, and the responsibility for what they did not get, he said, could be placed on those who had failed to become members of the union or permitted their membership to lapse.

DR. R. W. WILCOX GETS DIVORCE.

Justice Trux, of the Supreme Court, issued yesterday an interlocutory decree of divorce to Dr. Reynolds Wilcox, of No. 473 Madison ave., from his wife, Mrs. Frances M. Wilcox. William M. Seabury was made referee of the suit in January last, and reported to the court in favor of the plaintiff. The papers in the case were sealed.

HILDRED WINS A BLUE

THEN TAKES RED RIBBON.

Judges Reverse Decision at Opening of Brooklyn Show.

Those who were present last night at the opening of the horse show of the Brooklyn Riding and Driving Club were forced to admit that Manhattan has not a monopoly on fine horses or fair horsemen.

The first harness class of the evening brought into the ring Miss Emily Bedford with her champion chestnut mare Hildred and William H. Moore's beautiful bay mare Lady Seaton. These two were singled out from the remainder of the entries and singled around the ring together. Hildred showed remarkably well, but Lady Seaton did not stay down to wear the blue ribbon.

Hildred's triumph, however, was short lived, for in Class 8, when the horses were shown before a phaeton, Lady Seaton turned the tables and carried everything before her. She has wonderful action, and in the hands of Mrs. Blaisdell it was impossible to beat her. Hildred showed none of her customary snap in this class, and it was not a surprise when she was picked to wear the red rosette, with Mr. Moore's mare flaunting the blue. Mrs. Paul Sore's Manhattan and Dignity took the third and fourth prizes, the former in the hands of his coach and the latter driven by Mrs. Belle Beach.

Emilie Antony brought out a wonderfully perfect piece of horsemanship in the maiden saddle class. It was the little bay mare Charlton, owned by William P. Howe. She beat Mrs. Charles F. Hubbs's big chestnut mare Fantasy and John T. Spratley's popular White Oak Maid.

Mrs. J. E. Davis's bay mare Vesta Tilley has been a consistent winner this year, and in the women's saddle class she added another blue to her string. She was shown by Mrs. John Gerken. S. Taber Willett's Indian Flower carried off second honors, and Mrs. L. A. D. Percival's chestnut thoroughbred, Rookin, which proved such a devotee at Atlantic City, had to be content with a yellow.

In Class 29, for harness horses, William George Foster's beautiful bay mare Sporting Duchess was an easy winner. She made a splendid showing in the ring, defeating Miss Emily Bedford's Snaphot, which took a second, and Mrs. Charles F. Hubbs's Oakland, which wore the yellow out of the ring.

The awards follow:

Class 37 (maiden saddle class, for children 14 to 18 years of age, over 14.2 hands, up to be won twice by the same owner before it becomes his property). First, Mrs. Charles F. Hubbs's ch. m. Fantasy, ridden by James Switzer; second, James A. Farrell's ch. m. Alida, third, Mrs. J. E. Davis's bay m. Vesta Tilley, ridden by Mrs. J. E. Davis; fourth, John T. Spratley's ch. m.
