

YACHTS IN CLOSE RACE

THE NEPSI A WINNER.

Beats the Phryne Nineteen Seconds in Manhasset Regatta.

In a fresh breeze from the east-northeast, thirty-one yachts sailed a lively race on Long Island Sound yesterday.

There was some disappointment because the new Herreshoff 35-foot sloop Adventurer, lying in Larchmont Harbor, did not come out and race against the Gardania, which sailed the course alone.

A feature of the day's sport was the race between the 20-foot class of sloops. Four of them started, the Nepsy, the Phryne, the Arctide, the Scylla and the Mahaska.

The Nepsy and Phryne rounded the Matinecock buoy close together, and after a reach across the Sound to the next mark, off Scotch Cape buoy, the Nepsy was still the leader.

There was an interesting contest in the 20-foot, or "S" class, of sloops. Four of them started, the Nepsy, the Phryne, the Arctide, the Scylla and the Mahaska.

Ten yachts started in the division of the handicapped class, and they made a good showing. The Nepsy won from the Phryne by 19 seconds.

There was a dinner at the club following the opening for the season. Commodore Hazen Hoyt presided, and the other officers present were Vice-Commodore Charles M. Gould, Rear Commodore J. F. O'Rourke, Secretary R. H. Mackie and Treasurer George C. Meyer.

OCEAN RACERS SAILING INTO THE MIST FOR BERMUDA.

THE AMORITA. THE MARGARET.

Yachts Off in Ocean Race

Captain Charlie Barr Leads the Way into the Blanket of Fog with Edwin Palmer's Crusader II.

Somewhere out on the broad Atlantic, pitching and tossing in a lumpy sea, four schooners and one sloop are ploughing their way southward to the tiny island of Bermuda.

The tiny island of Bermuda, which was to have been a starter in the race, for which a cup has been offered by the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club, was delayed in making the Atlantic Yacht Club anchorage and did not start.

The yachts, with the order of start, owners, captains and guests, follow: Schooner Crusader II, owner, Edward Palmer, Atlantic Yacht Club, Start, 10:01:30; handicap, 4 hours 30 minutes.

There was nothing sensational in the start. With the same precision that he has often exercised in starting the Reliance in a cup race, Captain Charlie Barr, at the helm of Edwin Palmer's schooner Crusader II, sent that yacht across the starting line right on the signal.

Breaking out her big mainmast stay and the boom, she sailed on to the finish, reaching the line at 11:01:30. The wind was light from the northeast, with a promise of freshening.

The next yacht away was George S. Rank's Margaret, 45 seconds after the Crusader II. The schooner Amorita, owned by Dr. W. C. Baum, crossed close in the Margaret's wake.

Three hours elapsed before the fog cleared off sufficiently for the Carola and some other yachts to follow the racers down the Bay.

CHILD'S COMPLAINT GOOD.

Court Refuses to Strike Out Alleged Scandalous Matter in Estate Suit.

The application of Eversley Childs for an order to strike out alleged scandalous matter from his complaint of his brother, Irving W. Childs, in his action to remove the petitioner as trustee of their father's estate, was denied yesterday by Justice Guy.

The testator left his son Irving W. Childs the income of a trust fund of $55,000 until he reached the age of twenty-five, which would be in March, 1911.

The plaintiff charged his brother with malfeasance, and said that some of his acts as trustee had been "wrongful, fraudulent and illegal."

He alleged that there was now in the hands of his brother, as trustee, upward of $1,300,000, of which he was entitled to receive half when he reached the age of twenty-five, and that the defendant had also control of the other trust fund of $55,000.

Justice Guy refused to strike out the matter, and appointed general guardian of the estate of the testator, and said that some of his acts as trustee had been "wrongful, fraudulent and illegal."

The tract comprises two hundred lots with frontages on Spuyten Duyvil and Fieldston Roads, Danville Lane, Greystone, Waldo and Riverdale, 24th, 25th and 26th streets. Every lot sold, the total being $266,750.

MOTOR BOATS GET AWAY

START FOR BERMUDA.

Little Craft Poke Their Noses Out in Mist Covered Sea.

Led by the Insep, the 55-foot power boat of William C. Thompson, of the Shelter Island Yacht Club, four power boats, not one of them more than sixty feet over all length, started at 4:30 p. m. yesterday over the same course as the sail craft in the 60-mile race from Gravesend Bay to Bermuda.

The motorboat of the captain, James Doran, of No. 24 East 25th street, was arrested yesterday morning and arraigned in court.

Frank A. Thompson, son of Captain Thompson, captain of the City from Round Pond, Me., where Captain Thompson lived with his family, when he learned that his father had been arrested, immediately telegraphed to a lawyer to take charge of his father's body.

MUTES TELL OF DOMESTIC JARS.

Mrs. McPaul Indicates That Her Husband Uses His Hands in Many Ways.

Although she said not a word during the entire arraignment, Mrs. Michael McPaul, of No. 65 Lafayette avenue, Brooklyn, made out an eloquent case against Michael McPaul when she had him up before Magistrate Naumer, in the Myrtle avenue court, yesterday, for blacking her eye.

The McPauls are mutes, so the proceedings took the form of a furiously active pantomime.

Miss Alice Patterson, of No. 236 Myrtle avenue, a stenographer, interpreted for the court. After Mrs. McPaul had gestured and struggled for some minutes Miss Patterson said she meant that Michael had a bad temper and a fondness for drink.

The defendant replied in kind and in detail. Then Magistrate Naumer paroled him.
