

AMERICA WINS AT POLO

NINE GOALS TO FIVE.

Meadow Brook Team Takes First Match at Hurlingham.

London, June 23.—The American polo team carried off the honors in the first test match today at Hurlingham, greatly to the satisfaction of a numerous and enthusiastic body of supporters. There was little choice in horse-manship between the rival teams, but the Americans had superior ponies for following the ball and keeping the lead. Their striking was also more powerful and their bouts at long passing were more effective. They played with confidence and dash from the outset, but were forced to work strenuously for the 9 points scored against the English team. The finest horseman, F. Devereux Milburn was the best all-around player on the American side. Harry Payne Whitney was a most resourceful captain, and J. M. Waterbury, Jr., was always where he was wanted.

The English team was weakened by the withdrawal of C. Miller at the last moment and the substitution of Lord Wodehouse for him. Experts assert that it would have been stronger if Mr. Buckmaster had not been disabled and if Mr. Lanowoe had been chosen as fourth man. Lord Wodehouse played with spirit, and was apparently as good as the others. Mr. Freake was a particularly strong player, and Messrs. Wilson and Nickalls did everything possible to win the match.

Experts agree that the horses had much to do with determining the result, especially as the ground was soft and slippery after the rain. Mr. Whitney was seen selecting and breeding ponies for a long time for this contest, and the victory was peculiarly his own, as he had prepared the way for it scientifically.

About six thousand spectators witnessed the match and cheered every fine play, whether the mount was American or English, and good feeling prevailed. The result of the second match will not be a foregone conclusion, whether the English team be strengthened or kept as it was today.

(By The Associated Press.)

London, June 23.—The first of the games for the American polo cup was won today at Hurlingham by the Meadow Brook team of Long Island by a score of 9 goals to 5. The London season is at its height, and the great crowd of spectators was composed almost entirely of the fashionable set, including many prominent Americans. Several of the younger members of the royal family occupied the pavilion on one side of the oval, while in the club stand opposite were hundreds of English polo veterans, and Foxhall Keene, Craig Wadsworth and other Americans. The Englishmen expected defeat, and all conceded that the American team was the finest ever seen on the polo ground. The Englishmen were piling up more goals in the last ten minutes, and the Americans who had voluntarily let down in their game somewhat, added one, making the final score 9 to 5. Devereux Milburn made two goals for the American players, while the other seven were scored by L. Waterbury and J. M. Waterbury, Jr. The combination play and striking power of the Meadow Brook team, which was reported on Saturday, when the second match will be played, will assure the return of the polo cup to America.

The trophy will go to the team winning two out of three games. The American polo cup has been in the possession of the Hurlingham Club since 1896, and this is the third time that American players have made an effort to win it back.

ATTACK ON MYRON H. PHELPS.

Tried to Leave London Hotel, Owing to His Views Regarding India.

London, June 23.—The Daily Express, in an anonymous to-day that Myron H. Phelps, the New York lawyer, who is regarded as a leader of the agitation against British rule in India, had been ordered to quit the Waldorf Hotel, London, publishers an editorial article expressing the hope that Mr. Phelps would be able to visit India, will take steps to prevent Mr. Phelps' intended trip to India.

The Express yesterday published a long article denouncing Mr. Phelps as a preacher of sedition in India. Mr. Phelps replied with a long letter, printed in the Express to-day, repudiating his anti-British intentions and explaining his views. In a postscript he says: "My writing of the above was suggested by urgent demands that I vacate my rooms in this hotel. I am reminded of the English traditions of hospitality and fair play, and I marvel that even on a newspaper trial I am to be condemned without a hearing."

ITALY'S POLICY ONE OF PEACE.

Rome, June 23.—Sigmor Tittoni, the Foreign Minister, said in the Chamber of Deputies to-day that the relations of Italy with England and France were excellent and that the Triple Alliance was unshakable. He also stated that the Italian Government was not directed against any power, and that Italy's policy was one of peace. He denied that the Triple Alliance would be renewed before its expiration.

TURKISH LOAN OVERSUBSCRIBED.

London, June 23.—That plenty of money is available for promising new issues was shown by the fact that the Turkish loan of $20,000,000 at 4 per cent issued this morning, was oversubscribed three times in three hours. The premium has advanced one-half.

A RUSSO-AMERICAN AGREEMENT.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—The American Embassy delivered to-day to the Russian Foreign Office the ratification of the agreement between the United States and Russia, which was negotiated by Secretary Hay in 1904, to regulate the position of corporations or stock companies and other commercial associations in the Russian coast. The agreement, which was recently ratified by the United States Senate. The failure to ratify the agreement at an earlier date has been the cause of considerable embarrassment to American corporations trading in Siberia, and several important litigations have resulted.

BAPTIST LAND SEIZED IN NIGERIA.

Lagos, British West Africa, June 23.—The native chief of Oyo, in Nigeria, who recently expelled the Rev. S. D. Pincock, a missionary, has now seized the land belonging to the Baptist mission. It appears that the chief drove out Mr. Pincock owing to the latter's protests regarding the chief's cruelty toward his people.

NEW WEATHER SIGNAL CODE.

London, June 23.—The American and European delegates voted unanimously to-day for an international system of maritime weather signals. The new code will cause changes in the existing American and European methods of signaling weather conditions, and as the American Weather Bureau has authorized a change of signals without reference to the congress it is expected that this international code will be adopted at the next session on the American coast. The other nations agree to make the change as soon as the necessary legislation is passed. The commission is now considering the best means of obtaining weather reports from sea by means of wireless telegraphy from liners and warships.

CHIEF OF DAVAO MUTINEERS KILLED.

Manila, June 23.—Lieutenant Noble, with a company of the 24th Constabulary, struck part of the Davao mutineers on June 18 and killed Sergeant Academia, leader of the mutiny. In the fight which followed Sergeant Newman, of the American force, who shot the chief, was wounded. The pursuit of the mutineers, who have divided into two bands, continues, and five of the rebels have been captured at various points, leaving sixteen, two of whom are wanted, to be accounted for.

REBELS AT GATES OF FEZ.

Battle Expected—Europeans Ready to Flee from City.

Tanger, June 23.—The position of Mulai Hafg was described as desperate on June 20. Roghi's forces, which had defeated the Sultan's army twenty miles from Fez, were then at the gates of the city. Communication between Fez and Mequinez is impossible, routes being hemmed in by the rebels. It is reported that Glauco, the powerful chief of the Sultan's army, has largely deserted his Sultanate, and has fled to the west. Mulai Hafg, disregarding the advice of the viziers, marshaled his remaining troops at the capital and sent them out under the command of Cherqui to engage the Pretender. If Cherqui is defeated, the viziers probably will depose Mulai Hafg and proclaim one of his brothers, possibly Abd-el-Aziz, Sultan of the empire.

The situation of foreigners at Fez is described as critical, practically no troops having been left in the capital. Europeans are ready to flee. The series of raids conducted by the Sultan's rebellious brother, Mulai Kebir, who, at the head of the Zouave tribesmen, is now marching on Mequinez, complicates the situation.

CUBA'S BAD FINANCE.

Budget May Not Be Passed—The Lottery Bill Held Up.

Havana, June 23.—The apparent improbability of the acceptance of the national budget by Congress caused the House committee to which the budget was referred is not yet ready to report, and there are only eight days remaining for the submission of the report, its discussion by the House and reference to the Senate.

Some Congress authorities advance the theory that in default of acceptance of the proposed budget the budget for the previous year remains operative. The Executive committee to which the deficiencies of special laws is now decreed. But this apparently is in direct violation of an article in the constitution which declares that the budget is valid only during the year for which it was designed. It has been suggested that Congress remain in session until the budget is passed, but the constitution says that it must pass not later than July 1.

The question is further complicated by the fact that the Constitution provides for the submission of the budget to Congress in November. This, it is said, was rendered impossible by the continuance of the Government of Intervention, which left insufficient time for its preparation, submission and discussion by Congress.

The alternative is to throw all the responsibility for the national expenditures in the coming year on President Gomez's administration. The budget is not the only question of great importance left for determination for the final few days of Congress. The national lottery bill, on which the government depends to supply the deficiency of $2,000,000, and other important measures are deadlocked in committee.

BANKS ATTACK BUDGET

Lords Rothschild and Avebury Denounce Proposals.

London, June 23.—There was a great meeting in the City this afternoon to support the letter signed by nearly forty London bankers and merchants sent to Premier Asquith on May 14 protesting against the provisions of the budget. It was resolved that the "main proposals of the budget weaken security in all private property, discourage enterprise and thrift and would prove seriously injurious to the commerce and industry of the country." The gathering, which numbered nearly a thousand persons, was representative of all phases of City life. It was also wholly non-political, and many of the most prominent men present were Radicals.

Lord Rothschild presided. He said that the meeting was due to the unsatisfactory reply of Premier Asquith to their representations on May 14, and that it was desired to make quite clear that the City objected to the budget proposals, which "introduce an innovation in the history of English finance," adding: "These proposals are framed not with the view of a possible surplus but the certainty of a very large surplus, which will not be devoted to the old sinking fund, but to the new theory called the 'development fund,' the whole principle of which is to increase the national debt, and shows that the government wishes to establish socialism and collectivism."

Lord Avebury and Sir Felix Schuster followed Lord Rothschild and spoke in a similar vein. The resolution was carried by acclamation. Lord Avebury declared that the budget was unsound and unjust, that it would drive capital out of the country, and that in the long run the poor would be the greatest sufferers from it.

OBITUARY.

ORRIN S. WOOD.

Orrin S. Wood, who superintended the construction of the Philadelphia telegraph line between New York and Philadelphia in 1848 and opened the first telegraph office in this city at Hanover street and Exchange Place, died at his home in Turner, N. Y., late Tuesday night at the age of ninety-one years. He had been out of active business for the last thirty-five years. Mr. Wood was born at Sherburne, N. Y. He became in 1844 an operator on the original line between Baltimore and Washington, studying under S. H. Morse. After completing the New York-Philadelphia line he built a line between Albany and Buffalo. In 1847 he was instrumental in establishing communication with Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Montreal and Quebec. Between that year and 1866 he was superintendent of the Montreal Telegraph Company. Then he became associated with Z. G. Simmons, of Kenosha, Wis., in the construction of a system of telegraph lines northwest of Chicago, which, when completed, was sold to Jay Gould and included later in the Western Union lines. Mr. Wood had a home in this city at No. 230 Central Park West.

THE CORPORATION TAX.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: Consider for a moment the effect of the proposed 2 per cent tax on the surplus of corporations. Here are two shoe factories side by side in this city, both employing the same capital and both having the same surplus. By the proposed act the shoe factory which is incorporated is incorporated is elected by Congress to be taxed to make up the deficiencies in government expenses caused by extravagance, while the neighboring shoe factory, which is not incorporated, is not called upon to pay a penny. There may be one hundred times as many factories which are not incorporated as there are of those incorporated; thus the gross injustice of this scheme may be seen at a glance.

THE WEATHER REPORT.

Official Record and Forecast.—Washington, June 23.—There has been little change in the general pressure distribution over the United States and adjacent seas, and the weather remains practically unchanged from that prevailing on Tuesday. The warm weather continues along the Atlantic seaboard and generally in the interior of the country east of the plains. In the Southwest, temperatures of 90 degrees were again reported from Southern New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, the District of Columbia and Virginia. There were showers and thunderstorms within the last twenty-four hours in the plains states, the Mississippi valley and all districts east thereof. The weather has become somewhat cooler in the Northwestern States.

CONCERNING ANGELS AND EAGLES.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: In the report from Dayton, Ohio, of presentation of the Wright brothers, the inscription on the reverse side of the United States medals is given as "Shall mount up with wings as angels." Should not the word "eagles" have been used in the place of "angels," thus making the quotation agree with Scripture (see Isaiah xl, 31)? Eagles, we know, are not winged birds, but it is a not known certainly that angels do, it being a not known question whether they have wings. The Scripture word I think much the better one.

GET KAISER'S TROPHY

NEW YORK SINGERS TIE.

Divide Holding of Cup with Philadelphia.

That silver statuette of the Minnesinger which the German Emperor sent over here nine years ago with his compliments to the Northeastern Singers of America will remain in New York awhile. The Concordia Gesang-Verein, which has been taking care of it for the last three years, has been taken from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and it was only a question of taking it back again for keeps. The five judges in the contest of the twenty-second national singfest of the bund thought differently, however, after hearing the Kreutzer Quartet Club, of No. 69 St. Mark's Place, Manhattan, get together on Tuesday night in the two songs selected for the competition.

The joy of thousands of supporters of the New York organization who poured into Ulmer Park yesterday for the picnic and midsummer night's festival of the bund was tempered, however, by the announcement that the work of their favorites had resulted in only half a victory, for when the five judges of the contest got together after a long session and compared notes it was found that the Kreutzer Quartet Club and the Jünger Männerchor had scored the same number of points, 56, out of a possible total of 60. Under the rules of the contest the winning organization takes possession of the cup for three years, the interval between the festivals of the bund, until some organization wins it twice; so after some delay yesterday it was agreed to let the Kreutzer Quartet Club hold it for the first half of that period, when it will be turned over to the safekeeping of the Philadelphia organization.

SECOND PLACE FOR NEWARK.

The Männer Gesang-Verein Germania, of Newark, was the next best of the singing organizations in competition for the trophy. Its score was 54 points. The Concordia, of Wilkes-Barre, was a point behind, and the Gesang-Verein Arion, of Baltimore, was tied with 52 points. So nearly equal in excellence was the performance of the competing organizations that the judges had a hard task in arriving at their conclusion.

OTHER CONTESTS CLOSE.

New York and vicinity also did pretty well besides getting the custody of the Kaiser prize for a year and a half. At the first contest, in Brooklyn, in 1900, on the occasion of the Singers' fiftieth anniversary jubilee, they were paired with Brooklyn, and yesterday they evened up with New York. However, the Quakers got some consolation in the announcement that the next triennial fest would be held in their own city, getting the event beyond the Philadelphia hands.
