Yankees Win in Tenth

It took ten innings for the Yankees to beat Washington at American League Park yesterday, but for that reason perhaps the victory was the more appreciated by the good sized crowd in attendance...

Charlie Smith was in the box for Washington for nine innings and pitched a strong, heady game, so much so that the Yankees made only five hits off his delivery...

Stallings sent Manning out to pitch for the Yankees, and he went along smoothly enough for seven innings. The need for a hit in the seventh inning, however, made Stallings decide to send Laporte to the bat for Manning and depend on Quinn to pitch the game out...

The Giants and the Superbas took advantage of their holiday to visit American League Park, and Larry Doyle, not content with being idle, insisted on a game with the Yankees...

It looked as if Washington might win the game in the ninth inning, as Quinn found himself in a bad place with the bases full on a single, an error by Smith, however, popped up a single to Chase, and the agony was over...

The Yankees then went in and won the game. With Sweeney out, Laporte drove a single to center, and after Chase had fouled out, Elberfeld came along with a timely drive. Chase beat out an infield hit, filling the bases, and Engle was helped to knock the cover off the ball...

ST. LOUIS, 2; CHICAGO, 0. Chicago, July 1.—St. Louis continued its winning streak to-day by defeating Chicago by a score of 2 to 0. Peley had the losers at his mercy at all times, and did not allow a hit until the seventh inning...

DETROIT, 9; CLEVELAND, 3. Cleveland, July 1.—Cleveland was easy for Detroit today, losing by a score of 9 to 3, largely due to the ineffective pitching of Berger, who lasted only two innings. Flick got back into the game after a long absence and played well. Six Detroit hits bunched with three Cleveland errors in the second inning netted Detroit six runs, practically deciding the game...

MORGAN LEADS FIELD

SHOWS OLD TIME FORM.

Fine Golf on the Apawamis Club Links—Ninety-eight Starters.

Fine golf over a course in well high perfect condition furnished an interesting preliminary to the annual invitation golf tournament at the Apawamis Club yesterday. W. Fellowes Morgan, Jr., of those whose home grounds in Baltusrol, showed a flash of his last year's form by leading the field in the thirty-six hole test, with rounds of 74 and 78 for 152, eight strokes better than J. T. McMurtry, of the home club, his closest rival...

Out of an entry of one hundred and forty-one there were ninety-eight starters, and all save eleven returned cards. Jerome D. Travers, of Montclair, the national champion, had a fine round, but he failed to put in an appearance. White, Findlay S. Douglas was another regretted absentee during the day, although the former title holder managed to reach the club in the evening in time to assist the committee in making the drawings for match play...

When the last card had been returned it was found that Joseph Knapp, of the home club, the former crack player, shot and C. W. Innes, of Wyckoff, were tied for last place in the first sixteen, with scores of 168. They will settle the deadlock the first thing this morning. Charles Seely, of Wee Burn, made his first appearance in competition after several months, and did well to finish in third place with 162, getting a 77 in the afternoon...

The new delegation of Philadelphians, including the new champion of that district, W. G. Pfeil, of Huntingdon Valley, were on hand. Pfeil, who handled himself well, but his townsmen, H. P. Smith and Henry W. Brown, were less fortunate. Then there was S. D. Bowers, of Brooklawn, who has his eye on the Connecticut championship next week, who had to be content with a place in the second division. Such was also the fate of Dr. Carl Martin, of the Greenwich veteran...

Always driving a home ball, Morgan had no difficulty in reaching a majority of the greens with a drive and an iron or less. His excellent direction, especially throughout the early round, kept him out of difficulty, and his 35 to the turn represented flawless golf. Coming home Morgan missed a rather short putt at the thirteenth, while on the home green his putter hit the ball twice as he was making his long drive. The ball, a trifling pool, brought up in the rough, stuff in front of the first tee. In actual distance the drive was somewhat more than three hundred yards. His card was as follows:

W. Fellowes Morgan, Jr., Baltusrol: In, 74; Out, 78; Total, 152. H. P. Smith, of the Montclair captain, who played with Morgan and qualified in the first flight with 154, played steadily. His long game has improved greatly, a striking illustration of which was shown in his play for the ninth. This hole is more than 600 yards long, yet McAdoo only needed a mashie for his third shot. Although the programme provided for but three sixes, the committee decided to put up a fourth cup. The draw for the first round of the first division follows:

THE EASTERN LEAGUE. Cincinnati, July 1.—A new rule, called for by the unionists of semi-professional players who are under contract with clubs of the semi-professional leagues of Chicago in signing contracts with national agreement clubs and violating contracts with the semi-professional clubs. The rule follows: Rule 50.—Whenever a semi-professional player signs a contract with a semi-professional club, he shall be permitted to sign such a contract with another club, provided that the national agreement club owner can enter into an agreement for the purchase or release of such a player, either for the year for which said player is under contract with such semi-professional team or for future use, with the club owner of the semi-professional team to whom the player is under contract; but in all such cases the consent of the player must be obtained before such an agreement can be entered into.

English Jockey Club Takes Action

Against American Horses.

London, July 1.—The Jockey Club adopted the following resolution to-day: "No weight shall be allotted to any horse in a handicap until he has run three times in the United Kingdom." This stringent rule obviously is an outcome of the recent influx of French and American horses, and the action of the Jockey Club in proposing and adopting it has met with considerable criticism...

The action of the English Jockey Club in adopting a rule of allotting no weights to any horse in a handicap until he has run three times in the United Kingdom, is regarded by some horsemen in this country as making for the best interests of horse racing in general. It was pointed out that foreign horses entered for the first time in the big English handicaps were allotted extreme imparts for the reason that their form was not known. The English handicapper, having only the foreign record of the horses named to base his calculations on, naturally imposed a heavy impost on those he knew nothing about. It was said further that no American owner could object to a rule which permitted the handicapper to get at a fair rating on a new entrant on the English turf.

Harvard has won the first game of the present series, and it was necessary for Yale to win the second if a third and deciding game were to be played. Knowing this, and also knowing that the redoubtable Hicks was to pitch for the Crimson, Yale men, graduates and undergraduates alike, not only bought tickets for the second game, but also bought and paid for seats for a third game, which might never have been necessary. "The seats for the game this afternoon, please," said one of the "grads" to the ticket seller, "and, by the way, just give me four seats for that third game—I want good ones."

Before the second game had been called Yale men had bought up the best seats for the third one. A newspaper man asked the Yale manager how it was that he had had no tickets printed for a third game before the second was played. "Oh, I ordered them right after we lost at Cambridge," he replied. "I knew it would save a lot of trouble later."

YOUNG HORSES IN DEMAND.

T. Collins Buys a Brother to Kentucky Bean for $1,000. The sale of thoroughbred yearlings was continued yesterday in the sales paddock at Sheepshead Bay before the races began. Good prices were again realized, and the bidding was brisk and spirited. For the two or three two-year-olds were sold for a total of $7,375, an average of $14 a head. The Newcastle Stable put a price yesterday for a good looking chestnut colt by Orlando-Vassar I, securing him for $3,500. P. J. Nolan bought a colt by Kingston-Stylites for $1,300, while T. Collins took a fancy to a brother to Kentucky Bean, a chestnut colt by Star-Shoot-Kentucky Belle II, and bid him in for $1,000.

WAINWRIGHT MAY FACE CHARGES. Ex-Governor Folk Agrees to Prosecute Millionaire Fugitive in St. Louis Bribery Case. St. Louis, July 1.—Ex-Governor Joseph W. Folk said to-day that he had been "tentatively engaged" by Circuit Attorney Jones to prosecute Ellis Wainwright, millionaire brewer, now in exile in Paris, if Wainwright should return to St. Louis to stand trial. He declared with confidence that he could convict Wainwright. "Circuit Attorney Jones told me he heard that Wainwright was coming back," said Mr. Folk. "The trial, if it takes place, will revive the famous 'Coke' case which brought Folk into prominence. Wainwright is accused of having signed two joint notes with Henry Nicolaus and Charles H. Turner for $5,000 and $60,000 each, the proceeds of which are alleged to have been used to bribe members of the city legislature to pass a franchise bill for the St. Louis & Suburban Railway Company. Nicolaus successfully fought an indictment against Wainwright and Turner, since died. Wainwright was in Cairo, Egypt, when a bench warrant was issued for him on January 23, 1902. He has remained out of this country since."

ROBS CHILD ON WAY TO BANK. Father Sent Little Girl to Deposit $372—Stranger Takes Money and Runs. (By Telegraph to the Tribune.) Philadelphia, July 1.—Jacob Stern, a cigar dealer at 34 and Pine streets, sent his ten-year-old daughter to the bank to-day with $372 in cash and some checks. The child was accompanied by her three-year-old sister. On the way, in one of the busiest centres of the city, a stranger came up to the girl, saying she had $5 for her father. When she extended her hand for it, he seized her about the neck, tore the bankbook from her and fled. The little girl chased the thief for several blocks, followed by a crowd, but he managed to escape.

WYMAN REPORTS TO PRESIDENT. Washington, July 1.—A report was made to President Taft to-day by Surgeon General Wyman, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, concerning the proposition to unite in one department all the bureaus of the government now scattered through the various departments, having to do with matters pertaining to public health. The President is gathering similar reports from the other bureaus with a view to recommending action by Congress next session. The recommendations were not made public.

ROSS AGAIN VICTORIOUS. Wins Championship of Massachusetts Golf Association. West Newton, Mass., July 1.—For the fourth successive year, Alec Ross, the Brae Burn Country Club professional, won the open championship of the Massachusetts Golf Association to-day on the links of the Woodland Golf Club. His total of 250 strokes for the seventy-two holes equaled the record of last year, and set an open tournament at Englewood, the record by the closest possible margin over his brother, Donald Ross, of Oakley, who played remarkable golf during the first three rounds, and was in the lead up to the beginning of the last round. The best score of the journey for eighteen holes was made by Tom McNamara, of Wollaston, who finished second in the open championship. Of the three amateurs who competed, A. G. Lockwood, of Allston, made the best showing, finishing seventh, with a score of 268. The leading scores follow:

NOTES FROM COBALT

By Cy Warman. Cobalt, July 1.—Becoming more and more evident that the miners of Cobalt will have to look to their low grade ores for their big returns. The Conlags will double the capacity of their mill, the Nova Scotia will put in a twenty-stamp mill on their property, the O'Brien mill is nearing completion, the Muzley mill has contracts ahead which will keep them running for the next two or three years, and the McKinley-Darragh is running through seventy tons a day. The mill dumps of the various producing mines vary considerably. The Right of Way runs about 15 ounces, the Silver Queen between 20 and 40, the City of Cobalt between 40 and 50, Crown Reserve between 40 and 50, the Threeway 30, La Rose will run 100 ounces or over, and the McKinley-Darragh from 50 to 60 ounces. The Temiskaming, at their 300-foot level, have out the same rich chert that they had on the 200 and 250 foot levels. At this low depth the vein was eleven inches wide, with five inches of very rich ore. They are to build a mill here to treat their low grade ore, and it is not expected that another dividend will be paid for six months to come. Theoretically, diamond drilling would have been good results in this camp, where the veins are so small, but practically this work has given very good results. There are now seventeen drills in the camp, of which the Nipissing Diamond Drilling Company have five at work. They also have one at Miller Lake that is getting good results. The Nipissing Company are drilling one vein at the richest showings in the camp. The vein is twenty-four inches wide, of very rich ore. The Silver Cliff property, which adjoins the King Edward on the north, has been purchased by a Cobalt syndicate. From this property, which is in the diabase formation, 150 tons had been shipped by the former owners. Some rich ore is being taken out now.

The T. & H. R. Company have declared another dividend of $3 a share, which means that they have paid in dividends to date $165,656, or $133 a share. The July dividends for the camp amounted to $164,481, which brings the total dividends for the year to $149,535. The dividends declared for July were as follows: McKinley-Darragh, 5 per cent quarterly, $112,547; Nipissing, 3 per cent quarterly, and 2 per cent bonus, $60,000; Crown Reserve, 5 per cent quarterly, and 2 per cent bonus, $60,000; La Rose, 3 per cent quarterly, and 1 per cent bonus, $22,500; Right of Way, 5 per cent quarterly, $11,250; T. & H. R., 38 per share, $2,283. The shipments from the camp have been increasing steadily each year. The shipments for each year follow:

Table showing shipments from the camp for various years.

The Badger, in starting to stop from their 100-foot level, opened up 200 inches of calcite and native silver that will run very high, indeed. At the 200-foot level they are drifting to catch this chert. Crown Reserve is looking better than ever. About one-third of the available ore above the 100-foot level has been stopped out, which gave $500,000. They have sunk over 200 feet on the vein and the ore is just as rich as ever at this depth. Part of the Gilles Limit was put up for sale by the Ontario government by auction. Eight hundred and seventy acres in all were offered, but only 283 acres were sold, as the rest of the tenders were not considered high enough. For the lots sold the government received $24,645. It was between the two main massing lines, its carrying of supplies for the building camps and hauling material for the Transcontinental line the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway is doing a splendid business these fine summer days.

The government has been greatly criticised for its action in regard to the Gilles Limit, holding it for such a long time on the open market. This is just as rich as ever at this depth. Part of the Gilles Limit was put up for sale by the Ontario government by auction. Eight hundred and seventy acres in all were offered, but only 283 acres were sold, as the rest of the tenders were not considered high enough. For the lots sold the government received $24,645. FATAL TEXAS STORM. Several Lives Lost—People Panic Stricken by Floods. Brownsville, Tex., July 1.—Several lives are reported to have been lost in the storm which swept the coast here yesterday. At Point Isabel several fishing boats were capsized and two Mexican fishermen are missing. The roundhouse at the Grande Grande in Galveston was blown down and the station badly wrecked. Many small houses were destroyed.

"WET" THREATENS MAYOR. Enforcement of Tennessee Law Begins—Memphis Saloons Open. (By Telegraph to the Tribune.) Nashville, Tenn., July 1.—Mayor James Brown received an anonymous letter from a "wet" sympathizer to-day threatening him with death because of his activity in enforcing the state-wide prohibition law which went into effect at midnight last night. Four former saloonkeepers and one driver of a brewery wagon were arrested to-day charged with violating the law. A report has been submitted to Mayor Brown by the police showing that lockers have been put in six places where they were formerly occupied by saloons. The liquor interests are greatly encouraged by the action of the Alabama Supreme Court yesterday in upholding the "lockey" system in that state. Reports from Memphis are to the effect that a number of low saloons defied the new law and remained open to-day.

LEXINGTON, KY., July 1.—Kentucky now has only twenty-four counties where liquor can be sold in the form of a distillery. At midnight Ashland, in Boyd County, became dry when twenty-six saloons closed their doors. This is the most prominent town in Eastern Kentucky and had supplied liquor to a large mountain territory.

COLLIER NERO ON THE ROCKS. Newport, R. I., July 1.—Impaled upon the rocks of Brant's Reef, lying the western side of the outer passage of Narragansett Bay, the collier Nero, of the United States navy, resisted all attempts to-night to free her from the position in which she placed herself this morning during a heavy fog. The collier's pumps are unable to dispose of the water in the leaking ballast tanks, and forepeak and to-night Captain Kennedy of the Nero ordered the boats ready for immediate launching and saw to the systematic distribution of the lifesaving apparatus.

It was not thought, however, that the collier would sink, but a change in the advent of a heavy falling outside of the rocks, which would have been likely to submerge the ship. The cruiser Castine and the collier Brutus are standing by the Nero. The collier ran aground while bound to Boston for supplies from the navy yard early to-day.
