

AUTUMN RESORTS AT THEIR BEST AND FULL OF GUESTS

Adirondacks, Berkshires, White Mountains and Pocono Hills Now Entering on Their Supplementary Season.

Lake Placid, N. Y., Sept. 11.—In some of the most glorious September weather which the Adirondack region has ever had, the unusually large number of New York people still remaining at the different mountain resorts have been enjoying themselves in varied ways during the week now closing. Trips through the mountains have been very much in vogue during the delightful days of the last week, and many automobile parties have passed over the mountain roads, which are now in the pink of condition. Such weather also invites the horseback enthusiasts, and they are to be found out in large numbers early each day, galloping along the mountain highways.

Among the many who reached the Stevens House during the week was L. Corcoran, who will represent the government of Greece at the Hudson-Fulton celebration. On Tuesday evening Mr. Corcoran was the dinner guest of Interstate Commerce Commissioner A. C. Cockerell at the Kane camp, near the hotel.

Victor Herbert, who returned early in the week from a trip to New York, is entertaining at Camp Jewell, near the Stevens House, Nathan Durkan, of New York, Walter C. Crane, of New York, is also a guest at the Herbert camp.

Several of the guests at the Stevens house as well as members of the Signal Hill cottage set are making plans for the opening of the hunting season. A party consisting of W. B. McElroy, his son, Robert McElroy, Dr. W. A. McGill, from Bide-a-wee cottage, with George A. Stevens and W. J. McConnell, from the Stevens house, will go into the woods, taking camp tackle along, and make a considerable stay. Malcolm Macdonald, of Camden, N. J., who has all summer at the cottage of his mother, Mrs. Malcolm Macdonald, on Signal Hill, is also making preparations for a hunting trip.

Many jolly outings have served to occupy the attention of the grand view guests this week. By automobile and by railroad the guests have taken trips to points of interest in the mountains. The bridge and eucalyptus at the Grand View gather about the tables each evening, and during the week there has been some spirited playing for prizes offered by Mrs. Thomas Parkes.

For the convenience of the many who plan to stay late in the season, as well as for others who have written for accommodations, Mrs. Parkes has kept the Grand View open this season until October 1.

Recent New York arrivals here include Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Goodrich, Paul M. Goodrich, Miss Helen Goodrich, Mrs. J. H. McKinley, S. Ricard, E. C. Ives, J. P. Caples, John G. Ross, Miss A. Howe, A. E. Langford, Carsten Box, Mrs. B. J. Dreyer, Harry E. Grant, Charles S. Berry, Mrs. B. B. Firman, Mrs. W. H. Irwin and son, R. B. Irwin, E. J. Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Tracy.

OTHER LAKE PLAID HOTELS.

The fine weather of the last week has been employed by some of the guests at the North Woods Inn for mountain climbing, and a number have made the ascent of Mount Whiteface. One party making the climb early in the week included Miss Baldwin, Miss Curvo, R. Stanley Garbrance, M. B. Hopper and Alfred S. Smith, of New York.

Recent arrivals at Lakeside Inn include Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bentley, Miss Lucille Bentley and John Bentley, of Tenancy, N. J.; A. W. Hodder, Colonel A. S. Bacon, Dr. F. S. Weiden, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lane and Melvin Lane, of Brooklyn; Miss Florence Chapman, of New York, and E. C. Jennings, of Greenport, Long Island. At the Belmont, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Upland, of New York, who arrived yesterday, have returned for their third annual stay during the month of September. James Palmer was also among the New York people reaching that hotel.

SARANAC INN.

Saranac Inn, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The principal affair of the week here was a big motor boat race on Labor Day. Entered in this were some of the fastest power boats on the lake. The race was won by Donald Biagden, in the Put-Put, with C. S. Dumont, in the Kodak, in second place, and Edwin M. Bulkeley, in the Totie, in third place.

A number of the guests at the inn and in the nearby cottages and camps are planning to take advantage of the fact that the inn will remain open through this month, and well into October, and are formulating their own plans to stay late into the season. At no time in the history of this resort have there been so many people here at this season of the year as now.

Among the arrivals of the early part of the week was Cleveland H. Dodge, of New York, who came up with his family to his camp, Ne-pah-wah, near the inn, where he will remain through the month.

Governor and Mrs. Hughes, whose stay in the mountains is drawing to a close, were early in the week dinner guests of some of their friends among the campers on the lake.

THE ST. REGIS LAKES.

Upper St. Regis, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Another high noon landing motor boat race on Thursday afternoon was one of the interesting events of the week on this chain of mountain lakes. Social activity continued among the campers on these lakes. One of the largest luncheon parties of the season was that given by Mrs. Robert Hoer, Jr., at Point Rush, on the upper St. Regis, last Saturday afternoon. On the evening of September 3 a musical was given at Point Rush.

PAUL SMITH'S.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Automobile parties in an almost continual string have arrived at this resort this week. Heading one of these, which came from Lake Placid, was Chancellor James R. Day of Syracuse University, who was accompanied by Mrs. Day, Miss Day and Miss Mabel Brown, of Syracuse.

Several enjoyable luncheons and dinners have been given this week. Paul Smith's Casino has been the scene of some of these. On Wednesday evening George S. Patterson, of New York, gave a dinner there in honor of Miss Margaret Brown, daughter of the president of the New York Central Railroad. At a luncheon given in the Casino on the same day by Mrs. Clarence Britton, of New York, covers for twelve were laid.

Some of the young men who have been spending the season here are making preparations for the opening of the hunting season. The hotel will remain open, as usual, late into the season.

THE WAWBEEK.

Wawbeek, N. Y., Sept. 11.—In the annual tennis tournament, which occupied the early part of the week, Miss Bonzon, of Paris, France, who has been spending the season at the Wawbeek, was the winner of the prize offered in the women's singles. In the men's singles Max Swenson, of New York, was the winner. Winners in the men's doubles were R. B. Douglas and Fred Silkman, of New York.

Among the arrivals of the week here from New York is Mrs. W. S. Croley, wife of Commander W. S. Croley, of the United States Navy. Joseph Eastman, who arrived from New York early in the week with his family, has taken the Bungeback cottage for the rest of this month. Many others of the Wawbeek guests plan to stay late into the season, and to accommodate them the proprietor, J. Ben Hart, plans to keep the Wawbeek open much later than usual this season.

GAY SCENES IN SWISS VALLEY.

Engelberg, Sept. 11.—This picturesque valley is enjoying a season of delightful gaiety, and for those who love variety and who find themselves benefited by a powerful health stimulant, this "Valley of the Angels," as it is known popularly, has been providing a round of amusements and entertainments of every description, dances, games, card parties and bazaars, with a mingled blend of town and country life that is particularly attractive. This soft and dainty valley at the foot of the Titlis, the dominating peak of the region, offers a fine opportunity for many enjoyable experiences for the holiday makers and mountain climbers.

Among American visitors are Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hameymer, of New York, who recently arrived from Carlsbad; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Townsend, Robert Jewett, Arthur Holden and Raymond Holden. The affair was managed by Miss Marian Holden, and the actors were coached by Harold Andrews.

GUESTS GIVE PLAY FOR CHARITY.

One of the most successful amateur performances given for charity this summer in New Hampshire took place at Sunset Hill House, Sugar Hill, the other day. The young guests of the hotel chose "Mr. Bob" for the play, and the Darrach Home for Crippled Children, in this city, for the beneficiary. The female parts were taken by the Misses Emma Lester, Margaret Smith and Marian Hollen, and the male parts by Harrison Royce, Robert Jewett, Arthur Holden and Raymond Holden. The affair was managed by Miss Marian Holden, and the actors were coached by Harold Andrews.

KEYSTONE STATE HILLS ASBURY PARK. SOJOURNERS HAPPY.

Enjoying Delightful Weather and the Many Amusements of Shore Life.

Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 11.—Thousands of hotel guests will remain here until late in September to enjoy the delightful outing weather. All the beach front hotels are open. The Marlborough, Ravenswood Inn, Victoria, Grand Avenue, Buckingham, St. James and several other desirable hostleries will keep open all winter.

The Rev. Leonard J. Dean, of Troy, is at the Wyandank Hotel. Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Van Wickie, of Newark, DELAWARE WATER GAP.

Delaware Water Gap, Sept. 11.—The month of September is one of the most beautiful of the year here. The air is crisp and exhilarating, the sunsets are beautiful, and the foliage on the mountains presents a magnificent picture as it turns from green to gold. The bookings at the various resorts are the largest for the autumn season ever known. Walking, driving, riding and mountain climbing may be indulged in without the dust and heat experienced in the warmer months.

The famous Kittatinny Hotel never before accommodated so many automobile parties as it did over Labor Day. It is expected that the guests who will come to the Water Gap House for the autumn will far exceed in number those of all past seasons. The dances which are held every evening at the Glenwood are much enjoyed by the guests at this popular house.

STROUDSBURG.

Stroudsburg, Penn., Sept. 11.—With ideal weather prevailing, golf and tennis have received more than their usual share of attention. Socially, the affair of the week was the private hop given by a party of young women of this resort to their men friends at Mountain View Park on Tuesday evening. Nearly eighty attended.

HOTEL CHAMPLAIN STILL A MEGACO.

Hotel Champlain, Clinton County, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The crowds of summer show no signs of parting from the hotel. There is a constant arrival of guests coming to enjoy September in this ideal spot. Autumn days show no lessening in social affairs. Bridge parties continue popular. Mrs. William McPherson, of New York, was the hostess of a delightful company. On Saturday morning Mrs. Erskine Lott gave a large bridge in the white drawing room. Handsome silver prizes were given Mrs. D. O. Wickham, Mrs. L. Treadway, Mrs. C. W. Baker, Mrs. J. E. McMichael, Miss Chandler and the Misses Lindsay.

Mrs. Lyman H. Treadway gave a children's party for her young son and daughter, Lyman, Jr., and Elizabeth. Numerous games and a "groto supper" were served of supper. On Tuesday evening a souvenir bridge was given in the lobby. Each player having contributed a prize was given a souvenir at the close of the game. Numerous informal receptions have been given at the cottages during the week.

THE GOVERNOR'S VISIT.

The Red Lion Inn, in Stockbridge, has had the distinction this week of being the headquarters of Governor Eben S. Draper and Lieutenant Governor Louis Frothingham of Massachusetts, and members of the Governor's staff, who have been paying an official visit to Western Massachusetts. Senator Allen T. Treadway, proprietor of the Red Lion Inn, was the Governor's host. The party arrived on Wednesday afternoon, and Senator Treadway gave a dinner for the Governor and party on Wednesday night at the hotel, one of the most elaborate of the affairs that have been held here this year. There were present at the dinner Joseph H. Choate, President Garfield of Williams College, Alexander Seligman, Richard E. Bowen, Senator W. Murray, Richard Watson Glider, Dr. Arthur Lawrence and C. E. Hull. Among the arrivals at the Red Lion Inn have been Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Archibald, of New Rochelle; Mr. and Mrs. Fenrose Robinson, of Philadelphia; the Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Ingle, of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Adams, Russell E. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Hitchcock, of New York, and Captain H. W. Morrison, U. S. N. Rear Admiral and Mrs. W. G. Wise, who were here at the Inn, have gone to Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Moorhead to New York.

Heaton Hall, in Stockbridge, has been filled to its capacity this week, and the entertainments have been very attractive. This hotel, in its location and surroundings, has taken a high rank among the resorts of the hills. Many well known names register here. Rear Admiral and Mrs. E. T. Leites are spending the autumn here.

Autumn visitors to the Greenock Inn, in Lee, have quite filled that comfortable hostelry. Interesting dances, "box" and "box" parties, and other entertainments are being given. Many young people at this hotel have kept up a lively routine of sports and entertainments.

OCEAN GROVE SERVICES CONTINUE.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Sept. 11.—Ocean Grove's big Auditorium will remain open for Sunday service during September, and the Young People's and Holiness meetings, held daily at 9 a. m., will continue for several weeks to come. The services in the Auditorium to-morrow will be conducted by the New Jersey Methodist Brotherhood. The sermon to-morrow morning will be preached by Bishop Thomas H. Neely, of the Methodist Episcopal Church. At the evening service Governor Franklin Fort of New Jersey will be the principal speaker.

Mrs. Lillian Nordica gave a song recital in the Auditorium on Monday evening, which was enjoyed by an audience numbering nearly ten thousand, a remarkable gathering for so late in the season.

The wedding of Miss Anna Stokes Ballard and Miss Lewis in the Auditorium on Wednesday morning was the social affair of the summer. More than a thousand relatives and friends were present for the pretty ceremony, which was performed by the bride's father, the Rev. Dr. Aaron E. Ballard, president of the Camp Meeting Association. The bride was given away by Acting Governor Joseph S. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey. Mrs. Lewis is a cousin of Governor Fort.

Among those motoring from New York to the Fabian this week have been Mr. and the Misses Schneider and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barth and Jacob Leinber.

Late New York arrivals at the Mount Washington include Malcolm Baxter, Jr., Clarence Seaman, with Miss Dorothy Seaman and Mrs. Mabel S. Lohm, of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. W. Hess, Mrs. Phil M. Hest, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Leighton, of New York, who motored there for a stay Miss Mary McCreery, of New York, who also came in their motor.

The Sinclair House, in Bethlehem, is housing a large number of autumn guests, among whom are Dr. Leo Greene, Colonel and Mrs. George D. Post, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Joseph, W. Jones and Miss A. E. Howe, who motored here, and H. A. Knober and Miss Edna Knober, of New York.

The annual Labor Day parade at the Crawford House was the most successful ever given, and the contribution which was taken for the Littleton Hospital swelled the receipts of the fair and heart party given there on Saturday, to over $200. Much credit is due to Mrs. William A. Barron, who so successfully managed all the affairs.

AMONG GRANITE PEAKS GLORY OF BERKSHIRES

SEPTEMBER DRAWS MANY HORDES THERE TO ENJOY TO WHITE MOUNTAINS. AUTUMN BEAUTIES.

Thousands Greet with Joy Approach of the Beauties of Early Fall.

White Mountains, N. H., Sept. 11.—September is bringing hundreds of guests to the White Mountains. Many motorists consider this the most delightful time for trips, and golfers find the links in excellent condition.

Ex-Ambassador Charlemagne Tower, of Philadelphia, came by motor car to Bretton Woods and the Crawford House this week, accompanied by Mrs. Tower and her sons, Charlemagne and Roderick Tower. They will remain for some time.

Mrs. M. Nell, of the Hendry Hudson, New York is spending September in Bretton Woods at the Mount Pleasant House.

Randall Barron, of New York, is expected this week to pay his annual visit to the Crawford House, where many September guests arrive with every train.

The Waumbek, at Jefferson, has a gay crowd of golfers, and there is some event nearly every day, either a putting match, a mixed foursome or a handicap tournament. The Waumbek Dramatic Club gave another play on Saturday before a large audience.

Mrs. Ewald Pfeilman, of New York, gave a card party at the Profile this week to several friends, and Mrs. Moses Hopkins, Mrs. Conger and Mrs. John Lyon, of Chicago, have also been hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. William Chase, of New York, members of the Appalachian Mountain Club, are enjoying the climbing in Franconia Notch.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Law, Jr., of Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., who have a summer home at Jefferson, drove to the Profile this week for luncheon.

Edward Wigglesworth, of Manchester-by-the-Sea, who has a cottage in Jackson, has been automobiling through the mountain resorts this week.

Miss Maxwell, of Rockville, Conn., gave a breakfast party in the Cave Grill at the Mount Washington on Monday evening for thirty-five guests. All were dressed in white cook's caps and aprons, which had been brought from New York, and there was a tempting menu of breakfast, corn boiled in milk, a keg of beer, which occupied the place of honor, and great platters of luscious fruit, which Automobiles made a beaten track to this place. The hotel is the starting point for all the many beautiful motor and driving trips. Perfect roads radiate from here to the Mount Lebanon Shakers, the Indian relics and mounds in Stockbridge, the pretty paper making towns of Lee and Dalton, and to Williamstown, with its college and campus. There are miles of bridlepaths in the hotel grounds, and its drives and lookouts are of picturesque beauty. There is an excellent orchestra at the hotel which gives concerts twice daily.
