

CUP RACE VICTIMS TWO DIE OUTRIGHT.

One Party Hurdled Over Cemetery Wall on Way to the Scene.

Two persons were killed and two others seriously injured yesterday in automobile accidents, for which the Vanderbilt Cup race was directly responsible. A party of five which had started from the Hotel Belmont to see the race, were carried off the Highland Park boulevard, Brooklyn, about 4 o'clock in the morning, when the machine in which they were riding became unmanageable through defective steering gear. The car dashed into the stone wall that surrounds the National Cemetery and turned completely over.

Last night a fourteen-year-old boy was killed in East New York by an automobile which was returning from the race.

In the early morning accident George Pratt, twenty-two years old, who was driving, was catapulted in the air, landing on his back inside the cemetery. His sweetheart, Miss Maude Costello, twenty-one years of age, who had been seated beside him, was also thrown into the cemetery, as was Miss Flora Heifner, a young girl companion whose escort was William Barrett, a clerks' clerk, employed in a Wall street office. Augustus Heifner was thrown out, but not badly injured.

Barrett was pinned under the car when it turned over and he died while on the way to the Bushwick Hospital. Pratt, Miss Costello and Miss Heifner were all unconscious when Charles Renner, driving a car that was following the runaway car down the hill, reached the spot.

PICKED UP DYING.

Renner and his companions raised the wrecked car and extricated Barrett, who, it was seen at once, was mortally hurt. They were placed in Renner's car, and it was sent on speed to the hospital, but the doctors there said he had died on the way. Miss Costello did not regain consciousness on the way to the hospital, but after some hours she was able to tell the names of her companions. Just before dark last night her mother, Mrs. Costello, of No. 353 West 54th street, having heard of the accident through an evening paper, arrived at the hospital, and was permitted by the doctor in charge to take her daughter home, as she was suffering only from shock and minor contusions.

"It was God's mercy that saved her," said Mrs. Costello, when seen last night. "She is resting sleeping now, and I believe that my big fear is that I gave her when she left here at 10:30 last night was the means of breaking her fall and saving her from more serious injury. They were so happy when they started. I fixed up some sandwiches for them, and told George Pratt, who has known my daughter since they went to school together, to be careful and drive slow. I never dreamed that their trip would end like this."

"Poor Barrett! I dare not tell her he's dead until she recovers from the shock. They were to go from here to the Hotel Belmont and get Maude Heifner, and that is exactly what they did."

"Maude told me," continued Mrs. Costello, "that they were not going fast—that is, the power was off—and the car was travelling all right until it came to a place where there was a sharp turn in the road. There was no street lamp there. She suddenly saw the wall in front, she says, and screamed, 'George, stop the car!' The next moment it struck the car, and she knew nothing more until the doctors brought her to in the hospital."

When asked what she knew about the others in the party, Mrs. Costello said that Pratt lived somewhere in Brooklyn, and that he was a salesman for the Pop-Hartford Company, whose cars he also drove sometimes as a demonstrator. She was unable to tell whether the runaway car belonged to Arthur M. Day, of No. 1851 Broadway, New York, or not, as had been reported.

YOUNG BOY A VICTIM.

According to the story told by Leo Bernstein, whose brother, Emanuel, was the victim of the accident last night, his brother and another boy and himself were being chased by several boys, and in their efforts to escape the pursuers Emanuel ran directly in front of a machine, which was approaching at moderate speed. One of the wheels of the car was over the boy's body. The chauffeur of the car, George Simpson, of No. 317 West 4th street, picked the boy up and carried him to a drug store, where he died.

Simpson was arrested on a charge of homicide, but was released later. A man who was in the car, and who said that he saw the wheels of the car go over the boy's body, said that he was the owner of the machine.

BINGHAM BACKS TURNER.

Says He Supplied Some Facts for 'White Slave' Article.

Ex-Police Commissioner Bingham, when asked in the course of a lecture he delivered yesterday at the Hudson Theatre, No. 125 West 4th street, whether he believed Turner's "white slave" article exaggerated, answered:

"No, I do not. I supplied some of the facts myself."

General Bingham said that if a police commissioner could be entirely independent of politics he could do much toward wiping out the "white slave" traffic, but that the police alone could not accomplish it.

"This is the judicial article," he added, "the lower judiciary. It is impossible to get evidence so strong that those police court judges will hold the accused. They won't hold them, because they are in the Tammany system."

A large audience heard the former Commissioner say that the only chance for reform in the present is to vote for Bingham. He said that the conditions in the city today were much like those in Paris during the French Revolution, and that the only hope of the French Revolution was in the contentions by quoting from Taine's "History of the French Revolution."

General Bingham's address was the special opening lecture of the general lecture course given by the League for Political Education.

THE TOLL OF THE ROAD.

Dozen Held for Speeding and Two for Acting Like Thieves.

In their anxiety to reach the scene of the Vanderbilt cup race, twelve persons fell into the police trap, twelve persons yesterday. Many police were stationed along Fifth avenue and east to the 34th street ferry. They were on the alert for pickpockets as well as speeders. James Marvin, of No. 122 East 23rd street, and James Coleman, of Beechhurst, Long Island, were looked up at Police Headquarters, charged with pushing a motor car into the water at the ferry and acting in a suspicious manner.

Among the automobilists arrested was Howard Johnson, a Columbia student living at St. Anthony's Hall, 116th street and Riverside Drive, who had a number of fellow students with him. He was arraigned later in the Yorkville court and held in $100 bail for trial. Others arrested for exceeding the speed limit were Daniel O'Connor, a chauffeur for Patrick Fitzgerald, of No. 59 East 88th street, Lewis G. Vogel, of Philadelphia; Arthur W. Bell, of Stamford, Conn.; and Lloyd Lanning, a student in the Chicago Preparatory School.

GIRLS OBJECTED TO POSING.

Leslie D. Ward's Son, Young Man Says, When Arrested on Train.

A young man, who said he was Kenneth W. Ward, son of Leslie D. Ward, vice-president of the Prudential Insurance Company, acted in such a peculiar way in Hoboken yesterday that he was placed under arrest.

The young man crossed in the Hoboken ferry from Manhattan and boarded a train at the Lackawanna station. He had a camera slung over his shoulder, and, it is alleged, proceeded to take a picture of two women who were seated in the car. The women made a strenuous objection to being snaphotted and called on the conductor for aid. The conductor put the man off the train, but when the latter smashed the brakeman's lantern that was hanging at the rear end of the train he was taken into custody by Special Officer Brady.

The police say that they know positively that the young man is the son of Leslie D. Ward, the well-known Ward family of Orange and Madison.

FIRE NEAR HOSPITAL.

Building in Rear of the Dr. Bull Sanatorium Ablaze.

Fire from an overheated flue caused $9,000 damage in the five story house at No. 49 East 34th street, last evening. The house, which is occupied by patients in the rear of the Dr. Bull private hospital. Precautions were taken so that the patients might not be alarmed. August Belmont's house is near by on 33d street.

Members of the Alter household discovered the fire. It was confined to the first floor of the house.

TO DOUBLE GRAND JURY LIST.

The members of the October grand jury were increased by the addition of 200 names yesterday, a presentation urging that the list of grand jurors be increased from one thousand to two thousand names, on the ground that the present list was overworked. This will have to be done by the Legislature, as the list is fixed by law.

AERO CLUB IN COURT.

Voting of Proxies at Election May Be Enjoined.

Justice Amund in the Supreme Court granted an order yesterday calling on Cortland Field Bishop, as president of the Aero Club of America, to show cause why an injunction should not be issued against the voting of proxies at the annual meeting, to be held to-morrow night to elect officers and a board of governors. Mr. Bishop received the court order yesterday.

The application was made by William J. Hammer, a member of the Aero Club. The allegations are that at the last annual election questionable proxies were received and used notwithstanding the absence of authority in the bylaws or constitution for the voting of proxies.

The affidavit says that A. Holland Forbes, vice-president of the club, has made several of his friends members without sending their names to the membership committee, as required by the bylaws, with the result that at election time these new members are solicited for their support and proxies by those who control the club.

The case will be heard before Justice McCall at 10:30 a. m. to-morrow.

DESERTS TAMMANY.

Harlem Democratic Club Secretary for Bannard.

Thomas E. Demsey, a prominent real estate dealer of No. 217 West 125th street, who for seven years has been secretary of the Harlem Democratic Club, and never before has failed to support a Democratic candidate, is out for the fusion ticket.

In a circular letter sent to his friends he said he had come to the conclusion that in the present regime in Tammany Hall was a discredit to the party and a menace to the best interests of the city. He added:

"The organization is now in control of a comparatively few, unscrupulous men, who are bent on the destruction of the city, who know no law but that of the strong arm, and magistrates who can be depended on to protect them."

The campaign in this majority election is not that of Republicanism against Democracy, but of honesty, integrity and decency against fraud, lawlessness and indecency. The only way to save the city so nearly obliterated, and I believe that the people are about to rise in their might and administer such a stinging rebuke to those who are now exploiting the city as these exploiters will be relegated to a political scrap heap, and the honor and integrity of the city saved.
