

or the other just before the tragedy is the belief of the authorities from the fact that on a couch in the dining room was found a picture of the mother, and beside it photographs of the two daughters. They had been removed from the mantelpiece in the parlor, and this was the only evidence of disorder in the house. None of the neighbors, including Gordon, who occupies the house adjoining that in which the sisters lived, heard any disturbance in the house, so far as could be learned.

OBJECTS OF CHARITY.

The sisters had been constant companions, and were marked in the neighborhood of their home for their peculiar characteristics. Some of the best known families in Newark opened their homes to the pair, and until a few years ago were frequent visitors. They had subsisted on a small income from an estate left them by their mother until late years, when they were obliged to become objects of charity, and were receiving regular allowances from the Rev. Louis Shreve Osborne, of Trinity Church, to which they had belonged so many years. Mr. Osborne said the couple had been remarkable for their devotion to church work, were of a lovable disposition and mingled with the other worshippers with apparently contented minds. He said they were mysterious and, although intimately acquainted with many of the wealthiest parishioners, were not very communicative about themselves or their family history. Mr. Osborne said that for a time the sisters were occupied in dressmaking.

The sisters had lived in the Marshall street house for twenty-two years. Their legal interests were managed by Cortlandt Parker, jr., who in that capacity succeeded his father, who died a few years ago the dean of the New Jersey bar, and had for years looked after the aged spinners.

J. K. JEROME SERIOUS.

Urges Return of Liberals—German War Scare.

London, Dec. 20.—The election campaign has brought out two interesting communications. Jerome K. Jerome, addressing the workmen at Marlow last evening, spoke strongly for the Liberals. He said that if the Lords should obtain power over finance the Liberals could never hope to take office again, because ninety-nine out of every one hundred Conservatives were rich men and able to afford to contest an election every year if necessary, while the Liberal labor men could not stand the cost of yearly elections, which the Conservatives could compel by constantly throwing out the Liberal budgets.

Robert Blackford, the Socialist leader, in the course of his series of articles on "The German Peril," says to-day that the questions of budget, protection and free trade are all insignificant in the face of this impending danger, and suggests as a programme an immediate vote of $250,000,000 for the navy, compulsory military service, military training for all schoolboys, a large increase for secret service and naval intelligence, and the taxation of manufactured imports, if found necessary.

J. ROGER TIMLIN DEAD.

Believed to Have Shot Himself Accidently.

Chicago, Dec. 19.—J. Roger Timlin, a mining promoter, of San Francisco, who shot and killed himself, accidentally, it is believed, in a room in the Stratford Hotel to-night. Guests who heard the shot rushed to Timlin's room and found him lying on the floor. Beside him was a suitcase, partly opened. In the suitcase was a revolver, and a bullet hole was found in the side of the suitcase. It is believed that Timlin accidentally discharged the revolver while attempting to close the case. The bullet struck him in the abdomen and he died within a few minutes. He registered at the hotel on Friday as J. R. Timlin, San Francisco, Goldfield and New York.

PLAGUE CASES AT GUAYAQUIL.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Dec. 19.—During the first two weeks of December sixty cases of bubonic plague, of which twenty-three proved fatal, were officially reported here. In the same period there were twelve cases of yellow fever and five deaths.

WOMEN TO RESCUE HELP GIRL STRIKERS.

Mrs. Belmont and Miss Morgan on New Committee.

New legal machinery for aiding the pickets of the striking waist makers when arrested was set in motion yesterday at a prolonged conference, which was attended by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Miss Anne Morgan and other invited guests, in the Women's Trade Union League building, No. 42 East 22d street. A definite plan for furnishing legal representation in the courts and providing bail for the girls was adopted, and it was approved by Mrs. Belmont and Miss Morgan, who then went home. A statement was issued, containing the following:

It was reported by attorneys who have investigated the conditions before the magistrates that in many cases no witnesses were present for the defence except the persons charged with the offence, while the employers always see that witnesses for the prosecution are abundant. Under these circumstances great abuses are safely practised by the employers and their hired guards, and these are virtually unremediable, as well as no possibility of effective defence against false charges. A committee of women was formed to deal with this matter composed of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Miss Anne Morgan, Miss Helen Marrow, Mrs. Frank H. Cottrill, Miss Mary E. Dreier, Miss Violet Pike, Miss Woerishoffer and Miss Eva McDonald Valesh. They will send out a call for volunteer watchers to keep in the neighborhood of the pickets of the Shirtwaist Makers' Union, to report upon the facts concerning unlawful and unwarranted arrests and to be ready to testify on behalf of law-abiding and orderly pickets. Members of the union on strike will not be accepted, and watchers will be strictly forbidden to take any part in the picketing. The committee makes special request for volunteers from the young men of Columbia, Young Men's Christian Association and all citizens interested in fair play, orderly behavior and just conditions.

Mrs. Eva McDonald Valesh, to whom the strike pickets are to report, and who is to have charge of them, is an organizer of the American Federation of Labor. The legal defence of the strike pickets will be in charge of Miles M. Dawson, who will assign a corps of volunteer lawyers to the police courts.

The officers of the Women's Trade Union League yesterday arranged for a big demonstration of girl strikers in honor of the women pickets who served five days each in the workhouse and are to be brought back this morning on the Blackwell's Island boat.

In the course of a sermon at the Free Synagogue yesterday morning, on "The Synagogue and the Workman," Rabbi Stephen S. Wise spoke on the strike. He said:

What thoughtful and unbiased employer of labor really believes that the status of the worker is not best protected by labor organizations? Short of organization, there is no way in which the workers can bring about a permanent condition which shall assure them the hours of their day that shall be just and reasonable. The unions are contested and fought every inch of the way, so long will they continue to resort to every kind of means to maintain their position. But if it should come to pass, as there ought to be, a general recognition of the rights of the trade unions in the social order, then I believe the evils of trade unionism, such as they are, would be minimized, and the position of every kind conferred by it would be magnified. With respect to the so-called lawlessness of organized labor, the heads of the so-called labor trusts defy the law, and will also, in the case of the unions, do the same. The United States courts render a decision with respect to the dissolution of the latter profess to law in acquiescence, and immediately retain the unwelcome legal minds of the nation in order to evade and circumvent the law without technically violating it.

STRIKE IN PHILADELPHIA.

Garment Makers, 8,000 in Number, to Go Out This Morning.

Philadelphia, Dec. 19.—Demanding recognition of their union, a nine hour day, a fifty-hour week and uniform prices, which means an increase of 20 per cent. in their wages, the eight thousand members of the Garment Makers' Union of this city to-night unanimously voted in favor of a strike, to be begun to-morrow morning at 5 o'clock.

They expect to be joined by three thousand non-union workers. Almost all the members of the union, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, are women. Three large meetings in different sections of the city were held to-night in place of the one meeting planned to be held in one of the theatres of the city, which was forbidden by the Police Department.

YOUNG MAN MADE SURE OF DEATH

Chicago, Dec. 19.—George Dunlap, twenty-three years old, son of Wood G. Dunlap, a lawyer and politician of Lexington, Ky., was found dead in a hotel room to-day. He had taken carbolic acid and turned on the gas. No cause for the suicide is known.

ORDER GIANT MOTORS. Pennsylvania Road to Use Fifty in Terminal Here.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Pittsburgh, Dec. 19.—The Westinghouse company here has received orders for fifty of the largest electric locomotives ever planned, to be built for the New York terminal of the Pennsylvania Railroad. All the locomotives must be delivered before July 1, 1910. The aggregate cost is close to $1,000,000. The engines will be operated each by an electric motor of two thousand horsepower, and may be used single or double unit. They will have each the drawing power of three ordinary freight locomotives and a speed of sixty miles an hour.

BANKER DROPS DEAD.

W. R. Hammond Fell as He Was Leaving Country Club.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Baltimore, Dec. 19.—William R. Hammond, president of the Third National Bank, while descending the stairs at the Pimlico Country Club about 6 o'clock this evening dropped dead of heart disease. Mr. Hammond took a couple of friends out to the club in his automobile early in the afternoon. He appeared in the best of health, and showed no sign of illness until stricken. He had long been prominent in financial and commercial circles. Born on the Eastern Shore forty-five years ago, he entered the grain business in Baltimore when only twenty years old. He had been president of the Third National Bank since March 28 last. He was the owner of the famous old Pimlico racetrack and took great interest in sports.

CIGAR PROVED FATAL.

It Ignited Bath Robe of Thomas V. Cooper, Politician.

Media, Penn., Dec. 19.—Thomas Valentine Cooper, a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature from Delaware County and formerly Collector of the Port of Philadelphia, was burned to death at his home here to-day. While smoking a cigar in the sitting room of his home he either fell asleep or suffered a paralytic stroke. His bath robe became ignited, and he was dead before the flames were discovered by members of his family.

Mr. Cooper was a sufferer from insomnia, and shortly before 6 o'clock this morning he entered the room occupied by one of his nephews and got a cigar. Shortly afterward his daughter-in-law smelled smoke and awakened her husband, Thomas V. Cooper, jr. An alarm of fire was turned in, but before the firemen arrived Mr. Cooper's body was found lying on a blazing couch in the sitting room. It was badly charred. As no outcry was heard his family believe he suffered a stroke of paralysis before the cigar fell from his mouth.

"Tom" Cooper, as he was known in every corner of Pennsylvania, was a familiar figure at all political gatherings of consequence in the state. Although a stalwart of the stalwarts he did not hesitate on a number of occasions to lead a hot fight within the Republican party. He was seventy-four years old.

THOUSANDS WATCH RAID.

Newark Police Capture a Hundred Alleged "Crab" Shooters.

The most spectacular raid ever seen in Newark took place shortly before midnight last night, when Captain Ryan, of Newark's Tenderloin, with a posse of men, broke into an alleged "crab" game on the fourth floor of the King Building, at the corner of Market and Halsey streets. There were more than one hundred men in the big room, which is conducted by Joseph Zarra. They swarmed over the windows to the broad ledges, but were unable to get further, as it would have been almost certain death if they attempted to drop.

Thousands in the street below shouted all kinds of suggestions to them, but they were obliged to remain in their perilous positions until the bluecoats were ready to pull them through the windows again. Twelve wagon loads were taken to the station.

MRS. MARTIN'S PAST LIGHT ON SNEAD CASE

Woman in Tombs Alleged to Have Exerted Strange Powers

The handwriting evidence held by the Essex County (N. J.) authorities in the investigation of the death of Mrs. Cecy W. M. Snead, Mrs. Martin's stepdaughter yesterday by a bulk of new evidence which was given to Prosecutor Mott on Saturday night. The nature of the new developments was not made public, but Mr. Mott said that they greatly change the form of the case as it will be presented to the grand jury.

This case is said to have been held for the death of Mrs. Snead will be asked to-morrow and the extradition proceedings against Mrs. Caroline B. Martin, the mother of the dead woman, and Mrs. Mary Snead will be hurried. Mr. Mott returned from a trip to Pennsylvania yesterday and then entered into a conference with Franklin W. Fort, counsel for the woman under arrest. The possible insanity of Mrs. Martin and the plan of extradition were discussed for several hours. Then Mr. Fort hurried to the Newark County Jail, where he outlined a plan of defence to Miss Virginia O. Wardlaw, who was arrested in the East Orange cottage on the day that Mrs. Snead's body was found.

Prosecutor Mott said that all three women would be tried on the same charge and that any claim of insanity will have to be brought before the court. He added a charge which is important that it seems to me if the question of the sanity of Mrs. Martin is raised, the question will have to be answered after indictment. There will be no secret proceedings, and no two doctors will decide who shall not be tried for the murder of Mrs. Snead. If the jury held her relatives under hypnotic spell it is up to the jury to decide. The new evidence in possession of the prosecution will probably eliminate the suicide defence which was brought up by Mr. Fort. The prosecutor said that if the death note is shown to be genuine he will be ready to accept a charge of insanity with and abetting a suicide, which in New Jersey is the same as a murder charge.

MYSTERY IN PREVIOUS DEATH.

The information gained by Mr. Mott on his hurried trip to Pennsylvania has thrown new light on the past of Mrs. Martin and her power over her relatives. It has also explained the circumstances connected with the death of John B. Snead, whose body was found in a Virginia cottage several years ago. Miss Wardlaw is said to have been in the town where her cousin committed suicide, but Mrs. Martin, according to statements made, had left the place a few hours before the body was found.

According to the prosecutor, Mrs. Martin was responsible for the separation of the Snead boys from their wives. He said that John B. Snead called on the chief of police in a Virginia town to drive Mrs. Martin from the place. Later Mrs. Martin and Snead were reconciled. Then, according to the prosecutor's information, Snead joined her at a hotel, and a week later was a mental wreck. This information will be used in the question of hypnotism brought into the case. It was said that Mrs. Cecy Snead was always under the influence of Mrs. Martin, and, according to the matron of the Tombs prison, where the woman is now held, she has complete control over her sister, Mrs. Mary Snead.

While the insanity question is not considered seriously by the prosecution, the hypothesis theory is being closely studied. A special examination of the dead woman's brain has been ordered to determine if she was in a cataleptic state when she died, and if she had been a frequent subject of Epilepsy. The testimony of two Brooklyn doctors, who said that Mrs. Cecy Snead appeared under a foreign influence when they called on her, will be offered if the examination of the brain justifies this move.

FOET FAVORS EXTRADITION.

Mr. Fort will consult with Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Mary Snead in the Tombs prison before the women are arraigned in the Centre street court this afternoon. He will urge them to accept extradition, as it has been shown that they were in New Jersey and had an interest in the East Orange cottage. If Mrs. Martin consents to the plan the requisition papers will be sent to Governor Hughes immediately after the action of the grand jury.

Mrs. Martin was retired as principal of Public School 17 on the report of the city superintendent, who stated that he considered her a woman mentally incapacitated for the post of principal and recommended her retirement, to take effect on September 1, 1902. While the question of sanity is being discussed by the lawyers in the case, Mrs. Martin insists that she is capable of taking care of herself and that she will continue to act in her own defence. She spent the day in her cell at the Tombs preparing for the hearing to-day. After a careful study of the newspaper clippings relating to her arrest the woman announced that she would not have any further statements until she has decided whom to retain as a lawyer.

BLIZZARD IN TEXAS.

Coldest Weather in History of State Reported.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 19.—Since midnight last night this section of Texas has been in the grip of the coldest weather in its history. Ice and sleet cover everything. The street railway service is almost entirely suspended. Gas pipes are frozen, many electric light wires were blown down and a large section of the city is in darkness.

The blizzard spent its force at noon to-day in extreme Southwestern Texas, where the damage to late garden truck and probably to citrus fruit cannot be estimated. The loss to cattle raisers is also great. Three inches of sleet covers the central part of Southern Texas, while deep snow covers Western and Northern Texas. Northern Mexico experienced the coldest wave on record.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Shreveport, La., Dec. 19.—The heaviest snowstorm experienced in six years is raging throughout Northern Louisiana. It is said that the extremely cold weather prevailing through the state is killing the boll weevil. Chicago, Dec. 19.—Zero weather swept over the country from the Great Lakes to the Rocky Mountains to-day. The coldest weather of the winter was registered. Here are some figures: Thirty degrees below zero at Landor, Wyo.; 13 degrees below at Denver, 10 degrees below at St. Paul, 19 degrees below at New Richmond, Wis., and 1 degree below here.

The worst blizzard known in years swept from Texas through Arkansas, Mississippi and Tennessee. Three inches of snow fell at Memphis, Northern Mexico and New Mexico experienced a snowfall of four inches. Monterey, Mexico, Dec. 19.—A north-erly struck Monterey early to-day, accompanied by rain and sleet, and to-night the temperature touched 6 degrees below freezing, the coldest it has been in Monterey for twelve years. There is considerable suffering among the poor, and public buildings were opened to them to-night. The mountains surrounding the city are covered with snow. This is unusual. A heavy snowfall is reported from Saltillo.

STEAMERS CAUGHT IN ICE.

Closed Season on Canadian Border Begins Early.

Detroit, Dec. 19.—The steamer Strathcona was caught in the ice below Bois Blanc early on Sunday morning. Later in the day the steamer Donna Conna, her sister ship, reached the place, but also found further progress impossible. Both vessels are bound for Buffalo. The tug Francis Hackett worked all day to release them, and the tug Harding, which arrived in Amherstburg from Cleveland on Sunday morning, left to assist the steamers. They will probably be released to-morrow. A Canadian vessel was reported caught in the ice this afternoon.

TRAINMEN'S DEMAND.

If They Do Not Get a Uniform Wage Will Strike.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Pittsburgh, Dec. 19.—President W. G. Lee of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, before his departure at midnight for national headquarters, Cleveland, after attending a meeting of the local union, which admitted two hundred new members, declared that to-morrow all the railroads east of the Mississippi River and north of the Chesapeake & Ohio line will be notified of a demand for a uniform wage, which means in some instances an increase of 40 per cent and none lower than 5 per cent. The demand will be filed on January 3 or within a few days thereafter. If it is granted it will affect 175,000 men, of whom 75,000 are members of the brotherhood.

TELEGRAPHERS MAY STRIKE.

Cincinnati, Dec. 19.—With the referendum vote of telegraphers of the Big Four Railroad completed to-night, J. J. Dermody, fourth vice-president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, announced that 88 per cent of the union telegraphers voted in favor of a strike. Mr. Dermody said the question of a strike now lay with a committee of seven, which, with the national body of the union, will settle the controversy. About one thousand men are involved in the demands on the Big Four for a wage increase and other concessions.

SUNDAY EXCISE VIOLATIONS.

The arrests for excise violations in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx yesterday numbered 45, as against 31 for Sunday a week ago. The arrests in Brooklyn numbered 39, those in Queens 2 and those in Richmond 2. The total for greater New York was 81 arrests, as against 50 arrests made on Sunday a week ago.

THE CORINTHIAN STRANDED.

Halifax, Dec. 19.—The Allan Line steamer Corinthian, from St. John, N. B., for London and Havre, is stranded on a mud bank off George's Island, in this harbor, and probably will have to discharge part of her cargo before she can be floated. It is thought that she has sustained no damage. She was on her way out when the accident happened.
