

GLAVIS UNDER FIRE MR. ROOT INQUISITOR.

A Tale as to Why Mr. Garfield Was Not Reappointed.

[From The Tribune Bureau.] Washington, Jan. 31.—Louis R. Glavis... "I sent them for the official use of the Forest Service in their investigation."

The reflection on President Taft caused Senator Root for the first time since the hearings began to show annoyance. It was apparent that he thought Glavis was seeking to make political capital out of his administration and was going out of his way to reflect on President Mr. Root.

The Garfield situation did not develop until late in the afternoon. Glavis had been examined at length by various members of the committee, the questions covering a wide range and being devoted largely to an amplification of testimony heretofore given.

"Oh, let them all come in and be printed. There cannot be anything that isn't relevant." "Yes, they may be interesting even if they are irrelevant," suggested Representative Olin.

Adjournment was taken until Friday, with the understanding that Glavis would be on hand to give further testimony in case any member of the committee desired to quiz him. Senator Nelson, chairman of the committee, announced that he had no more questions to ask the witness.

GLAVIS'S STORY OF GARFIELD. "I was while Senator Fletcher was examining Glavis that the witness referred to ex-Secretary Garfield. He said that he and H. C. Jones, a special agent of the Land Office, had made an affidavit that Donald A. McKenzie, of Alaska, had told them that one of the reasons why Mr. Garfield was not reappointed was because of his antagonism to claims for Alaska lands.

Representative Glavis said he had no objection to Mr. Root's testimony. He said that he had no objection to Mr. Root's testimony. He said that he had no objection to Mr. Root's testimony.

On questions by Representatives Denby and Madison, the witness said that McKenzie was a lobbyist who spent his winters in Washington. He did not have the confidence of the President, and Glavis said he did not know that McKenzie would be reappointed.

Examined further, Glavis explained that he gathered from his talk with McKenzie that the latter meant that coal claimants brought influence to bear on members of Congress from Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Idaho to protest to the President against Mr. Garfield. Glavis said he did not intend to criticize the President.

On motion of Mr. Root the committee called on the Forest Service to produce the copy of the Jones-Glavis affidavit regarding McKenzie's statement.

MR. ROOT'S SHARP QUESTIONS. Examining Glavis as to the Garfield story, Senator Root asked: "Whom did McKenzie make this statement to?"

"To Special Agent Jones and myself. We made an affidavit together," Glavis answered. "Why did you make an affidavit?" "I thought it would be worth remembering in the further investigation of these cases if we had to call McKenzie as a witness."

"When did you make that affidavit?" "In September, 1905."

"After you had seen President Taft?" "Yes, sir."

"Did you have a copy of it?" "No. There may be a copy in the Forest Service. I left one also in the office at Seattle."

"Did you send any other papers to the Forest Service?" asked Senator Nelson.

"Yes, sir. I sent them copies of papers and affidavits."

"Don't you know those papers are confidential?"

"I sent them for the official use of the Forest Service in their investigation."

"But you took them as an official of the land service."

"Yes, sir."
