

PART II.

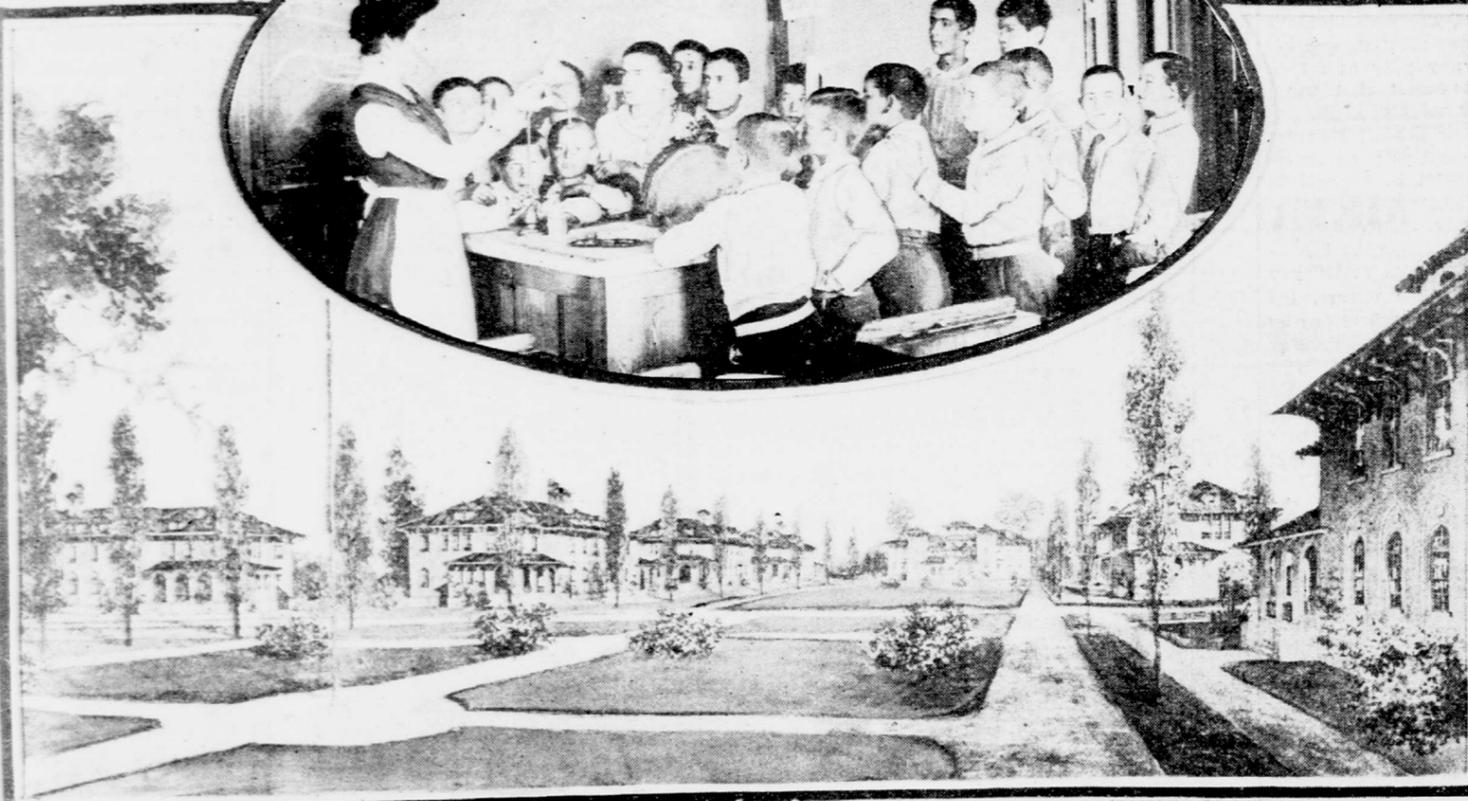

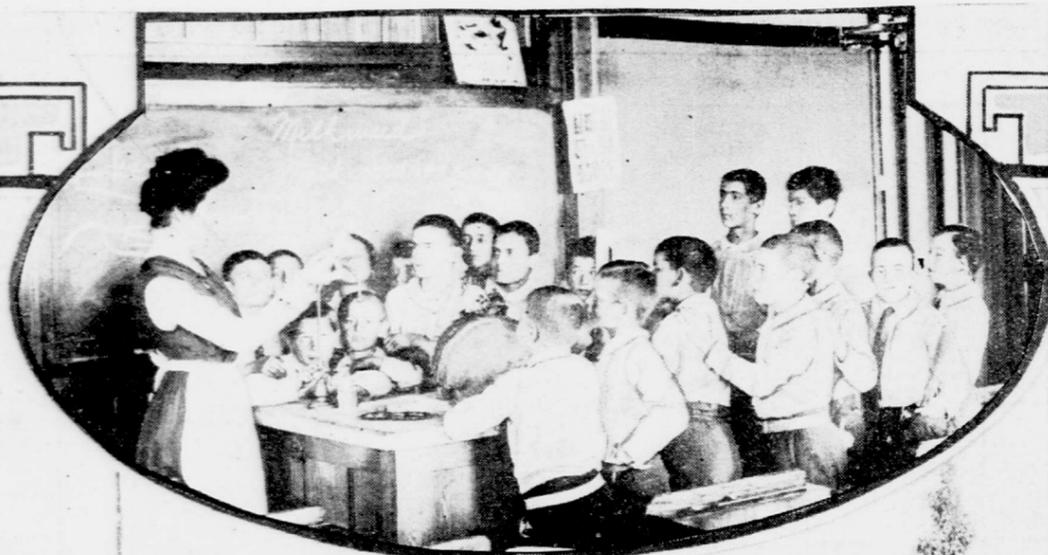

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1910.

EIGHT PAGES.

WHERE BAD LITTLE BOYS GO TO SCHOOL IN NEW YORK AND WHERE GOOD BOYS GO.

The reader might easily guess that the dark room, showing pupils studying by gaslight all day long, is reserved for the bad boys, but he would be entirely mistaken. (For details of this peculiar contrast see article on an inside page.)

A CLASS IN THE PARENTAL SCHOOL.

THE NEW CITY PARENTAL SCHOOL, NEAR FLUSHING, FOR TRUANT AND INCORRIGIBLE CHILDREN, AS IT WILL LOOK WHEN COMPLETED. This school has been criticised as having cost the city an abnormal amount for the number of naughty children who can be accommodated. The administration and school building in the background and three of the four cottages shown on the left have been completed and are in use.

PUBLIC SCHOOL 125, IN WOOSTER STREET, MANHATTAN, WHICH PARENTS OF THE PUPILS DECLARE IS A GROSSLY UNSANITARY FIRETRAP AND RUINOUS TO EYESIGHT AS WELL, FOR GAS IS STILL USED THERE ALL DAY, BURNING THE OXYGEN OUT OF THE AIR, ALTHOUGH THIS IS THE AGE OF ELECTRICITY.