

2,000 HOMELESS IN FIRE

Over Twenty Blocks Swept in Lake Charles, La.

LOSS PLACED AT $3,000,000

Houses Dynamited, but Flames Leap Gaps—Started in Old Opera House.

Lake Charles, La., April 23.—Fanned by a high wind, a fire which broke out here shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon swept over twenty blocks of the city, destroying several hundred buildings and resulting in a property loss estimated at $3,000,000. Two thousand persons are homeless.

It was almost 8 o'clock to-night when the fire, which followed a northeasterly gale from the business section, finally reached the outskirts of the city, burning itself out.

When it became apparent that the loss Fire Department could not cope with the blaze requests for aid were sent to Beaumont and Orange, Tex., and to Jennings, La., all of which are within a radius of fifty miles of Lake Charles. The Southern Pacific Railroad ran special trains to bring the volunteers from neighboring cities.

Many houses in the path of the flames were dynamited, but showers of sparks were swept beyond the gaps thus made, lighting the buildings on the further side. Within a short time the wind had given the fire over a space two miles long leaving a mass of ruins in its wake.

While many of the buildings destroyed were frame cottages scores of handsome structures also fell prey to the flames. The city hall, the handsome Calcastru parish court house, the Clair Hotel, churches, stores and warehouses were reduced to bare black walls and smouldering heaps of ashes within two hours after the fire started.

Starting in the old opera house in Canal street, near Pulo, the fire spread to adjoining buildings, burning out the northern portion of the city's business section and then sweeping into the residential district.

While it was reported that several lives had been lost during the dynamiting of buildings, an investigation to-night indicates that there were no casualties. Hundreds of cottages were burned and their occupants made homeless. That portion of the city which escaped the ravages of the fire threw open its doors to the needy, and in some instances as many as five and six families are being cared for in one home.

The Catholic convent was destroyed, but the Sisters and their charges were sheltered in the homes of Catholic families. An investigation is being made by the authorities with the view of determining the cause of the fire.

The northern half of the business portion was destroyed. The principal building destroyed was the courthouse, which had a few years ago at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars. All of the tax collector's records and part of the records in the clerks' and assessors' offices were destroyed.

SOUTH POLE MUST WAIT
Funds Lacking for American Expedition—Peary Gets Leave.
Washington, April 23.—The expedition planned jointly by the Peary Arctic Club of New York and the National Geographic Society for the discovery of the South Pole has been abandoned for this year at least. This announcement was made to-day. The Arctic Club has given up the idea, and the society has notified Commander Peary, who proposed it, that it will be unable to undertake it this year. Lack of money is the principal cause.

It was estimated that $50,000 would be required to employ all the equipment which Commander Peary utilized on his trip to the North Pole. That included the ship Roosevelt and practically all of the North Pole crew. But to date only $25,000 had been raised, and no more was in prospect.

If none of the foreign South Polar expeditions reaches its goal this year, it is not improbable that the Peary Arctic Club and the National Geographic Society will attempt to carry out their plan next year.

The Navy Department has granted Commander Peary six months' leave of absence, with permission to depart from the United States. This means that Commander Peary is now at liberty to make the trip to Europe, which he has projected and delivered certain lectures that he has arranged for the purpose of raising the $50,000 needed to contribute to Roosevelt and half of any additional expense necessary after the National Geographic Society had raised its $25,000.

JEWES OBSERVE PESACH
Seder Service in Orthodox Homes and for Orphans.
Passover, which is one of the most important holidays in the Jewish calendar, began at sunset last night and will last for eight days. At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the orthodox Jew abandoned leavened bread, and for the remainder of the feast will content himself with matzoth. Last night was the principal celebration in the households of orthodox Hebrews. When the seder service, one of the most impressive in the Jewish ritual, was read. An interesting seder service took place last night at the Hebrew Orphan Asylum, where six hundred children assembled as one family to listen to the story of the exodus from Egypt. Following the services at the synagogue, the children adjourned to the dining room, where a feast was served. This was in charge of Superintendent Lowenstein. The dining room was beautifully decorated with colored lights and flags. On the platform was a great

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

(From The Tribune Bureau.)
Washington, April 23.

LONGWORTH HITS PINCHOT—According to members of Congress who are returning from their districts, the work of the tariff board is not so satisfactory as the press reports. Representative Longworth, who is a member of the Ways and Means Committee, has been particularly critical of the work of the tariff board. He has been particularly critical of the work of the tariff board. He has been particularly critical of the work of the tariff board.

MR. WILSON TROUBLED—Secretary Wilson is having trouble as a result of the alleged misrepresentations of his former Forester, Gifford Pinchot. Through the press propaganda which the former Forester is so closely associated there is being stirred up an opposition to Secretary Wilson's recent order eliminating from the forest reserve lands chiefly valuable for grazing purposes, and Mr. Wilson has sent out an explanation showing that "the lands which it is proposed to eliminate are neither forested nor regarded as suitable for the future growing of trees," and, therefore, "the government has no authority to hold them as parts of the national forests after their actual character has been determined." The Secretary emphasizes the fact that there is no authority in law by which he can include in forest reserves land for the sole purpose of controlling the extent to which it is grazed, and says that the fear that through the destruction of the forest cover the water supply will be jeopardized is not well founded, because the eliminations are only along the borders of the national forests, and that wherever there is a growth of trees the land will not be eliminated. Mr. Wilson maintains that there is no change of policy, but merely an enforcement of the original and only proper and legal policy.

FLINT LOST THE SENATE—In a recent discussion of the men who might succeed Senator Aldrich as "the manager of the Senate" Senator Flint told an amusing story about the duty of fixing the responsibility for the prevailing high prices of necessities of life late to-day decided to abandon the attempt to get the Senate to sanction the future expenditure of $5,000 to carry on the inquiry.

CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY—Senator Burrows called together the Committee on Privileges and Elections to-day to consider the McCull campaign fund publicity measure and similar bills, and although no definite conclusion was reached the indications are that the committee will report favorably on the McCull bill. In addition to the McCull bill, the committee had before it bills introduced by Senators Crawford, Gore and Bailey. The Gore bill seeks to prohibit officers of the government from soliciting or accepting campaign contributions. The Crawford bill proposes that candidates in elections of Presidential electors, members of the House and of the Senate, and the committee in charge of such candidates, shall file a statement of all contributions received and the purposes to which they were devoted. The Bailey bill seeks to achieve the same end, and the McCull bill, which has passed the house, does the same. The McCull bill is a complete and carefully thought out measure; it has undergone the scrutiny of a House committee and has passed the House, therefore, it is believed by many members of the Senate that it would be wise to adopt that measure. It is believed that if any sort of creditable measure is favorably reported to the Senate it will be passed without material opposition.

MACVEAGH APPEALS—Secretary MacVeagh sent communication to Congress to-day in which he appealed for authority to institute an up-to-date system of inspection of the several Sub-Treasuries of the United States. Mr. MacVeagh pointed out that the present appropriation of $3,000 a year was insufficient, and that the law which provides for biennial inspections is inadequate and that the Treasury should not ask an increased appropriation, but merely for authority to utilize so much of the contingent fund of the Treasury as may be necessary to insure proper inspection and effective safeguarding of the fund of the government in the Sub-Treasuries. Mr. MacVeagh points out that the inspections should not be made at fixed intervals, but that they should be made at such times as an inspection is imminent, but that the Secretary of the Treasury should have authority to cause inspections to be made at any time that his judgment dictated and without warning to the officials of his purpose, precisely as is now done in the case of inspections of the national banks. To that end, Mr. MacVeagh urges that he be permitted to use the contingent fund to defray any expense beyond the $3,000 already appropriated which such inspections may necessitate. Mr. MacVeagh's communication was referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

CANADIAN RECIPROCITY—Representatives Fish and Parsons are intensely interested in resolution now before the Ways and Means Committee which affirms that "it is the sense and judgment of this House that negotiations with Canada should be instituted at this time with a view to establishing closer commercial ties and freer trade with that country." The resolution orders that a copy of the resolution be transmitted to the President. Thus far the Ways and Means Committee has seemed little inclined to report the resolution, but Representative Fish has secured about fifty Republican signatures to it and expects that he will have no difficulty in getting the report presented to the House next week in presenting a list to the committee which will represent more than a majority of the Republicans. It is understood that the President favors "A Two-Mile Walk in Every Bo.t.e."

POSTAL EMPLOYEES' BILL PASSED
Benefits New York and Brooklyn Men to Extent of $21,000.
[From The Tribune Bureau.]
Washington, April 23.—The House passed to-day the postoffice employees' claim bill, which provides for the payment of back salaries to those who have worked overtime since the passage of the eight-hour law. This measure has been before Congress for several years, but this was the first time that the House had an opportunity to vote on it.
Some debate was required before it was passed, with several minor amendments. Employees in New York benefit to the extent of about $13,000, while those in Brooklyn will receive upward of $8,000.
One of the amendments provides that no claim agents shall receive more than 5 per cent of the claims.
WILL FOREGO APPROPRIATION

Washington, April 23.—Republican members of the Senate committee which is charged with the duty of fixing the responsibility for the prevailing high prices of necessities of life late to-day decided to abandon the attempt to get the Senate to sanction the future expenditure of $5,000 to carry on the inquiry.
The decision will be communicated to the Senate by Chairman Lodge probably on Monday, and at the same time he is expected to assert that "nothing but a resolute filibuster could have prevented the passage of the resolution."
The committee, at least its Republican membership, composed of Senators Lodge, Gallinger, Smoot and McCumber, intend to go on with the work notwithstanding the failure of the resolution. They say they have contended from the outset that they had authority, under the resolution by which the committee was created, to carry on the investigation and asked the Senate's approval because the cost of the inquiry was likely to be more than was anticipated.

Republican Senators Will Conduct Cost of Living Inquiry Without It.
Washington, April 23.—Republican members of the Senate committee which is charged with the duty of fixing the responsibility for the prevailing high prices of necessities of life late to-day decided to abandon the attempt to get the Senate to sanction the future expenditure of $5,000 to carry on the inquiry.
The decision will be communicated to the Senate by Chairman Lodge probably on Monday, and at the same time he is expected to assert that "nothing but a resolute filibuster could have prevented the passage of the resolution."
The committee, at least its Republican membership, composed of Senators Lodge, Gallinger, Smoot and McCumber, intend to go on with the work notwithstanding the failure of the resolution. They say they have contended from the outset that they had authority, under the resolution by which the committee was created, to carry on the investigation and asked the Senate's approval because the cost of the inquiry was likely to be more than was anticipated.

Benefits New York and Brooklyn Men to Extent of $21,000.
[From The Tribune Bureau.]
Washington, April 23.—The House passed to-day the postoffice employees' claim bill, which provides for the payment of back salaries to those who have worked overtime since the passage of the eight-hour law. This measure has been before Congress for several years, but this was the first time that the House had an opportunity to vote on it.
Some debate was required before it was passed, with several minor amendments. Employees in New York benefit to the extent of about $13,000, while those in Brooklyn will receive upward of $8,000.
One of the amendments provides that no claim agents shall receive more than 5 per cent of the claims.
