YANKEES LOSE IN TENTH Tigers Fall on Vaughn and Bat Out a Victory.

UNHAPPY DAY FOR COBB Champion Batsman Strikes Out Twice and Fails to Make a Hit.

The Detroit Tigers, champions of the American League, defeated the Yankees at American League Park yesterday by a score of 5 to 3 with a batting rally in the tenth inning. Incidentally, Jim Vaughn lost his first game of the season, although up to yesterday he had pitched forty-two innings with only one victory to his credit.

There were five other members of the Detroit team, however, who were more successful with the stick, and thereby hangs a tale. D. Jones and Delahanty got four hits apiece, while Crawford started and scored the ninth inning with a homer that was not so easy, but which came in time to beat him in a race for the bag.

Five thousand "fans" went into prospecting for when the Yankees succeeded in doing what seemed impossible in the sixth inning, and tied the score. The lead was apparently all that was needed, but it proved otherwise.

With two out, Roach got away with a base when one of Mullin's knees grazed his glove. Austin followed with a single, and Sweeney's scratch hit filled the bases. Vaughn promptly sent a stinging grounder to Bush. Austin, who was on second, started for third at the crack of the bat and crossed in front of the Detroit shortstop just as the ball got to him.

This bothered Bush, and he let the ball go away. The spirit rolled far into left field, and before Jones could field it back three runs had been tallied and the excited Vaughn was still on second and Memphis was coming to bat. All looked for a single, which might bring in the winning run, but there was no such luck.

Memphis popped up an easy fly to Crawford and away went the ball. The Yankees succeeded in getting off Mullin's delivery were divided up practically one to an inning. The sixth was the only period in which they were able to connect for successive drives.

With Cobb, Jones and Crawford robbing them of hits by brilliant fielding, they were fortunate to come off as well as they did.

The Tigers, on the other hand, bunched their hits and made them count. Jones scratched one at the opening of the game, and Bush got a base on a fielder's choice when the Yankees made an unsuccessful attempt to catch Jones at second.

Crawford got his first hit of the game at the opening of the sixth, and took second on a sacrifice fly. The Yankees were then left with a runner on first base.

After the Yankees tied the score in their fifth inning Vaughn ran high until the tenth and then fell on Vaughn in the tenth and batted out a victory.

NEW YORK. The Yankees were defeated by the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 3, at American League Park yesterday.

Giants Fall Before Cubs.

Matty Begins Badly and Ames Is Driven to the Bench in One Inning.

Chicago, May 10.—Chicago took another game from the New York Giants here today by a score of 5 to 3, incidentally piling up a total of thirteen hits at the expense of Mathewson and Ames. "Big Six" started the game for the visitors, and while he was not driven from the box he suffered at the hands of the opposing batsmen, allowing eight hits in five innings. He was not working well and McGraw sent Becker out to bat for him at the opening of the sixth, after Chicago had tied the score, and selected Ames to finish the game on the mound.

He could hardly have made a poorer choice. The Cubs pounced upon Ames like a hawk on a sparrow, and collected a cluster of five safeties, all in one inning. These netted as many runs, and the Giants were irrevocably swamped. Crandall then appeared in his usual role of coming to the rescue, and held Chicago down to no hits and no runs for the next two innings.

The Giants made nine hits off Overall and scored enough runs to win the game if Ames had not had that terrible ascension in the sixth. Doyle was put on the mound in the fifth inning, after a heated discussion over a decision with the umpire, and Fletcher covered second base for the rest of the game. At the beginning of the sixth inning McGraw himself made a special trip to the center of the diamond to talk it over with the umpire. He did so in his usual reserved manner, and retired in disgrace to the clubhouse.

The Giants apparently were determined to get a good hold on the game in its early stages, and succeeded fairly well. Devore got his base on Zimmerman's error at the start, but, fast as he is, he discovered that Johnny Kling's throw was faster, and he was caught stealing second. But Murray, who got a life on another error by Zimmerman, was more successful in stealing, and went to third when Evers fumbled Seymour's throw. The two runners then pulled off a double steal and Murray scored. Devore got to first on an error in the second, and succeeded in working his way around to third on a couple of outs. After Meyers had grounded out Luders rolled the ball to the pitcher's box, thinking that

Pirates Fail to Score

Superbas Turn on Champions. Thanks to Bell and Wheat.

Pittsburg, May 10.—Brooklyn put the Pirates to the test again to-day, and this time succeeded in shutting the champions out by a score of 1 to 0 in a game in which both teams played errorless ball.

The game was one of the fastest that has ever been played on the home field, and early developed into a keen pitchers' battle. Both sides went out to try for a greater part of the game. Here and there a solitary single would break up the monotony, but as a rule it was one, two, three every time.

Bell passed one man while Leaver went him one better and gave two bases on balls. The one man to get a base from Bell was Hans Wagner, at the opening of the seventh inning, so there was method in his madness.

CARS AT ATLANTIC CITY

Run Around New Jersey Marred by a Bad Accident.

Atlantic City, May 10.—A head-on collision south of Elizabeth between a Koehler and a Ford car, not in the contest, as told elsewhere in this paper, marred the two-day automobile reliability run from New York to this city and back.

Some Machines Fall by Wayside, While "Senator" Morgan Is Marooned.

The weather was perfect for the contest and the roads were in fine condition after the rain of the last two days. The route was through Newark, Elizabeth, Rahway, the Amboys, Seabright, Long Branch, Asbury Park and Point Pleasant to Lakewood.

Atlantic Fleet

Atlantic City, May 10.—The Atlantic City fleet was made at 2:15 o'clock, and the first car checked in here at the Strand Hotel, the official headquarters, at 5:35. A stiff wind caused some discomfort during the afternoon run, but the Jersey pikers were so free of dust that this was overlooked.

W. H. Morgan, who arranged the run for the Motor Contest Association, was marooned about thirty-five miles from Atlantic City.

The checking car was so late in getting in that no scores were announced. Many cars, however, came through without even the slightest trouble.

Among the cars which finished with perfect scores were the Regal Overland, the Minor and the National. The Stoddard, driven by "Squire" Newton, of Nutley, was another car which finished the first day without penalty after a most creditable performance. It started next to last and finished in the first ten.

Mayor Stoy addressed the motorists here to-night. The return run will start at 8 o'clock. The morning luncheon control and ending at Jersey City at 4:15 o'clock.

The officials of the run are: Referee, Allen Whiting; chairman of the technical committee, A. L. McMurtry, of the Automobile Club of America; chief checker, W. Newton, and superintendent of checkers, A. M. Irons.

Louisville, May 10.—Leading throughout the entire journey of one mile and a quarter, but compelled to fight for his vantage over every inch of ground, Donau, a bay colt owned by William Gerst, of Nashville, and well handled by Kentucky Derby here to-day. Only three-quarters of a length separated the winner from Joe Morris, which in turn was a neck in front of Fighting Bob. The time, 2:06 2/5, was one-fifth of a second slower than the record for the race.

Easy for Naval Officers

Swamp N. Y. University Nine, Which Makes Nineteen Errors.

A baseball team made up of officers from the vessels of the North Atlantic fleet, now in port, went up to University Heights yesterday afternoon and fairly smothered the New York University nine by a score of 14 to 2. Nineteen errors by the New York players contributed to the total in no small measure, although there was a lot of free, well timed hitting to help the sailors in piling up their runs.

Douglas, who captained the Navy football team that beat West Point in 1907, started to do the pitching for the sailors and held the collegians at his mercy for the six innings that he was in the box. He struck out eight men and the plate was never threatened while he pitched.

New York was a little better. Greffen was hit hard by the sailors, but would have kept the score down to reasonable proportions had he received any sort of support. Yule, N. Y.'s star pitcher, played in the field, and scored the first run for his team. Aside from the fine game of Douglas, the feature of the game was the work of Gill, at shortstop for the navy nine.

Favorite Gallies Home

Beats Stable Companion, Which Is Not Ridden Out.

Explanation Demanded of S. C. Hildreth, but No Action Taken by Stewards.

S. C. Hildreth's Fayette and King James ran one two in the Long Beach Handicap at Aqueduct yesterday, the former breezing to the front in the last sixteenth, after King James had taken all the run out of Guy Fisher and forced him to quit.

Dugan, on King James, failed to ride. Rugged on King James, which was a violation of the rules, but his stable companion raced up on the outside, and out of this quite a controversy arose as to which was the better horse at the weights. It also aroused the stewards of the meeting, inasmuch as no declaration had been made before the race, and an explanation was demanded.

Mr. Hildreth for a violation of the rules of racing. F. K. Hitchcock, one of the stewards, sought out Mr. Hildreth in the clubhouse, and asked if he knew that under the rules it was necessary to make a declaration of race before the start.

Mr. Hildreth explained that he was surprised by the rules, and that he had told his jockeys, Shilling and Dugan, that he did not care which horse won, after finding out that no penalties for the Metropolitan Handicap on Friday would accrue until after 5 o'clock.

The stewards accepted the explanation, and no action in the way of inflicting a penalty was taken. In the opinion of horsemen no punishment was deserved, as there was no possible reason for a charge of sharp practice and nothing to be gained by trying to cover up the form of King James, which has been allotted 123 pounds in the big handicap on Friday, and which yesterday was beaten on his merits by Fayette yesterday, but it must be remembered that it took a lot of him to race Guy Fisher into submission under 123 pounds.

Fayette ran a brilliant race over the dead track, covering the mile and a sixteenth in 1:45 1/2, only two-fifths of a second behind the track record. He pulled up a trifle late, but walked out of it later, and may start with King James on Friday under an impost of 117 pounds.

Guy Fisher, which beat Fayette in the Speedy Handicap, showed that he was excellent at the start, but was out of class when King James took him by the head at the turn for home he gave up the struggle without half trying.

The handicap for mares, which promised so well, was ruined by the scratching of Ross Queen, Trance and Jeanne d'Arc. This left only three to go, with Mary Davis, who had all appearances outclassing her field. She won, but not until those who had wagered on her chances at the short price of 1 to 4, had suffered from a mild form of heart failure. Right Easy made it a race all the way, and while Glass showed surprising confidence on Mary Davis, it did not seem altogether justified. Just at the end the boy sat down in earnest, so that the Watercross mare won going away by a scant half length.

Quite a flock of horses went to the post in the first race, almost as many as made up the full card on Monday. This was a poor "stuck out," and three of the four finished in the money. W. T. Overton, the quoted favorite, winning in a drive from Royal ONYX.
