

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., July 2.—Dr. George Fales Baker has been bringing in good catches of brook trout this week. Mrs. C. R. Peabody captured eleven trout that weighed on the average a pound each.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward L. Trudeau came yesterday and opened their cottage at Paul Smith's for the season. Dr. A. Schuyler Clarke, of New York, is staying at the Trudeau Cottage.

Mrs. E. F. Huntington, of New York, has a new motor boat of twenty-five miles an hour at her Upper St. Regis camp, and Ralph Earle has added a speed boat to the water craft at Kamp Katla.

Mrs. M. F. Goddard, of New York, will end a month's stay at Paul Smith's Hotel this week and go to Watch Hill for the remainder of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Heyward Ferry, of New York, have taken the Wiser camp for the season, and are here with Miss Perry, Frank Blane, of New York, is also in camp on Lower St. Regis Lake.

James M. Bell, of New York, motored up this week to remain for some time. Mrs. Bell will come to the Adirondacks to see her son, William B. Bell, who is going to Canada in a few days to join Rudolph Rauch at the Restigouche Club.

WESTPORT. Westport, N. Y., July 2.—The Westport Inn, under the management of H. P. Smith, opened its doors last Saturday and a goodly number of the summer colony have already taken the apartments which had been reserved for them.

Dr. C. R. Payne and Morton Adkins returned to Westport on Monday from a fishing trip to Nichols' Pond, on Campbell Mountain. They brought back crabs filled with black bass, with which the lake abounds.

Dr. and Mrs. Beverly Robinson, Miss Pauline Robinson and Miss Anna Robinson, of New York, have opened their cottage at Westport, which they are using in connection with the Inn.

RAQUETTE LAKE. Raquette Lake N. Y., July 2.—Raquette Lake is one of the most beautiful sheets of water in the Adirondacks.

SUMMER HOME AND CAMP OF JUDGE JOSEPH I. GREEN, CITY COURT, NEW YORK. On Long Lake, Hamilton County, in the heart of the Adirondacks.

Samuel P. Avery, of New York, has come up and opened his island camp on the Vermont side of the lake. Mr. Avery is making frequent trips to Westport Inn with his speed new launch.

One of the parties arriving at Westport Inn early this week included Mrs. J. Worrall Arthur, Miss Arthur, Mrs. McCreary and Miss McCreary, of New York.

Mrs. M. F. Goddard, of New York, will end a month's stay at Paul Smith's Hotel this week and go to Watch Hill for the remainder of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Heyward Ferry, of New York, have taken the Wiser camp for the season, and are here with Miss Perry, Frank Blane, of New York, is also in camp on Lower St. Regis Lake.

James M. Bell, of New York, motored up this week to remain for some time. Mrs. Bell will come to the Adirondacks to see her son, William B. Bell, who is going to Canada in a few days to join Rudolph Rauch at the Restigouche Club.

WESTPORT. Westport, N. Y., July 2.—The Westport Inn, under the management of H. P. Smith, opened its doors last Saturday and a goodly number of the summer colony have already taken the apartments which had been reserved for them.

Dr. C. R. Payne and Morton Adkins returned to Westport on Monday from a fishing trip to Nichols' Pond, on Campbell Mountain. They brought back crabs filled with black bass, with which the lake abounds.

Dr. and Mrs. Beverly Robinson, Miss Pauline Robinson and Miss Anna Robinson, of New York, have opened their cottage at Westport, which they are using in connection with the Inn.

BOATHOUSE AND LANDING OF JUDGE GREEN'S CAMP.

of water in the Adirondacks and clustered about its shores are the large estates of J. Pierpont Morgan, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Mrs. Colis P. Huntington, the late William C. Whitney and ex-Lieutenant Governor Woodruff.

Port Kent, N. Y., July 2.—Trembleau Hall, at Port Kent, has been the objective point of many parties this week, some of which came by automobile and others by yacht over Lake Champlain.

Algonquin, N. Y., July 2.—Black bass fishing in Lower Saranac Lake is the best that has been in many years, and is catching the anglers of the early days of the sport in the Adirondacks.

INTEREST IN BEAVERS' WORK. Saranac Inn, N. Y., July 2.—Visitors to Upper Saranac Lake are much interested in the work of the beavers which were liberated by the state along Stony Creek a few years ago.

WAWBEEK. Wawbeek, N. Y., July 2.—Mr. and Mrs. John G. Agar and family, of New York, had a most unusual visitor at their Upper Saranac Lake camp this week.

LAKE PLACID. Lake Placid, N. Y., July 2.—The advance of summer, with its continued warm wave, is causing an early rush to the cooling atmosphere of Lake Placid.

AT FORTRESS MONROE. Hotel Chamberlin, Fortress Monroe, Va., July 2.—Bathing by moonlight promises to become the most popular evening diversion at Old Point, for, unlike the waters along the northern Atlantic Coast, the temperature of the water in the bay is from 68 to 70 degrees.

which can be used for a houseboat, on Lower Saranac Lake. Monsieur Durke, of Washington, came up Monday, accompanied by his nephews, Walter and Moncure Bird, and opened the Bird Camp on Lower Saranac Lake, near the Algonquin.

Port Kent, N. Y., July 2.—Trembleau Hall, at Port Kent, has been the objective point of many parties this week, some of which came by automobile and others by yacht over Lake Champlain.

Algonquin, N. Y., July 2.—Black bass fishing in Lower Saranac Lake is the best that has been in many years, and is catching the anglers of the early days of the sport in the Adirondacks.

INTEREST IN BEAVERS' WORK. Saranac Inn, N. Y., July 2.—Visitors to Upper Saranac Lake are much interested in the work of the beavers which were liberated by the state along Stony Creek a few years ago.

WAWBEEK. Wawbeek, N. Y., July 2.—Mr. and Mrs. John G. Agar and family, of New York, had a most unusual visitor at their Upper Saranac Lake camp this week.

LAKE PLACID. Lake Placid, N. Y., July 2.—The advance of summer, with its continued warm wave, is causing an early rush to the cooling atmosphere of Lake Placid.

AT FORTRESS MONROE. Hotel Chamberlin, Fortress Monroe, Va., July 2.—Bathing by moonlight promises to become the most popular evening diversion at Old Point, for, unlike the waters along the northern Atlantic Coast, the temperature of the water in the bay is from 68 to 70 degrees.

LAKE PLACID. Lake Placid, N. Y., July 2.—The advance of summer, with its continued warm wave, is causing an early rush to the cooling atmosphere of Lake Placid.

breed English bulldog. A fierce battle was waged, in which the bear left the dog a sadder but wiser animal.

Members of the Upper Saranac Yacht Club, of which Sidney M. Colgate, of New York, is commodore, are getting their craft in readiness for the season's races.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pierson, of New York, opened their cottage for the season this week. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Walker, of Dongan Hills, Staten Island, and Mr. and Mrs. John Murray Mitchell, of New York, were also among the cottagers who arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Peabody, of Philadelphia, has opened her cottage at Saranac Inn and is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Outwaite, and Dr. Charles Peabody, of Cambridge, Mass. Dr. Peabody will later go into camp on the bay with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. B. Freilighuysen, of Morristown, N. J., are occupying a cottage at Saranac Inn, and S. P. Lawrence, of New York, has one in the tents on the bay.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Merwin, Jr., is at Saranac Inn for an extended stay. Other arrivals include Mrs. James Andrew Pickett and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Townsend, of New York; Frederick H. Gibbens, of Montclair, N. J., and S. B. Ward, of Albany.

WAWBEEK. Wawbeek, N. Y., July 2.—Mr. and Mrs. John G. Agar and family, of New York, had a most unusual visitor at their Upper Saranac Lake camp this week.

LAKE PLACID. Lake Placid, N. Y., July 2.—The advance of summer, with its continued warm wave, is causing an early rush to the cooling atmosphere of Lake Placid.

season, as they find here splendid garage accommodations. The water of both Placid and Mirror lakes has warmed to a temperature that makes bathing a popular and much sought pastime.

Campers arriving within the week are J. Benjamin Dimmock and family, of Scranton, Penn., at their camp on Indian Point; E. Hopkinson and family, of New York, at Camp Killcare; S. H. Chapman and family, of Philadelphia, at their camp on Birch Point; the Rev. Stephen S. Wise and his brother-in-law, L. Waterman, both of New York, have, with their respective families, taken possession of their newly completed camps on Buck Island.

Major Everett Warren, of Scranton, Penn., opened his summer home, Calumet Lodge, on Monday. The Rev. R. F. Norton and family, of Brooklyn, have arrived at Camp Norton, on Sunset Straits.

The Rev. R. F. Norton and family, of Brooklyn, have arrived at Camp Norton, on Sunset Straits. Camp Anaukitt on Tuesday received its owners, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McCutcheon and family, of Plainfield, N. J.

Mr. Leaky, manager of the Northwoods Inn, in connection of the usual influx of guests on and after the Fourth, is making preparations for the comfort of his patrons.

Lakeside Inn has become popular this season with the younger set. The hotel's tennis court, well patronized, and informal dances and card parties have been a feature of the house since opening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Swenson and R. S. Swenson, of New York, have joined the other members of the bay, near Wawbeek. John R. Dunlap, of New York, has also arrived and is at the Dunlap Camp for the season.

LAKE PLACID. Lake Placid, N. Y., July 2.—The advance of summer, with its continued warm wave, is causing an early rush to the cooling atmosphere of Lake Placid.

Louisiana Unduly Alarmed Over Imports of New York Orphans

Many Have Made Fine Records in Districts Which Adopted Them. Is there so little hope for the future of New York's orphan and homeless children as the state Board of Health of Louisiana seems to think? It is necessarily true that their removal from the city to new homes in the country is simply planting the seed of greater degeneration, more defective, idiotic, imbeciles and alcoholics, and tends to demoralization and heartaches in homes where they are located.

indicate, does find it as difficult to care for them beneath her own roof tree as did the famous old dowager who occupied a piece of footgear as her abode. So she has sent out many thousands of youngsters all over the country to get a start in life. Have her children been a credit to her, or otherwise?

For fifty-seven years the Children's Aid Society has been seeking homes in all parts of the United States for the homeless children of New York. In the course of this period it has removed 25,366 orphans and homes in the country. What became of them in after life? Recently the many volumes of records were scanned in order to answer this query. It was found that in the list were the Governor of a state, the Governor of a territory, two members of Congress, two Sheriffs, two District Attorneys, a city professor, 45 business clerks, 2 county recorders, 3 postmasters, 6 railroad officials, 35 railroad men, 10 real estate agents, 16 journalists, 32 teachers, 7 school principals, 7 members of state legislatures, 3 county commissioners, 1 Judge, 27 bankers, 23 merchants, 2 superintendents of schools, 2 civil engineers, 21 clergymen, 2 college professors, 1 county treasurer, 2 county clerks, 2 county auditors, 1 clerk of Senate and 2 artists, besides a large host of farmers and farmers' wives. More than three thousand have served in the army and navy, an evidence of their physical and mental soundness.

chimneys, he would buy a ticket for the pit in the Chatham Street Theatre for there was no nickelodeon in those days. The most fortunate day in the young street arab's life was that on which he was gathered in with other homeless children and taken in the "Black Maria" to the almshouse on Randall's Island. One July day in 1859 a representative of the Children's Aid Society went to the island and asked for volunteers to go West to a new home. "How many of you boys," said the visitor, "would like to go out West, where you can have a nice home on a farm, with friends to care for you, horses and oxen to drive and as many apples and melons to eat as your little stomachs can accommodate?"

Another boy in the Noblesville party became a bank cashier. Other children became farmers, soldiers, clergymen and good mothers. Only two of this notable group did anything which could be counted against them, and it is not certain that they were failures, for the unfavorable act was that of running away.

Governors, Congressmen, Sheriffs, Teachers on the Long List. about in novels. He was born in Stockholm, his mother being a member of one of the influential families of that city. His father was a Prussian by birth. As a petality for marrying out of her social rank she was disinherited and forgotten. They emigrated to America when Hamer was an infant. The marriage proved an unhappy one for the mother, and she, with her two boys, left her home and husband, discarded her husband's name, changed her abode and lost herself in the maze of Brooklyn streets, breaking every tie. Here she died of a broken heart, leaving her two small boys without a knowledge of the name of her forebears.

It was a shy young curate who was once asked to take a class of girls about fifteen or sixteen, which had formerly been taken by a woman. The young clergyman consented, but insisted upon being properly introduced to the class. The superintendent accordingly took him to the class for this purpose, and said: "I introduce to you Mr. Chirp, who will in future be your teacher. I would like you to tell him what your former teacher said, so that he can go on in the same way." A miss of sixteen rose and said: "The first thing my teacher did was to tell us all round."—Tit-Bits.