GULLOM IN HOT ATTACK

Veteran Senator Speaks Strongly on Illinois Corruption.

Chicago, July 4.—I want to see an honest legislature picked out. I want to see an end to the jackpots and the cheap bribery that have brought disgrace to the name of Illinois. I don't care whether they are Republicans or Democrats. I am unswerving in the opinion that the gully should be run down and sent to the penitentiary.

Senator Cullom, looking better than for four or five years and saying that his health has shown a marked improvement since the last year, was at the Mohr Hotel, Highland Park, resting after a hot and wearisome trip from Washington. The senator is here for a two months' stay in Illinois, seeking rest and recreation after the strenuous closing days of Congress.

Senator Cullom preferred not to discuss Illinois state politics, so far as it concerns himself personally. He let it be known, however, that after a short rest he will confer with his personal friends and political lieutenants in the Republican party, and then, dependent upon the condition of his health, determine whether he again will be a candidate for the United States Senate. Senator Cullom's term does not expire until 1912.

"What do you look for concerning the Senatorial investigation of the Lorimer case?" Senator Cullom was asked. "I have no doubt about the committee of Senators who are deputed to conduct the investigation," replied Mr. Cullom. "I have reason to believe and to predict at this time that the investigation will be thorough and rapid. The Senators will come to Illinois with open minds, prepared to listen to all evidence and facts which may be presented. I am confident the investigation will be conducted fairly and impartially to all concerned."

MEETS MYSTERIOUS DEATH

Benevolent Old Woman of Water Street a Strange Victim.

Mrs. Hannah Woods, who kept a lodging house at No. 39 1/2 Water street, met death mysteriously about 9 o'clock last night near her home. One of her lodgers, Miss Mary Davis, found her sitting on the doorstep of No. 32 Water street and spoke to her. Mrs. Woods answered, and then expressed her intention of going into the house, but fell to the street.

Dr. L. Weinstein, of No. 39 Oliver street, was summoned and pronounced Mrs. Woods dead from heart disease, for which he had been treating her for some time, making no examination of the body, as he was not suspicious of any foul play. On opening the dead woman's dress later, however, Miss Davis discovered blood on her clothing, and further examination revealed a deep wound over the heart. The police were informed, and they summoned the ambulance from the Hudson Street Hospital. Dr. Brown, who was in charge, said he could not determine whether the wound was caused by a bullet or a knife.

Mrs. Woods was not known to have an enemy, and no reason could be found for her murder. It is thought she may have been a victim of a stray bullet fired by an over-enthusiastic person celebrating the holiday.

"Mother" Woods, as she was known in the neighborhood, was sixty-five years old. She was never known, it is said, to turn any one away from her house as long as he had a few coppers in his pocket, and many who had none at all were allowed to spend the night there when they could find no other place to which to go.

DISABLED FIN COST A RACE

Any way, Andy Keyser Concedes That "Bob" Peach Is Winner. The annual Independence Day boat race between "Bob" Peach and Andy Keyser was held yesterday off the Battery, but was what Quigley, the Battery boatman, and the men of the waterfront called a fizzle.

Both men got away in 16-foot whitehulls at 2:45 p. m. Quigley gave the signal and they pulled away leisurely for Robbins Reef Light. Peach was in the lead and gradually crept away from Andy, and a few hundred feet this side of Ellis Island those with good eyes saw Keyser put about.

ROOSEVELT, 'MAN OF HOUR'

Southern Democrat Proclaims Ex-President Nation's Leader.

Ocean Grove, N. J., July 4 (Special).—Theodore Roosevelt was proclaimed the man of the hour to-day by four thousand men and women who participated in the annual Independence Day celebration in the Auditorium, held under the auspices of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association. The orator, Whitehead Klutz, president of the North Carolina Senate, had declared that the time was ripe for the honest voters in the Republican and Democratic parties to unite around a leader of sterling character, and that leader, in his opinion, was Theodore Roosevelt.

This evening there was a farewell ball and entertainment at the Meadow Club given for all those who took part in the entertainment and the troopers and Western men. Colonel Jones gave an illustrated lecture on Africa.

It is estimated that about $5,000 has been cleared for the two institutions. The flight came near ending disastrously for Curtiss as he was riding toward the $1,000,000 pier, riding about twenty-five or thirty feet in the air, a bath and a small child broke away from the crowd and ran out on the beach almost to the spot the aviator had selected on which to land.

While he was preparing to make his flight the wind shifted from a gentle sea breeze to a stiff northerly wind, that added from the shore buildings in veritable whirlpools. Managers of the meet consulted with Curtiss and other aviators, and the former said they would not insist on a flight under the prevailing conditions. But Curtiss said he would take a risk at it, anyhow.

"It was the most dangerous flight I have ever made," said Curtiss, when he had done. "When I found I was caught in the eddies of air that threatened to turn my plane over or sidewise me into the canal, I was strongly tempted to turn out to sea and go up in the air, but the fear that I would be forced to drop into the ocean or imperil the lives of the spectators in making the swoon necessary to a landing to prevent myself being carried on to the boardwalk or into one of the piers, caused me to take a chance of sticking close to the beach."

At several points I was caught in the swirls, that proved to me that my machine will stand the strongest seashore wind, and I shall therefore stick to my contract to make daily flights and to make the attempt to capture both the attitude and the distance speed prizes."

WILD WEST SHOW CLOSSES CURTISS ROCKS IN AIR

Southampton Performances Earn $8,000 for Two Institutions. Opens Atlantic City Aviation Meet with Spectacular Dash.

ATTENDANCE EXCEEDS 6,000 FLIGHT FRAUGHT WITH PERIL

Festivities End with Evening Lecture and Dance at the Meadow Club. Risks Death in Biplane to Prevent Injury to Spectators Who Crossed His Path.

(By Telegraph to the Tribune.) Southampton, N. Y., July 4.—Society was in evidence to-day at the last of the three performances of the Wild West show and military carnival, given for the benefit of the Three Arts Club, of New York City, and Southampton Hospital. The total estimated attendance was nearly six thousand, and the demand for parking space greatly exceeded the supply.

The opening parade was distinctly of the wild West. The Squadron A troopers led the procession, followed by the amateur participants. The cottagers taking the part of cowboys were "Jack" Ely, James Larkin, J. H. Lee, Frederick Pleitmann and Ezra Prentice, and the cowgirls were Miss Key, Mrs. G. Gallatin and Miss Zella de Milbau. The Indians were James P. Lee, Chief Laughing Eagle, and two children, and also a number of real Indians from the Shinnecock reservation, who were out in their war paint.

The programme included high jumping and pony express and novelty races. Ladies' pushball was played in public for the first time, between the tie-saddle riders and the astringes. LAUGHED AT DEATH, KILLED

"Tell My Wife," Said Motorcyclist Just Before Fatal Ride.

Denver, July 4.—"If I'm killed, write my wife in Fresno," laughed W. Thorpe, a motorcycle racer, when cautioned against reckless riding at a local amusement park yesterday. In five minutes he was dead.

Thorpe, who rode under the name of Ben Brazee, was running himself up before a race when he took the chance which proved fatal. Running sixty miles an hour, he attempted to pass between W. P. Miller, another rider, and the track fence. His wheel slid suddenly from under him and he struck the track, spinning like a top. He skidded twenty feet along the ground, and when he came to, he picked up with his neck broken and his jaw fractured.

SALOONKEEPER MURDERED

Shot Down in Doorway of Second Avenue Place—Murderer Escapes. John Streppone, a saloonkeeper, was shot down in front of his place of business, at No. 201 Second avenue, last night, and died almost immediately. Although Detective Archipoli, of the East 104th street station, reached the saloon a few minutes after the shooting, he could obtain no clue to the identity of the murderer.

Dr. Balanuth, of the Harlem Hospital, was called. Before he arrived Coroner's Physician Lehane reached the saloon. Dr. Lehane made an examination, and found that Streppone had been shot through the heart and in the back.

The murdered man lived with his family at No. 18 East 115th street. He had no enemies, so far as Detective Archipoli could discover.
