New York Tribune.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 6, 1910.

This newspaper is owned and published by The Tribune Association, a New York corporation; office and principal place of business, Tribune Building, No. 154 Nassau street, New York.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

FOREIGN.—Ambassador Reid, speaking in London, paid a high tribute to the ability, honesty and courage of President Taft.

DOMESTIC.—Secretary Ballinger had a long conference on conservation with President Taft at Government House.

CITY.—Stocks were weak. President Roosevelt presided at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

REMARKING THE COURT. It will probably have fallen to President Taft's lot before the close of his present term to have made over the Supreme Court of the United States by appointing a majority of its members.

THE WEATHER.—Indications for today: Fair. The temperature yesterday: Highest, 83 degrees; lowest, 63.

the Supreme Court bench. He thinks that a justice should not sit until his nomination has been confirmed by the Senate.

WHAT IS AT STAKE. The suggestion is heard that Speaker Wadsworth should succeed Mr. Woodruff as chairman of the Republican State Committee.

With one man killed outright by an accident to his machine on the opening day and five employees wrecked on the next, this year's aviation meeting at Rheims can hardly be said to have made an auspicious start.

THE COMMERCIAL EXPLOITATION OF SPORT. Without intending a suggestion of any other resemblance between the two things, it may be said that one of the gravest objections to prizefighting is substantially identical with that which has a few years ago urged, with a little force and pertinence, against the manner in which college football was then too largely managed, namely, its excessive exploitation and the subordination of true sport.

THE TALK OF THE DAY. New Yorkers who can't afford to drink champagne but who carelessly throw dimes to street beggars, despite the protests of the police and charity workers, ought to read the dispatch following the arrest of a pair of professional mendicants in Chicago a few days ago.

THE FIFTH. The morning of the Fifth has come. The silence is profound. No blast of horn, no beat of drum, no rattle of machine gun.

CHILDREN, NORMAL AND ABNORMAL. The National Education Association in its discussions of various phases of "child study"—current synonyme for "good, old-fashioned pedagogics"—has elicited many opinions and suggestions which should bear profitable fruit.

NEW YORK'S CURIOSITIES. With any sort of advertising and energy the passing horse cars on New York's Third Avenue system should do a great summer business.

POPULAR SAFETY VALVES. From The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle. It will cost $50 hereafter to swear in a new boiler, but the cost of the water and kicking the family cat are the only solace to the poor man.

freely in imperial elections, while they are practically disfranchised in those of Prussia. It is quite certain that votes are being made for them daily by Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg's policy, so that so calm an observer as Professor Delbrück estimates that in the next Reichstag there are likely to have a hundred and twenty members.

TO THE WRONG ADDRESS. The Hon. Champ Clark chose a queer assemblage to which to unbuckle "the glad tidings of great joy" which he said he brought for Fourth of July use from Washington.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR. To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: Your editorial in today's issue is most timely and humane.

TREATMENT OF CRIMINALS. To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: Your editorial in today's issue is most timely and humane. Society should recognize in what is termed "incorrigibility" as applied to criminals, in part at least, its fault.

A PARK NOT A PLAYGROUND. To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: The Tribune yesterday in an editorial described the importance of retaining Central Park for recreation.

SCHOOLHOUSE DORMITORIES. To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: Would it not be a good idea to utilize the vacant school buildings as sleeping quarters for the children of the tenements during the hot summer months?

JUSTICE FULLER'S ANCESTRY. To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: As many of your readers will be interested in the family line of the late Chief Justice Fuller, I herewith inclose it.

POPULAR SAFETY VALVES. From The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle. It will cost $50 hereafter to swear in a new boiler, but the cost of the water and kicking the family cat are the only solace to the poor man.

ARRESTS HELP IN NEW YORK. From The Chicago Tribune. Speaking of smoke nuisance, however, can nothing be done to cure the smoking automobile?

he has undertaken. He has already gained international fame by wheeling his wife and child around the earth in an enlarged baby carriage. He returned recently from England, where his wife, married and some back with those who can no more than walk; though it may not be well always to let them run all they feel inclined or seem able to do.

Another cause for war on flies has been discovered. An Italian scientist reports that they carry pellagra, a disease that prevails at times in the South, and that was supposed to be spread by the use of corn. Dr. Marshall L. Price, of the State Board of Health of Maryland, a leader in the battle for the extermination of flies, announces that he hopes soon to perfect a compound that will bring about the death of a fly on contact with the public.

Extra-legal conservation now becomes legal beyond dispute or cavil; which is precisely as it should be. The establishment of a strong military post in Hawaii, in the interest of which Secretary Dickinson has just visited Honolulu, is dictated by the same reasons as the construction of a big naval dock at Pearl Harbor.

The management of the Long Island Railroad announces a willingness to install some simple additional safeguards in order to make the Valley Stream crossing safer. That seems to us much like an acknowledgment that what it is now ready to do ought to have been done before, notwithstanding the statement of its president that the company cannot be justly blamed for the fatal accident on Sunday.

With one man killed outright by an accident to his machine on the opening day and five employees wrecked on the next, this year's aviation meeting at Rheims can hardly be said to have made an auspicious start.

The alien Chinese deity of punk and powder no longer dominates our greatest American holiday. It is a revival of nationalism which can be unreservedly applauded.

For the honor of being the greatest living Texan it seems to be a toss-up at present between Cone Johnson and J. Arthur Johnson.

The action of Major Sylvester, Chief of Police of the District of Columbia, in barring the exhibition of moving pictures of the Reno prizefight, in the national capital may furnish a suggestion of a means of dealing with the degraded industry of holding fights for the sake of moving picture profits.

THE TALK OF THE DAY. New Yorkers who can't afford to drink champagne but who carelessly throw dimes to street beggars, despite the protests of the police and charity workers, ought to read the dispatch following the arrest of a pair of professional mendicants in Chicago a few days ago.

NOT LOYAL TO HIS FRIEND. From The Buffalo Express. A pickpocket in the crowd at Reno tried to rob Governor Dickerson. The ingrate!
