

ADIRONDACK MOUNTAINS

Paul Smith, N. Y., Aug. 20.—The informal sale at Paul Smith's yesterday for the benefit of the Adirondack Cottage Sanatorium was the usual great success and was generally enjoyed by members of the visitors to the camp colony. The week's programme has been unusually full, with picnics prominent among the outdoor entertainments and delightful camp dinners. Among the entertainers were Mr. and Mrs. E. Hayward Ferry, who gave a dinner for their daughter, Miss Ferry, at their Lower St. Regis camp; Mrs. Paul Smith, Jr., who entertained Thursday evening at Camp Kamahl; Mrs. Edward R. Thomas, hostess at one of the woods dinners, and Miss Catherine Cameron, who is giving a relay of delightful affairs at Sunset Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt are living quietly at Pine Tree Point, and have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. Olin and Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Fendleton, who are now motoring through Eastern resorts. Miss Olin is with Mrs. Vanderbilt in camp, and Secretary of the Navy George von Meyer and the Misses Meyer are coming Wednesday as members of a large house party who will join Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt.

Mr. James E. Martin, Jr., with Mr. and Mrs. Craig F. R. Drake, has joined the house party at the camp of Simon J. Drake. At Sunset Lodge Miss Catherine Cameron is entertaining Miss Margaret Cameron, Miss Daisy Cameron, Mrs. Belmont Tiffany, Duncan Cameron and Frederick Cameron.

Among the many people who have joined relative and friends at camp are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore P. Dixon, who motored up to the camp of Miss K. A. Polhemus, and James W. Barney, who has joined his mother, Mrs. C. T. Barney, at camp. Mr. and Mrs. Archibald S. Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Barnes are also at the Barney camp.

Henry L. Hotchkiss won the Saturday race of the St. Regis Yacht Club and displayed his ability by defeating Mr. Allen, secretary of the Larchmont Yacht Club and one of the best amateur sailors in the country. Mr. Allen sailed the boat of Herbert L. Pratt and won second place, with Peter Cooper Bryce third. Mrs. Thomas H. Howard and Charles E. Mather, of the camp contingent, have been proposed for membership in the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldron Williams, with the Misses Waldron Williams and Barent Waldron Williams, of New York, are at Paul Smith's for the remainder of the season. They made the trip from New York in their motor car, which they are keeping here for side trips.

Mrs. W. S. Pyle, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Steedman, Miss McNeely, Frank F. Vanderhook, E. E. Kimball and L. W. Frisbie were a motoring party that came down from Town Lake in two large cars.

A delightful addition to the large summer family at Paul Smith's is Mrs. J. H. Thielack and Mrs. Inez Thielack, Mrs. B. P. Wagner and Master Wagner, of Sidney, Ohio, has taken cottage rooms for the rest of the season. Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Jones, of Exeter, Ohio, have been joined at the hotel by Mr. Jones's grandmother, Mrs. A. E. Harding.

Miss Marion S. Summers, of Niles, Ohio, and Mrs. W. H. Falls of New Castle, Penn., are at Paul Smith's together. Among the visitors who come to the resort for extended visits were Miss Mary G. Titus, Miss Helen S. Abernethy, Mr. and Mrs. B. S.

Catskill, N. Y., Aug. 20.—So great has been the number of people who are being entertained in and around Catskill during the last week that the hotel men have had to lease practically every available room in the private residences in the vicinity of their houses to care for the August visitors. The season was supposed to have been at its height last week, but more people are being entertained to-night than have ever been entertained here before.

On the corresponding date in past years there has been a vast crowd of departures and a decrease in the number of arrivals, but today conditions were reversed.

The Grant House has been the scene of a number of notable functions. Probably the proudest event of the season there was the hop which took place last Saturday night, and which was attended by more than three hundred persons.

Miss Florence Seagle, of New York, one of the most popular members of the younger set, is achieving a reputation as an angler by having made several excellent catches in Catskill Creek during the last week.

A number of parties are being organized here to visit the Cairo Fair, which will be held at Cairo on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Arthur R. Naething, Jr., of New York, has been spending the last week at Louie's Hotel.

Hotel arrivals during the week include: Grant House—Mrs. Edward Zantzer, Miss H. B. Zantzer, Miss M. Stevens, Miss Stevens, Miss Beatrice Stevens, Thomas Manning, Miss J. H. Davis, Mr. Davis, Harold H. Davis, Mrs. B. Russell, A. H. Romsted, W. Edg. of Brooklyn, Miss L. Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. McNulty, Miss Rita McNulty, Mrs. Mary S. Thurston, Mrs. E. Moteley Barrett, Paul L. Moteley and Miss L. C. McGowan.

Louie's Hotel—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burgess, Kenneth Burgess, Mrs. E. Ashby, Miss May Pine, Miss Ashby, E. B. Van Deusen, Edward Hill, of Brooklyn, P. C. Lockwood, D. P. Holland, Miss M. Frenger, J. M. Hales, A. E. Kelliey, F. M. Sobel, E. A. Hays, and Mrs. T. O'Leary and C. E. Emard.

Cairo, N. Y., Aug. 20.—The arrivals at Cairo during the last week have not been as numerous as in previous weeks, as the Cairo hotel men have not had sufficient rooms to accommodate all of the visitors. There is a shortage here greater in numbers than at any other place throughout the Catskills, so the village has had its share of the fun and merriment that have made Cairo famous as a resort.

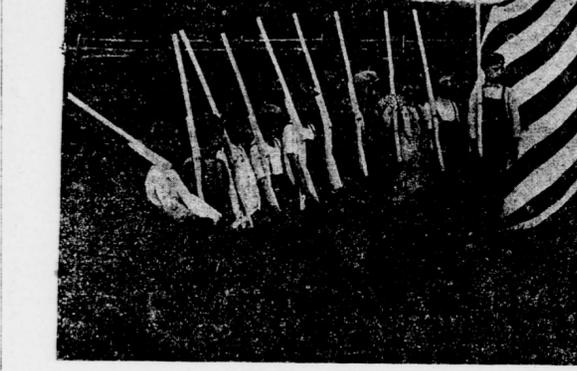

Maple Lawn Hotel has been the scene of numerous pleasant affairs, including two of the most delightful hops ever wit-which will be picked to challenge players from the Cobble Hill Golf Club, at Elizabethtown.

Mrs. G. C. Hopkins and daughter, Miss Edith Hopkins, of New York, are at the inn. Among the other arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Emery, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Regan, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Rothermel, Jr., of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Blair, Jr., and Miss Kruttschmidt, of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Yorkie Allen, of South Orange, N. J.; J. H. Maghee and Mrs. Maghee, of Morristown, N. J.; Mrs. K. L. Davis, Miss Dorothy G. Davis and F. A. W. Davis, of Pelham, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. MacLennan, of Hamilton, Bermuda; Miss C. E. Jenks, of Bedford, Mass.; and Miss H. G. Stevens, of Boston.

ELIZABETHTOWN. Elizabethtown, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Some fourscore players are entering the events of the August tournament, and to-day will finish the contest for the Windsor cup, given by the Messrs. Orlando and W. S. Kellogg. In the events which have been played the beautiful cups have been widely

PORT KENT. Port Kent, N. Y., Aug. 20.—A number of diners were a side feature of the chapel dedication at Port Kent, Tuesday, when Mrs. Edwards Rowan entertained at Greystone with Bishop Gabriels as the chief guest, and Mrs. Philip Coughlin, of Bay-distributed. Among the winners are C. C. McEwen, of New York, who captured the Maplewood Inn cup on Monday, The Garand cup, given by Erman J. Ridgway, of Morristown, was won by Benjamin F. Stetson, proprietor of Deer's Head Inn. The Deer's Head Inn cup was won by W. D. Boswell, of Troy, who also won another cup in the tournament. Other cups were won by George L. Cutler, Alexander Van Wagener and Harry Taylor. There are still five events of the programme to be played.

One of the largest touring parties of the season at Deer's Head Inn came in three cars en route to Quebec and Canadian resorts. They were Mr. and Mrs. S. Elliott, Mrs. Tyson, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Haviland, of Norwalk, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Miller, of Norwalk, and Reginald W. Briley, of New York, with Stanley B. Irnate, of Aresonia, Conn. Among the notable tourists were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen view, entertained the Rev. Dr. Mullaney and the Misses Mullaney, who came from Cliff Haven.

Visitors to Trembleau Hall are enjoying the evening entertainments at the casino, and Wednesday's progressive hearts party was one of the most successful of the season. Miss Florence Brewer, of Newark, won first prize, with Louis Severy, of Brooklyn, second. Consolation was won by Mrs. Pollard, of Brookline, Mass. The bridge party was enjoyed by a goodly number of people, but most pleasing of all, especially to the young folk, was the dance party with its frisky mix-ups. Dancing is enjoyed every evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Coates and family, of New York, are spending some time at Trembleau Hall. Among the other permanent arrivals are Mrs. Ernest G. Budington, E. G. Budington, Mrs. F. D. Sherman, Miss L. Plummer, New York; Mr. and Mrs. George P. Williams and Frederick Williams, Newark; Mr. and Mrs. William E. Schultz, New Britain, Conn.; Mrs. C. W. Ryckman, Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Beebe, North Brookfield, Mass.; Mrs. James H. Smith and Miss Elizabeth G. Morgan, Bridgeport, Conn.; Mrs. M. C. Close, Schenectady, and Mrs. L. A. Figg, Louisville, Ky.

LAKE PLAID. Lake Placid, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Crowds of strangers come and go, leaving no mark behind, of the thousands here, few know more than a score of their immediate associates, yet the summer visitors are enjoying life to its fullest extent.

The Lake Placid Inn still has every room and tent occupied and applications for accommodations are still coming in. Among the recent arrivals are the wife and family of Carlos Graña Velez, Cuba's representative in the Argentine Republic. Other arrivals are Miss Rose Strasser, Albany; Dr. Mover S. Fleisher, Philadelphia, and here this week, to the delight of the thousands of visitors. The result has been one round of pleasure for the guests and profit for the business men and hoteliers. The attendance at the track continues to be most gratifying to the officials, and it is expected that the rest of the meeting will see larger attendance than the first part. Much of this will be due to the running of the Futurity on August 21, for which event the railroads are already making extensive preparations.

Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox will be the guest of Miss Juanita Miller, daughter of Joaquin Miller, the "Poet of the Rockies," at her home in this village next week. Incidentally, it is understood that Mrs. Wilcox has consented to appear at a dramatic and musical tea to be given at the Casino on Thursday in one of her plays, "Art vs. Cupid."

J. E. Coates, Public Service Commissioner of New York, is a guest of the United States Hotel. He expects to remain here for about a week.

The Grand Union had quite a legislative air the other evening, when eight state Senators were strolling about the fish and game commission, and stopped over incident to a tour by automobile of the Adirondacks, where they expect to spend a week. The party included J. J. Frawley, of New York; B. S. Cronin, of Brooklyn; G. H. Cobb, of Watertown; H. S. Holden, of Syracuse; H. P. Coats, of Saranac Lake; Orlando Hubbs, of Suffolk; Charles Alt, of Brooklyn, and C. W. White, of Rochester.

Saratoga has the honor of entertaining two rear admirals of the United States navy for a few days—George Retter, of New York, and Herbert Winslow. The latter is accompanied by his son, Elmer Winslow. They are guests of the Grand Union.

R. P. McNulty, Brooklyn, New York arrivals are Mrs. C. B. Meyer, Miss Hattie Siegel, Louis Hicks, Hamilton Hicks, Louis S. Posner, Harry Sondheim, Thomas Louhman, Louis Manheimer, A. W. Seligman, Miss Lillian Silbernagel, Miss Belle Cohen, Mrs. Shernagel and Charles Meyer.

The dance Thursday night was the chief event of the week at the Lakeside Inn, about forty couples participating in the evening's pleasure. The week's arrivals include Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Lipman, Albany; Dr. and Mrs. H. Friedenwald, Baltimore; Miss Gertrude Cohn, Bismarck, N. Y.; J. R. Downey, Potsdam; Mrs. W. D. Gayle and the Misses Wilhelmina and Clara Rimerman, Lincoln, Ill. New York arrivals are Miss Stewart, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Green, Raphael Brill, Gustave S. Boehm, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Meyers, Dr. William L. Webster and William H. Driscoll.

The week's social events at the Grand View started with a masquerade ball on Monday evening. The gay colored costumes of the fifty or more participants reflected in the many mirrors about the parlors of the hotel made the scene appear like a human kaleidoscope. Miss Rose Sarelone, of Havana, won the first prize. The hotel had two ball rooms in play Monday afternoon, the regular team of which Mr. Carroll is manager, crossed bats with the Lake Placid Club aggregation on the club's grounds. The score at the end of the second inning, when the game was called on account of rain, stood 2 to 0 in favor of the club. Arrivals at the Grand View from New York include Miss Florence Nora H. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Michel, M. F. Campbell, K. A. Campbell, Miss L. Kegan, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Phillips, Miss Katherine Gilmartin, Miss Margaret Gilmartin, Mrs. Frank Nora, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Wood, Charles H. Bull, James Martin, William R. Mather, A. E. Singleton and William MacDonal.

Things are going along smoothly at the Northwoods Inn. The guests have become acquainted with one another, and it takes only a few minutes to arrange for a card party, automobile rides or any other amusements where "the more the merrier" axiom holds good. Miss Florence A. Hill, a long time guest at the Inn, returned to Washington, early in the week, after an absence of several days. F. J. Devereux, of New York, is registered for his fourth consecutive year, and Miss Katherine Donlor of White Plains, N. Y., for her second year. Carlos F. Hernandez, City of Mexico; Mrs. T. D. Graham and daughter, Cleveland; Miss Jennie O'Brien, Washington; Miss M. H. Johnson and Miss G. M. Chambers, Philadelphia; T. A. Tiff, Highway, N. J.; Mrs. Thomas J. Denton and son, White Plains, N. Y., and Miss Anita Bragaw, Brooklyn, New Yorkers registering during the week include Miss Bertina Zabel, Henry Loeb and George Ash.

The register at the American House contains the names of many touring the mountains. Some arrived in automobiles, while others came by stage or train. Among the tourists registering for the last few days were Thomas F. Sherlock, of Lockport, N. Y.; J. E. Lambert, of Brooklyn; J. A. Smith, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. L. Pringle, of Pittsburg, and J. Erich Schmal of Milwaukee; Mrs. Edward E. Stoddard and Edward L. Wentworth, of Albany, and William Lederman, of New York, have increased the number of long term guests. Other arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Roeder and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cleveland; M. H. Smith, Springfield, Mass.; M. Schlosser, Pittston, Penn.; S. Stone, Utica; William C. Newton, South Colton, N. Y.; S. A. Ryan, Schenectady; Percy S. Wilkins, Potsdam; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar S. Baker, Greenwich, N. Y.; George Agnew, Elizabethtown; W. F. Bowman, John W. D. Floydman and G. E. Wimpole, Albany. New Yorkers registering are H. H. Hallison, Mrs. K. Rose, Arthur O. Ernst and L. R. Hulton.

Card parties on the porch and plenty of driving cause the time to pass pleasantly and rapidly at the Pines. One of the largest and jolliest parties of the week drove to Keene on Monday. Among the recent arrivals are J. J. Henkel, San Antonio, in which Emma H. Frost, Salem, N. C.; Miss Bertina M. Pickett, Keene, N. H.; Mrs. W. H. Boyd, Miss Louise Boyd and Miss Daisy Gordon, Philadelphia; Charles E. Colley, South Orange, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Woodsey and Mrs. A. R. Van Demark, Rochester, New York arrivals are H. M. Van Demark, Mrs. B. O. Tekisyan and Allen Thembie Tekisyan.

Several card parties were arranged among the guests during the week at the Pines, but mountain climbing, automobile and walking were headliners among the outdoor pastimes.

Buzzard's Bay AS TO OUR ICE

The Amazing Growth of the Artificial in Popular Favor.

It is fitting that this series should be concluded with some statistical evidence of the extent to which the artificial product has usurped the place of natural ice for most purposes. And, as the tale would be but partly told, should only the figures of artificial ice making for domestic use be given, it will be necessary to consider as well its employment in manufacturing and other lines to gather any understanding of its comprehensive service. Then, too, it is the artificial ice, plus the employment of its twin, mechanical refrigeration, which is so swiftly freeing communities from the menace of the impure natural ice harvested from surface waters that are all more or less polluted, even where they are not infected—which is so constricting the use of the latter. It is not to be denied that, although a better understanding of sanitation is the principal cause of this rapid turning away from the use of natural ice, economic considerations have a certain weight. For example, the brewing of beer is an incessant warfare against germs, the brewer's chief foe. Naturally he welcomes the opportunity to rid himself "once and for all" of hosts of these invisible foes, and so he shuts out the natural ice and substitutes mechanical refrigeration. Incidentally he saves and utilizes for other purposes the vast floor spaces the large ice-making plants occupy. There, therefore, whereas in 1894—according to the figures for last year of "Ice and Refrigeration," which publishes the "blue book" of the industry—there were in the United States 1,036 breweries equipped with machinery in refrigerating capacity to the melting of 84,025 tons of ice per day, there were 1,036 such with an aggregate equipment equal to the melting of 18,031 in the same period of time.

Then, to quote again the above mentioned ice trade authority, the development of the great packing house industry, where the economical and sanitary preparation of meat, stored in refrigerated warehouses, has been impossible without this art over 80 per cent of the meat from between 1880 and 1890—under refrigeration—was packed in artificial ice. The "blue book" gives the refrigerating capacity of the packing houses in 12,003 tons per day of twenty-four hours. And it calls attention to the fact that mechanical refrigeration is brought into service again and again, even after the food has been delivered by the carriers in the public cold storage warehouses, the distributing houses of the packers, and the refrigerators of the meat dealers and butchers. Meat markets equipped with refrigerating machinery numbered in 1894 some 200; in 1899 there were 1,000, with an aggregate refrigerating capacity of 440 tons for twenty-four hours.

In the fields of creamery refrigeration, of ice cream freezing and hardening, of refrigeration for domestic use, of the manufacture of fish freezing and storing of food, restaurant, residence, apartment house, store, warehouse, and other buildings, plant, oil refinery, refrigeration, and that of a host of other industries, even blast furnaces, the artificial ice, equally wonderful advances are shown.

In every field of endeavor here mentioned, mechanical refrigeration, as there is no natural ice, has vastly promoted the industries thereof. And in most of the fields where the use of ice has always been required, it is the natural ice that has been shouldered aside. This has been inevitable, both for economic and sanitary reasons, especially where food products, either liquid or solid, have constituted the industry. In such cases the mechanical refrigeration service has to be supplemented with that of ice itself, and it is to be expected that the clean, pure and germ-free artificial product would command a better price, brought in contact with the foods, it moves harmlessly—and since, unlike the natural ice, it is not a comparatively new invention, it is accounted for that, while artificial ice is a comparatively new product, its use for blighted affections or anything of that sort, but only wants to get back what he's spent on presents, pleasure trips, and so forth.

"That is so," agreed the foreman.

"Well, then, I vote we don't give him a cent more for this stuff. If all the amount he expended, it must be his own fault. Gentlemen, I could not that girl once myself."—The Housekeeper.

Saratoga Springs Interest Follows Move to Place Waters Under State Control.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 20.—A few years ago the slogan was "See Naples and die," but now it is the thing to "See Saratoga and live," and this fact is yearly becoming more and more impressed upon the tourist and traveler in general, and the health seeker in particular. Although Saratoga has for a hundred years been favorably known as a celebrated health resort and famous fashionable watering place, renowned for its mineral springs, palatial hotels, clear tonic air and natural advantages, it is going to become better known owing to the fact that its mineral springs are now under the control of the state by recent enactment of the Legislature.

The State Conservation Commission, having the matter of the purchase of the mineral springs in hand, is composed of George Foster Peabody (chairman), General B. P. Tracy, of New York, and F. N. Goody, of Olean. This commission, after holding a conference here this week, went to New York, stopping at the hotel, to confer with Governor Hughes. It is known that nothing definite will be done until after September 12, on which date argument will be had before Justice Betts, at Kingston, in the local spring water litigation matter. The future action of the commission will be largely governed, it is believed, by the advice and suggestions offered by Governor Hughes.
