ENGLAND'S MANOEUVRES

War Secretary's Demonstration of Army Reorganization.

OVER 70,000 MEN IN FIELD

Operations in Four Counties—Cost, $1,250,000—Airships To Be Used in Mimic War.

London, Sept. 10.—The autumn army manoeuvres now in progress are Mr. Haldane's convincing demonstration of the efficiency of his system of reorganization. These have opened with the operations of two divisions and a cavalry brigade...

The reserves have rejoined their battalions in order to make up one division to its absolute war strength, and four divisions with cavalry brigades will be commanded by veteran officers.

It is a thorough training for the regulars and home guards, and it is costly. Not less than $1,250,000 will be the extra expense of these manoeuvres.

The General Staff has been allowed full play for proving that it is not behind the times. The Canadian regiment, after a fortnight of training at Aldershot, will take an active part in the manoeuvres.

GERMAN MANOEUVRES END

Red Invaders, Theoretically Russians, Win—Emperor Present.

Freuslich-Holland, Prussia, Sept. 10.—The imperial manoeuvres ended to-day with a grand exhibition of powder burning by the artillery, machine guns and infantry, which continued for three hours along a sixteen-mile area.

It was a fine autumn morning, and the final battle afforded a serene and brilliant spectacle for the people of the country-side and automobile parties from two provinces.

The manoeuvres were uniformed in the new service gray and blue, which has much the same neutral blend as the sheets in which the hill tribesmen of Northwest India wrap themselves for their night raids.

The commanders of both armies reported officially that they were greatly assisted on the first day of the mimic warfare by the observations made by the crews of the dirigible balloons.

LONDON STILL DESERTED

American Successes Presented in English Capital.

London, Sept. 10.—Social life in London is at its lowest ebb, since the chill breath of autumn has not blown the froth of fashion from Scotland. First night audiences at the theatres are made up mainly of actresses, American tourists and literary people.

Two of these performances have been witnessed to-day. One was F. C. Whitney's production of "The Chocolate Soldier" at the Lyric, with which American audiences are familiar.

Another trial performance was Stanley Cooke's appearance at the Strand Theatre, as the hero of the American farce, "The Man from Mexico," in which Willie Collier appeared some years ago.

Charles Frohman's next programme will be Thompson Buchanan's comedy, "A Woman's Way," at the Comedy Theatre.

English Workmen Refuse to Obey Commands of Leaders.

A MILLION MEN INVOLVED

Unrest Caused by Socialists—More Power Needed for the Board of Trade.

London, Sept. 10.—The labor crisis impending in the shipyards, railways, mines and cotton factories affects the relations of the workmen and the trade union officials rather than the relations of the employers and employed.

The employers, not having any responsible trade union leaders to treat with, will be forced to lock out 17,000 men in addition to the 28,000 already suspended.

There are signs of a similar revolt against the conciliation scheme adopted by the railway corporations and the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants.

A NEW COMEDY IN PARIS

Mlle. Provost Wins Success in Bright Present Day Play.

Paris, Sept. 10.—The theatrical season opened last night with a bright, witty comedy in four acts by Adolphe Aderer and Armand Epihaun, produced at the Theatre Francaise and admirably played by M. Duminey, Mlle. Provost and Mlle. Provost, a young actress, who for the first time has had a leading part, and now becomes a foremost favorite of the public.

The play is called "Comme Ils Sont Tous" ("Just Like All of Them"), and deals with a young married cavalry captain, who loves his wife, but in a moment of weakness and under exceptional stress of temptation yields to the demon of infidelity, his partner being the beautiful and impressionable Baroness de Chancency, a Republican Deputy's wife, with whom he once had a youthful liaison.

The cavalry captain's wife discovers the truth, and in despair exclaims, "Oh, he is just like all the rest of them," but owing to the noble outburst of repentance and self-sacrifice on the part of the Baroness de Chancency (Mlle. Provost) the couple are reconciled.

There are signs of a similar revolt against the conciliation scheme adopted by the railway corporations and the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants.

THE TWO PRESIDENTS

A Study in French and Swiss Governmental Contrasts.

Paris, August 23. Franco-Swiss friendship, which has just been enthusiastically proclaimed by the festivals at Bern during the official visit of President Fallieres to his Swiss colleague, President Comtesse, has suggested the fertile imagination of M. Henri Rochefort a conversation concerning the respective situations of the heads of the two republics.

The play is called "Comme Ils Sont Tous" ("Just Like All of Them"), and deals with a young married cavalry captain, who loves his wife, but in a moment of weakness and under exceptional stress of temptation yields to the demon of infidelity, his partner being the beautiful and impressionable Baroness de Chancency, a Republican Deputy's wife, with whom he once had a youthful liaison.

ALLAWAY'S REVIEW

The stock market is at a standstill. Nobody pays attention to it. Occasionally a professional speculator intrudes upon the scene—but seldom at a profit.

Under conditions like these prevailing there might be expected active and aggressive conflict between traders for the rise and traders for the fall—but there is no earnestness, no sensibility, upon either side.

In exposition of this unhappy situation—nothing to anybody—take the Stock Exchange record of the past week. Day by day there has been almost a standstill speculation.

It is pleasing to a group of philosophers—speculative philosophers—to proclaim that chilled activity presages an end to Stock Exchange vitality.

There is no market quotation declines is not merely possible, but probable, during the coming week.

Immediately after the close of the market yesterday the report of the United States Steel Corporation on unfilled tonnage appeared.

There are many who are of the opinion that the present productive capacity of the corporation's plants has been brought to so high a point of physical excellence that upon any turn in the tide, upon any sudden increase of new orders, fresh business can be instantly accommodated.

Again is demonstrated the wise policy of the Steel Corporation in dealing with the public on a frank basis. Nothing is concealed—nothing withheld.

There are many who are of the opinion that the present productive capacity of the corporation's plants has been brought to so high a point of physical excellence that upon any turn in the tide, upon any sudden increase of new orders, fresh business can be instantly accommodated.
