Guards Ready to Repel Attacks on Buildings of Religious Orders.

IRISH PRIESTS EXEMPTED

Effort to Win England's Good Will—Cabinet Changes—Comparatively Few Killed in Fighting.

Lisbon, Oct. 11.—Although the city remains under martial law pending a reorganization of the administration, the soldiers have been gradually withdrawn from the streets.

Colonel Barreto, Minister of War, says that the government intends to reorganize the army thoroughly, bringing together a formidable force of 250,000 men.

The Minister of Marine, Senhor Gomes, considers that the remodeling of the navy will prove an arduous task on account of the utter neglect which the monarchy has shown toward the sea force.

It is reported that one of the first great works of the republic will be to transfer the arsenal from the left bank of the Tagus to the opposite shore. It is believed that this work will cost several hundred thousand dollars.

A detachment of soldiers making the round at the Campolide Jesuit College this morning was fired on. One of the men was killed and another seriously wounded.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the priest Laureano Mattos, who is a leading militant Catholic.

The Minister of the Interior, Antonio Almeida, asked regarding the disposal of the King's property, said that nothing had yet been decided officially.

The administrator of the King's property visited to-day the Minister of the Interior and proposed to liquidate the King's indebtedness to the state by yearly payments and at the same time guarantee to the King an annuity.

The lords-in-waiting and court nobles who accompanied the King to Gibraltar have returned, the King having expressed a desire to be alone in exile.

The government has published notices that severe punishment will follow any raid upon private houses, which, the notices state, "are inviolable."

Guards have been supplied to these establishments of the religious orders which are still occupied and flying foreign flags to prevent possible attacks.

The government has announced that the Irish Dominican Fathers and nuns, who have conducted a school here for many years, will be exempted from the order of expulsion.

Madrid, Oct. 11.—A violent collision occurred in the streets of Valencia to-day between republicans and members of the Catholic Club.

The Republican and Socialist members of the Spanish parliament are arranging for a great meeting, to be held probably on October 16, to celebrate "the triumph of the republic of Portugal."

Spanish monks and nuns who have fled from Lisbon arrive at Vigo, Badajoz and other points on the frontier. At Badajoz, on the order of the bishop, the nuns are cared for at the Carmelite convent.

King Manuel and Queen Amelia to-day went for a short cruise in the direction of Algeiras in the Governor's pinnace.

The Duchess of Guise, the Queen Mother's sister, arrived here to-day. It is said that the Duke of Oporto and the Queen Dowager, Maria Pia, will accept the offer of Princess Clothilde and take up their residence in the castle at Moncalieri, a short distance from Turin.

AIR DASH WILL BE FAST

Conditions Favor Spectators in Liberty Statue Flight.

MUST FINISH IN TWO HOURS

Race for $10,000 on Afternoon of Oct. 27 Open to Aviators at International Meet.

It seems safe to assume that Miss Liberty will give two weeks from to-morrow for the second time in her history a man in a flying machine.

She may give half a dozen flyers or a full dozen. If so, she will be hard put to remember their names, for the trick of encircling her once and then fading away in the mist of an autumnal afternoon toward Belmont Park must be done within two hours.

A year ago this month Wilbur Wright flew around the Statue of Liberty and returned to Governor's Island.

The Statue of Liberty prize of $10,000 given by Thomas F. Ryan must be contested for on Thursday, October 27.

Contestants must start from Belmont Park between 2:45 and 3:15 p. m., suiting their own convenience and their motors' mood.

The aviator who makes the best time from the starting line at Belmont Park around Miss Liberty will receive the prize.

These conditions will do away with the early morning flights that catch even the milkmen napping, and the system of halting hope followed by twilight twaddle, in which the motor is made responsible for everything, including fall's early sunsets.

The winner must be back in the midst of the Belmont Park spectators not later than 5:30 o'clock, on the same day.

A direct flight will be over the congested sections of South Brooklyn, a total distance of thirty-three miles for the round trip.

The winner must be back in the midst of the Belmont Park spectators not later than 5:30 o'clock, on the same day.

While it is the largest prize to be competed for at the tournament, it is considered improbable that any of the highest power monoplane will be entered.

Seven Men, All Possible Winners.

Seven aviators already entered for the international contests have done things to argue strongly in favor of each as the possible winner of this prize.

John B. Moisant, American, made a flight with a passenger from Paris to London. He had never been in England and found the Crystal Palace with a compass.

Henry Weymann, American, flew from Paris to Clarmont-Ferrand in one day—260 miles.

Alfred Le Blanc is the winner of the recent 485-mile "cross-country" flight made in France in legs of sixty and seventy-five miles.

Charles K. Hamilton flew from New York to Philadelphia and return.

Walter Brookings sailed from Chicago to Springfield, Ill. Emilie Aubrun, French; Graham-White, English, and Arch Hoxsey, of the Wright team, are all dangerous men when prizes are hanging high.

Four Germans and one French aviator arrived on the steamship Kronprinzessin Cecilie yesterday on their way to St. Louis for entry in the international balloon race.

Walter Brookings sailed from Chicago to Springfield, Ill. Emilie Aubrun, French; Graham-White, English, and Arch Hoxsey, of the Wright team, are all dangerous men when prizes are hanging high.

Mr. Vaniman said that while the America was taken out merely for a test, it is found that conditions are favorable and the engines are working well the start on the three-thousand-mile journey across the Atlantic Ocean might be made at once.

With this end in view provisions for seven men for twenty days were stowed in the ship and the lifeboat attached to it and closing the hatch.

MORSE MUST WAIT TURN

President Will Consider Clemency in Regular Order.

HIS RETURN TO WASHINGTON

Will Spend Two Days in New York Before Going to National Capital on Oct. 20.

Beverly, Mass., Oct. 11.—President Taft announced to-day that he would decline to take any action whatever on recent applications for clemency in the case of Charles W. Morse, the convicted New York banker now serving a term in the federal prison here.

The latest application in behalf of Morse was made to-day by Gilbert A. Peavey, of Boston, who has just returned from the Federal Prison at Atlanta, where the papers in the case came to his desk through the regular channels, and with a report from the Department of Justice.

While generally opposed to hearings on pardon cases, the President took Mr. Peavey's case before he had finally disposed of the case. Mr. Peavey came to the President with a letter from Representative Samuel W. McCall.

President Taft's plans for the return to Washington have been completed. He has decided to stop over in New York for two days as the guest of his brother, Henry W. Taft, who has just returned from Europe.

President Taft will leave Beverly next Monday afternoon, October 17, and will reach New York on Monday night.

CUSTOM TAILORS GO OUT

Strikers In and Out of Union Said to Number 20,000.

ALLIED TRADES AFFECTED

Troubles Lead Neckwear Firms and Merchant Tailors to Form Associations.

Following on the strike of the neckwear workers, the strike declared by the Custom Tailors' Union of Monday went into effect yesterday.

According to the leaders of this strike, the non-union custom tailors, as well as the union men, struck. They declared that ten thousand went on strike at 2 p. m., and that ten thousand more went on strike at 5 p. m.

Strikes had the result yesterday of bringing about the preliminary organization of an association of neckwear manufacturers and an association of merchant tailors, the latter being composed of the employers of the custom tailors.

The associations were formed at separate meetings in the Broadway Central Hotel late in the afternoon.

About one hundred manufacturers attended the meeting at which the neckwear manufacturers organized, and while the meeting was going on agents of strike breaking concerns were on the watch.

The meeting was called by Martin C. Ansoorge, a lawyer, who presided. When it was over Mr. Ansoorge made the following statement on behalf of the neckwear manufacturers:

"The meeting of to-day was attended by all the prominent neckwear manufacturers in this city, and preliminary organization of the Neckwear Manufacturers' Protective Association was effected.

The meeting was called on account of the conditions brought about by the strike of the neckwear workers.

"All that was done, except to discuss the situation, was to form the preliminary organization. No plan of action was adopted, as the manufacturers will not take any action, and probably will not attempt to fill the places of the strikers until they know the exact attitude of the strikers and what they actually want.

"The manufacturers are going into the matter with an open mind. A committee of four was appointed at the meeting to-day to co-operate with me in arranging for another meeting for Friday, at which permanent organization will be effected and a definite policy adopted.

"The New York manufacturers supply at least 30 per cent of the neckwear throughout the United States. As to the demands of the strikers, they have not been made in any definite shape. We understand that they demand sanitary shops. While some of the smaller shops may be unsanitary, there is no doubt that the large factories are in the very best sanitary condition.

The other association formed yesterday was the Merchant Tailors' Association. Its president is H. A. Ritchie, and its vice-president is Max Marks.

THE CRIPPEN BODY BURIED

Case Before the Grand Jury—Trial To Be Opened Monday.

London, Oct. 11.—The body unearthed in the cellar of the Hilldrop-Crescent home of Dr. Hawley Crippen, and declared by a coroner's jury to be that of the doctor's wife, Belle Elmore, the actress, was buried to-day at Finchley by the Music Hall Ladies Guild.

It is probable that the coffin in a plain box the simple inscription, "Cora Crippen, died 1910, aged thirty-four years."

Despite the care taken to keep secret the day set for the burial, news of the ceremony leaked out, and a curious crowd gathered. Street vendors followed the procession, offering for sale memorial cards bearing the name of Cora Crippen.
